Easter will soon be here. When in doubt a wise man gets out—if possible. The chronic boaster is a target for many an unknickered kick. Moving the goal posts back minimizes the foot in football. Kissing may be dangerous, but we are not a race of cowards. Some powder goes off with a bang; some goes on with a puff. The British are ardently in favor of American naval disarmament. It's difficult for a woman to love a man that no other woman admires. If success doesn't turn the average man's head it's because he has a stiff neck. The Jewish people are good businessmen and generally good American citizens. Our good friend Henry R. Gering, we are pleased to chronicle, is somewhat on the improvement line. One of the requirements of modern life is to be able to ride in a bus holding on with only one hand. Another peculiar thing about the Chinese situation is that the Chinese are fighting only for what belongs to them. American invention is keeping pace with the modern age, says a writer. So be it, while there yet are sick friends in need. Many a woman's ideas of being on time is to be five minutes late down and five minutes more every half hour until she arrives. An Oregon banker fell from the deck of a yacht and was drowned. A banker who is able to float a loan should also be able to float a line. On his sixteenth fall from a horse, the Prince of Wales was thrown 15 yards. Thus is the old copy book maxim that practice makes perfect, vindicated. The general assembly in an eastern state is considering taxing amusements. If this is carried along further, perhaps the various state legislators can be made to pay their way. Long skirts will return, says Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, but it will take 30 years to work the change. So Willie can look forward to having something to hang on to by 1957. A bill to allow all kinds of swearing has been brought before the British parliament. They're taking golf more seriously over there since the American victories of last year, 'tis said. Senator King decided to abandon his one-man invasion of Haiti over the ban of President Borno. We wonder if the marines in Haiti would be reluctant to arrest a United States senator. Senator Borah gave his pay raise back to the government. It was reported about the same time that several old Roman ruins were badly shaken up, supposedly from Diogenes getting uneasy in his grave. Ford says he won't retract anything he said about the Jews. A little boy sometimes is told, that if he can do, and won't do there's a way to make him do. Mr. Ford is human, but he doesn't own the earth yet. Clairvoyant powers which heretofore we had not suspected the president of having: The New York American says President Coolidge has "commuted by eighteen months the sentences of twenty negroes originally sentenced to life imprisonment."

The court canned "Peaches." Fine weather anyhow, after Easter. We should all be happy that we are alive and well. About the easiest way to settle an argument is to shut up. Jailbirds presumably come from larks, bats and swallows. March is not slow in giving us a farewell touch quite often. Ford seems to go in for mass production of defense lawyers. Never try to dictate to a woman—unless she is your stenographer. The greatness thrust upon us is sure to grate upon our neighbors. Poor Old Daddy Browning, has no "Peach" cobbler for his desert, now. We would have more ideal cities but for the scarcity of ideal citizens. The old boys will get their pensions right along. Don't have to wait a day. Down in Florida a prize fighter's jaw has been broken and he wasn't even talking. The matrimonial market seems to be looking up in Plattsmouth and Cass county, generally. Somehow the people who always say what they think have a mania for saying disagreeable things. The cynic is anxious to see Mr. Reed of Missouri, in the White House long enough to hear the first veto message. Woman's bathing suits to be skimpier than ever this summer. Maybe the girls are going in swimming in their street clothes. The radio commission may be classed as a failure. They've been in office a couple of weeks now, and haven't done a thing about "Valencia." A steamship laden with 500 casks of liquor was abandoned off the Atlantic coast the other day. Things like that keep the mackerel soured. Country people are more liable to injury than city people, asserts an insurance man. Let's settle this question once and for all. Boy, page Mr. Borah and Mr. Butler. We feel a deep regret that we were unable to meet with the newspaper boys at Eagle Friday, but the cold, chilly wind of March kept us at home. When a fellow attains the age of 35 years he is not permitted to do anything together as he would like to do. We would have enjoyed the occasion, we know, especially the visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gardner. Some fine summer days we will make a special trip to Eagle to visit our good friends, and spend the whole day with them.

NOT UNFORTUNATE "Unfortunately, I find myself out of sympathy with the reformers," says Henry L. Mencken. No misfortune about this—none whatever. If the reformers should receive endorsement from Mencken it would be proof positive of the error of their position. Mencken is congenially opposed to all that is clean, decent, and respectable. An endorsement from him is equivalent to a blighting curse.

THE NEWS HAS WIT While the Texas legislature, sitting in the home state of Davy Crockett, is adopting the mocking bird as the official state warbler, Chicago is deciding to buy an armored car in which to fight crime. Sufficient for the wit of the day in the news thereof. Kansas retains her chivalrous glory when the supreme court decides that a man should not beat a woman even if she is trying to take his seat in a street car. Mr. Ruth is paid $70,000 a year, while Mr. Coolidge gets slightly more, $75,000. But then Mr. Coolidge puts in a longer season, you know. COMMUNISM AGAIN REPUDIATED

Another large body of American laborers has turned its thumbs down on communism. After being led by communists into a strike which came very close to being disastrous, the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union has repudiated its radicals and has returned to conservative leadership of the American Federation of Labor. This strike would have been averted if the workers had accepted the advice of President Sigman, who favored arbitration, rather than that of the communists, who controlled the joint board of the union, and who did not want peace, but war. They knew that the time was not opportune for a strike, but they had been ordered by the communist party to bring one about. A conference with the manufacturers meant "class collaboration," which, to a communist, is the most mortal of mortal sins. The strike, which resulted from a refusal of all proposals of arbitration, was, as the union now declares, criminally mismanaged. As a result of the unintelligent tactics, entailing an expenditure of $26,000,000 in wages, the leaders, after 20 weeks, would have settled with the manufacturers on ignominious terms, had not the conservative leaders intervened and obtained decent working conditions for the distressed unionists. But it is not the fact that the strike ended in a fiasco that has caused the garment workers to repudiate the communists. It is, on the other hand, as they declare, that the radical leaders had "political rather than economic purposes in view." If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble. Remember above date, that consultation on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different. Married Women must be accompanied by their husbands. PLAY-BALL!

What words evoke a more ardent response in the breasts of the ever-youthful citizens of this great nation than the twin that will soon respond over a thousand far-flung expanses of April greenery, and over a thousand stadium packed with eager sportsmen, "Play-Ball!" Against the accusations of those somber souls who mumble darkly of "mechanistic dehumanization," and contend that a fevered infatigability is replacing a zest for life with the average American toiler, let there go forth an expression of the emotions with which this slave to commerce and industry views the imminent opening of a brand-new baseball season. Such an expression would dissipate those fears forever. The nation's leaders may be harried by appalling problems in statesmanship; the national shoulder may groan under the burdens of income tax returns and the price of ham; and dull clouds may threaten any given human enterprise, but when the umpire steps forth and splits the air with his first, "Play-Ball!" the echo will perform its annual miracle—the down-trodden toiler will grin. Some will command seats in concrete grandstands at the opening of big and little leagues, and some will stand about the village green and watch the home boys exchange base hits and repartee with the nine from the next county. Every small boy will barter his heart's treasures for the price of a ten-cent ball and a dubious glove. But the bond that unites them is immutable—the bond of a wholesome love for clean, outdoor sport. Mankind being what it is, scandals will come and go, but they are as powerless to ruin the appeal of baseball as the missteps of a few movie celebrities are to spoil the public's enjoyment of a good film.

INADEQUATE COMPLAINT

In a St. Louis divorce suit the wife complained that her husband, after telling her how he hated her, had turned her out of doors scantily clad. It was wrong, of course, for the husband to tell his wife he hated her. That was impolite. We fail to see, however, good grounds for divorce in this complaint that she was turned outdoors scantily clad. In this day and age, women go outdoors scantily clad of their own accord. The wife will have to find more serious grounds for action.

CHICAGO, A STRANGE CITY

Chicago must be rather a strange sort of city, in some ways. Every so often there is a gang murder there. And always afterwards the police announce that the man slain was a "lieutenant" or something in some big beer ring or other. Very interesting. If the police knew it, why hadn't the man been arrested for his part in the beer activities? Maybe the Chicago police work on the theory that if they leave 'em alone they'll kill each other off and save them the trouble. NEW BRICK MASON From Tuesday's Daily—R. D. Jordan, an expert brick mason and general worker on the mason line has just moved to this city from the vicinity of Gretna and Springfield where he formerly resided and expects to make this city his home in the future. Mr. Jordan has located in his new home at Fourth and Granite streets and will be ready to look after all lines of his work that may come his way. He is a brother of J. N. Jordan, well known resident of this section of Cass county.
