MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

G. C. Rhoden and the family were spending last Sunday at the home of friends in Elmwood. Edward Kelly was a visitor with friends in Omaha on Wednesday of last week, he driving over to the big city in his car. Henry Rueter has two teams in the field picking corn the past week, and many are getting ready for the onslaught this week. Harry Thimman and wife moved to the A. Steinkamp place one day last week, where they will make their home for the winter. Will Heebner and Wm. Scheehan, Jr., are with the Missouri Pacific railroad at Wabash, where they are doing some ditching for the road. A. V. Stander, W. A. Bouton and Wm. Scheehan shelled and delivered corn to the Manley elevator during the past week, getting ready for the new crop, which is just now to be harvested. Wm. Rauth was moving a crib from one portion of his farm to another on last Wednesday, and was assisted by his son Joe, W. H. McBride and J. C. and J. H. Rauth, they doing the work with a tractor. Fred Hanson and wife formerly residing near Manley, and who are now farming near Oakland, accompanied by their son Willard, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laurensen last week. John Ayres and wife, of Walton, who formerly resided here, were guests during a portion of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mockenhaupt, where they enjoyed the visit very much. Walter Mockenhaupt was over to Omaha last Sunday, where he attended the christening of their little daughter, Annie, Marie, and returned home on Monday to look after the work on the farm. A. F. Boedeker, who has returned from the northern portion of the state, reports that there is good corn all the way up to Dakota, and that while the corn is fine the feeders are rather high in price. Albert Glaubitz and family, who reside near Rock Bluffs, were visiting last Sunday at the home of Rose Kelly, and with the mother, Mrs. August Glaubitz, and later also visited at the home of Guy Lake. On last Friday the many friends of Mrs. Fred Laurensen gathered and going to her home gave her a very agreeable surprise, it being her birthday. In departing they extended the wish for many more such happy occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murphy and daughter Mary, Miss Alberta Brown and Miss May Hassler drove down from Omaha and spent Sunday with Miss Mary A. Murphy. Miss Freda Falischman who is teaching the Cottonwood school a little west of Mynard was a visitor at home on last Sunday, and after having enjoyed the visit, returned to take charge of the school Monday morning. Frank Earhart, who has just returned from a trip to Colorado, says that there are some good pieces of land there, but many that are not. He states that it is very difficult to beat the country we have right here in eastern Nebraska. Rollin Coen returned home from the hospital at Omaha, where he has been for the past three weeks, and where he underwent an operation for the removal of ulcers of the stomach. Rollin is getting along very fair at this time. Andrew Beeman and son, Albert Beeman and wife and Miss Bessie Beeman, all of Lincoln, were visiting in the vicinity of Manley last Sunday, they driving down in their car and stopping for a few minutes with their former friends and acquaintances. Last week the ladies of Manley and vicinity gathered and in the way of a surprise gave a reception to Mrs. Alice Jenkins and Mrs. Elmer Pearson, a most pleasant afternoon being spent before their departure for the south, where they are soon to go to spend the winter.

Funeral of Mrs. Mathilda Peterson at Louisville

Services Thursday Are Largely Attended by the Old Time Friends and Neighbors.

A large number of friends gathered at Louisville Thursday afternoon and paid a last tribute to Mrs. Mathilda Peterson, 88, one of Omaha's earliest pioneers, who died Tuesday morning. The funeral was held at the home of Mrs. L. J. Mayfield, the daughter with whom Mrs. Peterson spent the last few weeks of her life. Only a small part of the crowd could get inside the home and the others, with bared heads, stood on the porch and in the yard during the short and simple service.

The service was conducted by Rev. L. J. Thomas, pastor of the Free Methodist church of Louisville. He spoke of her as one of the typical pioneer women to whom the country owes so much.

Aided Fellow Countrymen. "The greater part of her life was lived for others," he said. "Some of her greatest work was helping the Scandinavian people, who, strangers in a strange land, needed help. P. A. Jacobson, former pastor of the Louisville Swedish church, also made a short talk and spoke of Mrs. Peterson as he had known her as a friend and neighbor more than 40 years.

Burial was in Riverview cemetery. Pallbearers were: Martin Sjogren, William Diers, John Sherman, Jake Reichart, Frank Johnson and Oscar Kimblom.

Sweden was represented at the funeral by Torsten Vinell, Swedish consul, who will report to the king of Sweden, who once sent a personal message to Mrs. Peterson.

Mrs. Peterson was born in Timmele, Sweden, and came to America in 1862. She and her husband operated the Swedish hotel at Ninth and Jones streets for a number of years. Since 1876 she has lived and carried on a business in Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Robertson of this city were among those attending.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR BRIDE TO BE

Mrs. Rasmus Laritzen, Jr., entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home Friday evening, in honor of Miss Marie Laritzen, who is soon to be married to Carl Craig, of Plattsmouth.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was a mock wedding, which was the source of much merriment for the bride to be, as well as the other guests. The bridal party departed for the stairs at the close of "My Wild Irish Rose," played by Mrs. E. H. Kintner. The trembling bride, Mrs. S. Ray Smith, and the imposing bride, Gladys McNurkin, were attended by Adeline Lorenson as bridesmaid, and Myrtle Nelson, Gladys Winters, the train bearer, followed the bridal couple, and endeavored to keep the elaborate veil of the bride from trailing on the floor. Lloyd Lauritzen carried the rings on a beautiful cabbage head and Jeannette Snell, the little flower girl, carried a gorgeous bouquet of marigolds and sunflowers. Mrs. R. Lauritzen, Jr., was responsible in joining these two happy young lives. After the heartiest congratulations, the hostess served delicious refreshments. The bride to be received many beautiful and useful gifts which will always be a happy reminder of the occasion.—Weeping Water Republican.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Heil, of North Hill, who have a family of ten children all married and living in this vicinity, with one exception, find the year hardly long enough to observe all the birthday anniversaries of the different members of the family, but as often as possible they enjoy getting together. Last Sunday they celebrated the 48th anniversary of their son, Henry, and the 38th anniversary of their son-in-law, Louis Melsinger.

The families attended services at the Evangelical Lutheran church in the morning, after which they drove to town to the parental home, where a fine chicken dinner with trimmings was served. The birthday cake was baked by Miss Malinde Jung, of Malcolm, who is here for a visit with her grandparents. Mrs. Henry Heil also brought along a birthday cake which added greatly to the festivities. In the afternoon the party enjoyed a visit to the new cement plant, which they found very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heil have a family of two children, Miss Edna and Glen Heil and Mr. and Mrs. Melsinger have one little daughter, Nola. Louisville Courier.

Weeping Water Christian Church Ladies Visit Here

Doreas Society Drive Over and Are Guests of Mrs. Bert Reed for the Afternoon

From Saturday's Daily— Yesterday afternoon a large number of the members of the Doreas society of the Christian church of Weeping Water, motored over to this city where they were the guests for several hours of Mrs. Bert Reed, a former president of the organization.

The ladies had as the subject of their meeting—the study of "Nebraska," the program affording some very interesting points concerning the state, its history, resources, population, industries and various other facts as the material life of the great commonwealth. A poem on Nebraska was also given and as well the state song. During the afternoon Mrs. Hal Garnett of this city gave two very fine vocal numbers and Miss Madge Garnett two very charming readings.

At an appropriate hour dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Bert Reed who was assisted by Mrs. John Turner. Those who attended the event were: Mesdames Cyrus Livingston, Frank Wood, Lottie Wood, Charles Ward, Frank Spangler, Sterling Amick, Laura Philpot, George Breckenridge, Mable Brickneridge, Edith Akeson, John Ranmer, Herbert Ward, A. J. Bigford, V. E. Smith, Robert Baker, Miss Fern Spangler, all of Weeping Water, Mrs. Nellie Sack and Mrs. Lillian Sack of Mynard, Mrs. John E. Turner and daughter Mrs. Hal Garnett and daughter Madge of this city.

Scouting and Its Growth Given Wide Discussion

Regional Meeting at Lincoln Perfects Plans for the Enlargement of the Move.

From Saturday's Daily— Yesterday E. H. Wescott and Floyd Plack of this city were at Lincoln where they attended the regional meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, the meeting comprising the representatives of the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, and Wyoming and which was one of the most interesting and important meetings that the western representatives of scouting has held.

The meeting was presided over by Ex-Governor S. R. McKelvey, who is the regional chairman and who was assisted by Regional Scout Executive Davie, who had an important part in the program of the day.

There were representatives of the states present and who participated in the meeting with suggestions and in the discussion of the plans that have been perfected for the different sections of the country.

One of the big moves of the Scouts is the creating of a greater interest in the smaller cities and in the rural communities of the country and where the need for scouting is fast being appreciated by those who have the best interests of the youth at heart.

Dr. George F. Fisher of New York City, deputy chief scout executive of the United States and Walter Head of Omaha, former chief scout executive, were the speakers of the meetings and gave interesting appeals for the greater growth of the Scout activities.

The Scout movement is growing to such an extent that a closer and more efficient organization of the work is necessary and which is bringing the matter closer to the smaller communities such as this city and other of the towns in the Nemaha area which has just recently been organized and which is one of the steps to more closely weave the organization of the Scouts in a compact organization.

Heretofore the Plattsmouth Scouts have acted as an independent group under the jurisdiction of the New York general offices but now the time has arrived when it is necessary to take a more active part and to become a vital unit of the area, state and national organizations under the new plan and which has led to the plans for opening the campaign for aid for the Scout movement.

The work of Scouting is practically all of a volunteer nature and the men who have been devoting their time and efforts in every community have been men of the largest business and professional interests who have devoted their time to this very worthy cause and making better citizens of the boys of the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bushnell and family, of Plattsmouth, spent Sunday at the Marve Bushnell home. Monday morning as Marguerite Piffold, of Ashland, was driving to her school about two miles west of South Bend, her car struck a rock causing it to skid and turn over. Fortunately Miss Piffold was only slightly hurt, and she was able to continue her school work. The writer of these notes did not learn how badly the car was damaged.

The passing of our esteemed townsman, W. C. Behrens, came as a severe shock to the entire community. Mr. Behrens came here from White Lake but a few years ago, and has since been engaged in conducting the city meat market. His square dealing, pleasing manner and jovial disposition had won for him the respect and friendship of all with whom he came in contact. "A man's true worth is seldom appreciated until he is gone" will prove doubly true in this sad death. Funeral services were conducted from the family residence and the remains, accompanied by relatives, were taken to Grand Mound, Ia., for burial.

ROUMANIA SCENE OF CLASH

London, Oct. 28.—The Daily Express prints reports from Budapest and Vienna of fighting at Kishinev and several other places in Bessarabia. The report says that the clashes have been serious with scores killed and more than 200 arrested when the government suppressed the revolt. The same source said that several garrisons in Rumania were disarmed and confined to barracks to prevent mutiny. Earlier reports at Belgrade, Jugoslavia, said that Rumanian government troops came into collision at Kishinev with peasants who had been informed that Prince Carol was in Rumania commanding an army.
