FORMER CASS COUNTY MAN DIES IN OREGON

Louisville friends are in receipt of word from Mrs. William Stander, of Orange, California, telling of the death of her uncle, James Kilgore, at his home in Oregon. Mr. Kilgore lived here for years, moving from here about twenty years ago. He lived on the farm west of Louisville now owned and occupied by the J. J. Grabow family.

His two sons, John and Adelmor, remained here when the family moved to Oregon and are better known in this locality than are the other members of the family. Mr. Kilgore was the father of a large family. He was a brother of Mrs. George L. Berger, of Orange, a former Louisville pioneer and she attended the funeral in Oregon, accompanied by John Kilgore, her son. The death of Mr. Kilgore occurred on June 21. Mr. and Mrs. Stander, who formerly lived in this vicinity, where both were members of pioneer families, are very kind to send word of the happenings on the Pacific coast that might be of interest to their Nebraska friends and their thoughtfulness is always greatly appreciated.—Louisville Courier.

SPENDING VACATION IN COLO.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. West, Mrs. Walter J. Wunderlich and two sons and Mrs. George Pollard of Avoca left in the West car early Tuesday morning for West Fork, Colo., where they will enjoy a summer outing in Masonic park at that place. Mr. West expects to remain there about two weeks at which time he will come back and Mr. Wunderlich will go out to spend a couple of weeks with his family and the rest of the party.—Nebraska Enterprise.

Popular Louisville Girl Marries Cedar Creeker

Miss Evelyn Jackman and Hans Franke Joined in Wedlock at Glenwood June 25th.

This has been a busy summer for Dan Casid, wedding bells ringing merrily week after week as our young people enter upon the bark of matrimony. Perhaps one of the biggest surprises occurred when it was learned that Miss Evelyn Jackman, popular daughter of our postmaster, A. A. Jackman, and wife, and Hans Franke, of Cedar Creek, had been united in marriage at Glenwood, Iowa, on Saturday, June 25.

The bride had gone to Nebraska City on a visit and while there the groom, attended by William Striver, of Glenwood, a distant relative, joined her and they drove to Glenwood, where the pastor of the Christian church, Rev. A. Wright, read the marriage lines. The bride was attired in black and white, and looked very sweet and attractive.

She is a graduate of the Louisville high school, of the class of 1925. She was a splendid student and all thru her girlhood has been loved and respected by all who have known her. She has been engaged in teaching school in Fairview district, where she enjoyed splendid success and has accepted the school for the coming year.

The groom is employed at the National quarries, where he operates a drill. He is a young man of excellent character and is respected by his employers for his industry and cheerfulness in a scrupulous manner. They expect to go to housekeeping in the near future, but in the meantime are staying with the bride's parents.

Their many friends join in extending best wishes for future happiness, attended with success, good health and many other blessings.—Louisville Courier.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED AT GLENWOOD

The marriage of Miss Fern Urwin and Simon Johnson, two of Louisville's splendid young people, occurred last Saturday, July 9, at Glenwood, Iowa, where they drove to the parsonage of the Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. J. H. Freedline, officiating.

They were attended by Miss Esther Jackman and Eno Ahrens, another popular couple of Louisville. The bride wore a gown of apricot georgette with white hat and black patent leather shoes and white hose with black heels and looked very modish and handsome. She is a graduate of the Louisville high school and both are esteemed highly in the community where they have lived all their lives, and are popular among their best of friends.

The groom has a position with the Lyman-Richey Sand company and he is considered trustworthy and industrious by his employers. He is expecting either to purchase a home or build one in the near future.—Louisville Courier.

COMMUNITY BUILDING AT MURRAY

The enterprising residents of the town of Murray are busily engaged in plans for the building of a community building that will take the place of the former Peterson building which was one of the buildings wiped out by the fire of several weeks ago. The new building that is planned will be built on the ground floor. Boosters of the project state and will overcome the difficulty of the second story hall that was a detriment to the former community hall.

With the live and energetic boosting organization that Murray has there is no reason why they cannot have the community building under way this summer and have a structure that will be ample for the use of the residents and afford a place for dancing and other gatherings and entertainments that may be planned.

Bill Davis Gives Views of Civic Doings in Ohio

Finds that the Ohio Country Has Nothing on the Natural Beauty and Advantages of Nebraska.

Medina, Ohio, July 12, 1927 Editor Plattsmouth Journal, Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

Greetings from the Buckeye State, to the Bug Eaters! Bully for Plattsmouth—see by the paper the Chamber of Commerce office is to be kept open. That's the spirit—more good luck to you all. Iowa may be able to brag about many things, but when we entrained at Omaha and crossed the big muddy, we saw no corn or wheat or oat fields as good as those in Cass county. All thru Iowa, and into western Illinois crops are far behind Cass county, due it was claimed to so much cold spring for over night at the little old splendid farms, and many silos, which indicated the dairy came was being pushed in Iowa a little harder than Nebraska.

After a few days in Moline drove by car to Medina, Ohio, crossing Illinois, Indiana and most of Ohio. Crops thru this entire section are looking hard-hit and way behind Cass county, but after entering Illinois, came into apparently the most prosperous looking farming country have ever inspected, and the silos sticking their heads up above the horizon and countless hostlers in cows, and thousands of chickens explained the apparent prosperity.

Another big difference we encountered was to be found in the fact we drove on concrete from Moline, Ill. into Medina, O. Our first stop in Ohio was for over night at the little old town of Montpelier. It was the busiest small town I ever visited. So many cars and people on the streets could hardly walk or drive about. While this year's crops in Ohio are away behind Cass county, there certainly are more money in circulation, and his was explained by the silos and dairy herds all thru Ohio, and creameries "galore"—these old settlers in the Buckeye state certainly have awakened to the need and importance of the dairy cow and the white leghorn.

Medina is a city of about 3,500 busy as busy can be, and no factories to show why or how, the business being entirely agricultural as is the basis of Plattsmouth's retail business. Farmers here discouraged over the corn outlook, some claiming impossible to make a crop of corn this late. Small grain is just getting ripe for harvest. They have an Ad. Club and a Kiwanis Club here, but no local Chamber of Commerce, or open office, or rest rooms or daily paper, in which respect Plattsmouth has her "skinned."

Plattsmouth is a guest of the Kiwanis Club last week, and sent good friends here to hold the reins of the Ad. Club here. We are 30 miles from Cleveland one of the greatest cities in America—makes Omaha look like a village. The merchants here claim they do not consider Cleveland as a competitor but as an asset, and they feel able to hold their trade territory—"keep it at home."

This is a great bee country—"Honey for sale" signs all along the roads. The farmers have "parking sites," "rooms," "meals," "water" and every known inducement to cater to the tourist trade. From Joliet to Chicago here equals the line of cars reached as far as the eye could see, making travel slow and dangerous—just one endless procession. With the advent of the Missouri River Bridge at Plattsmouth, graveling of her highways, this endless procession will turn across your bridge, dropping dollars in your city and advertising the great and unlimited resources of Cass county and Nebraska. God speed the day!

Have seen no cities, and no country, and no scenery as beautiful as yours. Nor is there fertile soil, to be found here equal to Nebraska. In fact the future prospects and possibilities are so much greater for Cass county than Ohio, there is no comparison. This will come to Nebraska thru hard surfaced roads, bridges across the Missouri and a closer building up of the population, and a great and earnest effort to develop the great dairy game in Nebraska as it has been found necessary and the salvation of the eastern farmers. It is with pride I say, "I'm from Plattsmouth, Nebraska, the bulkiest and best city in that state." May future success and prosperity crown all your efforts, in my earnest and continued wish for Cass county and Peerless Plattsmouth! W. G. DAVIS.

111 West Washington St. Medina, Ohio.

GIVES PLEASANT BRIDGE

From Friday's Daily—Last evening Mrs. J. F. Gorder and Mrs. Ray McMaken were hostesses at a most charming bridge party held at the Gorder home and at which there were seven tables of the players. In the contest Mrs. W. K. Krecklow was the winner of the high score with Mrs. J. V. Hatt winning the second prize and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury the consolation prize. At an appropriate hour very dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses who were assisted by Miss Helen Clement and Miss Thelma Kroehler.

Sues for Large Sum for Alleged False Arrest

From Thursday's Daily—Frank Harmer, of Near Avoca, Sues Fred L. Nutzman and Son, Eugene, for $50,000.00

An action has been started in the district court of Douglas county that involves a trio of well known residents of southern Cass county, residing in the vicinity of Avoca and Nehawka.

The suit is one for $50,000 damages for alleged false arrest and is started by Frank Harmer of near Avoca against Fred L. Nutzman, well known stockman and capitalist, and Eugene Nutzman, his son.

The action charges the two defendants with false arrest growing out of the disappearance of a steer belonging to the Nutzmans. In the action filed in the district court at Omaha, Mr. Harmer is represented by Attorney W. R. Patrick, of Omaha, who is well known here.

ARCHITECT HERE

From Thursday's Daily—Ernest Schreiber, architect on the Legion community building, drove down last evening for a periodical inspection of the work and checking the second estimate of material on the ground and construction completed. The total estimate to date runs approximately $9,000.

With the completion of the interior brick walls in the south end of the building, framing of the roof can be completed and as soon as the balance of the concrete sub-floor in the main assembly room is completed, the roofing company can apply the two coat built-up roof and cover the basement sub-floor with a water-proofing coat of hot tar. Over this, on 1x4 strips, will be laid the maple floor in the 58x88 assembly room, affording a dancing space of 5,000 square feet.

The plumbers are making good progress with their work, having the sewer installation about completed. Extra heavy water pipe is being laid underneath all the floors to guard against the necessity of repairs for many years to come.

William Highfield, of the Nebraska Gas & Electric company has volunteered his services in directing installation of the electrical wiring, and to be done by Legion members in order to cut down expenses. All material will be bought from local dealers. All wiring will be encased in conduit and the installation will be strictly in accordance with Underwriter's specifications.

Stuccoing of the front and placing of white stone coping on the parapet wall extending well above the roof there will be done free of charge by Emil Walters, masonry sub-contractor, after the building proper is completed, the committee furnishing only the material.

There will be a lot of work leveling the ground, laying sidewalks, etc. not included in the general contract, and which will be done largely by Legion men in order to cut down expense. All in all the progress is most satisfactory and completion of the building by September 1st is virtually assured.

GIVES ENJOYABLE DANCE

From Friday's Daily—The dance given at the Eagles hall last evening by the members of the American Legion Auxiliary proved one of the most pleasant affairs of its kind that the organization has held in many months. A very large number of dancers were in attendance and the committee in charge had made a very large sale of tickets that will insure them a neat sum from the returns of the dance. Al Finch and his Symphonians of Omaha were here for the occasion and furnished the melodies for the most pleasing dance.

Old Resident of Eagle Laid to Rest Sunday

John Henry Axe, Loved and Respected by a Large Number Goes to His Reward.

The funeral of John Henry Axe was held at the Methodist church at 1:30 Sunday afternoon, by Rev. W. B. Zimmerman, and the remains laid to rest at Palmyra beside his parents. There were a large number of friends in attendance at the funeral, and the following obituary was prepared and read by the pastor:

John Henry Axe was born a Child, Ohio, November 25, 1859, and departed this life, July the 7th aged 67 years, 7 months, and 12 days. As a child he was christened in the Lutheran church. At the age of 14 with his parents he came to Bennet, where they lived until they moved to the farm 2 1/2 miles south of Eagle. For a number of years prior to his father's death, he worked for the Santa Fe and Burlington railroads. At his death he came home and lived with his mother. After her death, nearly 20 years ago, he lived alone on the farm until about 1920 when ill health compelled him to retire.

These last seven years he has made his home with his sister, Mrs. Latrom, and was always willing and ready to lend a helping hand when opportunity afforded.

He leaves to mourn his departure, two brothers, Edward of Lincoln, and Frank of Vesta, two sisters, Mrs. Mary King of Havelock, and Mrs. J. H. Latrom of Eagle, and a host of friends. Mr. Axe was a great lover of children, and will be greatly missed by them. A two year old boy in Eagle when told of his death said, "And now what will I do?" Another boy about six said, "Well I had two good friends that liked me; now Uncle John is gone so I only have one."—Eagle Beacon.

FACTS ABOUT NEBRASKA

North Platte has $400,000 invested in its water plant. The rate is graduated down from 18 cents per thousand gallons. A private company has an investment of a half million in a combined electric and gas business, serving 13,000 city population and seven neighboring communities. There are two large flour mills and two operating creameries. Railroads shops maintain a large payroll. There are two public parks.

Nebraska was fourth among the states in the number of farmers reporting net incomes for purposes of taxation for 1925. Out of 127,734 farmers in the state 4,429 reported net incomes of $8,975,719. Ohio, California and Kansas were the only states outranking Nebraska.

Nebraska paid 27 per cent of the total income tax collected by the national government in 1926. There were 25,621 returns filed, or 2.6 per cent of the population, as against 66,512 for the preceding year.

Nebraska's electric plants sent out nearly 32 million kilowatt-hours of energy in May, an increase of 12 per cent over the same month of 1926. About nine per cent of the energy was generated at hydro plants. The national increase in current consumption for the month was 11 per cent.

There are 72,762 miles of gas mains in Nebraska and in 1923 there were 111,493 gas ranges installed in the state.

Nebraska paid federal inheritance taxes of $175,656 in 1926.

MRS. PULS STILL POORLY

From Thursday's Daily—The reports from the bedside of Mrs. William Puls, Sr., at Murray are not the most encouraging as the patient seems to be showing but little improvement and is threatened with double typhoid-pneumonia, which at her advanced age is very serious. The members of the family are in constant attendance at the side of the aged mother and doing all possible to relieve her condition which is most grave.

FILE MANY SUITS

From Thursday's Daily—There are a number of suits filed in the county court today by the Farmers State bank of Eagle, which is now in the hands of the state banking commission and who are operating the affairs of this bank. The suits are for sums due the bank and to clear up which it is necessary to expedite the handling of the bank affairs.

SAVE YOUR FIELDS FROM The Chinch Bugs! A very effective method of exterminating chinch bugs with the use of water gas tar and calcium cyanide chips has been developed for use at the time the chinch bugs are moving from ripe wheat fields to the greener corn fields. The procedure is as follows: Water Gas Tar at Our Plant! We are Glad to Offer the Farmers the Opportunity of Driving Out These Pests. Place a furrow between wheat fields and corn. Dip post holes 16 to 18 inches deep and run a line of tar between each hole and the bugs are soon cleaned out. See Us for Your Orders for Tar! Nebraska Gas & Electric Co. Plattsmouth, Nebraska
