Some are complaining because they read into the report of the trial which was held charging Mr. Blair Porter with profanity, and who was discharged, that we inferred that he had to pay the costs, which would be impossible when he was discharged. The costs were charged against the one filing the complaint. The one filing the complaint which was not sustained at the trial was Constable J. P. Wilson.

Taken Up, Boar Hog.
While passing along the highway I found a spotted Poland china boar hog, which had evidently been spilled out of a passing truck, and which was somewhat crippled, this hog will be turned over to the owner who shall properly identify the animal and pay for the charges of keeping it, otherwise the animal will be sold according to law and the receipts used to defray the expenses of its keep. It is now at my farm home south of Union, Dated Union, Nebraska, January 4, 1927.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
The P. O. M. club held their semi-weekly meeting Tuesday noon in room five. It is believed by every one that the P. O. M. club will do wonders for the city of Union.

Due to the forgetfulness of the American History instructor, the students had to continue their routine in this subject.

The eleventh and twelfth grade agriculture class, having completed two books; are now beginning their third, this advanced book is better known in college than in high school. This goes to show of their high mentality.

An interesting spelling contest between the juniors and seniors proved to the juniors their inferiority.

The motto of the junior girls seems to be "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again" for they finally succeeded in roping in the senior boys by inviting them to a party last Wednesday.

Waldia Dysart has been absent from school for a month on account of her eyes, but is now back again.

The students of U. H. S. were very pleased when the faculty informed them there would be no more examinations—until the next ones.

The two basket ball teams are going to play Friday night, Jan. 7.

The freshmen are really beginning to feel more at home in high school now, we think, because they do not seem to feel the pangs of self-consciousness when they trip daintily to class.

The faculty found it necessary to change the seats of the seniors. We have our doubts as to how this will work because they are not much influenced by the environment.

Mr. Marcell was advised to take exercise with dumbbells in order to keep his "manly figure"—so therefore he spends much time with his sophomore geometry class.

The sophomores thought they were doing something wild when they missed a week of school, but on returning found it had been Christmas vacation.

LECTURE ON MEXICO
A free public lecture on Mexico will be given by the widely known orator, Joseph A. Stanko, in K. of C. hall on Saturday evening, January 8th at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of San Juan de Padilla, Council No. 1966 of Knights of Columbus. The lecture will be a popular presentation of the facts about Mexico, its government, and its attitude to democratic ideas and institutions. The lecture is arranged as part of the Knights of Columbus campaign for the education of the people against the Soviet domination of this continent.

Mr. Stanko is a lecturer of many years standing, and known for his fearless and vivid manner of treating a subject. He has been State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus in Colorado for three consecutive terms and under his special direction the enrollment in the only two Catholic colleges in the state has been increased one hundred per cent. In the World War, Mr. Stanko saw service in the trenches, more than a year of his enlistment being spent in France and Germany. He is a graduate of Creighton University and the University of Michigan.

The Knights of Columbus campaign against radicalism is in full swing. Mr. Stanko is one of many noted writers and scholars now on the platform in the campaign. Three million booklets setting forth the facts about Mexico have been printed and are now being distributed in North and South America. Plans for the making and printing of three million more booklets are being arranged. The Knights of Columbus are carrying on this campaign against sovietism in America in pursuance of their resolution at their Supreme Convention in Philadelphia.

Troop who with other members discussed the dangers of the drug evil of the present day which has grown to great proportions in the last few days. At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses that added to the pleasantness of the event.

IN MEMORIAL
In memory of Earl Hackenberg who died December 30th, 1296:
In Memoriam.
I
Dear Earl! How are hearts do throb, As we softly speak that dear name Which claims a warm spot in our hearts, Ever with us to be the same.
II
Must we believe? Yes, he is gone! No more with us to linger here; Can aching hearts be reconciled To part with one we hold so dear?
III
Friends mourn their great loss Of one so unselfish and true; 'Mong earthly friends he moved and dwelt—
IV
With faults so few and love sincere, We pain that death should spare such friends, For youth seems dear and sweet to all—
V
Our hearts cry out, "Oh spare us such!" Yet all must heed the Divine call.
VI
God may want the fairest flowers; He often calls the blooming youth Who lives for love and not in vain, A life of purity and truth.
VII
We see no more that youth full form, Except as memory brings it near, But that pure soul which in it dwelt Will reap reward with naught to fear.
VIII
We think of Christ most blessed words, And lay that form beneath the sod— "Blessed are the pure in heart; They have assurance of seeing God."
A FRIEND.
