Chamber of Commerce Notes on Civic Interest

Secretary Davis Has Many Interesting Facts as to the Advance of Civic Progress.

The Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce represents no clique, no faction, but Plattsmouth and vicinity. Wish to make a correction in the corn husking figures. Martin Shogren husked 18.2 bushels instead of 16.2, as reported.

This is a rainy, dark, damp cheerless morning, so please let me use a few items that have brought smiles to others.

"At least the automobile has no tail to get over the reins and cause a runaway."—Ex.

Friday visited Murray, Weeping Water and Murdock. Noted all these places known about the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce and read the Plattsmouth Journal.

John Gustin, of Murdock, has just bought three pure-bred Holsteins for his dairy herd. In talking with Mr. Gustin Friday he said: "The farmers are awakening to the importance of high-grade dairy cows on Nebraska farms, where feed is cheaper than anywhere in America, and alfalfa puts the butter fat in the milk."

Councilman Kunsman called at this office. He stated that there is confidence and co-operation between the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce organization. Judging from the good work being done on road 75 in the south limits of the city, this co-operation is being actually demonstrated. Douglas has promised to gravel this road at once. Thank you, Mr. Kunsman.

The Ohio State Journal says: "We suppose all our great cities have more or less Detroit in them and there are men right here in our church who are unreservedly for Christianity as long as it doesn't hurt business any."

Friday over twenty-five called at the Chamber of Commerce office, including citizens, tourists, "drummers" and prospective corn shuckers. Mrs. Hogue of Mynard, looking for corn huskers advises: "We certainly are beginning to know out in the country that the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce is working for the farmer's interest."

As soon as the farmers begin to enroll in this body they will be able to comprehend the problems we have, and it is their brains and suggestions we need along with our merchants' and citizens' ideas to keep this from running "amuck." There is always a chance for an honest error, as well as for an honest difference of opinion, in every problem. The thing is to be able to acknowledge the other man's honesty and sincerity in a difference of opinion.

Luke Wiles called to have a chat. He says there are no mail order catalogs left in his mail box. Isn't it fine to be loyal to your own merchant, your city, your own church—makes a glow run down one's back.

One commendation from ten taken from the Humboldt Standard left me by Friend Rea: "For mail order house buyers: 'You shall call on the business people of your own community for help and credit if you meet with hard luck or sickness. We don't know your name unless your orders are accompanied by cash.' Ata-boy."

Friend Robb of the Robb Candy company is a "bear-cat" when it comes to brokering. Suggested he put his talent at work brokering Plattsmouth bread in Nebraska City, Weeping Water, Union, Murray and other towns for us. Plattsmouth makes better bread than Omaha, and can deliver it as reasonably. "Bear down" on 'em for us, Robb!

A man the other day stated: "Of course the Chamber of Commerce would look after the interests of those who subscribe to it, in preference to those who do not." Wrong! The men who subscribe to this organization intend that it stands for "Plattsmouth and vicinity"—not any one group or any clique or any other influence. That is why we need you fellows who haven't subscribed.

so we can have something to work with.

A business man, while intending to locate here, said in calling at this office: "One of the greatest inducements Plattsmouth has to offer a business now, is through the spirit of co-operation and faith in Plattsmouth shown by their support of the new Chamber of Commerce on the K. of T. highway."

Do you know that every cent invested in this C. of C. office has been returned to Plattsmouth at good interest from the favorable advertising Plattsmouth has received from it?

You citizens who want a hospital, a swimming pool, your stores occupied, your machine shop running; your alfalfa mill operating—can secure these things ultimately through your Chamber of Commerce, if thru your memberships you will give it power to reach out, and start these good things this way. Sometimes a penny has crippled many an institution.

The Wheeling Intelligence says: "A hick town is a place where the bootleggers never make enough money to get out of the 'criminal class.'"

A "Doubting Thomas" explained lamely a few days ago he would join the Chamber of Commerce as soon as he saw how it "turned out." All same, turn on the water and put the fire out, AFTER the building is destroyed. Some vision!

There surely are 500 citizens in Plattsmouth with enough love and faith in their city to take up its problems in union by co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce? It is said, "If wishes were horses, beggars would ride." If wishes were dollars, Plattsmouth wouldn't have any idle buildings.

Jack: How did you like the football game?

Doris: O, they didn't play. Just as they started, one man got the ball and started to run away with it, and they all began to jump on each other.

W. G. DAVIS, Secretary.

Are you a member of the Chamber of Commerce?

Funeral of Mrs. Emily Drew Held Tuesday

Services at the Home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cummins Largely Attended.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the funeral services of the late Mrs. Emily Colvin Drew were held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Cummins on Pearl street and attended by a very large number of the old friends of many years standing in this community.

The Cummins home where so often in her younger years Mrs. Drew had enjoyed the society of her departed sisters and the old friends was a very fitting place for the last services and from where she was taken to rest in the city of the silent beside those of her family circle that had preceded her in death.

The services at the home were simple in accordance with the wishes of the departed and the Rev. Vanderlip of Omaha, pastor of the Presbyterian church near the late home of Mrs. Drew was hereto conduct the services and paid tribute to the pioneer wife and mother whose long and useful life had just closed.

During the services Mrs. E. H. Wescott gave two solos, "How Firm a Foundation" and "It is Well With My Soul."
