STATE TEACHERS MEET

From Saturday's Daily--
Superintendent R. E. Bailey is to serve as a member of the resolutions committee in connection with the District No. 2 meeting of the Nebraska State Teachers' association which is to be held in Omaha November 2, 3, 4 and 5.
Superintendent Percy Adams, of Wahoo is chairman of the committee. Other members are Mrs. Lulu Mathews of the Omaha Public Schools, Superintendent R. T. Fosnot of Schuyler, and County Superintendent Bertha Bishop of Papillion.

Plattsmouth people who have recognized that Superintendent Bailey is making a splendid contribution in the educational field in Nebraska, will be interested to know that he has such a prominent part in the affairs of the State Teachers' association.

Nebraska Students Plan Dad's Game for 29th

Invite More than 5,000 Fathers to Take Part in Traditional Events.

Lincoln, Neb., October 19.—More than 5,000 dads of the students of the University of Nebraska are being invited to take part in the annual Dad's Day celebration to be held Saturday, October 29. The great inter-sectional football game with Syracuse will be the feature entertainment of the day.

A special section in the stadium has been reserved for students and their dads.
Governor McMullen; Verne Hedge mayor of Lincoln; W. C. Ramsey president of the Nebraska Alumni Association; Doctor Condra, the Dad of Nebraska traditions; and Coach Schulte will be the speakers at the noon luncheon. Merle Jones, president of the Innocents, senior honorary society, will act as toastmaster.
Informal inspection trips of the campus have also been arranged during the morning. All buildings and classrooms will be open to the Dads in cooperation with the effort made to acquaint the fathers with the work that their daughters and sons are undertaking.

A noon luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce and sorority and fraternity banquets in the evening are other high spots in the program planned for a day of comradeship between dad and daughter or son.
The struggle between Syracuse and Nebraska promises to be the outstanding home game of the season. In its impressive victory over Georgetown last Saturday Coach Meehan's team proved itself to be one of the most powerful teams in the east. The Huskers will be inactive this week end and the day of the contest should find them in the best of condition.

"Dads will find it well worthwhile to put aside their business problems and spend this day with their children at the University," stated one dad who has attended the annual celebration for three years, "although a very pleasant one, I believe it my duty to acquaint myself in some measure with the current happenings and problems of the school which my children are attending. Dads' day has always offered me an unparalleled opportunity for this."
Individual invitations and a copy of the Dads' Day number of the Daily Nebraskan, the student paper were mailed this morning to the fathers of every student in the University. The program is being sponsored by the Innocents.

Platters Win a Sweeping Victory from the Wahoo

Blue and White Roll Up Score of 37 to 0 Again the Visitors From Saunders County.

From Saturday's Daily--
Yesterday afternoon the blue and white of the Plattsmouth high school staged a great triumph over the visiting team of the Wahoo high school when the visitors were held scoreless while the fast and fleet footed Platters were able to run up the score of 37 for their part of the game.
The game was enhanced by the fact of the fast playing by the team that seemed to have a new lease on life after the defeat on the Ashland grounds on last Friday, the team that was swung into the field against the Wahoo team embraced a large number of new men that more than acquitted themselves with glory and added a new chapter to football history in the P. H. S.
For the first time in the season Robert Wurl was in the game and made a great record in his initial bow as a member of the Platters backfield and his fleetfootedness made possible much of the success and dividing honors with the veterans, Ed Wescott and Ralph Gansemer, who played one of the best games of their career in their battle against the visitors, while Bob Hadraba in the back field was also a great ground gainer as was Jack Hatt who officiated at left end for the locals. The whole team deserved real congratulations on their playing and the younger members of the squad including Warren Farmer and others of the boys playing their first games made a great showing.
The most spectacular play of the game was that of Homer Spangler, who in the last moments of the game intercepted a pass from Wahoo and raced ninety yards for a touchdown the last of the game for the Platters.
In the opening of the first quarter after the first few moments of the play Ed Wescott skirted the end of the visitors for a touchdown but the try for goal was blocked.
On the kickoff following the first scoring Gansemer returned the ball twenty-five yards into the enemy territory and was followed by a fast run by Wescott for ten yards and then Gansemer and Gansemer worked a good pass for a gain of five yards while Hadraba plunged for a small gain but the attempt of a pass from Wescott to Hatt failed. Wescott then skirted the end for five yards and a pass for twenty yards to Wurl was good and followed by another pass to Hatt that Jack raced over for a touchdown. The try for point failed.
The close of the second quarter again saw the Platters register when on a fake Robert Wurl raced forty yards for another touchdown and Wurl made the kick good for the additional point.
On the kickoff from Wahoo they recovered the ball from Schneider who fumbled on the Platters thirty yard line but they were unable to get anywhere owing to the fast defensive work of the locals. On Plattsmouth regaining the ball Wescott tore around the end for thirty yards on an attempt of Wurl to again skirt the left end he was downed for a five yard loss. Plattsmouth punted to Wahoo's thirty yard line and the runner was downed in his tracks. Wahoo then punted and Wescott returned twenty yards and then Wescott punted to Wahoo's ten yard line where Schneider downed the runner returning, where he had received the ball. Wahoo punted out as the half was called.
On the kickoff in the second half the Wahoo team was unable to do any damage and after the recovery of the ball by Plattsmouth Wurl broke through for twelve yards. Wescott sprinted in a dashing twenty yard gain but had the ball knocked from his hands but recovered by Ralph Mason and the gain was good. Hadraba drove through the heart of the Wahoo defense for ten yards and the story of another touchdown was written when Gansemer raced around the end of the Wahoo team for the touchdown. The try for point failed.
The Wahoo team showed more skill in the close of the game but failed to make any real advantage of their chances as they were held on their downs. The scoring of the first touchdown for Plattsmouth was largely the story of too much Gansemer as this fleet footed back was used in every play, returning the Wahoo punt and gaining fifteen yards, then skirting the end for five more and then a beautiful pass from Wescott to Gansemer gave another score as Ralph came through the Wahoo end for the goal.
The Wahoo team made a last desperate bid to save themselves from a shutout when they recovered a Plattsmouth fumble on the Plattsmouth yard line, a series of clever line smashes that brought the ball to the Plattsmouth two yard line, only to meet the stonewall defense of Plattsmouth that they could not break and the ball was lost. The Plattsmouth team punted out and the runner was held but a pass advanced the ball again dangerously to the Plattsmouth goal, another pass tried spelled destruction to the visitors as Homer Spangler was in the way of the ball, intercepted the pass and raced the length of the field for the touchdown, but the try for point failed.
As the ball was being put in play in the center of the field the pistol sounded and the victory was ours.

ENTERTAINS MRS. BARRY

From Saturday's Daily--
Last evening Mrs. James T. Begley was hostess at a very pleasant 6 o'clock dinner party at her home in honor of Mrs. Maggie Barry of College Station, Texas, who was here to address the meeting here in the interest of the Better Homes campaign.
The appointments of the luncheon were in a color scheme of yellow, the center piece being of yellow chrysanthemums and which gave added charm to the luncheon.
The guests of the evening were the officers of the club and the departmental heads and the opportunity of meeting the guest of honor in this pleasant informal social manner much enjoyed.
Mrs. Begley was assisted in the dinner by Mrs. John F. Gorder and Mrs. John F. Wolf.

Mrs. Maggie Barry Addresses Woman's Club

Message of the Development of the American Home Through the Club Influence.

From Saturday's Daily--
The public meeting held by the American home department of the Women's club last evening at the auditorium of the public library, was one of the greatest interest to the large number of local people that availed themselves of the opportunity of attending the meeting and enjoying the fine treat that was given them in the address of Mrs. Maggie Barry of College Station, Texas, chairman of the national federation American Home department.
The ladies enjoyed the excellent program that had been arranged for the occasion and which preceded the address of the distinguished visitor Mrs. A. D. Caldwell favored the ladies with a delightful piano number while Mrs. William Baird gave one of her dramatic readings that was much enjoyed and Mrs. E. H. Wescott was heard in two very fine vocal numbers, "Sonny of Mine," by Marion Moore of York, and "Good Bye Summer" by Lyons, which furnished a fitting opening for the address of the evening.
Mrs. Barry spoke of the development of the homemaking as a vocation rather than a drudgery as it had often been regarded in the older days and the speaker stressed the importance of the home as all things originated in the home and where they ended and the proper kind of a home was the desire of the women of the nation, who through their federated club work were striving to attain this end. The care of the home and the study to make it the most appealing and filled with the best that life could offer was touched upon, the necessity for art in the home the proper literature and surroundings that made the ideal home. Mrs. Barry was a very forcible speaker and her address was followed by a great deal of interest by the members of the party.
While here Mrs. Barry was a house guest at the home of Judge and Mrs. James T. Begley.

Death of Wm. H. Wynn Occurs at Omaha Hospital

Long Time Resident of This City Dies After a Very Severe Operation and Long Illness.

From Saturday's Daily--
The death of William H. Wynn, old time resident of this city occurred last evening at the hospital in Omaha where Mr. Wynn was taken on Monday as the result of a critical condition that had developed after an illness of some months duration and during which time Mr. Wynn had been gradually failing until death ended his sufferings.
The deceased has lived in this city since a child, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wynn, Sr., having come here at an early day from their home in England and for many years they were numbered among the loved residents of the community until they were called to their reward. It was in this community that William H. Wynn was reared to manhood and in his long years here he made many friends who share with the family the feeling of sorrow that his passing has occasioned. The wife and one son, Vern Wynn, preceded the husband in death some years ago and there are surviving three children Fred H. Wynn, Mrs. Elizabeth Craig and Mary Wynn, all of this city. Mr. Wynn was survived by three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Mary Stafford of Kalamazoo, Michigan, Mrs. E. M. Godwin, Mrs. W. H. Freese, James and John Wynn, all of this city.
The old home of the Wynn family was at Gravesend, England, where the deceased was born sixty-nine years ago. He came to America when four years of age and has since made his home in this country, forty-five years being spent in Plattsmouth.
The body of Mr. Wynn was brought here last night and taken to the home of the sister, Mrs. W. H. Freese where it will remain until the funeral services.

Plattsmouth Masons Have a Fine Meeting

Inspection of Plattsmouth Lodge No. 6 and Many Visitors Here From Other Lodges.

From Saturday's Daily--
Last evening was one of the most notable occasions of the lodge year in Plattsmouth Lodge No. 6, A. F. & M. when the annual inspection of the lodge was made by the representative of the grand lodge of the state and which was attended by a very large number of the membership.
The inspecting officer was Stanley Bostwick, deputy grand custodian of Omaha, who witnessed the initiation of the candidate, August Kaffenberger, who was received into the order and the ritualistic work was given in a very impressive manner by the officers of the Plattsmouth lodge.
There was present at the meeting the masters of five lodges of this part of the state to witness the work and representatives of Elmwood Weeping Water, Nebraska, Nebraska City and several from the neighboring state of Iowa in attendance at the meeting.
At the conclusion of the initiation and inspection the members of the lodge were entertained at a very fine buffet luncheon that had been arranged by the committee in charge.

Robert Jameson, an Old Resident, Goes to Reward

Aged Man Had Been Resident of Weeping Water for Past Forty Years—Interment There.

Robert Bruce Jameson was born in Johnson, Trumbull county, Ohio, on the 24th day of December, 1851, and passed from this life to the life beyond on the 12th day of October, 1927, at the age of 75 years, nine months and twenty days.
He came to Nebraska when 19 years old and settled in Cass county in 1870. He had been a resident of Weeping Water about forty years.
He was united in marriage to Sarah E. Rogers at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, the 15th day of December, 1881. To this union was born six children, four girls and two boys two having died in infancy, preceding their father in death. The surviving children are William W. Jameson, Villa M. Jameson, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Velma Ruth McKay, all of Weeping Water; and Mrs. Zelma Riege McElroy, of LaBelle, Fla. Five brothers, Samuel A. Jameson and Tom E. Jameson, both of Lincoln, Neb.; J. E. Jameson, of Ord, Neb.; James C. Jameson, of Kansas City, Mo.; and A. E. Jameson of Weeping Water. One sister Mrs. Jane Daugherty, of Sterling, Kansas. Three grandchildren, Martha and Robert Jameson and James McKay, all of Weeping Water.
In addition to the above, there remains to mourn his loss his affectionate and devoted wife, Sarah, who will with the children, cherish his memory, and who hope some day to meet the departed on the shores of eternity.
Mr. Jameson was converted 23 years ago and united with the United Brethren church, and his family and the good wife are assured he died trusting in the saving grace of the Savior of men. The best testimony comes from those who knew him best for the past forty years, who declare he was a good and loyal citizen, a good neighbor, a sympathetic friend, and a loving and considerate father.
"Goodnight, Father, Brother Friend. We'll see you in the morning!"
Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. George A. Morey at the Methodist church Saturday, Oct. 15th, at 2:30 o'clock. A quartette composed of Mrs. Mabel Ruliza, Mrs. Ethel Ratnour, S. J. Ambler and Asa Rector sang several beautiful hymns. The pall bearers were E. L. Dowler, Henry Canada, John Mendenhall, John McKay, Ben Rich, and J. W.

ADDRESSES MASTER PAINTERS

From Thursday's Daily--
Last evening Frank R. Gobelman of this city, president of the state association of Master Painters and Decorators, was at Omaha where he was guest of honor at the meeting of the Omaha local of the Master Painters and Decorators at their banquet at the Ad-Sell restaurant.
Mr. Gobelman was the principal speaker of the evening and gave a very interesting talk on the problems of the trade and which covered many of the vital points that the painter and decorator finds in his trade work. Mr. Gobelman has long been a prominent figure in the painting and decorating trade in the state and this year was a delegate to the national convention at Milwaukee, Wisconsin and had the honor of addressing the national meeting on some very important matters of the painting trade.
