Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans Elected as Auxil'y Delegate

Legion Auxiliary Also Names Mrs. Rosencrans District Committeewoman—Fine Convention.

From Thursday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth delegation from the state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary at Lincoln, returned home and report a very pleasant convention and one that ranked as one of the best that the Auxiliary has enjoyed.

The local unit has for the past several years been numbered among the most active in the state and their aggressive membership drives have given them high standing in the state and at the Lincoln meeting this city was second in the membership gains and received the prize of $10 in gold which was secured by the active efforts of the ladies in making their membership rank high.

The convention also gave Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans of this city, one of the active workers, a pleasing recognition in her selection as one of the delegates to the national convention which will be held at New York in the late fall following the return of the Legion delegations to France and at which time the Legion will also hold their national meeting.

Mrs. Rosencrans was also selected as the committeewoman for the first congressional district in recognition of her splendid work in the past in the affairs of the district auxiliary.

It was a general regret of the members of the local unit of the Auxiliary and the American Legion here that Mrs. F. R. Gobelman, retiring vice-president, was not named as the president of the organization at the Lincoln convention as a very strong effort was made by the friends of Mrs. Gobelman on the convention floor, but the body, which has never elevated a vice-president to the chief office of the Auxiliary seemed to desire to follow their precedent and named Mrs. Maude Peters of Stanton, one of the most popular and best known members of the order as president. Mrs. Gobelman has been in the forefront of the Auxiliary leaders in the state and her work locally and in the state organization has aided materially in the advancement of the order in the state and from her service she was most deserving of the office that her friends had urged her for. Such service as Mrs. Gobelman has given is not often found and she would have been a real asset to the Auxiliary in the office of president and had her services been given the recognition that they so well deserved.

WORK IS PROGRESSING

From Thursday's Daily—
Plumbing work at the new community building is occupying attention this week. Five toilet, four lavatories and a large kitchen sink are among the fixtures provided for in the initial unit of the building, as well as plumbing arrangements to carry the plumbing into the second floor when financial conditions will permit removal of the present temporary roof and proceeding with the balance of the work a few years hence.

F. R. Gobelman, who has the painting and glazing sub-contract has applied a priming coat to the exterior trim and expects to receive the 400 window panes required for the French window casements within a few days, when they will be set and the windows painted. The color of this trim has been decided upon, being a light gray. The steel work in the assembly room will be painted white.

Emil Walters, masonry sub-contractor, has completed the mounding of the white stone coping for the front parapet walls and will lay them in place soon, as well as stucco the portion of the front not finished with pressed brick, on account of the future steps and entrance platform covering up that part of the wall.

As soon as the plumbing installation is completed, laying of the concrete floors in the kitchen, toilet rooms, check room, storage room and coal room can proceed, finishing up this part of the work.

Unless seriously hampered, the contractors expect to have the building ready to turn over by the first week in September.

CONCERT AFFORDS PLEASURE

From Thursday's Daily—
Last evening the Eagles band gave another of their delightful concerts at the court house lawn and which was one of the most delightful that this excellent musical organization has given during the summer season. The program was splendidly presented and the selection of the various numbers proved most delightful to the audience that in the cool evening spent the hour most delightfully in listening to the strains of the music.

The overture, "From Dawn to Twilight" by Jewell, the waltz, "A Kiss in the Dark," by Herbert, as well as the beautiful serenade of King, "A Night in June" were among the delightful offerings that the band presented as well as the two popular songs hits, "Moonbeam Kiss Her for Me" and "Love and Kisses," all of the numbers being received with the greatest of appreciation by the auditors.

These concerts will be continued through the month of August and on each Wednesday evening the musical lovers of this section of the county can enjoy the treat of the municipal concerts which are presented by the Eagles band through the city.

Parme's New Organ Arrives Late Yesterday

A Happy Pair are Gus and Andy Today as They Contemplate Its Early Installation.

From Thursday's Daily—
Dinty and Bill are all smiles today awaiting the unloading of the great Wurilizer organ, which reached its destination yesterday from the factory at North Tonawanda, New York.

An entire box car was used in transporting the organ to this city. The electrical wiring in the instrument measures thousands of feet in length and ranges in size from large cables to the smallest possible copper strand.

Each of these parts and cables are so labeled that not a minute's delay will take place in the assembling, it was stated.

There are few persons in the country who can actually appreciate the working wonderment of this instrument, other than the organists themselves. The performer must be able to manipulate and play the hundreds of stops, or tablets on the console, exactly when the eye of the audience tells the ear when to expect a certain musical composition or interpretation. Every instrument of this nature, of which the entire symphony orchestra is composed, is reproduced perfectly.

It must be remembered that this not only includes practically all the musical instruments known to civilization, but also those of the barbaric and Oriental tribes, such as tom-toms, war drums, and high pitched reed instruments.

The large console, or keyboard, of the instrument consists of a bewildering maze of keys, and is connected with the organ by an electric cable. A high pressure blower, which will be located in the basement of the theatre, furnishes the air for the organ.

Sound-proof expression chambers enclose the entire organ, it was explained, from which the tones are controlled by patented shutters, that run across the entire front of the organ chamber. By means of a simple pressure upon the foot pedal, the performer can control these shutters so that he can bring forth the tones on an entire symphony orchestra or cut them down to the merest whisper.

When the new organ is installed, the Parme will be one of the finest and best equipped movie houses to be found anywhere in the middle west, outside of the largest cities.

Police Check Auto Thief in Bold Getaway

Young Man Giving Name of Roy Chidester of Omaha Arrested Last Night With Car.

From Friday's Daily—
The activities of a young man giving the name of Roy Chidester, in the automobile pilfering business, was nipped by the prompt work of Officers Joe Libershal and Dave Pickrel, who some fifteen minutes after the matter was reported to them had the warlike young man in the city jail.

A message was received by the police that a party driving a Ford coupe had driven into the small truck belonging to John Hatt, which was parked at his home on West Pearl street and this was the real cause of the downfall of the Omaha youth.

The police at once started for the vicinity of 6th and Pearl street to try and get a line on the matter and the auto thief ran into their outstretched arms almost. The police saw the young man and inquired if he was the possessor of the car that bore a Cass county number. At once the young man became hard and told the officers he was just fixing his car and to go away and leave him alone and also added a few emphatic words of protest in a loud and profane language and the officers formed the young man that he was to be taken to the city jail and would go over to the city bastle to rest up from his escape. The young man, still swearing and cursing attempted to break away from Officer Libershal and fell to the pavement, then getting up and starting to run across the street with the officer in pursuit and then darted back to the car with the evident intention of getting in and attempting to make a getaway from the scene of action and he ran into Officer Pickrel who was at the car and the young man was then overpowered and hurried over to the city jail making the air blue with his cursing as he was led on the way to the lock up.

After examination of the car revealed that it was the property of Glen Meisinger and was evidently a stolen car, which was confirmed a few moments later when Mr. Meisinger and Dewey Reed drove up and the owner demanded to know who had stolen the car which he had just missed from its parking place near the Reed residence on West Pearl street. Mr. and Mrs. Meisinger had been calling on their way to the main part of the city to report the theft when they found the car surrounded by a group of onlookers and the party taking the car safe in jail.

The jail the young man, who gave his age as 19 years, was in a defiant mood and beyond giving his name as Roy Chidester refused to say anything and denied either taking the car or running into the Hatt truck altho he was caught red handed with the stolen machine.

After taking the Meisinger car the young man, who had apparently been drinking, had become confused and started on West Pearl street in the same direction that the car was parked, and reaching the Hatt residence had started to go south on the blind portion of 11th street which ends in the hollow just south of 11th street. He had then tried to turn around and had crashed into the small truck of Mr. Hatt, causing the truck to roll down the hill and crash into a tree and damage it very badly. He had then gotten out and in his attempt to get into the clear had driven into the south part of town and then started north on 6th street, blowing out the tires as he came down the hill near the Ford garage and at which time the police were on the scene in response to the alarm from the Hatt residence.

The young man stated this morning that he and a companion came here last night in a Ford coupe, but the companion had evidently made his getaway and left his companion to suffer the consequences of his act, as efforts of the police and Sheriff Bert Reed to locate the other party proved fruitless.

This morning the young man was arraigned in the county court on a complaint of Acting County Attorney J. A. Capwell, charging him with the stealing of the auto of Glen Meisinger the young man entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was bound over to the district court for trial.

Every shade of crepe paper and all the new novelties and favors as well as a complete stock of picnic needs can be found in the Dennison line, sold exclusively at the Bates Book and Gift Shop.

Bob McClanahan Suffers Severe Injuries Friday

Former Plattsmouth Boy May Have Fracture of Spine From Auto Accident Yesterday.

From Saturday's Daily—
Robert McClanahan, aged 20, former resident of this city and a nephew of Frank Warren, was seriously injured yesterday at Lincoln in an auto accident that occurred just a short distance from his home 509 South 18th street.

The young man is at the Lincoln General hospital with what is thought is a fracture of the spine near the base of the neck, and his escape from death in the wreck was almost a miracle.

Mrs. W. G. Bassett, driver of the car which collided with that of the McClanahan brothers, is also at the hospital suffering from cuts and bruises that are painful but not thought serious.

Allen McClanahan, younger brother of Robert, was driving a heavy automobile north on 18th street while Mrs. Bassett in a lighter car was coming west on K street when the two collided at the intersection of the two streets and both cars badly damaged in the wreck and the elder of the McClanahan boys very badly injured. Allen escaped the collision without injury.

The injured parties were taken to the hospital at once and are under the care of Dr. Clarence Emerson and it is thought that X-ray pictures will reveal the fracture of the spine of Robert.

The injured young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McClanahan, who resided here a number of years ago while Mr. McClanahan was here with the telephone company, and Robert attended school here and is known to a large number of the younger people and who will regret very much the place of the severe injuries and trust that he may not be as badly injured as is thought.

Mr. Cook's condition has caused a great deal of worry to his family and most of his friends over the county and that he has been able to undergo the operation that may give him some measure of permanent relief is the matter of the greatest interest to the friends. Mr. Cook is one of the old residents of this part of Cass county and his health has not been the best in the last few years.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Come in to Complete Building

Ku Klux Klan Raises Previous Donation of $50 to $75—Others Interested in Aiding Cause.

From Saturday's Daily—
Knowledge of a shortage in contributions of some $3,500 of the sum required to complete the present unit of the new community building sponsored by the American Legion is influencing a number who have not previously contributed anything to come forward with donations at this time and in a few instances former contributors sensing the need of additional money are increasing the amount of their donations.

An instance of this is in the payment yesterday of $75, including $50 previously subscribed, and an additional $25 donated by the Ku Klux Klan who, in a letter to the committee state they are anxious to do all they can in a financial way to aid in the erection and outfitting of the new building that will be a credit to the community.

In addition to the $75 total contributed by the Klan, the ladies auxiliary of that organization has previously paid a pledge of $50 which they subscribed early in the drive for funds, making a grand total of $125 paid in by the two organizations, and which is greatly appreciated by the committee.

Another contribution of $10 was made yesterday by an employe of the court house, who desired that his identity be withheld, but who stated he was glad to assist in this small way the worthy enterprise of the Legion. The court house group has gone in almost 100 per cent on the drive, showing a splendid spirit of co-operation.

The wiring problem is one that now confronts the committee and in this, as well as other phases of the work, offers of labor donations are being received from workmen who feel they cannot subscribe any great sum of money but are willing to give time to the work. Leonard Terryberry, an electrician in the Burlington shops has signified his intention of aiding in the wiring, as well as Wm. Highfield, employe of the Nebraska Gas and Electric company, and several dealers in electric supplies have volunteered to furnish the necessary wire, conduit and fixtures at cost, including the extra cash discounts.

A survey of this work indicates that some 750 feet of conduit, 1,400 feet of No. 14 wire, 100 feet of No. 6 wire, and some forty-two outlets, as well as a multiple switch box and numerous wall switches will be required. The total load on the six building circuits will approximate 3,500 watts and under the Underwriters specifications the leads may carry 1,000 watts each, or a total of 6,000 so there will be no overloading or possibility of fire hazard. All the wiring connections will be soldered to prevent a drop in voltage at the more remote outlets and with the donated labor in installing the same, the cost will amount to little more than one-third the sum if a contract was let outright.

The contribution of Emil Walters and Son in providing white stone capping over the front parapet wall and stuccoing that portion of the front not finished in pressed brick, for the more finishing of the material is another evidence of public spirited co-operation that is greatly appreciated.

Other offers of additional labor donations including cement work and plastering have been received by the committee and will be accepted as soon as the wiring is out of the way.

Withal, additional cash contributions are needed to pay for material and the cost of the general contract and any who have not subscribed can show their interest now by contributing such sums as they feel able to give. Also, it can not be too strongly urged upon those contributors who have not paid over their subscriptions as yet, that they arrange to meet this obligation at once. Approximately $8,500 of the $10,300 subscribed has been paid in, leaving a balance of some $1,800 due, and the committee is in need of this money now.

Exclusive of the building site that represents an investment of $3,000, the cost of the completed portion of the building will amount to nearly $4,000, so it can be seen there is need for plenty of additional cash contributions in order to reduce to a minimum the amount necessary to borrow.

Cook, of this city, who has been at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha for the past several weeks, was operated on yesterday at that place for the relief of the patient who has been suffering for a number of years from bladder and kidney trouble and which had grown so severe as to necessitate his being taken to the hospital for treatment and care and for an operation. Mr. Cook's condition has caused a great deal of worry to his family and most of his friends over the county and that he has been able to undergo the operation that may give him some measure of permanent relief is the matter of the greatest interest to the friends. Mr. Cook is one of the old residents of this part of Cass county and his health has not been the best in the last few years.

IMPROVING BILLIARD HALL

The Peterson billiard parlor, one of the popular entertainment places for the men of the community, is being given a renovation by Carl Kuns-mann, owner of the building, and the settings of the billiard parlor made more attractive by the application of a new coat of paint to the interior of the building and which will make it much more lighter and pleasant in every way. The ceiling of the building as well as part of the side walls are being painted in grey and tan while the lower portion of the wall will have a paneling of green, making a very attractive combination of coloring. The woodwork will also be in grey. Mr. Kuns-mann, the owner of the building is also planning to have the exterior of the building touched up and placed in first class shape so that it will be in line with the other very attractive fronts along Main street.
