

Alvo Department

Attorney C. D. Ganz was looking after some business matters of a legal nature in Omaha on Wednesday of last week.

Joe, Romulis has been assisting in the harvest as he goes out whenever anyone needs a man and shocks the grain or any other thing which happens to be needed to be done.

Edward Carr purchased last week from the Coastman Hardware and Implement company a new tractor which he will use on his farm. Mr. Coastman also sold the caterpillar which is used on the road for their maintenance.

Mrs. Minnie Peterson and daughter, Dorothy, who have been visiting at Utica for some time with relatives, returned home a few days since and have departed for Oklahoma, where they formerly lived for a number of years where they will visit for some time.

During the rain which all of Cass county was wanting so much on last Wednesday, lightning struck the house of Floyd Dysart, living east of Eagle, and the building was consumed by the flames. The light which the burning structure created could easily be seen from the streets of Alvo.

The Rev. W. H. Chenoweth, pastor of the Methodist church of Alvo, is a real man for he does not fear to come in contact with the members of the church or of their interests or work. When he wants to make a call on the members of the congregation, he goes to the farm and with the farmer goes to the fields and works while they visit, thus assisting in the work and not at the same time interfering with the work on the farm which in many cases cannot wait for some other time.

Have Excellent Bible School.

The Bible school at the Methodist church at Alvo is a real vital part of the religious life of the community. There are enrolled some two hundred and twenty-five members and an average attendance of about one hundred and fifty. The attendance and interest are so great that it is found necessary to have additional room in which to meet. The Men's class which is taught by the Rev. W. H. Chenoweth meets at the Jordan hall, while the young men's class also have another place to meet. The practice of making the church building the community center is one of the nice things about the church and the village and thus brings the people together for all good movements effecting the community.

Will Soon Spread Gravel.

At the meeting of the city council of the village of Alvo last week the contract for the spreading of gravel on the streets of Alvo was given to the Able Construction company of Lincoln, who will in a short time be here and complete the work of hard surfacing the streets of Alvo.

Had Good Returns.

Oris Cook, who farms southeast of Alvo, and who has one of the new combined harvesters and threeeer, has been cutting his wheat and marketing it at the same time. He had gotten much over a thousand bushels of wheat cut and marketed on Wednesday of last week, which was making about forty bushels to the acre. This was very satisfying to this hustling young farmer.

Have New Signs.

Jim, the sign painter, happened along and painted a sign on the elevator of Simon Rehmeier, and then was called to Elmwood where he had some work to do, coming back in a few days, and the sign looked so nicely he painted a sign on the lumber yard sheds for John W. Banning. Mr. Banning in a short time will also have the remainder of the buildings at the yards painted.

Established New District.

The board of county commissioners have established a new road district with the central portion at Alvo, which is placed under the care of Philip Coatman, and a new caterpillar tractor given him for the motive power. The district consists of some thirty miles, and runs from Alvo to the school on the D. L. D. road seven miles north, east six miles and from Alvo to the overhead bridge south of Wabash, west to the county line, and south two miles from Alvo, two miles west and then south to the "O" street highway. This will keep the roads in this vicinity in excellent condition and make traveling much better.

CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

From Saturday's Daily—
This morning a hearing was had in the district court on the application of the county to have the minor children of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wright removed from their custody and placed in the care of the state. The state had several witnesses on the stand to show the lack of available support for the seven children and the conditions of the home and the conduct of the father, which is in a place that in the views of the state was not the proper atmosphere to rear the children.

The defense had a large number of neighbors of the family who testified as to the fact of the mother working hard and with some aid could support the children if the husband and father was removed from the home. The witnesses were strong in their support of the mother in her care of her children and her rearing of them.

After hearing the evidence in the case the matter was taken under advisement by Judge Begley to a decision as to whether or not the children should be removed from the family home and be placed in the care of the state.

W. R. C. MEETING

From Saturday's Daily—
The Women's Relief Corps held a very enjoyable meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Troop, on Granite street, the event being also the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Troop. In honor of the occasion there was arranged a very handsome birthday cake with its glowing candles and tiny flags which occupied a place of honor in the home and was the object of much admiration from the members of the party.

A very fine program had been arranged. Mrs. E. H. Wescott giving a number of vocal selections and also leading the ladies in the singing of the old war songs. Mrs. Arthur Troop and Mrs. Robert Troop were each heard in a number of very enjoyable readings and Mrs. Eimer Taylor also favored the members of the party with a delightful vocal number that everyone enjoyed to the utmost.

At an appropriate hour dainty and delicious refreshments were served that added very much to the completion of the happy event.
