Walter J. Wunderlich was installing a radio at the home on Monday of this week to amuse the children who are kept at home with the whooping cough.

Clyde Switzer and Jim Stone were getting the hog crates ready for the sale which Mr. Stone is going to have in a short time. Look for the date in this week's paper.

Fred Meisinger, living north of Nehawka, delivered one thousand bushels of corn to the feeding lots of W. O. Troop and Robert Troop during the past week.

Frank M. Lemon and the good wife were visiting with friends and looking after some shopping in Lincoln on last Friday, they making the trip in their auto.

A large number of people from Nehawka and vicinity were in attendance at the sale of Charles Hobaek, which was held about seven miles south of town on last Monday.

Grandmother Dale has been very ill at her home in Nehawka, but at this writing, while not entirely out of danger, is feeling some better and it is hoped she will soon be well again.

The annual meeting of the members of the Nehawka Auditorium association which was held at the building in Nehawka on Monday afternoon of this week, was fairly well attended.

Robert Troop, who marketed some very fine cattle in Chicago recently, received the returns from the shipment a few days ago, which were very flattering for this young breeder and feeder.

NEHAWKA, NEBR.

Last Saturday, it being a cold day, R. H. Ingwerson stored his ice for the coming summer and if it causes as much coolness when it is used as when it was put up, the experiment will be a handy one.

Louis Dunkick, of Avoca, who is an auto salesman for a Weeping Water firm, and who is featuring the Ovegard Whipper, was in Nehawka on Monday of this week interviewing the prospective buyers.

Ernie P. Sheldon and E. J. Woods each had two car loads of the shipped to Nehawka for storing, the ice coming from the Blue river at Crete. This will afford these gentlemen a goodly supply for the coming summer.

Delbert Switzer and Bert Willis were looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Monday, driving over to the big city in their car, and while they were away Maurice Pollard was looking after the store of Mr. Willis.

The stockholders of the Nehawka Grain company held their annual meeting on last Saturday evening, but as they were somewhat late in getting started, they had to wait until Monday afternoon for the holding of the directors meeting.

W. O. Troop and wife, with their daughter Lois and son, Thomas, were visiting and looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth, where Mrs. Troop was also visiting at the home of Robert Troop and wife of that place, being in attendance at the W. C. T. U. meeting which was held there at that time.

Mrs. W. J. Wunderlich was assisting at the bank during the absence of Clyde Duckworth, who has been in the hospital at Omaha, where he was being treated for the flu. He is home again now, however, but still very weak from the rigors of the malady, although he is making good headway toward recovery.

Frank Trotter took a truck load of very fine steers to the Omaha market one day last week for Dan Anderson, who was well pleased with the returns which they brought him. He was able to receive on the average an advance of two cents on the price and 400 pounds of gain to each critter, and why should he not be well pleased?

Randall Hobaek, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hobaek, has been having a very severe case of pneumonia and was in most critical condition for a number of days last week. With the best of treatment and nursing the little lad, who is a fighter, was able to shake off the malady and is now getting along very nicely and it is hoped will soon be entirely out of danger.

As we were in the store in Nehawka, we observed A. B. Rutledge enter with a basket well filled with eggs, which he said was the second marketing during the week, and besides he has used all they desired at home as well as supplying their son, Glen and wife with what they needed, and still retained a lot at home. Verily, it pays to keep the best of chickens. His are Rhode Island Reds.

Roy Cole, the expert telephone engineer from Weeping Water, was over to Nehawka on last Monday and was straightening out some tangles in the lines and board, which are bound to creep in now and then, notwithstanding the exercise of all care possible to prevent the same. Roy knows the telephone business as readily as a Fifth grader knows the alphabet, and it does not matter to him whether the trouble is in the office or on a high pole, it is all the same and he solves the difficulty in the shortest possible time.

A week ago Saturday and Sunday, George Hanson was favored with a visit from a friend of his who resides in Lincoln, and who visited with the family here, having a very good time. Returning to his home in Lincoln, on the following Monday, as he was engaged in cleaning a large pistol, it was accidentally discharged, the bullet therefrom making a hole through the heart of Mr. Hanson's friend and causing his death a few moments later. He was rushed to the hospital, but his life blood was fast ebbing away and he passed from this world even before the hospital was reached. Mr. Hanson went to Lincoln Thursday to attend the funeral.

Miss Mabel Howard, who teaches the school on the highway north of Nehawka and west of Murray, when she gave her entertainment in the shape of an excellent program and a lap supper, took the entertainment to Murray, where it was given in the Peterson hall. The entertainment was very replete in its appointments, with booths for the sale of many work and many other articles, which pulled up the sum total of some $80 for the use of the school, and which is thought very good. By the way, it is deemed that the teacher is just as good or better in the school room, as she is providing an excellent entertainment for the patrons and that is fine.

Are Holding Revival Meetings
Two ladies, sisters, they being Misses A. and E. Sterling, are conducting revival services at the hall over the Steffens store, and they are furnishing good addresses and some very fine singing. An invitation is extended to all to come and enjoy these services.

Murdock Wins Over Nehawka
On last Friday at the auditorium in Nehawka, was staged a very tense game of basketball between the elite of the city in both the fair sex and the hustling lads of Nehawka, and who had pitted against them the gregation from Murdock, which is known as their town teams, being alumni of the High school of that place. The folks from the western part of the county were sure enough basketball players, or it really might have been they were a portion of a whirlwind or a cyclone which originated in the west and came to a climax only when it struck Nehawka, for they sure were more than a brain storm, for when the experts on book-keeping were through with their computations it was found that in the case of the girls' teams, the Murdock lasses had 49 to their credit, while the Nehawka girls, good players at that and very fair to look upon, had amassed only eleven credits to their column. When it came to the boys' game, the count, without going behind the returning board, was 54 for Murdock to an even dozen for Nehawka.

Nehawka Youth Missing and is Being Sought

Glen Hobaek, 17 Years of Age, Missing and Thought to Have Gone Out to Secure Work.

The relatives of Glen Hobaek, 17-year-old son of Oscar Hobaek of near Nehawka, are searching for the young man who has been missing from his home for the past several days and they have been engaged in looking for him at several of the towns in this part of the state.

The young man is reported large for his age and has the appearance of being much older than he really is and is believed to have gone to some large railroad center in an endeavor to secure work as a telegraph operator.

The relatives have notified authorities at Nebraska City and Sheriff Ryder there found that the young man had been at Falls City but had left there supposedly for Lincoln where he had expressed the hope of finding work.

The father and members of the family are quite anxious to locate the young man and are keeping the search up in the hopes of locating him but so far have been unsuccessful in their search.

Judgment for Large Amount is Set Aside

$14,000 Assessed Against Melvin Burgess Is Vavated by Judge Wheeler.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Judge Wheeler of the district court of Lancaster county Monday afternoon set aside the $14,000 default judgment given Maybelle Z. Purdy against Melvin Burgess some time ago, Maybelle Purdy, thru her father, brought suit for $25,000 against Burgess, claiming Burgess had caused her to be injured in an automobile accident in August, 1926. It was alleged by Miss Purdy that Burgess took her to a dance at Lincoln Beach near Ashland on that date and that on the way home he made an improper proposal to her and grabbed hold of her and the car in which they were riding went into the ditch. Burgess in an answer denied this. It was claimed by Burgess that the default judgment was obtained thru perjured testimony and that he was in the county jail on another charge brought by the girl's father and could not appear in Judge Wheeler's court where the case was heard. The judgment is set aside providing the defendant pays costs and a $50 attorney fee by February 1, 1927.—State Journal.

Burgess was arrested and brought to Plattsmouth on a charge of attempted rape on Miss Purdy, the Harold Wall of Eagle wins a free trip for being the best club member in the calf clubs, this given by the Nebraska Farmer. The Nebraska Dairy Breeders' association will give medals to Donald Petersol and Francis Walberg of Eagle who are the leading Dairy Club members.

Gas Engine Schools.

The two gas engine schools that are to be held in this county soon are not going to be any cure-all hospitals wherein some one can wave a magic wand over any old wreck of an engine and make it take on new life. The farmers who attend the school will spend a few minutes each day looking at some charts that emphasize the simple principles of gas engine construction and operation. The rest of the time will be spent on the engines that farmers bring in.

Mr. Oberlin who is coming from Lincoln to take charge of the school, does not want the farmers to fool away their time on engines that have been worn out and thrown away years ago. Nor does he want any farmer to bring in an engine, drop it on the floor, and say, "there she is, let's see you make her run." He does expect the farmers to bring in engines that have not been working properly but which are still worth repairing and adjusting. He also wants the farmers to have on hand all the repairs he thinks will be needed to put the engine into first class condition. It will be necessary for the farmer to get the necessary repairs himself anyway if he expects to take home a good engine at the close of the school, so he will save time if he can get the repairs ahead of time.

Cass County Winners.

Charles Jacobsen of Eagle won second place in judging six classes of livestock. This judging contest was open to all farmers of the state of Nebraska; also all college students. In the dairy judging contest open to college students and all high school boys, Floyd Althouse of Eagle won second place, and Clifford Jacobsen fifth place. Wonders in 10-Acre Contest in Nebr.

An Otoe county man won first place with a yield of 88 bushel. Nelson Berger of Nehawka won a crop growers medal for the highest yield in Cass county which was 71 bushel. Part of this 10 acres was plowed about May 10th in the spring of 1926, and then listed and the corn planted probably around the 15th of May. This was first year corn, following alfalfa. In checking results where corn followed alfalfa, sweet clover or red clover we found that the spring plowing out-yielded the fall plowing.

Corn Club Winners.

Charles Hatcliffe of Weeping Water will receive a medal given by Omaha Union Stockyards company for having the highest yield of any corn club member in the state of Nebraska, 88 bushel. Eddie Weyers of Eagle wins a free trip to Club Week in Lincoln, this trip also given by the Union Livestock Co. Jesse Livingston of Weeping Water won the pure-bred gilt given by the same company for being the best corn club member in eastern Nebraska.
