Meets With Live Wires Who Assist in Guiding the Chamber of Commerce There.

From Saturday's Daily— Luke and His Uke: "I expect upstairs shoes in hand, just as the night took wing. When I saw my wife right straight ahead. Doing the same dern'd thing!"

Yesterday, Clarke G. Powell requested us to dine with the membership committee, senior, of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. We declined just until we made it look right yet manage to hang onto the invitation.

F. T. B. Martin, chairman of that committee, of Martin Brothers & Co., "Dependable Insurance since 1869" (evidently long before the present Mr. Martin arrived on the scene) sat at my left, and when I made the usual gesture of paying for the eats, he fixed it entirely satisfactory to me. Had a nice tender piece of rib roast; a baked potato with its poor sides slashed fearfully; delicious brown gravy; pineapple salad; two cups of coffee; and raspberry sherbet that reminded me of Arkansas, all 'cept the chiggers. It was so true to the raspberry in taste and color.

You know it's swell to meet those Omaha men—act, talk, joke, and seem to feel just like our own Plattsmouth Chamber officials and committees. Had a wonderful visit, went into the proposition of plans used in other Chambers for financing and membership. Mr. Powell has a way of making a fellow feel so at home, it is no wonder his success with the Omaha Chamber has been so phenomenal.

Found our friend Ballard Dunn of the Bee knee-deep in work (not June!). He sent his regards to his many Plattsmouth friends. Called in A. K. Donevan, the new state editor and we discussed more publicity for Plattsmouth in the Bee. Received many promises of co-operation and good-will in this and as we never yet knew a man by the name of "Donevan" who failed to make good his word, believe the "usual" hot air of the past will mean something tangible in the future.

Mr. Dunn is a big, jovial, cordial fellow that rather grips a fellow right in the heart, with his big vigorous handshake, and is as approachable as the most humble clerk, no blondest flapper to pass to get in to see him—or sending in a card. However, the material room was just full of swell dames—which, as we just casually noticed off-handed and unintentionally!

In talking with the Mr. Watson of the World-Herald learned that Hill Wescott had been there the day before and already put in some swift strokes for the interests of the Plattsmouth news in that paper. Between both the Bee and the Herald, we "orter" get at least as much publicity as Bellevue and LaPlatte. Mr. Watson gave us his assurances of closer co-operation, and said their state editor had been informed of the disappointment of our people over the lack of Plattsmouth news in the Herald, and felt sure he could assure us of better co-operation in the future. Mr. Watson is a most charming, and exclusive gentleman, and our visit with him was most pleasant and encouraging.

But you have to pass the keen-eyed-searching-look of a female sentinel to get to Mr. Watson's sanctorium sanctities.

Anyhow she was dan'd good looking, and had a smile that made a fellow almost not care whether he got any further—that is so I've been told!

We did learn that the problems of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce are identical with our own—only everything of a larger scale. Mr. Powell stated the Chamber of Commerce in Plattsmouth, with its office always open, was the most important step forward Plattsmouth had taken, and that this city would more and more appreciate the fact, as the years passed, that this place is large enough to maintain a Chamber, and we had the good-will and co-operation of the Omaha body, at all times.

We have a book of season tickets to the Elks' Indoor Carnival, Feb. 26th and 28th and March 1st and 2nd. The Elks in a big fraternal way are always doing things to push Plattsmouth. Drop in and get your ticket, and let's make this carnival a great big time of fun, and a financial success from start to finish. Yours for more fraternity and aggressive co-operation!

Mr. Brown, Commissioner of Industries of the Omaha Chamber received us into his private office and the matter of locating industries was discussed pro and con.

The committee making the run to Lincoln Monday will have to be in Lincoln by 3 p. m. Considering the earnest work put in by Judge Begley, our president, and the bridge committee, it is only fair that a large delegation should make this trip to uphold the work of Mr. Begley and the committee—don't fail. Other cities are planning on large delegations—let's make 'em sit up and take notice of the fact Plattsmouth is thru being luke-warm—her interests are at stake—and we are alive and keen to the situation. Atta boy!

W. G. DAVIS, Secretary.
