From Saving Comes Having

An account in our bank is easily converted into a horn of plenty, as even small amounts deposited regularly soon count up and will in time work wonders.

Every dollar you deposit makes it easier to get another, as money begets money, and opportunity waits on him who has money. The richest man in the world began by saving his pennies. Deposit more and have more, and make your bank a stepping stone to greater prosperity.

C. S. Johnson of Plattsmouth was a visitor in Union one day last week and was looking after some property which he has here.

Little Dorothy Tigner was a visitor with her friend, Miss Elizabeth Robb, where the little folks will enjoy the visit greatly.

Charles Greene and wife have been visiting for a number of days at Inland, where the parents of Mr. Greene make their home.

Stanley Mueller of Fullerton and son, William, of Los Angeles, were visiting with their many friends in Union during the past week.

Someone found a bee tree on the land of A. L. Becker and proceeded to cut it down and reported that they had secured a barrel of honey.

Carl Ankerson, Jr., of Weeping Water, was visiting in Union and also looking after some business matters on Wednesday last week.

Westley Copenhaver and Clyde Porter were visiting in Plattsmouth late last week where they were looking after some business matters.

"Billie" W. E. Patterson of Lincoln and representing the state Journal, was looking after some business matters in Union on Tuesday of this week.

Last Saturday A. L. Becker had seventy head of shoats vaccinated and on Monday Roy Becker had ninety-eight given the same treatment.

Mrs. C. E. Harris, who is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Ella Daniels, at Woodstock, writes she is having a fine time in her visit with the sister.

Thomas Moore of Walthill has been visiting in Union with friends for several days and was in town several times meeting his old acquaintances.

Philip Rihn, who has been feeling pretty tough since the operation, is showing some improvement, and he is hoping he will be entirely well in a short time.

Lucaan Banning, Stacey Niday and Hallas Banning, who were touring the west last week returned home late in the week after having enjoyed the trip greatly.

Believing in the good effects of alfalfa on the soil, as well as its being fine for the stock, C. F. Harris started seeding ten acres of this hay during the past week.

Mr. Blair Porter was called upon to look after some business matters in Weeping Water as constable, and was serving some legal papers while there on Wednesday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Porter were visiting on last Friday in Omaha, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, who has not been in good health for some time.

The Union band was expected to play at the Henry Field bulb farm, but on account of some misunderstanding they did not all have the right date and therefore no concert was held there last Sunday.

Henry Becker has been making some repairs on the school house at District Ten, which is known as the Irwin school and which is north and west of Union. Mr. Becker has been putting a foundation under the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Wyler and William Berkeley and son, Henry, all employed in the Hayden store at the time Mr. Porter was employed there, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter for the day last Sunday.
