Nehawka - Nebraska

Monday, coming to the Nehawka Mills for some grinding. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tucker were visiting in Nebraska City on last Saturday and were also doing some shopping in the big city. Robert Troop had the misfortune to lose three of his fine cattle which he recently purchased and which were attacked by a disease. Miss Bessie Weller, the accomplished saleslady at the Sheldon department store was a visitor at Auburn for over the week end, a guest at her parents. Joe Baker and C. R. Troop received a very fine load of cattle which they will feed on the farm where Mr. Baker lives, and return to the market when they are finished. There is being some improvements being done at the Nehawka bank in the shape of a new carpet for the floors, and also the refinishing of the decoration on the interior. Robert Troop was a visitor at Sheldon on last Saturday where he was looking after some business matters and seeing about his pasture and stock interests which he has there. Frank M. Lemon and wife were called to Omaha on last Tuesday where they drove in their auto to look after some shopping in the metropolis, and also visited with friend at that place. Fred Patterson of Plattsmouth, who is candidate for the position of county surveyor was in Nehawka on last Monday looking after some business matters and also furthering his candidacy for the position. Justus Sturm, who was in New York a short time since, was requested to make an address over the radio and accepted the offer, delivering an address to thirty-one connected stations which covered most of the United States. Olaf Lundberg, the garage man, and who is also a dealer in Radios, has just recently disposed of four of the latest style radios, which were purchased by William Chappell, John Chappell, Earl Chappell and George Lemon. Roy Campbell, who has been working for the past summer for W. O. Troop has resigned the position and accepted one on the farm of Jack Philpot, where he is picking corn, and is moving to the farm of his employer. James M. Robertson and daughter

Jessie M. Robertson, the latter being candidate for the position of register of deeds, were in Nehawka on last Monday and were looking after the interest of Miss Jessie as candidate for register. D. C. West and family were over to Lincoln on last Tuesday where they went to meet and look after some business with Joe West the brother of Mr. D. C. West, who makes his home in Crete, where he engaged in business. The football game which was to have been played at Nehawka on last Saturday was postponed until the coming Saturday, and all who are interested in the popular game, had better keep this date open for a good game is promised. Olaf Lundberg has accepted the agency for the Korhler & Koehler electric light plants, and has one installed in the garage which furnishes lights for the entire building. One is also installed on the new bridge over the Platte river. John Atkins, who lived on the Charles Christwiser farm, had the misfortune to have a fire start at his home which bid fair to destroy the home, but by heroic effort they succeeded in extinguishing the fire before much damage was done. Parr Young, C. R. Troop and W. O. Troop, who were visiting in the west for some time and where they were looking after some cattle for feeders forshipping to their farms here, returned home last Saturday evening after having enjoyed their visit very much. Howel St. John, while at his play, had the misfortune to scratch one of his eye balls and injured that member to the extent that he was taken to Omaha to a specialist, where treatment was given and again he and Robert Taylor, were up for another treatment. W. O. Troop and C. R. Troop of Plattsmouth were looking after some business matters in Omaha where they were visiting at the stock yards and were viewing the stock with the intent of purchasing some feeders, which they were expecting to bring to their feed lots here for feeding. Mrs. John Opp who has been at the hospital at Omaha for some time was so far improved that she was able to return to her home here, though she still is quite poorly and is not showing the recuperative power desired. Her many friends are hoping for a speedy recovery for this excellent lady. Dorothy Opp, who is attending school, had the misfortune to fall fracturing one of her legs, which was of such a nature that the break could not be noticed without the aid of an X-ray, and she was taken to Nebraska City where, after finding the fracture, the limb was placed in plaster cast. Messrs and Mesdames W. S. Norris and J. W. Murdoch, who have been visiting in the west for some time, returned home last Tuesday after they had visited at Arapahoe, Elwood and Eastis, and report that the country out that way was very dry, there not being any rain since August and the crops are very short. Theodore Nelson of Imperial, accompanied by the family, drove from there to Nehawka on last Saturday and visited for a time at the home of Mrs. Carper, who is a sister of Mr. Nelson, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Lundberg, and will also visit at Murray with a brother, Mr. B. H. Nelson and family. Earl Troop and wife were visiting in Union last Saturday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Leach, and were also enjoying a visit with a brother of Mrs. Troop, Mr. R. B. Leach of Weeping Water, who was also a guest at the home of his parents. He also was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Troop. J. E. Wood, the painter, is working at the home of John Knabe, where he has much painting to do, for Mr. Knabe is having all the buildings of the farm painted, and there is so much of the work that Mr. Wood thinks it doubtful if he gets the entire job done this fall, but if he does not he will finish in the spring. Gilbert Stoll of Wayside, a grandson of both T. E. Fulton and wife and Hans Stoll, brought some cattle to Omaha one day last week and after the delivery of the cattle to the stock yards, came to Nehawka for a visit with the relatives and will work here gathering corn as long as the work lasts and then return to his home in the northwest. The post hall is to change hands at the ending of this week, which will also be the ending of the month. Messrs. Switzer and Switzer are relinquishing the management of the place, which reverts to Mr. Nels Anderson, who owns the place. He will have some one conduct the business as his health is not such as will justify him looking after the work of conduction it himself. Card of Thanks. I wish to thank the Royal Neighbors for the lovely box of fruit they sent me during my illness. MRS. A. H. WOLFE. Visited in Iowa. R. D. Wilson and family of Crete, Mrs. Wilson being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rough, came to Omaha where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Rough, where all went to City, where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Dane of that place. Mrs. Dane also being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rough. A most excellent visit was had by all, they returning home early this week. James H. Palmer was conducting the elevator during their absence. Card of Thanks. I wish to thank the neighbors and friends who so kindly helped to put out the fire at my farm at the home of John Atkins, Sunday, Sept. 17. C. M. CHRISTWISER.

80 LOCAL MEN TO TAKE PART

Much interest is being created over a great stunt which is to take place here November 8 and 9. It is to be a "Womanless Wedding." Not a woman in it—all men! Can you imagine our business men, by magic touch of lip-stick, rouge, and eyebrow pencil, suddenly becoming beautiful girls, charming debutantes, stately matrons and vamping flappers? The only way to believe it is to see it.

A very capable director of the symphony orchestra, as part of the proceeds go to the public library, the high school and the remainder for educational purposes. The "Womanless Wedding" is being staged all over this section this season by this company, and glowing reports come from other towns that packed houses greeted the performances both nights. In Mason City, Iowa, a few weeks ago, 1,500 people saw this play. It is a clean wholesome bit of old fashioned humor that makes the old laugh young again, and the young laugh until their sides ache. In other words, it is one continuous roar of laughter. Many beautiful costumes will be worn by our local men, so plan to see the funniest thing ever witnessed in Plattsmouth. Who would you choose for the beautiful blushing bride? It'd be me!

Republicans Hold Meeting at Court House

James A. Rodman of Omaha and T. J. McGuire are the Spellbinders of the Event.

Last evening at the court house the republicans of Cass county held their first speaking part of the campaign in this city, it being the conclusion of the one day trip of the county candidates over Cass county and all of whom were present at the meeting last night to listen to the addresses of the evening. The candidates who attended the meeting were W. W. Metz, state senator, Troy Davis, representative; George R. Sayles, clerk; W. G. Kiek, attorney; Bert Reed, sheriff; Miss Jessie Robertson, register of deeds; John E. Turner, treasurer; C. F. Harris and John McKay, commissioners. Charles E. Noyes, county chairman of Louisville, accompanied the party and attended the meeting here.

Searl S. Davis of this city presided and introduced the various speakers of the evening. The main address was delivered by former State Senator J. A. Rodman of Omaha, and who devoted his time to the discussion of the McMullen administration from the standpoint of the party, giving the accomplishments of the administration as the enlarging of the field of road improvement, the betterment of the state institutions as well, as the speaker termed it, a program of improvement that had marked the services of Governor McMullen. The speaker denied the existence of the deficit that it has been charged was cared for by the transfer of funds from the gasoline tax road fund to the general fund, denouncing Charles W. Bryan for his attitude in the campaign that has been on for the past several weeks. Mr. Rodman covered at some length the various state issues from the attitude of his party and urged the return of the McMullen administration to power for another two years.

T. J. McGuire of Omaha, assistant in the office of the attorney general, bitterly denounced the democratic party and its membership in the course of his remarks, charging the members of the party with being impractical and unfit to guide the affairs of government. The speaker claimed that all progressive legislation had been made by the republican party and bitterly denounced former Governor Charles W. Bryan, who the speaker alleged was a resident of Florida. Mr. McGuire also charged that at the close of the Bryan administration there was a deficit of $1,088,000 in the treasury, this being paid out by the McMullen administration. Mr. McGuire also charged the democratic party with being responsible for the condition in England, France and Italy. In regard to the gasoline price reduction under the Bryan administration the speaker claimed the matter had been first started in the office of the attorney general and that he had prosecuted a number of the cases and had started the actions against the dealers over the state and had conducted the investigations secretly until Governor Bryan had given the public information of the matter and claimed the credit for the attacks on the oil interests. The speaker urged the election of all of the republican candidates from "A to Z." At the conclusion of the meeting Chairman Davis announced that Governor McMullen would be here on Friday afternoon for an address at 3 o'clock at the court house lawn.
