SAVES LIFE BY PROMPT ACTION

From Tuesday's Daily—

Clyde Hutchins of this city, employed here in the state highway department, had received word of the narrow escape his father, W. T. Hutchins, had a few days ago when he was bitten by a rattlesnake. Mr. Hutchins, who is a traveling salesman, was inspecting wheat in a shock on a farm near Albion, when he heard a warning rattle and jumped back, but not soon enough to avoid the fangs of the snake that were buried in the flesh of the leg above the right knee. Mr. Hutchins displayed a great deal of presence of mind and with an old safety razor blade he cut into the flesh around the wound and sucked the blood from his system before it had time to spread through the blood and then applied a tourn-quet to stop the flow of the blood. Mr. Hutchins is now at his home at Columbus and feels the effect of the attack of the snake but is getting better and he feels that he owes his life to his cool headiness in the time of danger and prompt and drastic measures that he took.

TO INTERVIEW SENATOR

From Tuesday's Daily—

This morning J. A. Gardner, editor of the Eagle Beacon, Dr. E. M. Stewart, J. D. Adee, superintendent of schools, Rev. W. B. Zimmerman of the Methodist church and Earl Stewart were in the city for a few hours while they were en route to Omaha where they will spend a few hours in a conference with Senator R. B. Howell relative to some matters concerning the mail route at Eagie.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Government Explosives

We are now taking orders for what will probably be our last car of government explosives. The sooner orders come in for this car the more likely we are of receiving this car. Should the explosives become exhausted before we receive enough orders for a car, please write or see us.

Boys and Girls Club Camps

Don't forget that your application blanks should be in to me August 1st for the camp which is to be held at Tecumseh, August 10, 11, and 12.

Poultry Team to Canada.

(By Margaret Hoeber) Clarence Norris and Glen Heneger, the demonstration team of the Good Luck Poultry club are leaving Thursday of this week on their trip to the World's Poultry congress at Ottawa, Canada.

They are driving through in a car with J. H. Claybough of the Extension Service at Lincoln. They expect to reach the big Poultry show in about five days. Mrs. R. E. Norris, leader of this club, will leave Saturday by train and meet the boys there.

The boys will demonstrate three different days at the Poultry Congress. Their demonstration will be brooding and sanitary management of baby chicks. L. R. Snipes, Co. Agent, says the people of Cass county have no doubt heard these boys demonstrate and know what they can do. This team was the first one chosen from the United States to represent poultry club work at the World's greatest show.

In their demonstration the boys are going to tell the world how they themselves have raised good healthy chickens here in Cass county. They will point out the features of the Nebraska type brooder house and its sun parlor. They will show their methods of raising chicks on clean ground, using sanitary feeders and water fountains. They will also explain their dry mash ration for chicks and show how they mix mash and feed it. This mash supplemented with sprouted oats and boiled eggs have made up the entire ration for the chicks this year.

The boys and Mrs. Norris will be gone more than two weeks and will have a chance to see some of the places of interest in the east.

Louisville Wins Fast Game from Local Leaguers

By 4 to 2 the Cement Makers Humiliate the Locals on the Louisville Home Lot.

From Monday's Daily—

The Louisville team of the Sarpy-Cass County league that two weeks ago gave the champion seeking Fort Crook soldiers a jolt, yesterday afternoon gave our own sterling athletics a set down in the percentage column when they grabbed off the contest by the score of 4 to 2 in a fast played game.

Hartman was again on the mound for Louisville and was in much better form than on his visit to this city and Ted had the Platters jabbing at times when their hits were not effective and while nine bingles were chalked against Hartman as to seven against Swanson, the blows of the Louisville aggregation came at times when they counted and with the errorless ball that Louisville played they carried home the bacon.

The Cement Makers commenced to do business with the locals in the second stanza of the battle that netted them one run. Harold Koop, the Louisville catcher hit safe to right and was able to score on the drive of Blair and an error at first base for the first tally of the game.

The wreck occurred however in the third inning when Louisville opened with Tyo at bat and who hit safe over second and was followed by Melsinger who was out at first but Tyo tallied when Harvey Koop hit over short and who scored when Harold Koop hit over short center. Harold Koop was scored when A. Knutson hit safe over first base and made the tally four to 0.

Plattsmouth was held scoreless until the opening of the sixth when Hartman placed too good a one over the pan and the bat of Art Klauschie kissed it for a home run but as fate would have it Art was first up and was a lonely scorer.

In the seventh Plattsmouth tallied again when Newman hit safe over third base and Hans was scored on the bingle of George Reichart in the short center territory.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Plattsmouth—		AB	H	PO	A	E
Reichart, 2b	-----	4	1	1	0	3
Klauschie, 3b	-----	4	1	2	0	0

UNLUCKY BASEBALL DAY

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday was the unlucky day for Plattsmouth on the baseball diamond as all three teams that this city boasts, were sent crashing to defeat. The Athletics played Weeping Water on the local lot and were trounced by a score of 10 to 8, the visitors making a real bunch of sluggers that nailed the honors with their swatting, while Louisville was slipping the local leaguers the short end of the score. The M. W. A. team of this city journeyed out to LaPlatte to battle with the team there and first the result they came home with a score of 10, while the LaPlatte aggregation had annexed fifteen of the needed scores.

The teams are all preparing to give another side of the story on next Sunday, however, they all three state.

Phone us the news.

Purebred Ducks Hobby of Local Business Man

When Not Selling Ladies Ready-to-Wear Garments Fred Busch Trains Indian Runners.

From Wednesday's Daily— A person to see Fred P. Busch busily engaged about the Ladies Toggery where dainty ready-to-wear garments occupy the line of vision, would scarcely imagine that while Fred was discoursing on the relative merits of pink and green for summer wear and kindred subjects, that his real interest was not on dainty lingerie but instead was filled with thoughts of the Indian Runner—it's a fact.

There had been rumors of the fact that Mr. Busch was experimenting in the raising of a number of Indian Runner ducks at the home on North 5th street and yesterday a representative of the Journal visited that locality and was surprised at the splendid array of the water fowl that Mr. Busch has reared at the home.

Mr. Busch stated that about a year ago he became interested in the rearing of ducks by rearing a great deal about the value of the Indian Runner as an egg producer and a variety of duck that secured a rapid growth to maturity in a comparative short time and he finally sent away for four ducks and which have formed the basis of the fine colony of 120 of the Indian Runners that desert in the poultry yard at the Busch home. The variety of duck is a fast layer and one that produces eggs practically all the year around and Mr. Busch has had the opportunity of selling a great many settings as well as having these ducks of his own produced from the eggs and also using a great many for household use.

The ducks have their runways in the poultry yard east of the Busch home in the small valley that lies between Fourth and Fifth streets and in the yard a large tank has been placed where the ducks can disport during the day and also enjoy the shade that the trees afford as well as the splendid grass that abounds in the duck farm.

Mr. Busch is very enthusiastic over the ducks and while they are very timid and flee from the presence of strangers that approach the fence or sheds where they are quartered, the ducks apparently recognize Fred and gather around him when he comes to the yards for the purpose of feeding or collecting the eggs.

The ducks are quite handsome, being smaller than the Pekin variety and with a coloring of a creamy tint on their plumage on the body that grows into a light brown on the neck and head.

Mr. Busch is a real enthusiast over the duck raising and has acquired a real knowledge of the rearing of these fowls that he is putting to practical use.

A TEMPTING OFFER

From Wednesday's Daily— County Judge A. H. Duxbury has just received a swell line of fall wedding certificates that he will be able to furnish the blushing brides and timid grooms that may call upon him hereafter for the marriage certificate at his office. The snappiest things in the marriage record line is a leather bound booklet with the certification as to the wedding all ready to fill in. There are other on hand also with the staple doves and flowers all displayed nicely that will give the bride and groom due license to the world they are as one in addition to these the Judge also has a special document, "How to Perpetuate the Honeymoon" which goes with the certificate and if the parties follow the directions closely they will find their matrimonial bark always having smooth sailing.

The court has been displaying the certificates to a number of the local bachelors of the city but without much result as the court also has in his office a beautifully framed copy of the declaration of independence and which has a dampening effect on the salesmanship of the court in regard to the certificates.

Those who are contemplating matrimony should look over the wares of the Judge before they leap and will find some of the best fall lines of marriage records on hand for their use.

DOINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

From Wednesday's Daily— This morning in the district court an action was commenced by Fred Buerstetta, receiver of the First National bank vs. Ralph F. Cleary, et al. The action is one in which the plaintiff seeks to recover judgment against the defendants for a note made on May 25, 1921 by T. E. Parmele for the sum of $6,000 and which was secured by a mortgage on the property in the south part of the city owned by the maker of the note. The property was for many years one of the most attractive homes in the city and is located just off Chicago avenue, having been built on the hillside west of the avenue and in a very attractive surrounding. The place was not kept up in its former excellent shape after the departure of the Parmele family from this city but is still one of the most substantial mansions of the city. In the litigation Mr. Buerstetta is represented by V. J. Haggert and Blackburn & King of Omaha as attorneys.

MADE NICE DONATION

With the average man who works for a living and has to rustle for his job, the giving of a large cash donation to the Community building fund is entirely out of the question and not expected (there are, however, the committee feels few persons in Plattsmouth who cannot afford to invest a dollar or so in this civic undertaking). And numerous of these big-hearted workmen without steady employment are among those most desirous of doing all they can to further the work without the hope of fee or reward.

Roy Taylor is an example of this progressive booster spirit backed up by deeds, and when he completed the installation of the sewer leading to the building he knocked off $35 from the price ordinarily charged per foot, stating he was glad to do his bit toward the Legion building, and the committee is today crediting Mr. Taylor and sons with a labor donation of $35.00 in the published list.

Win. Kief, the well known cement man, is another who has offered to donate handsomely in labor and hauling and already is credited with the furnishing of a team for hauling straw to the trucks when the excavation was done last December. Several other team owners responded liberally at that time and their generosity will not be overlooked in the giving of credit to whom credit is due for the erection of the new building.

FILLING STATIONS CUT PRICE

From Tuesday's Daily— All of the filling stations of the city followed the lowering of the price of gasoline by two of the garage stations and now at all of the filling stations the price of gasoline is 14 cents per gallon, of 16 cents with the gas tax added. This applies to sales in the city however, and the price from the tank wagons remains the same as formerly.

J. C. Rauth and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rauth and a sister of Mrs. J. H. Rauth, were visitors in the county seat Wednesday evening to enjoy the band concert and visiting with friends.

WIN A HARD GAME

From Wednesday's Daily— Yesterday Frank and Edward Gradoville of this city were at Shenandoah, Iowa, where Ed was called to catch for the Mt. Arbors baseball team of the Iowa city against the crack Nebraska City team, reputed one of the best in this part of Nebraska. The game resulted in the score of 8 to 4 in favor of the Mt. Arbors and was hard fought. "Stubby" Mack was the hurler for Shenandoah with Ed doing the receiving while Pickering, fast Otse county hurler was shooting them over for the Nebraska City team and Dennison doing the receiving. While catching a fast game Ed was not able to add any hits to his record but played a very brilliant game.

ENJOY PLEASANT HIKE

From Wednesday's Daily— Last evening shortly after 6 o'clock a jolly party of six Plattsmouth girls started on a short hike, going west on the Louisville road to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Warner where they enjoyed the remainder of the evening. The girls made an inspection of the points of interest on the farm and also gave several musical numbers that added to the pleasure of the evening. During the evening Mrs. Warner assisted by her sister, Miss Ann Smetana, served dainty and delicious refreshments. Those who enjoyed the event were Lucille Horn, Florence Thacker, Elizabeth Nolting, Sophia Skalak, Ann and Helen Smetana.
