Greenwood Man Has a Close Call from Death

Charles Anderson Faints and Falls on Railroad Crossing—Friends Rescue Man.

Charles Anderson, one of the old residents of Greenwood, had a very close call from death on Tuesday when he was on his way from the main business section of the town.

Anderson to cross over the crossing near the Greenwood elevator and Tuesday as he was about midway of the crossing he was taken with a sudden fainting fit and fell prone on the railroad tracks with an approaching train whistling in the distance, but the aged man lay unconscious on the track.

Residents of the town fortunately saw the unconscious man stagger and fall and they ran to his rescue, removing the man just as the train rushing from the south was only a hundred feet away and when a matter of a few moments would have caused a tragic death beneath the wheels of the onrushing train.

Mr. Anderson on recovering was informed of the close call that he had from death and which shocked him very much.

Louisville Host to Many Distinguished Guests

Fish Dinner of the Chamber of Commerce a Splendid Occasion and Notables in Attendance.

From Friday's Daily—
The chamber of commerce of Louisville last evening were hosts at a fish dinner to a large party of the distinguished representatives of the railroads, telephone, stone quarry and the Ash Grove Cement company were in attendance and added to the spirit of enthusiasm that has prevailed in Louisville since the announcement of the location of the great $2,000,000 plant of the Ash Grove Cement Co. at that place.

There were some 200 present at the dinner that was arranged in the city hall building and the members of the party represented many sections of Cass county who are all rejoicing in the great good fortune that has come to our neighboring city in the location of their great plant there and the prospects for the future.

The feast was one such as can be found only in the heart of the great west with a tempting array of the good things to eat that everyone appreciated to the utmost. The dinner which was served by the Louisville ladies consisted of the following menu:

- Fried Nebraska Fish, Harvest Style
- Pittsburgh Potatoes
- Sliced Tomatoes Cabbage Salad
- Beet Pickles
- Orange Sherbert Cakes
- Coffee Ice Tea

As the wonderful feast was disposed of by the members of the party the evening was turned over to E. Sundstrom as toastmaster, and who introduced the various speakers of the evening.

The Louisville municipal band which is fast becoming one of the leading musical organizations of the county favored the members of the party with a selection.

The address of welcome to Louisville was given by Mayor W. M. Greig, who expressed the delight of the residents of the city in having with them the distinguished guests and the splendid success that had been the part of Louisville in the past year.

The response of the visiting guests was made by Charles Gardner, secretary of the Ak-Sar-Ben of Omaha, and given in the manner that is characteristic of the genial and clever secretary of King Ak.

As the formal list of speakers was completed, the toastmaster called upon a number of the guests present representing various lines of industry and who brought the message of greeting and good will to the pretty little Platte river city and its live and energetic citizenship.

Division Superintendent Brown of the Missouri Pacific, of Falls City, was present and gave a most interesting talk and stated that Louisville was the third largest locality in their Omaha division and that they expected this to be greater in the future with the new cement factory in operation.

J. E. Davidson, president of the Nebraska Power Co., of Omaha spoke also in a congratulatory vein and stated that his company, one of the largest in the west had the contract for power for the new plant and that the consumption would be three-fourths as much as the largest customer of the company in Omaha.

T. C. Byrne of the Byrne-Hammer Co., and leader in the Omaha chamber of commerce also spoke briefly of the happiness that the success of Louisville had brought to the metropolis.

L. E. Caldwell, superintendent of the Omaha division of the Burlington also spoke and expressed the sentiment of pleasure at the new plant and assured the residents of that place that they would have the best that the Burlington could offer to make for better service in assisting in the new plant.

One of the speakers of the evening that was followed with close attention was A. K. Frolich, superintendent of construction of the Ash Grove Cement Co., who is now located at Louisville and prepared for the work of the erection of the mammoth plant he telling briefly some of the plans of the new industry.

William J. O'Brien, superintendent of the state fisheries and Mr. Curtis of the Lyman-Richey Sand Co., also spoke briefly on the feeling of pleasure that the location of the new plant has brought to the city of Louisville and the surrounding territory.

Editor Lee J. Mayfield, who has been one of the rock ribbed boosters of Louisville for a great many years, was also on the toast list and gave the general expression of the people of Louisville on the dawn of the new era of success and growth.

H. F. McCulloch, representing the Lincoln Telephone Co., told of the work of the telephone company in the community and the fact that they were now in readiness to serve any demand that might be made on their company in the way of service.

F. Ragoos of the Louisville Farmers Union, also spoke briefly and gave the congratulations of the Farmers Union to the community and greetings to the Ash Grove Co.

Searl S. Davis of Plattsmouth, who has a very important part in the location of the cement plant in Louisville was present and gave to the members of the dinner party, the greetings of the Plattsmouth people on the success of their neighbors at Louisville and the splendid results that the plant will bring to all of Cass county.

H. A. Schneider of Plattsmouth also expressed the pleasure felt at the location of the plant in our midst here in Cass county and congratulated the Louisville people on their success as well as expressing the appreciation of the splendid dinner that had been provided.

A. J. Weaver of Falls City, who is now a candidate for governor, was also on the program and gave a resume of the question of Missouri river navigation, a subject that is close to all of the residents of this part of Nebraska and the west.

Thomas Sullivan of the National Stone Co., was also called upon and joined in the general appreciation of the good fortune that has come in the location of the new cement plant. It was a late hour when the members of the party adjourned and all felt that it was a real event, from the wonderful feast to the splendid talks that had been given by the speakers of the evening.

JOHN TIMM DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. John Timm sixty-two, who has made his home in South Bend for the past nearly forty years died at his home in that town last Tuesday afternoon after an illness of but short duration. Mr. Timm has farmed in that vicinity all his life and was not stout, but was always able to be around. Mr. Timm was a member of the Lutheran church and was a devoted attendant. He leaves besides his own family, which consists of the wife and two sons, Walter Towle and Ella Timm. The funeral was held from the Lutheran church on Thursday afternoon and the interment made at the burying ground there. Mrs. Carl Rissman was a sister of the deceased, and resided but a few miles from the home of the brother.

MIKE VITERSNIK IMPROVING

From Friday's Daily—
The condition of Mike Vitersnik, well known young farmer of this locality, who is at the Methodist hospital in Omaha, is reported as showing some improvement over last night and today and is again able to sit up a short time again and seems to have recovered very nicely from the relapse that he suffered on Wednesday night and it is hoped that he may soon be able to return home if his condition continues as favorable as it is at this time.

Will Start to Install New Organ Monday

Unloading Starts Today and the New Organ Will Be Erected at Once.

From Saturday's Daily—
Cloidt & Moore with a force of workmen are busy today hauling truckload after truckload of large crates and boxes which contain the different parts of the Wurlitzer organ which will be installed in the Parmela Theatre next week.

Mr. G. A. Roberts of the Organ Co. talked to Mr. Cloidt today from Denver over long distance telephone and advised that he would arrive tomorrow to begin work of assembling and installing the organ.

Interest in this great organ, is not only attracting the attention of the real lovers of music in this city, but in many adjoining towns.

Years of research and scientific investigation, experimentation in the perfect blending of each separate musical instrument reproduced, has resulted in the construction of this great instrument, combining the greatest of music tones into a standard of beauty and charm.

Workers will begin early Monday morning to erect the decorative boxes and make room for the installation, and also to erect scaffolding for Frank Gobelman and his force of painters, who will transform the interior into one of the finest theatres of its size in the state.

The date of reopening will be definitely announced within the next few days.

The completion of the new improvements planned by Messrs Cloidt and Moore is to be commended and they have striven to give their patrons the very best in pictures and to which they will be able in the near future to add splendid musical programs.

PLAY A GREAT GAME

From Thursday's Daily—
The baseball team of Greenwood is to be complimented on the fact that they were able to shut out the All Nations team which staged a game here on last Tuesday afternoon.

This team has been making many shows and playing with a good many teams herabouts and have played fifty-nine games and during that time have won all but ten of their games. When this team came to Greenwood for their game with the local team, the team here had in mind a pretty tight game. In the beginning of the playing the reputation of the Greenwood players was a little exasperated, and they were fearing that there was a fierce struggle before them, but as they were able to retire all of the visitors as rapidly as they appeared at bat, their courage and hopes of victory grew, and it was apparent that the pitcher, Brokhage, was going to be a match for the sluggers, and in the end it proved that the Greenwood team was more than equal to the visitors, for as the summing up came it showed that the home lads had accumulated four runs while the visitors never were able to view the home plate, but had all the time they wanted to wander around the bases after they had been put out. The home team and the citizenry of Greenwood and vicinity have great reason to be well pleased with the results of the game. The All Nations team went on their way to York with another nick in their record, for with all their efforts they were not able to get a score from the local team.

VISITS WITH PRESIDENT

From Saturday's Daily—
Attorney W. A. Robertson of this city has just returned from a visit to the Black Hills, where he was one of the large party of Burlington attorneys that formed the annual summer outing to this interesting part of the country.

While the scenic wonders were an unfading delight to the lawyers, the attraction that loomed largest on their 1927 outing was the visit that the delegation made to the South Dakota game lodge, the summer White House, where the members had the pleasure of meeting President Calvin Coolidge, the lawyers enjoying with the editors the honor of being the only bodies received in a group by the president.

The members of the party selected Byron Clark, general solicitor of the railroad as their spokesman and who extended to the president the appreciation that the west has felt in having their chief executive as a dweller in this part of the nation for the summer months, and Mr. Clark also gave a short outline of the building of the west.

President Coolidge briefly responded and thanked the members of the party for their call and the well wishes that they had expressed and the members of the party were given the opportunity to personally meet the head of the nation in a pleasing informal manner.

Claim Youth Arrested Here is Mentally Weak

Parents of Roy Chidester, Held Here on Auto Theft, State Son is Irresponsible.

From Saturday's Daily—
The parents of Roy Chidester, nineteen-year-old Omaha youth, who was arrested here on Thursday night charged with having stolen the car of Glen Meisinger, came to this city yesterday afternoon, on hearing of the arrest of the son, and claim that the boy is mentally defective and not responsible for his acts.

The youth, so his parents claim, had gone to a moving picture show at Omaha early Thursday evening with a younger brother and had suddenly left the theatre without a word of explanation to the brother and had been missing until yesterday when the parents learned through distant relatives of the fact that the boy was held here in this city on the charge of stealing the car of Mr. Meisinger.

It is claimed by the parents that the youth has been rather unbalanced for a number of years and that it has been necessary to keep him under supervision the greater part of the time and that he was in such shape that he was unaware of the nature of the crime that he was committing here.

The parents are to bring physicians here today from Omaha to back their claim of mental unbalance of the young man who is still in the county jail to await action of the district court in the case.

Chidester has claimed that he does not recall taking the car only in a hazy manner and has no recollection how he reached this city.

FLOSSIE MIDKIFF A BRIDE

Miss Flossie Midkiff, well known in Syracuse where she has made her home for a greater part of two years, was married to Mr. Earl Freeman, July 4th, at Rockport, Mo.

The wedding was kept a secret from their many friends until last Saturday when it was announced and came as a surprise to their friends, both at Avoca, where the bride's parents reside and here.

Monday night an invitation dance was given at Red Barn at Otoe in honor of the occasion and was well attended and a fine time had by all.

Several from Syracuse received invitations and attended the event honoring the newly married couple. The bride is a sweet winsome girl and during her stay in Syracuse made a host of friends by her cheerful disposition and her pleasing manner. These friends will all wish her a life of happiness and congratulate the groom who is a well known Avoca young man who is his choice of a wife.—Syracuse Journal.

HURRIED TO HOSPITAL

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon R. L. Propst of this city was taken very suddenly ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Wilcox, in this city, being hurriedly taken to the Omaha where he was placed in the hospital and last night at 11:30 Mr. Propst was operated on for a very severe case of appendicitis and the operation was performed in the nick of time as the patient was in very critical condition. Following the operation Mr. Propst was reported today as doing just as well as possible under the condition.

Mr. Propst came here a few days ago from Long Pine, Nebraska, feeling very poorly and his condition has not improved and has become such that the members of the family in this section were called to the bedside.
