ROBERT S. MCCLERY

Mr. McCleery was born at Stockton county, Mo., on March 30, 1873, and passed away on December 25, 1926, at the age of 53 years, eight months and six days. At the age of ten years he went to Arkansas City, Kansas, with his parents, where he resided until the age of 19, when he left the family and came to Newark, Okla., where he took up a homestead. At the age of 21, he was united in marriage to Miss Etta Isabell Potts of the same city, after which they resided in Galena, Kans., where he was employed in the mining business. In the year 1904, he came with his wife to Weeping Water, Nebraska, where he settled on a farm until the year 1912, when he started in as a cement contractor, having taken care of most of the bridge and culvert work in Cass county, and also for the state of Nebraska until his death.

To this union were born three sons, Freddy of Wyoming, Robert and Donald of Weeping Water, and three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Bill of California, Mrs. Mattie Paulsen of Weeping Water, and Mrs. Agnes Sargent of Omaha, all of whom were left with the mother to mourn the death of their beloved husband and father.

The funeral services were held at the Congregational church at 2:30 p. m., Thursday, Dec. 23rd. Rev. Birch had charge of the services and interment was made in the family lot in Oakwood cemetery in Weeping Water.—Weeping Water Republican.

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICIES

No nation in the world uses so profusely of the products of its metal mines and oil wells as does the United States, because no people enjoy to as great an extent as our people the necessities and luxuries which these industries provide. That is why we should all be interested in a constructive and encouraging governmental policy toward these industries.

Old Resident of Weeping Water at Rest

Sketch of Life of Mrs. Helen Fenn Reed, Old Time Resident of Cass County.

Helen Alevia Fenn, born in Tallmadge, Ohio, July 17, 1843, to Treat and Harriett Fenn. Studied in Oberlin college. In about 1869 she went to Chicago to live with an older brother, Curtis Fenn, where she worked for a time on a paper called "The Little Corporal." An uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Ashman, came through Chicago on their way to Nebraska and she was induced to give up her work and accompany them. They came to Weeping Water. The first year Miss Fenn taught school at Nehawka. On September 12, 1871 she was married in Tallmadge, Ohio, to Lucius Fuller Reed of Weeping Water, who was then in business here with his brother, Eugene, under the name of Reed Brothers, operating a general merchandise store.

Mr. Reed died in January 1900, leaving his wife with four small sons. Mrs. Reed kept the home they had built in the west side of town, where she brought up her family. She lived here until a few years ago when she went to live with her two sons, Charles and Homer, in Salt Lake City. When they went to Los Angeles, she went with them, making her home in Burbank. Here she passed away quietly in her sleep of old age. She had taken her Christmas dinner with her son and grandchildren in Glendale, Calif., and seemed to enjoy the day. That night she went to sleep and did not awaken again.

The funeral services were held in Burbank, Calif., conducted by Rev. Stevenson. Many old Weeping Water friends and relatives were in attendance. The body was brought to Weeping Water by her two sons, Charles E. and Lucius F., and laid away in Oakwood cemetery, Dec. 31, 1926, beside the body of her husband.

All four of her sons survive. Geo. Clinton, missionary at Banako, West French Africa; Lucius Fenn, pastor of the Congregational church at Boulder, Colo.; Chas. E. and Homer, of Glendale, Calif., engaged in general contracting. Mrs. Reed's sister, Mrs. Harriett Ackerly, who has lived in Weeping Water almost as long as Mrs. Reed, passed away in this city last August at the age of 81. Her daughter, Mrs. Helen Wallick, and son, Victor, are Mrs. Reed's only relatives now living in Weeping Water.—Weeping Water Republican.

Murdock Man Brought to City for Care

Charles Nunziato Who Attempted to End Life is Brought Here for Safe Keeping.

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff W. C. Schaus and Thomas Svoboda motored out to Murdock on the receipt of the message announcing that Charles Nunziato of that place had attempted suicide and was in a rather violent state that required his being kept under guard to prevent his ending his life.

The deputy sheriff and Mr. Svoboda brought the man in and he was lodged in the county jail in the custody of Sheriff Reed until his case could be passed on by the board of insanity as the man is apparently insane.

The man is said to be an alien as he never completed his citizenship but he has resided in this country so long that it is thought that it will not be possible to deport him back to his native land—Italy and accordingly he will have to be cared for here by the Cass county and Nebraska authorities.

The board had a great deal of trouble in getting the answers from the man and the services of Antonia Lemanna were secured to act as interpreter for the board in getting the history of Mr. Nunziato for the records of the board. The unfortunate man will probably be sent to the state hospital for care as he is in very bad shape and needs hospital attention.

New Music Supervisor Is Selected

Miss Ruth Lindsay of Lincoln Will Serve in City Schools in the Future.

From Saturday's Daily—
The board of education held a special session this morning at 11 o'clock to take up the matter of the selection of a music supervisor for the city schools and have made a selection that is most pleasing to all and one that will add greatly to the music department of the city schools. The supervisor selected is Miss Ruth Lindsay of Lincoln, daughter of Harry Lindsay, former clerk of the supreme court, and a lady who possesses the very highest qualifications and endorsements for the position.

Miss Lindsay has a masters degree from the University of Nebraska as well as a bachelors degree from the university school of music and has been following her line of work since leaving the university in a number of places. Her teaching experience in music lines has covered a period of several years, including the musical department of the state agricultural normal at Curtis, Nebraska, as well as several years as assistant supervisor in the Lincoln high school system, being in charge of the music in the junior high schools of that system.

Miss Vyrul Fossler, who has mentioned at the first as a possibility in the music supervisor position, did not make application for the position and asked that her name not be considered in the naming of the new supervisor.

The patrons of the schools will be very much pleased that a lady of the qualification of Miss Lindsay has been named for the position of music supervisor and which gives great promise of the future advancement of the school system.

Death of Aged Weeping Water Lady Tuesday

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Cowles, Old Time Resident of County Called to Reward.

Mary Elizabeth Rhodes was born at Jordan, N. Y., Sept. 13, 1845, one of a family of six children, three sons and three daughters, all of whom lived to the mature age of over 79 years.

Most of her early life was spent in Jordan and Marcellus, N. Y., and she was educated at Cazenovia Seminary. On January 11, 1869, she was married to Dr. John H. Cowles, of Marcellus, N. Y., and they soon moved to Marshalltown, Iowa, where he practiced medicine and conducted a drug business; one daughter was born to them, Ida Laura Cowles, now Mrs. Carl Day, of Weeping Water, Neb.

In 1880, they, with several New York families, followed the pioneer trail to Western Nebraska, and located near Cambridge, which was at that time the farthest point west reached by the Burlington R. R.

They enjoyed the development and enduring the hardships of a real frontier, and for some time administered as best they could to the health of a wide territory, even from Holdrege to Arkon, Colo., and from Benkelman to North Platte. In 1904 they retired and moved to Weeping Water, Neb.

Mrs. Cowles passed away in March, 1910, at the age of 65 years.

Mrs. Cowles always seemed contented and happy to be near her daughter and her two grandsons, and although during the past two years she was closely confined to her room with partial paralysis, she was always cheerful.

Last week she sustained a more severe shock, and passed away Jan. 4th.

Her entire family were ardent supporters of the Christian faith in New England, and for many years she has been a member of the Congregational church.

She is survived by her eldest brother, T. W. Rhodes, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, who is in his 94th year, and who is one of the first and oldest living graduates of Syracuse Uni.

Also her daughter, Mrs. Ida Cowles Day, and two grandsons, Eugene and John Day of Weeping Water, Neb.

The funeral was held at 3:30, on Thursday, Jan. 6th, at the Carl Day home. Interment in Oakwood cemetery in Weeping Water.—Weeping Water Republican.

Both Buttery and Lawton are among the hardest working and most efficient members of the scout troop here and their interest in the work has been the keenest.

Last evening the Plattsmouth high school second basketball team journeyed up to Papillion to take on the high school team of that place and as the result of the struggle the Sarpy county team were the winners by the score of 24 to 19.

The chief scoring points were by Robert Hadraba and Roland Thomas, forwards for the junior Platters but the team was unable to overcome the attacks of the Papillion basketeers and the result of the battle was very much one sided.

The boys on their homeward journey also suffered bad luck as the car in which they were making the trip broke down on the north side of the Platte river and the team was delayed until 3 a. m. before they could reach home and rest.
