A. H. WARD Murdock, Nebr.

Frank Krejci of Plattsmouth was looking after some business matters for a short time in Murdock on Wednesday morning of last week.

Otto Eiehoff and family and H. W. Tool were over to Omaha on last Tuesday where they looked after some business as well as seeing Lindy.

Miss Virginia Schewe will enter the state university this year, she having graduated from the Murdock high school last year with high honors.

A. Long is the possessor of a new Whippet, which was purchased from the Jardine Motor company of Greenwood, and which Mr. Long is liking very well.

A. E. Ward and family were visiting and mingling business with a trip which they made to Lincoln on Thursday of last week, driving over in their auto.

Miss Inez Buck, who has been visiting for some time in Oklahoma with relatives and friends returned home last week to be ready for the beginning of the school-year.

Uncle Henry Reichmann, who has been feeling very poorly for some time past, was reported as feeling slightly improved last week, but as yet not able to be down town.

William DeWolf of Plattsmouth, with some men to assist, was out from Plattsmouth looking after some work on the Lincoln telephone lines radiating out of the city of Murdock.

Miss Marie Twiss and her mother of Louisville, were visiting in Murdock and were inspecting the new switch board of the telephone company, they driving over in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Tool were visiting in Lincoln and looking after some business matters as well, and were accompanied by Junior Tool, and while the folks were away Marion Schewe was looking after the lumber yard.

William Gakemeier and family of Chicago were visiting in Murdock and other places in Cass and adjoining counties with friends and relatives during the past week, and were guests at the home of Rex Peters on last Thursday.

The many friends of Mrs. W. T. Weddell, who has been so poorly at her home for several weeks are rejoiced to learn of her improvement, while not as much as all so sincerely wish, still she is much better than she has been heretofore.

E. W. Thimsan, who has been having some trouble with a refractory tooth was over to the dentist last Wednesday and the offending molar was extracted. It was a wisdom tooth, and was soon to go after he made its appearance.

Harry V. McDonald and wife, accompanied by Mrs. H. A. Tool and daughter, Mary, were over to Shenandoah on last Tuesday, Bryan McDonald driving them over, where they enjoyed the day looking over the city and the interests which it has.

Alvin Bornemeier, who has been visiting at Eustie for some time, returned home on last Saturday evening after having enjoyed a very fine visit. Miss Helen Bornemeier, who was with him in the west, is to return on September sixth when her vacation ends.

Mrs. Lloyd McNatt of Lincoln, was a visitor in Murdock for the day on last Tuesday, she driving over from her home in Lincoln for the purpose of visiting for the day with her friend, Miss Elsa Bornemeier and after having spent a very pleasant day returned home in the evening.

Here You Are.

Five gallons of gasoline and one quart of oil for one dollar this week.—George Utt, Murdock.

Has Excellent Dairy Herd.

We had the pleasure of visiting the home of J. J. Gustin and wife one day during the past week, at the time of the housing of his fine herd.

Furniture - Undertaking

35 years experience. Most careful service given. Your patronage solicited. Phone No. 65, Elmwood, Nebr.

of Holstine cows, and while we have not visited all the state herds, we can testify that if there are better herds for their size than the one owned by Mr. Gustin and wife, they will indeed be excellent ones. He has some twenty-eight cows, though he is only milking eight at present, but the number will soon be increased.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cox
On last Wednesday evening, notwithstanding a little bluster in the weather, there was a large number of people of the vicinity of Murdock gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buell, where they met to honor Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cox, who were former residents of Murdock and vicinity, and who have been making their home in the west for some time and have been visiting here during the past month.

New Minister Here.

The new minister, the Rev. Hugo Naenenberg, who is to be the minister for the Callahan, church has arrived and will now be on the ground for the work of the church, he having been kept away this far by reason of illness and work which he had on hand. He comes now from Yale, and is most highly recommended as an able minister.

Bible School Convention at Callahan

The Cass county Bible school convention which is this year to be held at the church at Callahan, will convene on September 13th and continue for the following day. An excellent program has been provided for the session and a very pleasant place is furnished for the meeting, and there should be a very successful gathering.

Feeling Much Better

Mrs. Henry Klemme, who was at the hospital for some time and where she underwent an operation for the restoration of her health, was able to return home last week and is feeling much improved. It is hoped she will continue to improve, and soon be in her usual health again.

Will Make Home in Lincoln.

Last week John Angwert and family departed for Lincoln where they will make their home in the future. Miss Marvel, their daughter, is a student of the state university, and it is desirable that they live there for the son will be entering the university as well. Mr. Angwert, who is a very capable barber and painter and decorator as well, finds as profitable employment in the big city as in Murdock, and therefore they are making their home there.

Shoe Repairing

First class shoe repairing at reasonable prices, shop next door west of old bank building. Give me a call.—L. M. Pillsbury.

Have Family Reunion.

On Sunday was gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Tool all the family, where an excellent time was enjoyed by all. Kenneth Tool, who is at Ulysses, and Richard, who is employed at Kingsley, Iowa, and Miss Mary were all at home. Miss Mary is to depart for Columbia, Mo., where she enters her senior year of school. A most pleasant time was had by all.

Hold Family Reunion.

At the home of Henry Gakemeier on last Sunday was held a family reunion of that family, and at which time there were many happy meetings as the folks from Shenandoah were present as well as those from here. William Gakemeier and family were here, and there also was present for the occasion Henry Gakemeier and wife and their daughter, Magdalene, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Peters of Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swartz of Elmwood, Gust. Herman and John Gakemeier and their families, as well as William and family of Chicago.

Surprise Their Friend

Miss Ruth Miller was just eighteen years of age a few days since and for the occasion she was invited to the home of her sister, Mrs. Ferdin and Reichmann, and while there her friends, in great number, came and tendered her a very pleasant evening in the shape of a surprise on her birthday. The young people, like young people always do, had an excellent time and played games and with the conclusion of the party extended to Miss Ruth the wish for many more happy birthdays.

Many at State School

Murdock is furnishing her quota of students to the state university, and those who will make excellent students at that place are Miss Marvel Amwert of which mention is made elsewhere, Carl Baumgartner, Bryan McDonald, Misses Irene McDonald, Hildegard Baumgartner and Miss Catherine Neitzel.

Home from the East.

On last Tuesday evening E. M. Shatto arrived home from his visit of some three weeks at the old home town, Mattoon, Ind., near the "Ole swimmin' hole, and near where the Shattos held their reunion. There were 137 of the family present, the one coming from the farthest being Elmer Shatto, who drove from Los Angeles and said he was well repaid for the long trip.

Wheat and Corn Prices Are Lower

Cottonseed and Linseed Meal Were Steady During the Week Just Closed.

A turn down in the grain market and increased offerings of wheat feeds caused an easier market for feedstuffs during the week ending Aug. 31, states the Weekly Feed Market Review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Corn prices have declined around five cents per bushel, largely because of more favorable weather in the corn belt and oats were also easier in sympathy with corn. Buyers of feeds became more cautious and although there was no large surplus of feed for immediate shipment, prices of wheat feeds and corn feed made substantial declines at most markets. Pastures and ranges continued mainly in good to excellent condition, although they need rain over much of the Mississippi valley and in the Pacific northwest. Demand for feed on the Pacific coast was irregular with dealers buying cautiously at Los Angeles, although feeds were in brisk demand at San Francisco.

Wheat feeds: Wheat feeds made general declines. Production, on floor output at centers, showed further increase and was largest for the season with an especial gain noted in the northwest. Both bran and the heavier feeds met a dull market. Offerings increased at Buffalo but most of the selling pressure there seemed to be from the outside as local mills were still about two weeks behind on shipping instructions. Demand slackened at central western markets and trading fell off in the northwest where the jobbers were chiefly concerned with filling past due contracts. Demand was quiet in the southwest, where the decline in wheat prices had stimulated flour buying and mills were anxious for business although they were reluctant to accept less than $26.50 for bran. Shorts were harder to sell than bran at Kansas City with buyers taking for immediate needs only.

Cotton seed meal: Cotton seed meal ruled unchanged to higher, with the market sensitive to reports of poor conditions. Consuming demand seemed only moderately active at the principal distributing points, and trade reports indicated that export demand was slackening at current levels.

Linseed meal: Linseed meal held practically steady. Demand, both export and domestic was of fair volume at Buffalo, where offerings were fairly liberal, although mills were not pressing sales. Buying at Chicago continued on hand to month basis but offerings were firmly held. Demand slackened at Minneapolis with the principal interest in meal for shipment October-November.

Gluten feed: Gluten feed turned easier with the weakness on corn. Quotations at Philadelphia were nominal but prices were practically lower at Buffalo where the market was more anxious to make sales. Manufacturers were offering only for future shipment and the market was dominated by the resellers of offerings. At Chicago gluten feed and meal were moving readily and the local manufacturer was rationing out the current output.

Hominy feed: Hominy feed was irregularly lower. Almost none was offered at Philadelphia but offerings were more plentiful at Buffalo where yellow feed was being sold at $1 per ton discount under white feed. Buy fell off at Chicago where prices were notably unchanged and quotations held practically steady at Omaha, in spite of lower corn prices.

Alfalfa Meal: Alfalfa meal met a more active demand and prices made a fraction of an advance at Kansas City. Mills were not pressing sales at Chicago and the market at Omaha ruled firm, because of smaller supplies. Kansas City dealers reported a good inquiry for green meal.

GIANTS COME FAST IN RACE FOR THE PENNANT

New York, Aug. 30.—With the Pirates sliding to the right, the Cardinals hooking to the left and the Cubs floundering in a sand trap, the Giants are thundering down the National league fairway today in a drive that threatens to land them in first place. The slipping Bruins were flattened twice by the Giant juggernaut yesterday, leaving them only two and one-half games in front of the Cardinals and Pirates, who are tied for second place.

With New York only one game behind St. Louis and Pittsburgh, the race is becoming closer than last season's nightmare. Each of the three leaders has lost 49 games, which may give the Cardinals and Pirate a chance to make up lost ground later on.

Thirty thousand rabid fans saw the Giants scorch the Cubs twice, 8 to 7 and 4 to 1. Heinie Mueller, the pint-sized outfielder, prospective bridegroom and honorary president of the Dover street pinocle club, St. Louis, was the hero of both games. Der Heimer hit a home run and a single in a seven-run rally in the third inning of the first game and drove in the winning runs in the nightcap.

Newspaper Story Cause of Reunion

Judge Day of Supreme Court on Visit to Portland, Ore., Finds Friend He Knew in Iowa School

From the Portland Oregonian of Aug. 22: One year of college friendship in a little Congregational school in Iowa forty-nine years ago has stretched itself out into a life-long affair for George A. Day, justice of the Nebraska supreme court, and for Ira E. Williams, whose home is in Portland. These men, who last met about twenty-five years ago in Omaha, found each other in Portland yesterday thru the medium of an article in The Oregonian. They spent the day visiting.

It may have been the comradeship of the Greek-letter debating society to which Judge Day and Mr. Williams belonged when they were freshmen which welded their friendship. But a reported from the Oregonian who interrupted the reunion for a short interval observed that more than passing importance was attached to the Hallow'en episode which resulted in the suspension of both the boys. It seemed as tho that might have been the tie which has remained impervious to passing years.

"I'll suppress the details if you will, George," Mr. Williams hastened to say, in spite of the twinkle in his eye. "All right," agreed the judge. "But we were both reinstated in good standing."

Wives Are Old Friends.

Mrs. Day and Mrs. Williams, although they were not college mates, have participated in the occasional reunions their husbands have enjoyed. They chatted yesterday on the front porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Tyler, 114 1/2 East Flanders street, where the meeting was arranged. Mr. Tyler and Mrs. Day are cousins, and the visitors have spent much of their time at the Tyler residence during their time here.

The boys, who became school chums, had not met until they entered Tabor college, Tabor, Ia., although their homes were only twenty-four miles apart. Judge Day lived in Sidney and Mr. Williams at Glenwood.

"The last time we met, I guess, was when Williams arranged for a Fourth of July celebration at Beemer, Neb.," Judge Day related. "He called the office to teach the school at what I venture to call on me, and I went and took with me Senator Joseph Millard, our United States senator. We gave them a good performance."

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will entertain Judge and Mrs. Day today with a trip around Mount Hood loop. This was arranged yesterday.

"I am pleased with the business enterprises and particularly the shipping I am finding out here in Oregon and Washington," said Judge Day in this section. "We think we send out a good deal of corn and wheat here as come from here. I guess one of these big shipments would just about take all we could raise."

Member of Supreme Court.

Judge Day was judge of the district court in Omaha for twenty-eight years and for eight years has been a member of the supreme court of Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams came to Oregon in 1912. They lived for a time in Hood River and in Monroe and later went to Edmonds, Wash. In all of these places, as well as in the east, Mr. Williams has been in the banking business. He is now engaged in raising chickens on his plot of land in Portland.

Mr. Williams read in The Oregonian an account of the fact that his old college friend was in the city because the two had had no communication since Mr. Williams moved from Edmonds, Wash., the Portland man felt that Judge Day would not look for him here. An account of this situation appeared in The Oregonian, was day editor of the Oregonian, was called early yesterday by Judge Day, who at once communicated with his friend and arranged a meeting.

WILL FATTEN BIG BUNCH OF CATTLE IN HALL CO.

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 31.—If present plans of Claude J. Doran, extensive cattle feeder of this city, materialize, a herd of cattle numbering 7,500 will be fattened near Grand Island during the coming winter months. This is believed to be the largest herd of the kind in the state, and was purchased by Mr. Doran during a 6,000 mile auto trip which took him through South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Calgary, Canada. The largest single herd was purchased at Calgary, where 3,000 head of feeding stock were secured. They will be shipped by rail to Grand Island, where they will be started on roughage, as most of the lot is just off the range.

FOUR HURT WHEN AUTO IS DITCHED

Fairmont, Minn., Aug. 31.—Four Omahans were injured near here Tuesday when W. E. Burkhardt fainted while driving his car and his auto plunged over the highway. His mother, Mrs. Frank Burkhardt, was badly bruised. Misses Marian and Helen Burkhardt were also bruised and cut as was Mr. Burkhardt. He said that he bumped his head in the morning and believed that caused him to faint.

county and with the husband and children went to Archer to reside a number of years ago. She had been in fair health, up to the time she was stricken. There were from here to attend the funeral, Henry Stander and wife, accompanied by their two sons, Charles and Harold of South Bend, Carl Stander and wife, and son Carl, Jr., of Greenwood, James and Peter Stander of Louisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roebor also from near South Bend.

PRESENT FINE PROGRAM
From Saturday's Daily—
The committee of the Home Chapter of the Eastern Star which had the program for the entertainment of the members of the family at the Nebraska Masonic Home, presented a very fine program at the home on Thursday evening and which was enjoyed to the utmost by the residents of the Home and reflected the greatest credit upon the young people who took part.

The program consisted of songs, recitations and instrumental numbers, as well as several instrumental duets and piano solos and was one of the highest standard of entertaining value.

The young people who offered the program of the evening were Catherine and Wallace Terryberry, Ely and Marion Olson, Vesteta, James and Rachael Robertson, Harriet Goos, James and Cecil Comstock, Florence Schultz, Ann Margaret McCarthy, Bernese and Marjorie Ann and Alice Barbara Wiles.

Under a new law taxing banks on their income instead of on stock, these will pay from a third to three-fifths less taxes. The loss to the state treasury will thus be around a million dollars. There was no help for it.
