A LAND OF INSTANT COMMUNICATION

The telephone can be credited with revolutionizing life on the farm. It has brought the city and country together; it has obliterated distance; it has developed neighborliness among farmers, and it has been of inestimable value to the farmer in facilitating his business and saving his time.

It is difficult to comprehend how the farmer can very well do without the telephone, but then, for that matter, it would be pretty hard for any of us to dispense with it. The whole structure of modern business is built around the telephone and its quick method of communication.

DEMAND PEACE BOND

This morning complaint was made by John A. Koukal before County Attorney W. G. Kieck, asking that E. A. Koukal be placed under a peace bond, the result of a disagreement that arose between the two parties yesterday at the Koukal farm northwest of the city. The bond as requested was supplied. The defendant in the action was fined $10 and costs yesterday on an assault charge that was preferred by John A. Koukal.

The trouble seems to have arisen over the conduct of the farm here, which was owned by the father of the young men and the estate that is now being settled up.

Six Towns Report Their Appearance and Performance in Two Nights of Present Week.

A crime wave rolled over eastern Nebraska during the first two days of the present week.

Monday night in theater at Fremont was robbed and the night marshal at Nelawka engaged in a gun fight with three strangers who opened fire when he put a flash light on them. He drove them out of town.

Tuesday night the bank of Colon was robbed and a robbery of a small amount, a store at Ashland was robbed of a considerable amount, four garages at Nebraska City were entered and tools stolen and a Studebaker four door sedan taken. The postoffice at Julian was robbed and some of the tools stolen at Nebraska City were taken in the postoffice.

Officers, after reviewing closely the work of the robbers at the Colon bank, are inclined to doubt their expertise. They cut thru the vault door with little trouble but got little farther. They did not attempt to open the money safe and some believe they ran out of gas. The gas tanks and torches used at the Colon bank are believed to have been stolen from a Fremont junk yard.

Some of the Monday night reports filtered thru to Lincoln after news of the Colon bank robbery became known Tuesday. That was true also of the Fremont theater robbery. News of the robbery at Ashland Tuesday night reached Lincoln about the time information came from Colon.

State Sheriff Condit was expecting some one to be pulled in the near future, that might give a more definite clue to some of the members of the gangs. While the robberies were probably pulled by two or three gangs it is believed they may have been working with the knowledge of each other.

The battle with the night marshal at Nelawka is said to have been quite a shooting affair. The marshal put a flash light on three suspicious characters. He was shot at and returned the fire. His gun jammed. He jumped behind a corner to get his gun working again and they continued to shoot. When he emerged with artillery working they fled in a car.

HEARING ON FINAL REPORT

Mr. Lynn has had charge of the affairs of the estate and providing for the care of the widow of the deceased, and protest of the acceptance of the application for the discharge of the administrator and acceptance of his report, is made by several of the heirs of the estate, in that the amounts that were allowed the widow it is alleged was excess of the amount provided by the deceased John Clarence. Mr. Lynn has had charge of the estate for several years and desires to be relieved of further responsibility in the matter.

LITTLE BOY LOSES ARM
Last week the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lake while at play crawled up on the roof of the barn and fell off with the result that he broke the left arm very badly. When the little fellow saw what had happened he stuck the arm in a water tank which was close by. He was immediately brought to the doctor where the arm was taken care of. However, blood-poisoning set in and his condition was considered so serious that it was thought necessary to amputate the arm in order to save his life.

GREENWOOD HAS RJOT

From Saturday's Daily—
From the reports reaching this city, the vicinity of Greenwood was a place of turmoil and rioting Friday evening and which involved some ten or twelve persons of that city and vicinity.

It seems from the reports that the affair occurred at a dance in Greenwood and the affair seems mixed up with the old foe John Barleycorn and the matter will probably be given an airing as the matter has been placed in the hands of the county authorities.

BOY SCOUTS BACK HOME

From Friday's Daily—
The Boy Scouts returned home this morning after having spent a very enjoyable time at Cedar Creek where they were in camp since last Saturday afternoon. The boys had intended to come home yesterday but owing to the fact that they made a fine catch of fish they decided to stay a while longer and enjoy the fish fry.

There has been many exciting incidents of the camp and which will in time be given full publicity. The boys had several hikes to Louisville and vicinity and visited the old Stout house and other places of interest in that part of the county. Swimming matches were held when the weather was warm enough and several of the boys also were at Camp Quivera to join the Lincoln scouts in their trip.

One boxing match, or rather almost a boxing match occurred over the question of the prowess of two of the party as fishermen, but no serious damage occurred.

Taken as a whole the camp was very pleasing and had a fitting ending this morning as the boys took down their tents in time to get caught in the rain.
