NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT DEFENDANT

In the District Court of Cass county, Nebraska.

To Mrs. Laura G. Marshall, whose place and residence and upon whom personal service or summons cannot be had in the State of Nebraska:

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of December, 1926, The Standard Savings and Loan Association of Omaha, Nebraska, filed its petition and commenced an action in the District Court of Cass county, Nebraska, against the above named defendant, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose a certain mortgage for Four Hundred ($400.00) Dollars on Lots nine (9) and ten (10), Block ninety-six (96), in the City of Plattsmouth, Cass county, Nebraska, as surveyed, platted and recorded, which mortgage was executed on the 9th day of May, 1923, by Laura G. Marshall and C. A. Martin, her husband, as mortgagors to the plaintiff herein as mortgagee and which was duly recorded on the 10th day of May, 1923, in Book 51, at Page 369 of Mortgage Records of Cass County, Nebraska. Said mortgage being given to secure the payment of a certain promissory note or obligation in writing dated May 9, 1923, and plaintiff alleges that there is now due plaintiff on said indebtedness the sum of $370.40 with interest thereon from and after the 15th day of December, 1924, at the rate of 8% per annum.

Plaintiff prays that in default of payment by said defendant of the amount due plaintiff as aforesaid, said mortgaged premises may be decreed to be sold according to law to satisfy the sum found due with interest and costs of suit and that said defendant and all persons claiming by, through or under her, or any of them, be excluded from and foreclosed of any and all interest, right, title and equity of redemption or lien upon said mortgaged premises.

You are hereby required to answer this petition on or before the 7th day of March, 1927.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, January 30,
By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear."

Christian Overcoming Temptations.

Know you one thing for certain, the devil can quote scripture for his purpose, because he does know this also and it is for the purpose of overcoming some things which stand in the way of his obtaining dominion over you. Know the scriptures and be assured that the things which you are to offer are most applicable to the case in hand.

The temptations which we have to guide this time, are most applicable to all the exigencies incident to human life. The temptation which the Master underwent are similar to the ones which come to all people in the ordinary life. True we may think our own temptations are the ones most directly interested and because the local color. The temptation of our Lord, was just following the baptism, and was when he was filled with the holy spirit, and being the real man which He was, He was like any good strong healthy man, who is liable to get hungry something awful. Jesus was a man like we all and was tempted with the flesh. He was no effeminate, pallid, milk complexioned man without any life and vigor and action, for He had them all. Strength action and appetitive because He endured long and severe work without a murmur, many people have the idea, the Master never got tired, hungry or sleepy. Do you remember when he had been working all day, healing those with infirmities, taking their diseases over and when the disciples were resting at the house of Galilee, He fell asleep in the hinder portion of the boat, when they awoke Him saying, "Carest Thou not that we perish, How canst Thou lie asleep when each moment some angry wave is threatening a grave in the deep." He was sure of the man, as He was at all times when He worked hard just as we would be. Then, when He had a hungered for forty days He surely was hungry, just as hungry as we would be under like conditions. Then when the devil said, "If Thou be truly the Son of God, as was proclaimed when Thou wert baptized, command these stones that they become bread and stop that hunger gnawing like a wolf which it is." One cannot say but what the pangs of hunger were certain and real, not imaginary, and there was a temptation, for we all would like to have that hunger appeased. How can we but then credit to the Master the being in the same condition as we are. He had the scripture ready when the devil said make bread of the stones. The stones which were about the place were round ones and in shape and color resembled a loaf of bread, and would have a tendency to intensify the hunger which already was gnawing at his vitals. The appeal to the passions and appetites was the first one which the devil made, thinking this the most vulnerable point of attack.

Jesus said "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by the every word that proceedeth from the Father."

Then the devil thought to apply another sort of temptation, and proposed when he had taken the Master to the top of an exceedingly high mountain, and shown all the kingdoms of the earth in a moment of time, and said unto Christ, "If Thou wilt fall down and worship me, I will give you all this." This was an appeal to the ambition which would stimulate a desire to have power and dominion. The answer came quickly and to the point, "It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord, thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve."

This plan of attack was without effect, and so the devil took the Saviour to the temple and placed him on a pinnacle of the temple, and in a taunting voice said, "If Thou art really the Son of God, as Thou sayest, cast Thyself down from this heights, and as recorded in the psalms, the Angels of God will bear Thee up for least haply Thou at any time dash Thy foot against the stone." Christ answered, "Thou shalt not make trial of the Lord thy God."

The devil then left Jesus for the time, as his wiles no matter from what source they had come they were of no effect, not that they did not appeal to the Master for He was like us all, human and subject to all the things which we are.

I Cor. 10:12—Where let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13.—There hath no temptation taken but such as man can bear. But God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able, but with the temptation make also the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it.

There are so many kinds of temptations that there are also recorded many kinds of work for refute those different processes, but be assured that in the Bible there is always the answer, for did not the very Christ Himself say "Search the scriptures for in them you have eternal life and they are they which testify of Me."

To be fitted for the problems which come to us in the everyday life we must be versed in the Bible, which is indeed the book of life.

"Well can we exclaim 'Holy Bible, book divine, Precious treasure thou art mine, Mine art thou to guide my youth, In the paths of love and truth.'"

Since we battle not against flesh and blood, the weapons of our warfare are not carnal. Victory over temptation is not a matter of repartee. It does not depend upon the genius of him that is being tempted, nor to the smartness of the one in question. Victory depends upon knowing and applying the word of God. The devil's strength is not so much in his own prowess as in the poor defense which we are generally putting up. When we are weak, the devil is correspondingly strong. When our defense is strong that of the devil is correspondingly weak. We do not discern from the originality of Jesus, but do affirm His own application of the word at the very practical time. The word when once spoken was absolutely acknowledged as a commandment of authority from the Father. There is no argument about it.
