A. H. WARD,
Murdock, Nebraska

F. R. Guthmann was a visitor in Plattsmouth last week, where he was a guest of his grandmother, Mrs. F. R. Guthmann and his aunt, Miss Minnie Guthmann.

Herbert Firestone is making some very good improvements as he is able to be out and with the aid of his crutches can get about and visit with his many friends.

Mrs. H. A. Guthmann and son, Joseph, were visiting in Omaha for the day last Wednesday. Mrs. Guthmann returning home while Joe stayed for a visit with friends for the week.

Miss Jessie Melvin, who was at the hospital for a few days during the past week, was able to return home on last Sunday and is feeling quite a bit better.

During the time A. J. Tool and the family were in the west, their daughter, Mrs. George Work, was looking after the business of the store and was assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. P. Meyer, of Sioux City.

Arrangements have been completed for the giving of a lecture at the Evangelical church on the subject of Solomon's Temple, and which is said to be an excellent lecture. Better make arrangements to hear it.

Henry Amgwert and wife were visiting in Lincoln on Wednesday last week. Mr. Amgwert looking after the purchase of goods for the store and Mrs. Amgwert visiting during the time at the home of her parents.

A. H. Ward was called to Lincoln to look after some business matters regarding the purchase of needed supplies for his garage and also was accompanied by the folks, who went along for the ride and enjoyed the trip nicely.

Mrs. G. P. Plickwell has been feeling quite poorly for some time and has been kept at her home on account of the lack of her health. She is reported, however, as being slightly improved, which is good news to her many friends.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company provided a picnic for its employees, which was held at Weeping Water and at which Misses Helen and Mary Bornemeier attended and which they report was a very delightful gathering.

Gust Stock completed the harvest of his wheat and also the threshing, being very well pleased with the results, though they were less than was indicated by the appearance of the fields before they were harvested. The seventy acres which he had showed well over thirty bushels on the average.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool and their son, Douglas, were spending nearly a week in the west, they going to Beaver City, where they visited at the home of a sister of Mrs. Tool, Rev. and Mrs. Banty, and during the time Mr. Tool went to Amhurst, where he had some business matters to look after, having some land out there.

E. W. Thimman is kept bumping these days with the garage work and the trucking which comes to him by reason of his excellent service. Last Wednesday he had three loads between Omaha and Murdock, one being stock for the south Omaha market, then a load of goods on the return for the Murdock Mercantile company and then a load of tile for the new house of Gust Wendt.

Henry Meyerjurgon, who had one hundred and fifty acres of wheat, purchased a combined harvester and thresher and did the work all in one operation, and was well pleased with the returns, which averaged about thirty bushels to the acre. The average of the wheat yield was cut considerably by the excessive warm winds which came for some two weeks before the harvest.

The Ostblom Market
The Ostblom market has succeeded the market owned by Mr. Lyle Horton, and Mr. Ostblom has moved to Murdock and is well pleased with the town and the business which is coming to him. He says the business has grown better with each day he has been in Murdock. Mr. Ostblom knows his business and will care for the wants of the people in the proper way. Murdock is to be congratulated that she has as well conducted an establishment as this market.

Greets Uncle Roy
Greetings were sent from New York state to L. B. Goerthy on the arrival of a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goerthy, who was born at Johnston, N. Y., and who inherited the name, not of Roy, but of Kemper Bradford Goerthy. All concerned are doing nicely.

Had Pleasant Trip
Last Sunday morning at 7 a. m. saw L. Neitzel and Miss Eleanor Harting on their way to Crete, Neb., arriving there at 9:30. Miss Eleanor took passage on the launch up the river to Oakwood Lodge, where Mrs. O. J. Hitchcock, Jackie and Olga May were camping, while Grandpa attended the M. E. Sunday school, took an active part in the men's class and enjoyed the preaching service. After a good dinner took the boat to Oakwood lodge, visited with the kiddies, then altogether went to Horkey's park, a mile further up the river, where a band from Clay Center discoursed its sweet strains of music to the large crowds that gathered under the shade of those wonderful Elms and oaks. So a very profitable day was spent in God's great outdoors, and by 7 p. m., your pilgrims landed safely at the "Haven of Rest" called home.

King Had Longing to Visit America

Ferdinand of Rumania Extolled by Queen Marie as Great Monarch and Kindest of Husbands.

Bucharest, July 22.—King Ferdinand would like to have visited America before he died. Queen Marie, whose own longing to see the United States took her there last year, today told a correspondent for the Associated Press. At the same time, she asked the correspondent to convey to President Coolidge and to her friends in America thru his dispatches her whole-hearted appreciation for their touching messages of sympathy, which are far too numerous to acknowledge personally until after Ferdinand's funeral on Sunday.

Fully 250,000 Rumanians paid their final tribute of respect and homage to their dead sovereign today as Ferdinand's body rested in a simple oak coffin in the Cotroceni palace.

The dead monarch, whom Rumanians prefer to call "father," was dressed in the khaki uniform of the commander-in-chief of the army and held in his right hand a large silver crucifix which Queen Marie had clasped to his breast as he was dying. At his feet rested a silver crown, the imperial scepter of power and a field marshal's baton.

The king's favorite priest stood at the head of the bier and intoned prayers, while white-robed sisters of charity, who remained with the king throughout his long illness, stood at the foot of the coffin.

While hosts of mourners and visitors filed past the catafalque, Queen Marie remained alone in a nearby room in sorrow and meditation.

"He was a great king, a good man and the kindest of husbands," she said, to the correspondent as tears welled in her eyes and her voice broke. "His simplicity, humility and greatness of heart endeared him to everybody. His whole life was one sacrifice."

NO DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

Madison, Wis., July 22.—The state senate this afternoon passed a substitute amendment to a bill by Senator Gettelman to repeal the Sevenson state enforcement act and withdraw the state appropriation for enforcing it. The vote was 11 to 10. The original Gettelman bill would have abolished the office of prohibition commissioner. If passed by both houses the substitute bill would place Wisconsin in the same position as New York, a state without enforcement, save that of the federal government.

LEGION NEWS!

A column appearing in the Daily Journal on Saturdays

State convention only a week off.

August 1, 2 and 3 are the dates. Lincoln the place.

Our delegates are Commander H. G. Seennichsen and Past Commanders Raymond Larson and Roy Holly.

Alternates are Past Commander Emil Hild, Fred Lugsch and E. H. Douglas. All are expecting to attend one or more days.

Opening day will be given largely to registration, committee assignments, etc. Afternoon of the second day will witness the big parade with a large number of former soldiers in line of march.

Important business of the convention, including election of officers, selection of next convention city, etc., will take place on the closing day, with adjournment by mid-afternoon, so delegates from outstate can catch evening trains home.

This is the ninth annual convention and Lincoln is acting as host city for the first time. With John Curtis and Frank O'Connell general chairmen, its success is assured. A lot of entertainment will be provided for the registered guests.

A special bulletin just received by the adjutant calls attention to the necessity of every guest registering. The registration fee is $1, which entitles the registrant to an official convention badge and a book of tickets affording free admission to all sorts of entertainment provided by the capital city posts. Those who fail to register will have to pay for dances, shows, etc., that they would otherwise get for their dollar registration fee.

Plattsmouth post will be well represented at the convention, both by its official delegation and a goodly number of guests. It is possible the drum corps will attend Tuesday to take part in the parade, although we have not been advised definitely regarding this as yet. Post Commander has received a telephone call from Vice Commander Jobst, of Lincoln, asking that a special effort be made to bring our drum corps.

For those who wish to go on the train, special reduced fare certificates will be available. We have not received them as yet, but are expecting a supply early next week. The majority will drive, however. The best road is thru Murray and Elmwood, on Highway No. 1, joining up with Highway No. 11 south of Elmwood, and on into Lincoln over the O. & N. road. This is all graded except the stretch from Murray west to a point two miles north of Elmwood, in case of rain the best route is to Ft. Crook corner and west, joining up with the D. L. D. east of Crete and continuing on thru Ashland, Greenwood and Havelock. This route is all hard surfaced and possible in any kind of weather.

Our post has been asked to provide a speaker for one day of the Old Settlers' reunion at Union August 12 and 13, and negotiations are under way with John Curtis national vice commander of the American Legion, and a member of the State Railway commission. John is the most rapid speaker in Nebraska Legion circles today and will give creditable account of himself alongside the Hon. A. J. Weaver and Will Maupin, the other orators engaged by the Union celebration committee. If we cannot get him we shall try to get R. A. Kirkpatrick, Omaha post historian, whose radio historical talks from the Woodmen station every Saturday night are heard and enjoyed by the thousands of listeners.

Contrary to practice, we are not discussing progress of our building in the column this week, as a visit to the scene of activity will reveal the strides being made in the work. The only thing we want to say is that the committee is in need of money and all those Legionnaires who have subscribed and not paid their contributions are urged to send or hand their checks to Leslie Niel at once. Also, there are numerous of our members who haven't given anything. Dues in our post are the lowest in the state. The new building is going to afford our members club room privileges that members of other posts are paying as high as $5 a year to maintain in rented quarters. Then why stand back on giving $10 or more, when the money is sorely needed to meet forthcoming estimates?

The Rifle club will shoot again tomorrow at the range north of town, beginning at 9 o'clock and continuing till mid-day or later. A number of the members haven't drawn on their allotment of ammunition and tomorrow will be a good day to do so. Two new 30-30 Springfield and a couple of .22 rifles have been received as well as ammunition, range supplies, etc. Executive Officer E. H. Douglas, who qualifies as an expert rifleman, will be present to give instruction and aid the individual members in scoring good ratings as they fire at the bullseye from the various prescribed positions. An official score sheet is kept and this must be transmitted to headquarters, along with other data regarding the organization. Fred Lugsch is commander and Raymond Larson, secretary-treasurer.

Flood Aid is Decided on by Pres. Coolidge

President Will Spend Federal Funds to Repair Dikes; Still Ponders Plea for Special Session.

Rapid City, S. D., July 23.—The federal treasury will be opened by President Coolidge for funds to repair the broken dikes of the Mississippi river, but he has reached no decision on another recommendation of Secretary Hoover to have the government help meet interest and amortization charges on levee bonds in the devastated area.

Likewise, it was reiterated Friday at the executive office that the president has reached no decision on convening congress in special session a month or six weeks ahead of the regular meeting in December to consider flood relief and control measures.

It was stated that Mr. Coolidge has not changed his views on this proposal, which are understood to be that he does not consider the special session necessary for flood control alone, but is willing to listen to the desires of congress for getting an early start on a prospective heavy calendar.

Senator Smoot, republican, of Utah chairman of the finance committee who is a guest at the summer White House, reiterated Friday his belief that a special session would be called. He also announced that he would fight to have the prospective tax reductions made to apply on incomes of this calendar year, on which taxes would be paid starting next March 15.

The president is leaving the formulation of the tax program largely in the hands of the house ways and means committee, where this legislation must originate, and in the hands of the treasury. He hopes to confer with Chairman Green of this committee during the summer, and there are indications that the administration will support the move of Senator Smoot for the immediate tax cut. Until he has conferred with others in charge of the bill, he will have no plan.

Pending a more detailed report from army engineers on the Mississippi flood situation, Mr. Coolidge is withholding any plan for financing this work. O'Quinn, he questions whether the federal government can meet the interest and amortization charges on levee bonds, such as the levee bonds, but he is holding an open mind on this suggestion of the secretary.

He is similarly awaiting further details before taking a position on the secretary's recommendation that the government take over the work of closing and repairing all levee systems in the flooded area.

Both Senator Smoot and Frank Mondell of Wyoming, former republican leader of the house, who called on the president Friday, urged him to journey through Yellowstone National park before returning to Washington. Mr. Mondell also asked the president and Mrs. Coolidge to attend the wedding of his daughter Dorothy, and Alexander Gregg, general counsel of the internal revenue bureau, to be held at his home in Newcastle, Wyo., July 26.

HOLD FINE MEETING

The Social Workers Flower club held an ice cream social Thursday afternoon on the lawn at the Fred Spangler home.

The lighted porch with its background of vines and flowers served as a stage for the musical program.

The Jolly Four orchestra of Plattsmouth furnished music throughout the evening. Mr. H. L. Gay gave an interesting talk on neighborhood club work. Other numbers were a violin duet by Jean Caldwell and Ira Mumm with Mrs. Caldwell at the piano; a violin solo by Marie Vekery with Dorothy Propst playing the piano accompaniment; Berne by the Shrader piano numbers by Dorothy Propst; song with ukulele accompaniment by May Shrader and song by Miss Margaret Livingston.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

Wm. Heebner was assisting William Otto with the threshing during the latter portion of last week.

Joseph Rauth was the first to use the company machine last Friday and was among the first in this vicinity to thresh.

Harrison J. Livingston was engaged all day Wednesday getting the company machine ready to begin the threshing in this vicinity.

Baruch Golding, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Manley on last Wednesday evening and was visiting with his friend, Robert Connors.

In the ball game last Sunday between the home team and a team from Lincoln the home team won by a score of 16 to 2 for the visitors. A. H. Humble and the good wife were down to Weeping Water to enjoy the concert which the band furnishes weekly for that hustling little city.

Mrs. Barbara Pipla and daughter, Inez, of Hennessee, Oklahoma, arrived in Manley last week and are visiting at the home of a sister, Mrs. Anton Auerswald and family.

Gen. Felschman, following the completion of the painting of the postoffice and store for Mr. Bergman, is getting in readiness to take the pool hall and the M. W. A. building.

August Krechlow was a visitor in Omaha on Wednesday of last week, taking a load of stock to the market and on his return had a load of goods for Manley.

Anton Auerswald was a visitor in Murray on last Friday, where he and the family were visiting Vaclav Michluskey and also were looking after some business matters for the day.

David Brann and the good wife were spending last Sunday in Omaha, where they were guests at the home of Reuben Jessup and wife. Mr. Brann and wife driving over to the big city in their car.

J. C. Rauth and daughter, Miss Anna and Herman Rauth and wife were looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth on Wednesday of last week, they driving over in their auto for the occasion.

Joseph Wolpert, who is one of the best natured men, was considerably peeved last week when a number of his enemies and friends as to that matter piled on him and gave him an awful stinging. Of course they were bees, and he is getting along all right now.

Miss Eleanor O'Brien, who has been taking a six weeks' summer school course at Plattsmouth, concluded her studies there last Thursday and is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Baltz Meisinger, east of town, as well as with her father and brother on the farm.

Robert Connors had some business matters to look after in Omaha, and driving over to the big city, was getting along nicely until the rear end of his auto gave way and left him high and dry and he had to telephone to Manley for some one to come after him. It is strange that a car like many other animals, waits until it catches its owner in a pickle and then cuts up some caper.

BALCHEN TO AID IN TEST

New York, July 22.—Bertr Balchen, whose experienced hands brought the Byrd monoplane America to the waters near Ver-Sur-Mer, France, will pilot the Fokker plane Old Glory, in which Lloyd Bertand and James D. Hill will attempt a non-stop flight to Rome, on its initial factory test next Monday. The first flight of the plane to be used in the New York-to-Rome hop, sponsored by William Randolph Hearst, will be made at a field near the Fokker plant at Haebrouck Heights, N. J., after about two hours of flying. It is proposed to turn the controls over to Bertand and Hill.

GRUESOME STORY IS TOLD

Marionette, Wis., July 22.—The finding of a woman's garments and the gruesome story of a sixteen-year-old boy, today sent Sheriff Oscar Dahl in search of a slayer and the body of his victim. The county officials were inclined to doubt the slaying story, the youth, Carl Iverson, who told of the attack, repeated his version again and again without deviation.

Iverson, who lives at Beecher forty miles northwest, declared he was spying on a couple in an automobile parked on a highway at dusk on Tuesday. He told the sheriff he heard the man and woman quarrel and saw the man draw a knife and slash the woman's throat.

"She screamed and he pushed her to the floor of the car," Iverson said. "Then the man washed his hands with water drawn from the radiator of the car and drove away."

The boy's father told the sheriff he saw what he thought was blood on the road the next morning. A search of the scene revealed a woman's garments.

Having lately sold to Henry Ford 199 vessels for $1,000,000, the shipping board has now 129 cargo ships to sell for salvage. Here are 328 ships so poorly built that to sell them is to save money.

WOULD SETTLE ELECTION

Philadelphia, July 22.—Immediate taking over of all ballots cast in the Pennsylvania senatorial election last fall by the senate committee on privileges and election by the time the senate convenes in December was advocated by United States Senator-elect William S. Vare, republican, in a statement tonight.

Mr. Vare, whose right to his seat is disputed by William B. Wilson, democrat, voiced approval of the suggestion made by Senator David A. Reed in Washington several days ago that the standing committee should immediately notify the sergeant-at-arms to obtain the ballots in all the election districts of Pennsylvania "in the same manner as done in the Stock-Brookhart contest in Iowa."

BILL FOR PUBLIC SAFETY

Dublin, July 22.—The terms of the public safety bill introduced by President Cosgrave in the dail Wednesday to meet the situation created by the assassination of Vice President Kevin O'Higgins and the general hostility of the republicans to the Irish free state, were made public tonight. The bill empowers the government (1) to declare a state of emergency at any time and to establish military courts to try certain offenses; (2) to deport any citizen belonging to an illegal organization; (3) to suppress anti-constitutional publications; (4) to suppress illegal organizations; and (5) to extend the death penalty to persons convicted of concealing arms.

Julius Kalasek and son, Raymond, were among the visitors in Omaha today where they were called to spend a few hours there looking after some matters of business.
