Auto and Bus Have Crash on K-T Highway

Car of Clement Wooster and Bus Claimed to Be Yellow Way Bus Are Badly Smashed.

From Tuesday's Daily— A rather serious auto accident occurred on Saturday evening on the K. of T. highway just north of the residence of A. J. Tritley that resulted in a great deal of damage to the Ford car of Clement Wooster and a Studebaker seven passenger touring car which it was claimed was owned by the Yellow Way bus line.

The accident fortunately did not result in the injury of any of the occupants of the cars but did a great deal of damage to the cars themselves that will cost considerable to the owners of the vehicle.

Henry Wooster was driving the Ford car that his brother had just purchased on Saturday afternoon, coming to town to meet his brother, Clement, the owner of the car, after he had finished his work at the Fetzer Shoe store. Mr. Wooster states that as he was driving north on the highway he saw the approaching bus as it came up over the slight rise to the level stretch of road, and had swung his car over to the right as far as safety would permit when the bus came on, holding the greater part of the road and as it approached the Wooster car it is claimed the driver of the large touring car swung his machine so that it struck the left front fender of the Wooster car, doubling up the fender and breaking off the front wheel in the collision.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BURGESS

From Tuesday's Daily— Yesterday morning at the St. Luke's Episcopal church was held the funeral services of the late Mrs. Herman B. Burgess, the church being filled with the old time friends and neighbors who gathered to pay their last tributes to this kindly lady whose last rites were being celebrated at the church in which she had served for many years and near where she had seen many days of joy and happiness as well as the sorrows of life.

The beautiful and impressive service of the Episcopal church was celebrated by Father W. C. Mielton, rector of the church and who gave the blessing of the church on the departed lady as she was borne to the last earthly resting place.

At the close the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest beside that of the husband and daughter who had preceded her in death.

SUES FOR STOCK SETTLEMENT

From Tuesday's Daily— This morning there was an action filed in the district court in which Frank Toman was the plaintiff and the Livingston Loan & Building association the defendant. This action is one to recover the value of ten shares of paid up stock of the defendant loan and building association which was held by the plaintiff Frank Toman and Edward Toman. It is alleged by the plaintiff that in September 1918 the plaintiff and Edward Toman purchased ten shares of the paid up capital stock of the company and that this was for the sum of $2,000. Interest was paid on this until in September 1921 when the interest payments ceased to the plaintiffs. On May 17, 1926 the plaintiff was given payment of $700 on the shares of stock but that there is still due the plaintiff the sum of $1,300 which with interest amounts to $1,946.45.

HAVE AUTO ACCIDENT

From Tuesday's Daily— Dr. J. S. Livingston and John Bauer, local Willys-Knight and Overland dealer, are wearing their heads bandaged up as the result of an auto accident that befell them last evening near the E. W. Livingston corner just south of this city on the K. of T. highway.

The two gentlemen were driving in a new Willys-Knight sedan and were traveling along the highway at a good rate of speed when reaching the corner and instead of making a clear turn, their car skidded across the roadway and over turned in the ditch, causing both of the occupants to receive some very severe injuries. A severe gash was cut over the left eye of Dr. Livingston and over the right eye of Mr. Bauer and also several smaller cuts were received on the hands and face that makes it necessary for the two occupants of the car to appear swathed in bandages and it will be several days before they will be back in normal condition.

Fourth Is Very Quiet in This City

No Celebration Here and Residents Largely Seek Other Places for Diversion.

From Tuesday's Daily— Yesterday was one of the quietest observances of the Fourth of July that has been held in the city and very little evidence was given of the usual excitement of the Fourth. The only noise that was contributed to the day was that of the youngsters who had their fireworks to instill a little pep into the event.

A greater part of the residents of the city, taking advantage of the fine day motored out of the city for the day and enjoyed celebrating at some of the neighboring towns, Glenwood, Nebraska City, La Platte and Omaha all drawing a part of the celebrators to enjoy the day's outing.

FUNERAL OF MICHAEL MAUZY

From Tuesday's Daily— The funeral services of the late Michael Mauzy were held on Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church and attended by a large number of the members of the Masonic order, as well as the old friends and associates of the past years.

The body had rested at the home of the brother, Henry Mauzy after the arrival here Friday and was taken, accompanied by the escort from the Knights Templar to the church where the last services were held. At the church the services were in charge of Mr. Zion commandery Knights Templar, Judge James T. Begley, commander presiding and the ritualistic service held. During this service the Masonic quartet composed of Frank A. Clويد, Raymond C. Cook, L. O. Minor and Dr. R. P. Westover, gave several numbers, "Still, Still With Thee," "Rock of Ages" and the chant, "Remember Now Thy Creator."

ENTERTAINS LITTLE FOLKS

From Tuesday's Daily— Mrs. T. H. Pollock entertained Saturday a group of little folks in honor of her granddaughter Eleanor Minor. Prizes were awarded in a number of the games and contests during the afternoon, the peanut race and the bean race, loaf sugar race and guessing the number of beans in a jar being among the various stunts and entertaining features that made the afternoon one of the rarest pleasure for all of the party. During the afternoon Emil Weyrich was present and took a moving picture of the happy party of little folks. Refreshments were served on the lawn, all of the members of the party being seated at one large table. The table was arranged very prettily with the decorations of the garden flowers. To add to the fun and pleasure of the members of the party the grab bag was passed and which brought out much pleasure to all of the party. Those attending the event were: Jane Patterson, Rachael Robertson, Frances Clويد, Kitty Ann Dovey, Mary Katherine Wiles, Harriet Goss Marjorie Ann Tidball Betty Gulin, Jeanette Hinz, Beatrice Arn, Peggy Harding of Lincoln, Edna Mae Peterson, Jacqueline Grassman, Lorene Lynn, Janet Westover, La Vaughn Hill, Patty Clويد, Eleanor Minor.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE

From Tuesday's Daily— Last evening a large Red sedan going north to Omaha from the south, was overturned near the Beckman farm northeast of Murray and the car badly damaged as the result of the accident and when the wrecking outfit from the Krejci garage here arrived on the scene it was found that the car was resting on the top and with the wheels straight in the air, the car having seemingly turned over several times. It was stated that the car skidded in the loose gravel, the driver being unfamiliar with the road, the result being that it was overturned along the side of the road several times. The parties owning the car were from Omaha but did not give their name and after being given an examination to learn if any serious injury was sustained the party was sent on into Omaha. The parties were not hurt to any extent it was stated altho the lady who was one of the occupants of the car was considerably bruised and shaken up as the result of the wreck. The car was left here at the Krejci garage for repairs and will then be turned over to the Reg agency in Omaha who came here today to look after the car.

Dr. Westover Winner of the Golf Tourney

Former City Champion Wins From Jess Warga, the 1927 Golf Champion Sunday.

From Tuesday's Daily— Yesterday members of the Plattsmouth golf club with their families enjoyed a very pleasant time at the attractive golf course southwest of the city and with the families enjoying the shade and pleasant surroundings, the members of the club followed with interest the finals in the summer golf tournament that has been staged the past week.

The championship flight was won by Dr. R. P. Westover, the 1926 southwestern champion and also former city champion, from Jess F. Warga, the 1926 city champion and who has been one of the most consistent players of the local club.

The contestants in the championship finals played only eighteen holes by their agreement and the committee in charge insist on the 36 hole course as was announced and which makes the championship prizes a matter of doubt as the committee declines to present the valued trophy.

The championship consolation went to James W. Holmes, winner over George Petring.

In the president's sight Charles E. Hartford was the winner over W. Morrison in a very snappy golf battle.

The president's consolation was won by Lynn Minor who defeated Searl Davis in the last rounds of their match.

Will Maintain Chamber of Commerce Rest Room

Office and Community Meeting Place on 6th Street to Be Continued in Service.

From Wednesday's Daily— The chamber of commerce office and rest room on North Sixth street which has been taken advantage of by a great many visitors to the city in the last several months that the room has been in service, will be continued, it is announced and the office soon be open as usual for the reception of visitor or those who desire the use of the rest room.

The directors of the club have decided that the need of the community is for a place of this kind and while the office of executive secretary made vacant by the resignation of Secretary W. G. Davis, will not be filled at once there was the decision to keep the office open and to serve the Plattsmouth people as well as the visitors from outside points as a rest room and meeting place.

The city has long needed a place of this kind that the chamber of commerce room serves very nicely and it is a pleasure to know that the C. C. directors and officers will see that the rooms are maintained.

In the time that the chamber of commerce office has been open there has been hundreds of persons calling at the room to inquire as to various matters in regard to the city, its resources, and general advantages as well as using the place as a rest room or meeting place.

Residents of the country districts who may be here are urged to make the full use of the rooms for resting or meeting places and as the whole proposition is a community affair in which all are interested, they should take full advantage of the use of the rooms.

RETURN FROM INSTITUTE

From Tuesday's Daily— The Plattsmouth delegation that has been in attendance at the Epworth League institute at the Boy Scout camp at Fremont, returned home on Saturday evening, delighted with the fine time that had been afforded them at the summer training camp and outing of the Institute.

Those from this city who attended the event were: Rev. E. H. Sortor, Joe Buttery, Justice Lilly, Isabel Marshall, Henry Marshall, Treva Edgeron, Gladys Bushnell, Clara Shellenberger, Mrs. Hayes, Maril Sperry, Mildred Hall.

One of the Plattsmouth delegates, Joe Buttery, president of the local Epworth League, won the honor of the best all around delegate at the big meeting and which was most pleasing to all of the members of the Plattsmouth party at the gathering.

The institute had 110 persons in attendance at the sessions and the camp was presided over by Rev. E. E. Pfoutz, former pastor of this city and now with the First Methodist church at Fremont, as the dean of the camp.

Rev. E. E. Sortor was one of the teachers at the institute and had two classes of the young people to look after during the ten day session that covered the studies of the bible and the work of the league.

ENJOY PICNIC PARTY

From Tuesday's Daily— The pleasant farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rummel in the vicinity of Mynard was the scene of a most delightful gathering on Sunday when a number of friends from this city and St. Paul, Missouri, were present to spend the day in a picnic party.

The members motored to the Rummel home for the day and came with well laden baskets of the good things to eat and which formed the basis of the fine picnic dinner. The time was spent in visiting and also in fishing and reports are that a number of fine catches were made by the members of the party, especially the youngsters.

Those attending the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Emil Stenik and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Slatinsky and family and Henry Brinkman, of Sedalia, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Sedlak and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rebal and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Kalina and family, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kalasek and family, Adolph and John Cechal, J. Skoda and family of Atlantic Iowa and C. C. Janda of Omaha.

From Wednesday's Daily— Frank R. Gobelman, the painter and decorator, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks as the result of an attack of the summer flu and threatened with pneumonia, is now able to be out and around but is still quite weak and has lost twenty pounds as the result of the illness.

Platters in a Tie for Lead of Sarpy-Cass Loup

Victory Over Bellevue and Defeat of Fort Crook by Louisville Gives Them Boost.

From Tuesday's Daily— The Sunday game which was one of the regular Sarpy-Cass County League games, was one that could more fittingly be called a slaughter of the innocents and the crippled and handicapped Bellevue team was wholly unable to check the advances of our sterling athletes and succumbed to the overwhelming score of 19 to 6 and which was only a part of the story of wildness and loose playing that characterized the Collegiate in the field and at the stick as well.

The visitors were minus the services of Wall, their shortstop and Langheine, their right gardner and which apparently had a bad effect on the other members of the team that were here.

The first two innings opened very well altho Jap Clark was not at his best and gave the signs of weakening that later was to throw the game into a riot of walks, hits and runs.

In the opening both teams were scoreless and the fans anticipated that they were to witness a real struggle that however did not materialize and the Platters in the third stanza started to warm things up for "Jap" and his crew of assistants. In this inning Jap walked Herold and then struck out the Dutchman, but let one slip that hit Mason and then gave McCarthy another pass. George Reichart rapped a nice one to center that scored two and Art Klauschie followed with a blow to short that added another run.

In the 4th again Jap walked Newman after two had been retired and Hans tallied when Mason hoisted a hard one to Andy Graves that he dropped.

The fifth inning saw Olson doing the pitching act for Bellevue and Clark serving in the field and Olson fared a little worse than his predecessor on the mound as Reichart hit clean to right, Klauschie was walked and when Simonds at second failed to hold a fly of Distell, more runs were chalked when Reichart scored and Spidell was then walked, Herold was struck out and then Hans Newman warmed the game with a double that scored Klauschie and Distell and on the attempt to score of Spidell he was caught at the plate. Newman scored on the single of Mason to left field.

The sixth was the last straw that broke the Bellevue defense when seven runs were added by Plattsmouth on a great slugfest on Olson and when Clark was called back into the game. Newman opened with a single to center and Mason scored him with a double, and Mason tallied when McCarthy also doubled to left, but Joe was caught at second on the fly of Swanson, George Reichart was hit and Klauschie passed to first, George scoring on the hit of Distell and Spidell singled, to score after Distell on the error of Simonds at second.

The last run of Plattsmouth was in the eighth when Seoboda opened with a clean hit to left and scored on the error of Pavelka at short.

The Bellevue team aroused in the sixth when Clark was walked and advanced when Reichart failed to nip him at second and with Simonds scored on the hit of Donovan to left. Donovan scored on the throw in from the right gave them a tense on life and scored them when Jones hit safe to right.
