Take Care of Your Widow Now

If there were no other incentive, this one ought to be enough to impel a man to save and sacrifice.

The widow and the kiddies will need protection a great deal more after father is gone than while he is with them.

The answer is—

Mrs. F. E. Lewis of Meadow Grove a daughter of Joseph Lloyd of Plattsmouth was a visitor at the Masonic Home of that place and a guest of Mr. Lloyd for a short time last week, and also at Murray with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Read and family for a number of days, returning to her home in the northwest on last Tuesday.

The blacksmith shop of Vaelav Micklusky, the work is coming crowding in such quantities that both father and son are kept rushing from early morn to late at night. We examined some of the work which they are doing on sharpening discs, and found it as good as we ever observed. Drop in and see the excellence of the work they are doing.

We hear of another wedding which occurred but a few days since in Lincoln, or at least there was an account of a license being issued for the marriage, and many of the friends of the bride have been extending congratulations. There was some thought of a charivari, but as the groom was absent it was postponed until he should be present.

Senator W. B. Banning who was looking after some matters of business at Plattsmouth stopped in Murray on last Monday and met some of his friends, and was calling on Geo. E. Nickles, having had one day off from the state legislature, but continued on his way to Lincoln where he went to assist in making some good laws for the state of Nebraska.

News arrived on last Tuesday of the death of his late home in Lincoln of James Bayless, who was well advanced in age, the funeral occurring the day following and the burial being in the beautiful cemetery of Mt. Pleasant near Nehawka on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Bayless the wife has passed away some seven years since, and who was a sister of Mrs. W. B. Virens.

A number of the people about Murray were over to the sale which was held west of Mynard, when Anna Snyder was closing out the implements which she had taken on money loaned. The farm where Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder have lived for many years was also sold. Mr. James Schwab being the purchaser for two hundred dollars per acre, there being four hundred acres.

Enjoy a Charivari.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Horcher, the bride being formerly Miss Lena Lancaster, whom they gave these two excellent young people a serenade, and were received at the Lancaster home and the evening spent most pleasantly, with a treat being furnished by the happy groom. Another charivari, was also held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scotten, when the young people serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neell, and were invited to the home where a very enjoyable evening was had and a treat provided also by Mr. Neell.

Departed for the West.

Mr. Louis H. Pula, and son Harley and Mr. Raymond Hill departed on Wednesday of this week, for Cornish, Colorado, where Mr. Hill will make his home in the future. They shipped a good portion of the goods which they are taking with them, and are driving their trucks through. They will expect to arrive at their destination in about three days. The folks will go via train.

In Nebraska Sixty Years.

On Tuesday, March 1st, George I. Lloyd, was in Murray and was telling some of his friends of his arrival in Nebraska just sixty years ago to a day, and on the day when the state was admitted into the sisterhood of the Union. Mr. Lloyd was then but seven years of age, but was at that age that he was able to recount many instances of the early days. He was speaking of the first thrashing machine which was operated by horse power, it requiring about six teams to run the little thrasher, and were able to do about one tenth the amount of work which is accomplished by a modern thrasher. He also recounted many other instances of the early days which ran from the sixty years ago when the state was young, to the present when we are now enjoying a country equal to any in the land.

Ten Loyal Men of Murray.

There were ten men in Murray who did not believe that Carl Lang was guilty of arson, and when he was incarcerated charged with this crime at the instance of two insurance detectives went to Plattsmouth and asked to go on his bond for appearance when the trial should come and upon investigation by County Attorney W. G. Kieck, he recommended the dismissal of the charges against the young man. Accordingly Judge James T. Regier dismissed the case on Tuesday of this week.

Those to stand for their friends and for the cause of justice and for one whom they had good cause to think was innocent, were A. Gansamer, W. S. Smith, Greene Piggot, W. L. Seybolt, Frank Mrasek, Glen Todd, Everett Spangler, A. D. Rhoden, Leo Nickles, and George Nickles. The dismissal of the charges seemed to be very satisfactory to all of the people of Murray.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, March 6th

By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: "Ye shall be my witnesses."—Acts 1:8.

Carrying the Good News

This statement made to the Christians during the early days of the church, has continued in effect during the ages, is literally as true now as it was the day it was uttered and ever shall be a guiding factor among followers of Christ.

The Master was speaking to the disciples direct when he spoke those words, having been asked by some of them, "Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom of Israel?" Replying, the Master said, "It is not for you to know the times or seasons which the Father has put in his own hands. . . . But ye shall receive power after the Holy ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

Thus he spoke, and also said, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

Following the ascension of the Master there came a season of wonderful work in Jerusalem, and on the day of Pentecost, there were some three thousand added to the church. But later the church was greatly persecuted and the members had to fly for their lives. This looked hard and was hard, but still like the elder-down that flies from the cottonwood and finds lodging many miles—often times hundreds of miles—from the tree where it grew, followed by a tiny sprout springing up and another tree has by God's wisdom been planted to in turn send out its seed in later years and assist in the growing of other trees. So it was with those early Christians who, when they were persecuted and driven from Jerusalem, went hither and yon seeking safety in their flight, and withal telling the story of the Risen Christ as they went, thus bearing the message of the Master and aiding materially in the establishing of other churches, so the gospel of the Savior was promulgated and became a living factor in the world.

We often think the hard tasks that come to us are severe, but how many times is it only a door of opportunity opening to us to do the work of the Master, to save some one who is only waiting for the message of the love of Christ.

When the first church was established, as we have studied, there was much work for the Apostles to do, and as they had everything in common, a board of deacons was appointed to look after the care of the members, while the Apostles themselves taught and preached. Stephen and Phillip were two of these and most competent men at that. Stephen was so capable that he was much more than a match for those who opposed him, and for this reason they stoned him to death, thus marking the beginning of the severest persecution of the church.

Among those who were scattered abroad and sought safety in strange lands was Phillip, who preached and explained the scriptures to the Ethiopian, establishing a church in Africa. Then Phillip went to Samaria, where he preached like many others of the early Christians, working to pay his way, and at the same time preaching, talking to the fellow who worked next to him and thus making a convert to the cause of Christ.

It was not necessary that there be a large crowd or a magnificent building in order to spread the seed of the early Christians, working to pay his way, and at the same time preaching, talking to the fellow who worked next to him and thus making a convert to the cause of Christ.
