

Eastern Star Ladies Give Pro-gram at Home

Delightful Entertainment Is Afforded the Aged Residents of the Nebraska Masonic Home.

From Friday's Daily—
The residents of the Nebraska Masonic Home were given a very pleasant treat when the ladies of the Eastern Star arranged and presented a very interesting program of a musical nature and which made an event of more than usual pleasantness to all of those who were fortunate enough to enjoy it.

The program was presented thru the efforts of the Star Points, Mrs. Glen Vallery, Mrs. Ray McMaken, Mrs. Golda Noble Beal, Mrs. Thelma Nelson and Mrs. David Rutherford. The event brought a great many of the talented young people of the city out for the event and the program they offered was of more than usual interest and covered a large number of varied musical offerings.

The Jolly Four orchestra, composed of Jean Caldwell, Catherine McClusky and Marjorie and Bernice Arns, presented several numbers in their always delightful manner that fittingly opened the evening of music.

Warren Taylor, one of the young men vocalists of the city was heard in two enjoyable vocal offerings and Mrs. John E. Schutz also gave one of her charming songs that proved a most enjoyable part of the evening's program.

The program was featured by several vocal duos that were of the highest type and reflected the splendid musical talent of the young people of the community here. Misses Madge and Gertrude, Miss Catherine Schneider and Miss Violette Begley and Miss Leona Hudson and Mrs. Thelma Nelson were among those who took part in this portion of the program and added very much to the interest of the evening.

The members of the Home and the officials were much pleased at the thoughtfulness of the ladies in presenting this happy event and anticipate many more such pleasant visitations.

Mrs. Dysart was one of the old time residents of this section of the state and has many friends from among the old time residents of this locality who will regret to learn of her passing. She had been in failing health for some time but was not in serious shape until Wednesday morning at 7:30 when she suffered a sudden stroke of paralysis and from which she failed to rally, growing worse until her death a few hours later.

From Friday's Daily—
The work of renovating the building at 8th and Main street, which was so long occupied by Adolph Geise, is progressing nicely and the room is being made ready for the occupancy of Messrs Herbert Swanson and Edgar Newton who will operate at soft drink parlor in the room. The building will be placed in good class shape and will be a real credit to the business section of the city when completed. The interior of the main room is being painted a cream and grey ceiling and sidewalls with the woodwork in a dull reddish brown that makes it a very attractive sight. The fixtures and equipment will probably arrive during the coming week and it is hoped to have the new establishment opened for business by the first of the month. ## Pioneer Couple Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Friends and Relations of Popular Couple Help Them Celebrate Occasion Saturday Night.

The home of Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Jacobson, on lower Cherry street, was the scene of a happy family gathering last Saturday evening, when a number of their relatives and near friends assembled to celebrate the 40th wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Jacobson, which occurred in Louisville in the year 1887.

The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Elmer Johnson, of Ashland, wife of a nephew of Mrs. Jacobson. It was handsomely decorated and was delicious and received much admiration and appreciation. Refreshments of ice cream and cake with coffee were served and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson received some very pretty gifts, among them being dishes and table linen.

Most of the married life of this estimable couple has been spent in Louisville and vicinity. Mr. Jacobson has figured largely in the business and religious life of the community during that time, having conducted a general store successfully for many years, selling out to Osenkop brothers about 17 years ago. During this time Mr. Jacobson also was pastor of the Swedish Free Mission church of Louisville, an organization which enjoyed prosperity during his pastorate and accomplished much good in the community.

After disposing of his business here, Mr. Jacobson moved to Morrill county, near Bayard, where he lived on his farm for a number of years, moving back to Louisville almost four years ago, after retiring from active farm life.

Mr. Jacobson and family have always enjoyed the rest and esteem of the community in which they resided. Their home has been marked for its generous hospitality and their influence for good has been one of their strong characteristics. They are broad and charitable and always found giving liberally of their store to aid humanity in various ways.

They have a family of three sons and two daughters. One son, the eldest, B. A. Jacobson, is at the head of a large construction company, doing railroad work in the east and the youngest son, Rudolph, is associated with him. Paul, the second son, is at the head of a large firm of export accountants in Providence, Rhode Island. The eldest daughter, Mrs. Elmer Sundstrom, is the wife of the superintendent of the Lyman-Richey Sand company's plant here and the second daughter, Mrs. R. R. Larson is the wife of the cashier of the Bank of Commerce, of Louisville. All the children are highly respected and hold positions of prominence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson have the best wishes to the entire community for continued happiness and success for many years to come.

Among the guests present at the celebration were Gust Nordgren and young son, Everett, Mrs. Magnusson and Miss Minnie Adams, of Bayard, who were on their way to visit relatives in Wisconsin and planned their visit here to be present at the anniversary. They were former neighbors and friends from Morrill county.—Louisville Courier.

FINE TIME IN HONOR OF JOHN E. TURNER

Last Saturday afternoon the Farmers Union Co-operative Association officers and members and farmers assembled at the Cayhill park and celebrated the occasion in honor of John E. Turner, for a number of years manager of their elevator at this place, but who the first of the year became county treasurer. A large number was present and at noon a big picnic dinner was the center of attraction. The entire afternoon was spent in a social way and in games of which the ball game was the big feature. It was a fine occasion and the event shows the highest esteem in which John is held by those in this community. The time passed quickly and at the close of the days program it could be said easily that everybody had a good time and John surely did and was glad to be back again among the old friends.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

NATIVE NEBRASKAN DIES

From Thursday's Daily—
Miss Olive Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Long, who has lived all her life in Cass county on the farm where she was born, died at that place, the home of her parents, near Murdock on Wednesday morning, June 22nd, at two a. m. Miss Olive Blanch Long joined the Methodist church, of which her parents are members, holding their membership at Elmwood, at an early age. Miss Olive has not been in the best of health for a number of years, but has been particularly ill in health for the past few months. She had recovered the services of a trained nurse. She has been afflicted with Bright's disease, which was the immediate cause of her demise. Every attention, both as to medical treatment and nursing, was given the patient. It was hoped that she might rally and recover from the malady, but with the time she became weaker and passed to the great beyond.

Miss Long was an excellent woman and was ever seeking to make the home the most pleasant for the other members as well as all whom she would meet. She was a constant member of the church of her choice. The funeral was conducted from the home of her parents Thursday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. Victor West, of the Elmwood Methodist church, and the interment was had at the Washburn cemetery, a short distance from where she has lived for so many years, where she will rest until the trumpet of the resurrection Angel shall summon her to that land of eternal bliss. She leaves besides her parents one brother, C. L. Long.

FARM PRODUCTS GOING HIGHER

Although prices of most farm products declined strikingly in the last year, the lowest point apparently is past, says Dr. G. F. Warren, agricultural economist.

During the last year, the index of prices paid to farmers for food products dropped from 161 to 142, while the index for all farm products dropped even more. Some of the facts which Dr. Warren points out as indicating that the low point in farm prices is past are the shortage of cattle and the increases in grain prices. The shortage of cattle, he says, is beginning to have an influence on the price of beef, butter and milk, while unfavorable weather is responsible for a rise of 20 cents in the price of corn on the Chicago market during the last month. During the same time wheat rose 20 cents.

Although the level of prices of the major food products, except hogs and poultry have improved materially, they are far below the level of retail prices of things farmers buy. Eggs are very cheap, and the price of hogs, which has fallen rapidly, will probably fall further, he says.
