

Alvo Department

The boys of the high school have been participating in a horseshoe tournament.

The high school orchestra will furnish music for the celebration on Armistice day.

After the regular meeting of the Phythian lodge last week, an oyster supper was enjoyed.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Simeon Rehmeier on last Thursday afternoon.

On last Monday John Skinner delivered hog to the South Omaha market for S. C. Boyles and Charles Ayres.

Miss Pearl Banning of Union, a sister of our townsman, J. W. Banning and wife, is enjoying her stay here very much.

Miss Bessie Overs, who is teaching at Seward, was a visitor for the weekend at the home of R. M. Costman and family.

Henry J. Miller, who has been running with the corn picking, reports that he has gotten out half of the crop.

Frank E. Cook was putting his winter supply of coal which he purchased from J. W. Banning, getting hard coal brickettes.

Joe Kasamas has executed a lease on the building in which he lives on main street, paying the cash in advance for the coming year.

Lance Clites, who has been making his home in Alvo will farm the coming year on the farm of James Gambel southeast of Elmwood.

The pupils of the high school have been dismissed to listen to the campaign speeches of both the republican and democratic candidates.

Art Skinner has been rustling to get the brooding of winter for it's had enough when the weather get bad.

Carl Rosenow in working at the barber shop at Murdock during the absence of the proprietor, who is in the west looking after some business.

John Woods was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday where he was looking after some business matters and securing some goods for the store here.

At the baseball game which was played between the Alvo and Alvo last week the results showed Alvo an easy winner, they getting 11 to 7 by the Waverly boys.

C. E. Cook and son, Raymond, were visiting a short time since at the home of Frank E. Cook and wife, driving over from their home in the east end of the county in their auto.

Chris Elkerman, living just north of Alvo and farming one of the George Curvey places, is picking the corn and delivering the port portion to the crib at the Rheymeier elevator.

W. H. Warner is picking corn at the home of John Elliott, southeast of town and notwithstanding his nearly four score years is getting the corn out as rapidly as many younger men.

Fred H. Goodfellow shipped a truck load of fifty-three very fine sheep to the Omaha market on last Wednesday, they being hauled to the market by John Skinner of the Coatman-Skinner truck line.

Rev. Chenoweth, pastor of the Alvo church exchanged pupils with Rev. West, pastor of the Elmwood church and Professor Albert Enedgren, superintendent of the Alvo schools taught the Men's Bible Class.

Wesley Davis, who is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Cook, is reported as not being very strong and having quite poor health. He is being given the best possible care and all are hoping he may be better soon.

The high school gave a hard times social for Hallowe'en on last Friday evening at which there were a large number of the citizen present. The Campfire girls had candy, pop corn, pop corn balls and apples for sale, and all in all a most enjoyable time was had.

After the regular Sunday school choir practice Wednesday, an Epworth League party was held in the church basement, the business meeting which followed the party, Marguerite McCartney was elected social secretary to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Merle Vickers.

Harrison L. Gayer of Plattsmouth, democratic candidate for the position of county clerk, was a visitor in Alvo early last week and was making many friends here. Captain H. L. Gayer is a service lad and was wounded in the service but has been making a success of the farming operations in the east end of the county.

On last Monday morning the senior class and the grades furnished the program which is the feature of the school. On October 27th, the program was led by the superintendent who spoke on the subject of the U. S. Navy and the birthday of Theodor Roosevelt. Miss Elizabeth Connelly, the teacher, led the singing of a number of patriotic songs.

Mrs. Mary Skinner, who has been visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ivan Clites of near Fremont, for some time returned home on last Sunday. Miss Bessie Overs was a visitor here and she and John Skinner went to Mrs. Clites home where they enjoyed a visit and had an excellent dinner, returning in the evening bringing Mrs. Skinner home with them.

George Anderson of Lexington, who is attending the Wesleyan university, was over last Sunday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Lyle Miller and was taken ill while here and when he returned to the home in Lincoln he was sick, and had to be taken to a hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, and following which he is reported as getting along nicely.

The Hallowe'en spirit prevailed at the party Friday night in the high school auditorium. All of the high school was led blindfolded thru the basement, up and down stairs and in the wandering met with various ghostly articles. Games were played in the auditorium and a lunch served. To avoid anyone missing a good time because of spoiling a good suit or dress, the pupils came dressed in hard time style.

Mrs. Albert Snedgren on last Monday after the closing of the school gave a lecture on Germany, where she was born and lived until four years ago, and told many interesting features of the land of her birth. She talked for about an hour when she turned the lecture into an inquiry, allowing anyone to ask what they desired for her to answer. The high school and the teachers of the school were present.

A program was presented in the high school auditorium for all of the school Friday morning. Each of the seniors gave a "School Scene." The pleasures of the old time school, where all from the "little brother" who is sent to school while the mother goes visiting, to the eighth grades is touched by one teacher, was cleverly depicted. Classes were held in regular style, singing, history, composition and "questions." Mr. Brandt served as school teacher and the members of the class were the pupils.

Because the freshmen of last year received no initiation, the juniors and seniors of the high school initiated both the freshmen and sophomores, Friday afternoon. After many trials and tribulations the initiates were forced to slide down the fire escape and the girls to get into a wagon, decorated with signs "Dumb Sophomores" and "Green Freshmen." The boys of the unfortunate classes then pushed and pulled the wagon down to the main corner of town and back again. Now the members of the two lower classes are really high school people.

Honors Easy at Basketball.

At the two games of basketball which were played by the two teams, the boys and girls of Alvo against the Walton teams, the Alvo boys won at a score of Alvo 14 to Walton 8, and the girls lost by a score of Walton 11 and Alvo 6.

ing the celebration of Armistice day which comes on the 11th of November and a program will be given at the auditorium of the Alvo school with the teachers and scholars participating. Just who the speaker will be is not yet known and more regarding the celebration will be made known next week. Keep your weather eye out for the notice.

Yvonne Johnson, Favorite Model

One of the most interesting features of Friday's events was the Style Show at Butler's store, the men seeming to be every bit as interested in the living models and the beautiful gowns, coats, hats, etc. they displayed as the women. The young ladies of Ashland for the most part were the models. Several returning home from neighboring towns where they were attending school or teaching to take part. One of the most interesting models was little Miss Yvonne Johnson, the four and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson, of Alvo. She quite captivated the immense crowd which gathered to see her. She was very pretty little model and made a big hit with everyone. It is hard to say how many witnessed the big show as he entire street was packed. Mr. Butler is to be congratulated on his undertaking and the result showed that he had not spared time or money in making it a big feature.—Ashland Gazette.

SOCIAL WORKERS MEET

From Friday's Daily—The Social Workers Flower club, an organization of the ladies residing south of this city, were entertained most delightfully on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Willes and who was assisted in the entertaining by Mrs. J. H. Fulton.

The occasion was one of the rarest enjoyment to all of the members of the party and during the afternoon the ladies were largely occupied in the selection of the officers of the club for the ensuing year, the following being selected: Mrs. George Munn, president; Mrs. Ray Willes, vice president; Mrs. J. L. Stamp, secretary; Mrs. Fred Spangler, treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Gayer, corresponding secretary.

The next meeting will be on November 15th at the home of Mrs. John Kettlehut with Mrs. H. L. Gayer as the assistant hostess.

At the conclusion of the afternoon the ladies were treated to a most delightful two-course luncheon that everyone enjoyed to the utmost.

DR. HENRY NOT COMING

From Friday's Daily—The Happy Hundred supper on next Tuesday will not have as the speaker of the occasion, Dr. E. C. Henry, of Omaha. The committee in charge of the speaking part of the program were notified by Dr. Henry that he was suffering from such a severe cold as to make his speaking out of the question and as he did not wish to leave the committee without a speaker advised them to supply substitute as the chances of his cold being well enough to allow him to speak was too remote.

SEARCH WARRANT MUST BE EXPLICIT

Alliance, Oct. 26.—District Judge W. H. Westover, who is conducting the fall term of district court here, ruled that a search warrant that specifies the premises does not include the individual and that officers have no legal right to arrest a man on a warrant which covers only the building. The ruling was made in dismissing the case of the state against John Simpson, the defendant being charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

Several days ago police obtained a search warrant and entered Mr. Simpson's poolhall. While making the search they noticed the neck of a bottle protruding from the hip pocket of a man who was sitting at a table. In dismissing Mr. Simpson's case Judge Westover held that no officer can legally search a person at any time or place without the proper legal search warrant and that individuals have a perfect right to resist any such action on the part of a law enforcing officer.

BISHOP KEENEY RECOVERING

Bishop Fred T. Keeney of the Omaha area, Methodist Episcopal church, is recovering from a serious illness at Los Angeles. Mrs. Keeney, who accompanied him on his trip west, is at his bedside.

Bishop Keeney left more than a month ago to conduct a Spanish speaking conference of his church at Albuquerque, N. M. From there he went to Los Angeles where he was to preside over the California German Methodist conference, which opened October 6.

He was taken ill on the train and upon reaching Los Angeles was immediately taken to Glendale sanitarium. His condition was regarded as critical for a time, but now it is thought that he is out of danger.

JESSE PERRY IMPROVING

From Friday's Daily—The many friends of Jesse P. Perry, the well known barber, will be very much pleased to learn that the patient is now rallying very nicely from his attack of appendicitis that has for the past several days kept him confined to his home. Mr. Perry has so far recovered that he is expected to be able to sit up for a short time today, altho he is still being kept on a diet and is somewhat weak from the effects of the illness. It is hoped that in a short time the patient may be able to resume his usual activities.

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR 'WOMANLESS WEDDING'

Excitement is running high and every thing is being put in readiness for the elaborate social affair, the "Womanless Wedding" which will be given Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 8 and 9 at the Parnelle theatre.

The only secret of the wedding is the groom—who is he? No one knows—not even the bride. The only way to find out is to be on hand and see who accompanies the dainty blushing bride down the aisle.

From now on men may be seen gathering on the street corners discussing their new evening gowns, picture hats, high heeled slippers, feather fans and other things heretofore unknown to interest the male species. You can't afford to miss the funniest, most entertaining and the lightest comedy ever staged in Plattsmouth.

Eighty lovely men will take part in this sidesplitting comedy.

Tickets for the play will be on sale at Morgan's Sweet Shop Saturday, at 9 a. m.

George W. Clabaugh Dies in the East

Omahan 40 Years Succumbs at Philadelphia While on Vacation Sojourn.

George W. Clabaugh, 69, 1922 South Thirty-third street, vice president of the Omaha Gas company, prior to its purchase by the city in 1929, died Wednesday in a Philadelphia hospital where he was operated on three weeks ago for a throat infection.

News of his death reached Omaha in a telegram to The World-Herald from Philadelphia, where Mrs. Bert Carpenter, his daughter, and Mr. Carpenter, were called Saturday when his condition became critical.

Mr. Clabaugh was a resident of Omaha for nearly 40 years, coming here from Denver. He was with the Gas company for 30 years, and retired from active business when it was passed to municipal ownership.

On Jan. 26 he left Omaha for an eastern vacation trip, stopping several months in New York state. He spent three weeks at Taneytown, Md., where he was born, before going to Philadelphia a month ago to visit his sister, Mrs. Abner Heusen.

Following the operation, Mr. Clabaugh underwent two hemorrhages which greatly weakened his condition.

He attended All Saints' Episcopal church, and was a member of the Omaha Elks' lodge.

He is survived by one daughter of Omaha and one sister, living in Philadelphia. His wife died 7 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted at Taneytown, Md., Friday.

Mr. Clabaugh was well known in Plattsmouth as he was for years identified with the old organization of the Nebraska Gas & Electric Co., owners of the local lighting system. Mr. Clabaugh was also an uncle of Albert Clabaugh, former resident here and a son-in-law of Col. M. A. Bates of this city.

PLEASANT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

From Thursday's Daily—A very pleasant Hallowe'en party was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Koubek, when their daughters, Helen and Antoinette entertained a number of their young friends.

The rooms were very prettily arranged in the Hallowe'en colors of orange and black that made a very pretty touch to the scene and amid the surroundings of the season of the witches and goblins the young people enjoyed their good times.

During the evening musical numbers were given by Helen Koubek and Irma Pittman that were much enjoyed. In the course of the evening many interesting games were played and prizes were won by Mary Ann Hadraba, and Beatrice Knofieck.

Very dainty refreshments were served during the course of the evening by the Misses Margaret and Ruth Sitzman and Lillian Koubek.

Those present at the party were: Mary Ann Hadraba, Wilma Scheissel, Anna Knicke, Dorothy Sedlak, Irma Pittman, Ruth Slavicek, Anna Zicka, Mary Zitka, Helen Price, Josephine Janda, Beatrice Knofieck, Eleanor Swatek, Mary Swatek, Agnes Koufrst, Eleanor Smetana, Mary Slatinsky, Beatrice Krejcl, Helen Koubek and Antoinette Koubek.

CASS COUNTY CHAMPION

There has been much said and written about the great work of Walter Johnson, the ball pitcher and what games he won, and truly he did great work, but let us view a pitcher as close range, his name being Walter as well but not Walter Johnson, for his name is Walter Brakhage, the pitcher for the Greenwood team. Walter pitched fourteen games and won them all. The people of Greenwood feel that Walter Brakhage is as great a pitcher for this place as Walter Johnson is for New York. Walter Brakhage is only nineteen years of age, and it looks like he could eclipse even the record of the world famed pitcher of the Washington Senators.

TO THE VOTERS OF FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

In submitting my name to be voted on at the general election next Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, I invite the closest investigation of my record as a citizen and public official, as I have lived in southeastern Nebraska for more than forty years, furnishing opportunity for the voters to find out as to my capabilities and dependability.

If re-elected, I will have advantages of committee assignments that a one or two terms does not have. Eastern and southern states re-elect their members for many terms, when they have proven worthy. Speaker Longworth of Ohio has served for twenty-two years. The Republican floor leader, Congressman Tilson of Connecticut, has served for sixteen years. The Democratic speaker, Mr. Garrett, of Tennessee, has served twenty years. Representative, the Democratic floor leader, has served for twenty-four years. Many other members have served a like period or longer, thus giving the long terms an advantage over members of one or two terms of committee assignments and otherwise.

During my service as State Senator, as well as Congressman, I have never missed a session nor a vote on any question up for consideration. If members are absent and not voting, their districts are without representation. Individuals or corporations desiring special legislation or appropriations are always present as well as employing the best talent money will secure.

If re-elected, I will continue my efforts to have Rules of House amended so as to force all members on record on all legislation and appropriations. Such a rule would prevent reckless appropriation of large sums of money without justification as members could not then absent themselves when important legislation was up for consideration. The people would have a check on their representatives as to his attendance and his vote. Members who take their duties seriously should favor such a rule as it would prevent unscrupulous politicians from placing their congressmen in an embarrassing position during campaigns by misrepresentation.

I have never accepted contributions to my campaign fund. I have preferred to pay my own expenses and be free to work and vote as my conscience dictates, with a view only to the best interests of the people.

Contributions to campaign funds by individuals or corporations placed by the official when elected, in an embarrassing position, as large sums of money are never contributed to aid a candidate unless the contributor is to be favored by legislation detrimental to the people and favorable to the contributor.

My record when Governor will show that I practice the strictest economy consistent with good government. If re-elected, I shall continue the same methods in dealing with our national affairs.

JOHN H. MOREHEAD.

Chase County Young People are Married

Miss Lola Fitzpatrick and Louis Bauerle Are United in Wedlock.

Miss Lola Fitzpatrick and Mr. Louis Bauerle surprised their many friends while visiting relatives in the eastern part of the state by stealing away and being quietly married at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage in Weeping Water, Nebr., Sunday, Sept. 16, 1926. Rev. Morey officiating. The couple had arranged to meet Mrs. Bauerle's brother, Curtis, from Lincoln at the train; and they surprised him by taking him as their only witness to the happy event.

Of these two young people there is scarcely need to speak of them as they have spent most of their lifetime here, and are known by a circle of warm friends who extend to them their well wishes for many years of happiness.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Fitzpatrick and is an accomplished young lady being a graduate of the Chase county high school and having for the past few years been one of Chase county's most efficient and talented school teachers, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bauerle, living south of Champlin, Nebraska, and has resided there most of his life but at present he is one of the rising young business men of the county, being engaged in the mercantile business in Enders.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauerle will be at home to their many friends in Enders.—Imperial Republican.

QUEEN ESTHERS MEET

From Friday's Daily—The Queen Esthers of the First Methodist church were most delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Elsie Nelson last evening, there being some thirty of the ladies in attendance and all having one of the most delightful of times.

In the entertaining of the evening Miss Nelson was assisted by Miss Ruth Patton, and Miss Edna Newton.

The rooms were decorated in the Hallowe'en colors with the many attractive features of the witching season and to add to the general Hallowe'en atmosphere the members of the jolly party came in costumes of goblins and ghosts that added to the fun and enjoyment of the evening.

The entertaining features of the evening was in charge of Miss Vivian Parker, as chairman, and who had a number of very clever games and stunts prepared. Games of all kinds as well as ghost stories added to the fun and the favorite sport of bobbing for apples also was enjoyed.

At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served that completed an ideal evening for the party of young ladies.

There is no slack business period for the merchant who advertises his goods the year 'round.
