

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

Judge Crossgrove of Lincoln, was in Greenwood last Tuesday and was a guest of Phil L. Hall while here. Uncle Henry Talcott departed for Lincoln where he will remain for the winter, and will enjoy the city life during the cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bourks moved to the home of Mrs. Myra Howard, where they have rented two rooms and will make their home there. George Bucknell of the firm of White & Bucknell, was called to Lincoln on last Wednesday to look after some business matters for the firm.

Mrs. C. E. Calfee was a visitor in Lincoln for the day on last Wednesday and was a visitor with friends and relatives there as well as doing some shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilkin were spending last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Wilkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingram, where they enjoyed the visit very much.

Henry Wilkin has been assisting in the picking of corn at the home of his brother, Wm. Wilkin east of town and they still have some 60 acres yet to pick.

Clyde N. Newkirk had as his guest at a duck dinner on last Wednesday his friend Phillip Reese, and where all enjoyed the duck dinner most wonderfully.

Frank Rouse is moving a house at Waverly to the Isaac Loder farm which will be used as a tenant house. Mr. Rouse is not afraid to do the work of moving houses.

Wm. Beckemeyer shelled and delivered some twelve hundred bushels of new corn last week which came through in pretty fair condition and by test showed to be number four in grade.

Verne Shepler and W. Rouse were installing water in the house just at the side of the lumber office, and where Messrs. White and Bucknell will reside when work shall have been completed.

Phillip Reese, L. C. Marvin, Verne Shepler, Elmer Coleman and Fred Wall were enjoying the meeting of the encampment of the order of Odd Fellows which met in Ashland on last Monday evening.

The recent cold snap made short work of a car of coal which was received by the Peters Grain company, it all going from the car as fast as it could be unloaded. There is nothing like a cold snap to stimulate the coal trade.

Phillip Reese was out to the home of his brother on last Sunday where he was discussing a chicken dinner, and as he is an expert on anything of this kind we know that the dinner was one of the best when he says so, and he does.

E. A. Landon was out to the farm for a short time last week and was looking after the repairing of some of the cribs on the farm and other work there and while he was away Judge W. E. Hand was looking after the work at the elevator.

Rex Peters and Frank Rouse were visiting and looking after some business matters in Lincoln on last Wednesday, they driving over in the car of the former. Mr. O. F. Peters was looking after the business at the elevator during their absence.

Hiram Perry who has been away from Greenwood for a long time appeared here on last week one day, dressed in full uniform of the United States army, and was visiting with his former acquaintances for the day, returning to his station with the regular army.

Mrs. O. E. Mayfield formerly of Greenwood where Mr. Mayfield conducted a paper some thirty years since, and which was known as the Greenwood Gazette. They have been making their home in Omaha for some time. Mrs. Mayfield was visiting with her many friends here.

E. L. McDonald was out with his gun and dogs on last Wednesday and was looking for about forty ducks which the report is were loose and seeking someone to shoot them. He was not able to get the entire forty, but was well satisfied with the few hours tramp which the innovation brought him.

On last Friday there was held a carnival in Greenwood sponsored by the school, who has been practicing for some time on a musical program and which when presented proved to be a most delightful treat to the amusement and music lovers of Greenwood and vicinity who were there in great numbers.

W. E. Paifing and Fred Ethrege were over to Lincoln Monday evening, where they were enjoying the meeting and banquet incident to the ratification of the election of Grand Warden of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, who was elected at their lodge recently. The boys tell of having an excellent time.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Boswell of Ong were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, the ladies being sisters, for the evening last Tuesday departing for their home in the southwest on Wednesday morning. They had also been visiting at Muddock as well, with Mrs. Boswell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scheel.

Mrs. Arthur Reese who was at the hospital at Lincoln for some time and who returned home for a week or two, and was improving, for a while was taken worse and returned to Lincoln for further treatment. Her many friends here will be pleased to have her health return and are longing for her return home in restored health.

The Owl Club met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holt, where a very enjoyable time was had, besides the members who were present, who very much enjoyed the excellent program and the very fine supper which the ladies of the society served. The presentation of the presents which was a feature of the evening were not able to find out whom they were given to, but do know they were elegant presents.

The Dorcas society of the Christian church held their bazaar on last Saturday evening at which a large crowd was present, who very much enjoyed the excellent program and the very fine supper which the ladies of the society served. The presentation of the presents which was a feature of the evening were not able to find out whom they were given to, but do know they were elegant presents.

The Rebeckah Assembly of the I. O. O. F. of Greenwood held their regular meeting Thursday set of last week, and after the regular work of the order had been dispensed with they turned their attention to the conferring of the Rebeckah degree on a candidate, which was well carried by the excellent team of the Greenwood assembly. Following this their attention was turned to the election of officers for the coming term.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hall were enjoying a meeting of the Ladies Reserve Officers association, which met at Lincoln on Wednesday where they enjoyed the occasion very much, meeting many of their old time friends, returning home the following morning. They were much pleased by an address of Prof. James Alexus who spoke very entertainingly of his travels in Spain, Portugal and France which was a treat for those present.

George Conklin formerly of Greenwood but who has been making his home in Lincoln for a number of years where he was engaged in business, having closed out recently was visiting with his many former friends here for a few days. While here he was a guest at the home of Frank Rouse and departed for Red Oak, Iowa, where he went to visit with a sister, after which he will depart for the west and will make his home at Portland, Oregon.

Little Vernon Skulling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Skulling, was taken with typhoid fever a few days since and is confined to his bed now with the attendance of a physician and nurse. It is hoped that his robust health will soon carry him over in the worst stages of this very serious disease, and that he will soon be well again. Miss Thelma, who has been ill for a long time with the same sickness is now getting along very nicely and making improvement every day.

Died at Hospital.

Mr. C. H. Perry of Greenwood who some time since was taken to the hospital at Omaha, passed away there on last Wednesday afternoon, with a cancer of the liver, the remains were shipped to Greenwood where the funeral services were held at the Methodist church and conducted by the Rev. Shepler of Greenwood. Mr. Perry was about seventy-five years of age, and has made his home in Greenwood for many years. The interment was made at the Greenwood cemetery. He has no relatives here.

The funeral and interment was held on last Friday afternoon.

Attends Wedding of Friend.

E. O. Miller, the efficient and genial cashier of the Greenwood State bank, was at Elyses, on last Wednesday where he was present at the marriage of his college chum and near friend, Mr. Luther Johnson of Valley, who was united in marriage on last Wednesday to Miss Lucille Palmer of Ulyses. Mr. Miller was assisting in the ceremony at best man. Mr. Miller and Mr. Johnson are frat brothers.

Eastern Star Officers. The Greenwood chapter of the O. E. S. has organized a Star Kennebec chapter. C. D. Fulmer was elected president; Mrs. Robert Matthews, vice president; Mrs. E. A. Landon, secretary and Mrs. H. W. McFadden, treasurer. The first meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fulmer with Mrs. Matthews as assisting hostess.

New Engraved Christmas Cards

The remembrance of refinement and good taste for the friends that wish to carry a yuletide message. TO IMPROVE LIBRARIES

New York, Nov. 19.—Some one-half million dollars will be spent during the next 10 years by the Carnegie corporation in improving American libraries, according to an annual report made public today.

Most of the money will be expended on raising library schools, in founding a graduate library school at the University of Chicago, and on the work by the American Library association.

The corporation also granted 600 thousand dollars to be used in activities in fine arts, 375 thousand dollars for scientific research and 200 thousand dollars for adult education. Miscellaneous grants amounted to 106 thousand dollars.

MISTAKEN FOR WAITERS, GERMANS CHANGE UNIFORMS

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Republican, simplicity in diplomatic dress has failed to work out in the young German republic. After eight years the danger of diplomats being mistaken for waiters became so real that president von Hindenburg and the cabinet passed an order allowing German envoys abroad, the foreign minister and the secretary of state to wear a semiblack of the gorgeous old monarchist uniforms at state functions. Under Secretary of State Karl von Schubert was the first to blossom out in the new navy blue garb with a double-tailed frock, gilded buttons and a peaked ostrich-plumed hat. Wearing of the new uniforms is discretionary.

Residents of City Respond to Civic Call

Chamber of Commerce Roll Growing as Citizens Get Into the Band Wagon.

Notice by the Rogers, Arkansas Democrat (Yes, we have a few republicans in Arkansas too—damn few!) That that state has been visited with eight inches of snow. Isn't it nice to live here.

Am sorry to note not a "reverend's" name in our membership. In Arkansas every minister feels it is a privilege to belong to the Chamber of Commerce and to contribute in a broad non-sectarian way to the development of the community. Bully for Arkansas!

"Without benefit of ancestry" in the November issue of the Deliberator should be read by every Plattsmouthian. It shows the advantage of "environment" as against "heredity." In other words, all the prayers, and churches can't save a city, and at the same time ignore the moral and civic conditions of such a city.

Yesterday's news item regarding the Missouri river bridge proposition confirms what we have repeatedly stated. This matter is in live hands!

The success of our bakeries means two buildings occupied; two families to help support Plattsmouth. Failure of either of these concerns is a direct reflection on our citizenship and the progressive attitude of our government. Plattsmouth has too many vacant windows already. Are you ready to do your bit?

McElwain is a dandy on oyster stew. At last night's M. W. A. banquet he made a wonderful record, as a chef to say nothing of his record in jewelry. Nearly a hundred M. W. A. boys enjoyed the treat and about fifteen rode the faithful hard-worked goat. Had a scrumptious time anyway.

Expect to ride home in my car from the Legion carnival tonight. It's great to watch stout, bald-headed men perspire and puff thru the "toddler" at the carnival dances. The music is swell! Johnny Hatt sure shakes a vicious leg.

A cynic said to me the other day: "Well, you are paid to boost." O. K., but, if I didn't honestly feel it in my heart I would ask Wm. Baird for a job at the shops. They've got a fine bunch of men out there—and no cynics.

Below we are listing to date those who have responded to the vision of a greater Plattsmouth—a closer finer spirit of unity—by supporting as subscribers, to this organization: Bauer, John, Beeson, A. Washington is Studying Nicaraguan Request Likely That the Method of "Good Offices" Will Be First Employed.

Washington, Nov. 19.—While news of revolutionary activity against the Calles regime is emerging from Mexico with increasing volume, the Washington government is studying silently the request of President Diaz of Nicaragua for aid in restoring peace there in the face of "Mexican aid of revolution and armed intervention in Nicaraguan political affairs."

For the moment at least, it appears most likely that further efforts to restore peace in Nicaragua thru the exercise of American good offices will be attempted. If successful, such efforts could be expected to modify and eliminate the Mexican angle of the situation by destroying the market in Nicaragua for guns and ammunition from Mexico.

Meanwhile Secretary Kellogg's expression of concern over outside interference in Nicaraguan affairs and the obviously increasing tension in Mexican-American relations is being discussed with intense interest in Mexico City, where a feeling prevails that the situation contains possibly grave aspects.

Lacking official representations from the American government, Mexican officials have declined to comment directly. Their attitude, however, is that it is only natural for Mexico to desire a sphere of influence in Central America, where they feel, its interests are identical with those of the United States; that the American government has no right to criticize Mexico for these desires, and that, while individual Mexicans may have aided Nicaraguan revolutionists, the Calles government has not interfered in Nicaraguan affairs. Furthermore, they argue, individual American citizens have been guilty of similar activity in behalf of revolutionists in Mexico and other central American countries.

What Might Happen? Efforts to ascertain here what might happen if the new diplomatic attempts to end the Nicaraguan disturbances have proved unavailing. Officials also have refused to comment on a suggestion that the Diaz government might be permitted to obtain arms from the United States through a lifting of the embargo on such shipments to Nicaragua. With the exception of Mexico, all other Central American governments emulated this embargo. Official notification of the decision to the Mexican government, however, merely brought a reply that the question would be taken under advisement.

While the filibustering activities and attendant developments have overshadowed the other elements of the strained relations between Mexico and the United States, they are not being overlooked. Charge Schoenfeldt at Mexico City has just been instructed to make representations to the Mexican government looking to removal of Agrarian trespassers on property owned by Mrs. Virginia King, an American.

The statement at Los Angeles last night by Odolfo De La Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, that 20 thousand men were in arms in a general rebellious movement in Mexico, was received here with skepticism in making his announcement, he took occasion to renew the charge of bolshevistic tendencies against the Calles government.

Mexico City was not the only Central American capital in which the Washington government's recognition of Diaz caused intense interest. San Jose, Costa Rica, having found the news sensational, with the Diario De Costa Rica suggesting that there presented a change in their policy. Nicaragua liberals also said the fight against conservative administration in their country would be continued, and that five thousand men were in arms.

FALLS FROM WAGON: DIES

Nebraska City, Nov. 18.—Lawrence Hope, Jr., four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hope, was instantly killed when he fell from a corn husking wagon driven by his father while working on the John O'Neal farm near Dunbar this morning.

The father had taken his son to the field with him and the boy was driving the horses. The ground was frozen and extremely rough and when the wagon hit a deep hole the boy became overbalanced and fell to the ground. His neck was broken.

NOTICE

There are several families of children in the community that are in great need of clothing. Dresses and undershirts for girls from five to twelve are especially needed. There is one boy of three years that can use whatever clothing you may have that is suitable. These families have been deserted by the father and need the temporary help of the Christian people of the community. Regardless of denominational ties. Those having clothes suitable please call either Mr. William Baird or Rev. H. E. Sottor, pastor of the Methodist church.

CLAIM SALARIES TOO LOW

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—Because of the need for "reconstruction of salaries" at Yale university is so acute, the income from the proposed $20,000,000 endowment fund is to go wholly for teaching and research work, President James Rowland Angell said in a campaign statement sent today to 30,000 alumni. To fail in the drive, which alone will make better salaries possible, would mean that Yale would have to drop out of the front rank among universities, he added.

The appeal cites the department of economics, sociology and government, wherein the average salary of full time professors is $6,500; the average for assistant professors is $3,186; and for instructors $2,100. After the endowment drive is completed the plan calls for increasing salaries until the average of full professors is $7,079; for assistant professors, $3,313, and for instructors, $2,270. Also there would be new appointments in large numbers to the higher and middle ranks.

Cars Emphasize Saving of Fuel

New Fuel Systems Are Said to Conserve Large Supplies of Gasoline.

Washington—Improvements in the fuel systems in standard makes of automobiles in the past month are of a nature to save millions of gallons of gasoline annually, according to reports here. The Ford company is the latest maker to announce a radical change in the carburetor system, which it is claimed, will add an average of from 8 to 10 miles to every gallon of gasoline used. The new equipment has been issued as standard on all Ford models within the past few weeks. The Hudson Motor company also announces an improved carburetor system, and other companies advertise increased mileage with a cumulative importance in relation to gasoline reserves.

The American gasoline supply faces depletion, it is claimed in some quarters, so that the new Ford development is of particular interest. The American Automobile Association headquarters here stated that $3,000,000 Fords were registered in 1925, with a probable increase of 1,000,000 or more since that time. The association estimates conservatively that larger type automobiles average about 400 gallons of gasoline a year, and the Ford about 270 gallons. According to the claims of the Ford company the new "hot-plate vaporizer system," which has been made standard on all Ford cars, will bring up the average Ford mileage from 15 miles a gallon, or over to 26 miles a gallon.

In the past the Ford fuel system, like that of some other cars, has fed the gasoline, mixed with air into the combustion chamber in an atomized state, as a sort of fine spray or mist. It was found that part of this mixture did not explode, but merely burned. This caused carbon to form, and by trickling into the crankcase diluted the oil.

The new plate vaporizer consists of a steel plate so thin that it heats up to 600 degrees within a few minutes after the engine starts. The gasoline is caused to strike his hot plate, with an effect precisely similar to pouring water on a hot stove. The liquid is transformed instantly into a "dry" gas. The result, it is said, is that the gasoline explodes without burning or condensing. The Ford company claims that no gasoline is wasted and that it does not escape to dilute the oil or to form carbon.

From a national standpoint the effects of the new system, in this one company if they are substantiated by practice, will be far-reaching, officials at the Department of Commerce said. If the 8,000,000 or more Ford cars now registered could all be equipped with a device it is said increasing their efficiency as claimed by the company, 10 miles to the gallon, the resultant saving would run into millions. Automobiles of all makes in the United States now consume something like 8,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year.

While there is no exact estimate of the proportion of this total used by Fords, it is believed it would be over 25 per cent, or 2,000,000,000 gallons. With such large figures, to reckon with any primary saving has more than a parochial interest, officials point out, and promises to be of value in conserving the nation's dwindling liquid fuel supply.

300,000 POUNDS OF POWDER BLOWS UP

Jerome, Ariz., Nov. 20.—Three hundred thousand pounds of powder exploded prematurely on the 300-foot level of the United Verde copper mine here at 10:30 Friday night. Windows in Jerome were shattered. Ambulances and doctors were rushed to the workings.

Two men, whose names were not learned, were known to have been killed, and several others were injured.

STATE LEGION MEETS

Lincoln, Nov. 20.—State officers and the executive committee of the American Legion held their first meeting since the recent election here Friday. Commander Earl Meyer of Alliance presided. The 1927 membership drive was the major topic brought before the meeting.

Anti-Saloon League Plans Its Activities

To Forestall Nomination of Wet Candidate or Wetness in Platform.

Washington, Nov. 17.—A vigorous campaign to combat the "movement to nominate a wet candidate for the presidency and to insert a wet plank in the national party platform" has been mapped out for the Anti-Saloon League.

The organization's executive committee, meeting here yesterday to consider the wet-and-dry aspects of the new congress, evolved three general strategic projects to meet the "challenge" of modification forces "effectively" in the campaign leading up to the 1928 presidential race.

In this plan particular emphasis was placed upon efforts to reach the indifferent voter with information on the issues involved, and to arouse the non-voter to the need for his exercise of the franchise to defeat the highly organized wet minority. It also contemplated immediate expansion of the league "educational" program, which has been relaxed since ratification of the Eighteenth amendment, and invigoration of the organization activities.

At the same time, the legislative committee was directed to work diligently for enactment of measures to elevate the status of the prohibition enforcement unit to the rank of a separate bureau of the treasury department, and to place prohibition agents under civil service.

A special committee was authorized to study the proposal of Assistant Secretary Andrews for replenishment of the diminishing supplies of mercurial liquor. The league's attitude on the question will not be determined until the prohibition enforcement chief's bill has been completed and examined in detail.

New Liquor Scandal on the Yale Campus

Erickson Arrested and Liquors and Various Bootlegging Equipment Worth $15,000 Seized.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—Yale students are being protected by the police against bootleggers and young women.

A report says Ernest Erickson boasted he was selling liquor to half the Yale student body, and expected the advertisement from his arrest to bring him the patronage of the other half.

About fifteen thousand dollars' worth of whisky, gin, cognac, Martini, Benedictine, Absolut, and other liquors, an extensive body of patrons, were found at Erickson's home.

The mother of a Yale student complained that bootleggers were selling liquor to her son, and Erickson was apprehended on the campus. He was released on bail.

A year ago Erickson was connected by the police with the "Trumbull Literary circle," which maintained a secret "key" society in the heart of the business district. The raid of the "literary circle" attracted attention because raiders seized, among other things, an extensive body of patrons which was never made public.

A detective sergeant and a policeman are keeping tab on two graduate students who are ringleaders in the practice of holding midnight and early morning parties in student apartments downtown, with young women as guests.

So seriously were the attentions of certain young women to students some time ago that a number were sent to institutions and many more warned by the police.

FARMERS WARNED TO BE CAREFUL OF SEEN CORN

Nebraska farmers will be seriously in their corn planting next spring, unless they take special care in selecting and storing their seed corn, according to a statement issued by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Continued rains and overflowing streams have caused much of the Nebraska corn to stand in muddy fields in their next month, and exceptional care must be taken by the farmer who wants a good stand and who would reduce his feed bill next spring.

"Good seed corn next spring will depend on artificial heat and ventilation that is given it at this time of the year," the Foundation states. "As it comes from the field in the fall, seed corn contains 25 to 35 per cent moisture, and this moisture content must be reduced to about 12 to 15 per cent if the corn is to pass through the winter without losing the vitality of its seed. Corn properly dried will not be greatly damaged by freezing, so that it is very important that immediately after picking, the corn be placed where it will receive free ventilation in order to dry it rapidly. This done, the corn should be stored where it will not be exposed to extreme cold.

Gets the Lice! STANDARD Protexol DRY DIP. In winter, kill lice with Protexol, the powerful dry dip powder. Wet dip driers health in cold weather. Sprinkle Protexol on all poultry and live stock. Use it to disinfect quarters. Quickly they will be free of all vermin.
