She was accompanied by Dr. Kintner, her physician.

These are Very Busy Times

Sure, this is a time in which people are living very intensely, so much being crowded into a day that we are not all sure what day it is. One of the energetic farmers, living not far from Nehawka; having in mind the doing of his Christmas shopping early, on last Sunday morning accompanied by the good wife, after getting shaved, was starting to Nebraska City, where they wished to make some purchases, thinking it was Saturday, and they would get there early before the crowds assembled and have an opportunity to make their selections more or less leisurely. But when they found they had lost a day somewhere, they checked up and began again, but they did not wait until the next Saturday, but went on Monday and had a splendid opportunity to make their selections unhampered.

Had an Excellent Show The treat which the Sheldon stores gave on last Monday evening to the public was one well worth while, for it was enjoyed by a large number of people. The title of the show which was given twice in order that all might be accommodated, for there was a large crowd present notwithstanding the not any too good roads, was "Bigger Than Barnum," and it was well entitled to the name, for it was a big show and was greatly enjoyed by a large number of people. During the beginning of the second show, Santa Claus appeared and distributed a box of candy and good cheer to the numerous kiddies who were there to greet him. All in all it was a most enjoyable affair and will long be remembered by every kiddie in Nehawka and vicinity.

Need of Hospital Shown in Recent Sad Accident

Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Has Suggestions on This and Other Civic Matters.

Well, goodbye, ole skatin' ring until another good freeze hits us again.

However, next winter will get started earlier on the skating rink, now we know it can be done, and have a bigger and better one.

The Rogers Democrat claims a pessimist only remembers that the lily comes from the onion family, while the optimist appreciates that the onion comes from the lily family. A lily is swell to smell and look at, but nothing can beat a big juicy creamed baked onion with lots of salt, pepper and melted butter; "An onion a day keeps callers away!"

There have been some sad happenings around here the past two weeks the saddest we think is the sudden and terrible accident of friend and neighbor John Cotner. Mrs. Cotner called at this office and asked: "Why is it, Mr. Davis, it is impossible to have a hospital in Plattsmouth?" Mrs. Cotner then told of the terrible suffering of her husband in the ride by car to Plattsmouth and then back to Omaha, about three hours being consumed before he reached the hospital. We just feel it is not impossible, and that Plattsmouth will come to the realization that as a city she owes her citizens the benefit of a hospital.

Some call the writer a darn'd fool for trying to push this or that, and others say fine, go ahead. What's a poor fellow to do? Please? Brigham Young must have been a genius?

Thanks to the editors of the Platter for the much appreciated compliment in their last issue. You bet I'll be glad to call at the Hi-school any chance I have.

Yesterday made a wind-shopping tour to look at the beautiful Christmas windows in town. It surely speaks the Christmas spirit.

The Chamber of Commerce Christmas window is ALSO now in—come and see it.

L. R. Snipes, county agent, left a large number of splendid farm bulletins for distribution; also have some good booklets on mud and dirt road figures. Come in and help yourself.

Boosting is the thing that gets people interested in their city, and their home industries. But, it is impossible to bring a permanent reaction to boosting unless such boosting is backed by genuine unquestionable quality.

When a little verminiform becomes naughty and needs disciplining, it'd be a heap nicer to be able to get it done at home! With apologies, to "Fairy Soap." Have you a little verminiform in your home?

Now the king of grief, Mr. Mud is again visiting us, how'd you like that gravel road? It's a fine time to keep in mind the matter of more paving for Plattsmouth this spring—away with our mud slides into this city! Ask your councilman—that's his job.

The Key to our City, which Mr. Wm. Baird so kindly had made at the shops, is on display at this office. It is a work of art.

W. G. DAVIS, Secretary.

JURY IS EXCUSED

From Wednesday's Daily— When the members of the petit jury panel arrived at the court house this morning they found a very fine Christmas present awaiting them—being excused from service for the rest of the term and being allowed to go on their way rejoicing and with the knowledge that they had fulfilled this part of their duties as citizens of the community.

The case of John Elliott vs. C. L. Stull, which was appealed from the county court, was dismissed and this ended the labors of the jury.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN IS RELEASED FROM PRISON

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 21.—Wesley Langley, former republican representative from the Tenth Kentucky congressional district, was released on parole Monday from the Atlanta federal penitentiary, after serving 11 months of a two-year sentence for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws. He left Atlanta for Lexington, Ky., with the intention of continuing to Pikeville, Ky., to spend Christmas at home with his wife and children.

Can You Help Us?

During 37 years of service the H. M. Soennichsen store has extended liberal credit to all worthy people and has never yet unduly crowded anyone for money. In our present predicament those owing us accounts can help us wonderfully by arranging to meet their obligations as quickly as possible. We will greatly appreciate your assistance at this time.

VISIT IS ONE OF AMITY

Washington, Dec. 17.—President Coolidge looks with great hope on the pan-American flight as a means of fostering good will and showing the enormous possibility of commercial aviation. Press accounts of the proposed flight both in this country and in Central and South America republics were said today at the white house to have fairly presented its purposes in that they emphasized that it would be absolutely non-military in character and designed only to promote amity and show some of America's southern neighbors what benefits can be derived from aerial communication.

Billion Decline in Farm Crops' Value in 1926

Nearly Half of This Drop Held Due to Cheapness of Cotton; Corn Was Most Important.

Washington, Dec. 21.—A slump of $1,148,000,000 in the value of the country's important farm crops this year, as compared with last year, was shown Monday by the Department of Agriculture's December estimates.

The decline was due principally to lower prices of most farm products rather than to decreased production, was below last year. More than half of the decline was on account of the low price of cotton.

The principal crops, based on December 1 farm prices, were valued at $7,801,313,000 for this year. Revised estimates of last year's crops placed their value at $8,949,321,000.

Cotton, dethroned as king last year by corn, failed to regain its crown this year despite record production. The drop in total crop value due to cotton was $581,324,000, cotton's total value this year being placed at $1,016,346,999, as compared with $1,597,670,999 last year. This year's crop is more than 2,500,000 bales larger than last year's.

There was a decline of $263,331,000 in the corn crop's value as compared with last year. Value of the present corn harvest is placed at $1,703,430,000, while last year's was $1,966,761,000.

Wheat was one of the crops showing larger production and greater total value. This year's crop is valued at $997,589,000, compared with $957,970,000 for last year.
