Youths Caught Here Last Night with Stolen Car

Lads Giving Age of 15 Years Forced to Abandon Car Near Gapen Farm—Now in Jail.

From Thursday's Daily—
Gibson Williams, Quincy, Illinois, and Arthur Owens, St. Joseph, Missouri, are today in the county jail to face a charge of having stolen the Buick sedan belonging to J. E. Hall, Omaha real estate dealer from near the residence of Mr. Hall on Davenport street last night.

The two boys who gave their ages as 15 years were apprehended two miles south of Murray late last night by Deputy Sheriff M. G. Scott and Officer Clyde Jackson who were deputized to aid in the search for the stolen car and accompanied the deputy sheriff to the scene of action. The boys were compelled to abandon the car a few miles north of Murray on the K. T. highway when the clutch of the car refused to work and forced the boys to continue their journey on foot and while so engaged they were captured by the deputy sheriff and brought on into this city and lodged in jail.

The matter was reported to the office of Sheriff Bert Reed by the Livingston who was driving along the roadside south of this city and at once Deputy Sheriff Scott securing the services of Officer Jackson hastened to the scene and recovered the car as well as the two boys that had taken the machine.

When brought here and questioned the two boys seemed very unconcerned as to the seriousness of the charges that they faced. They stated that they had run away from the Father Flannigan home in Omaha yesterday afternoon, one having been there for a few days and the other for a few hours, they deciding to go to St. Joseph, where Owens has relatives living. They stated to Sheriff Reed that they had planned to go as far as Nebraska City in the stolen car and then take the train to St. Joseph.

The boys had driven through this city and crashed the stop sign along Sixth street and which had called the attention of the police to the car and which helped to identify the car as the one that had been driven from Omaha to this city, and which was later noticed by Mr. Livingston along the roadside.

THIRTY-SIX YEARS AGO

From Thursday's Daily—
One of our old time residents remarked today that St. Patrick's day was not what "she used to be," the remark being called for by seeing the few green ribbons and shamrocks that were being worn.

"Thirty-six years ago today," our friend remarked, "the streets here echoed to the marching feet of 1,000 Irishmen and many more were on the sidelines helping in the celebration."

The old resident stated that on this great and glorious celebration of Ireland's patron saint that Governor James E. Boyd, the first democrat ever to be elected governor of Nebraska, and himself a son of the old sod was here for the day and a great parade marched through the main streets of the city with a great mass meeting at the Waterman opera house, then standing where the Journal building is now located.

At that time there were hundreds of the Irish descendants living here and they made the occasion one of the most notable. The Evening Journal on that day was printed in green and the printers, while not all Irish assisted in the celebration.

As our informant was sipping a coca cola today, he stated "on the big day of the celebration a man that called for beer was looked at askance" and it is really no wonder there is no real enthusiasm nowadays.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS HOLD STUDY PERIOD

From Thursday's Daily—

Mrs. Woolcott read a paper from the pen of Father Martin J. Scott, on "Fasting and Self Denial." This was followed by two vocal selections, "Holy City" and "Voices of the Woods," by Mrs. Charles Peterson.

Mrs. I. F. Rae gave a talk on "The Importance of Holy Week Services," followed by a piano selection "Farewell to Piano," by Beethoven.

Mrs. Wm. Swatek gave "The Origin of the Way of the Cross" and the program ended with another piano number by Mrs. Reed, "In an English Garden."

From Friday's Daily—
The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Thomas on west Elm street was the scene of another pleasant post season gathering of the members of the Plattsmouth high school basketball team last evening, the occasion being a dinner party tendered by Roland Thomas in honor of his associates on the team.

The handsome home made a very charming setting for the event and the dining room was brilliant with the decorations of the St. Patrick's day favors and colors as the green was used extensively in the decorative plan of the dinner. The green candles, tiny green shamrocks and a beautiful floral center piece comprised the settings while the Paddy place cards added their note to the enjoyable event.

The delightful dinner prepared by Mrs. Thomas was one that everyone of the party enjoyed to the utmost and the serving was most pleasantly carried out by Miss Carolyn Thomas while Mrs. Thomas was assisted by Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans in the arranging of the repast that was one to tempt the most discriminating epicure.

Following the dinner the members of the team were called upon for their expressions. Captain George Rebal, Gerald Smith, Roland Thomas, Bernard Galloway and George Perry of the team all expressed their pleasure at the season just closed, at the comradeships that they had enjoyed with each other and the regret that the retiring members of the team felt that the school years were fast fading would soon be closed for three of them.

The training of the team had been a pleasure the coach stated and he had found all ready and willing to do their best in the work that he had been associated with them.

STEAL MARCH ON FRIENDS

From Friday's Daily—
When youth and maiden usually wed it is a difficult matter for them to conceal the fact from the public or the young people keep the secret of their wedding, but in the case of two well known young people of this city it is not the case.

It has finally been learned by members of the family circle that on March 19, 1926, Miss Minnie Klingner and William O. Kettleton of this city were united in the bonds of wedlock and have since that time kept their secret closely guarded and not even the nearest relatives learned the truth of the happiness until a few days ago.

The secretive bride and groom are due for the shower of congratulations from their friends and will surely receive the best wishes of all of those that the years may give them.

The bride is the present city clerk of Plattsmouth and one of the most popular ladies in the city while the groom has been engaged here for a number of years in charge of the battery station at 6th and Pearl streets.

Here's the best wishes to Bill and Min for their happy married life.

Speaks on the Present Mexican Problems

Rev. W. E. Thomas Tells of Conditions From His Observations—Many Hear Address.

From Friday's Daily—
Rev. William Evans Thomas, spoke last evening at the First Methodist church in this city on the present day problems of Mexico, declaring that he had every hope of the present situation in Mexico righting itself and the differences between the government and church being straightened out amicably. Rev. Thomas was for five years pastor of the Union Protestant church in Mexico City.

The trouble there stated, he said, over a law passed in 1917 which ruled that all ministers and priests must be Mexican born. There are a few exceptions, in the case of a congregation of foreigners, which are allowed a foreign pastor. In Mexico City the Union Protestant, Episcopal and Christian Science, which has no pastor, are allowed foreign leadership.

At the present time the people are still allowed to go to churches to worship, as the churches, he said, have not been closed by the government, but the priests have declared a policy of not saying any further masses since August. This does not deprive the people of the chance to go to church for their private worship.

There are more pyramids in Mexico than in Egypt and likewise the remains of an ancient religion with its idols and other paraphernalia of ancient superstitions. Two idols several hundred years old of an ancient rain god were shown; one made of volcanic glass. The knives which were used in the human sacrifices in these ancient religious practices for cutting out the hearts of the human victim were also made of this volcanic glass. According to a noted historian the Mexican civilization has been destroyed three times, the last being by the conquest of Cortez, who burned his ships that his Spanish soldiers could not return. It was stated that the reason for the difference between the degree of civilization in Mexican people are not inferior people naturally, but as demonstrated by the work of even the most ignorant of them, they possess great native ability.

The unrest and unsettled condition of today in Mexico are not a sudden upheaval, but a gradual growth of protest against the oppression of the masses. The first great revolt to establish the present ideal of government was through the influence of Mexico's great Indian general in the middle of the last century. He has tied to Mexico the name of Lincoln of Mexico. This revolt was broken and its effects temporarily lost, but the constitution adopted in 1917 again decreed, the separation of church and state. The government was not strong enough to enforce its decrees however, and it has only been recently that a real attempt has been made. There is a great deal of misunderstanding about this question on both sides of the Rio Grande, but the Mexican government is not against religion. It does say, however, that all peoples must obey the laws whether they be Protestant or Roman Catholic. Rev. Thomas said there were many priests who would obey the law if the church would allow them and that many Roman Catholics helped him in his work in Mexico City. A group of Roman Catholics even were ready to purchase him a car for his pastoral work, when the law went into operation last August. The government is making valiant efforts to establish a real system of schools. During 1926 it established one thousand new schools and had placed within its budget finances for one thousand more new schools during 1927. It is making a real effort to break up the great estates and form small holdings for the Mexican people to be financed on a long payment loan. Likewise the government has no quarrel to pick with any church, but feels that any system which has been in operation for over four hundred years and has left over eighty-five per cent of Mexico's fifteen millions, absolutely illiterate has not lived up to its great opportunity. The government feels there are too many magnificent churches and too many priests for the real needs of the people. There are many magnificent cathedrals in Mexico; even in a very small village one will be found often costing more than a quarter of a million dollars. According to an official of a foreign corporation in Mexico one could throw a lasso from nearly any spot he has in mind to any village or city of Mexico and it would drop around a priest.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY PARTY

From Thursday's Daily—
The sixteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Catherine McClusky was made most pleasant last evening at the parlors of the First Presbyterian church when a number of young friends joined in the observance of the event in a surprise party.

The "Merry Maids" class of the Sunday school joined with their friend in the pleasant event and with a 100 per cent attendance of the class at the regular church night supper, they found that a special treat had been arranged for the class of honor and the class.

The table arranged for the "Merry Maids" was arranged in a color scheme of pink and white, carried out in festoons, candles and the large handsome birthday cake with its glowing candles and the dainty butterfly nut baskets.

All the ladies wore head frills of pink crepe.

There were fifteen of the young ladies present with their teacher, Miss Edith Farley and their much loved superintendent, C. A. Rawls to enjoy the occasion.

Miss Catherine received as a remembrance from the class a handsome variety case that will be treasured by her as a token of esteem.

At a late hour the members of the party wended their way homeward expressing their best wishes to Miss Catherine for her future years and to Mrs. McClusky who has assisted in the planning and carrying out the surprise.
