Local Church Has Made a Fine Financial Record

St. Luke's Episcopal Church One in State to Have Received Honorable Mention.

From Monday's Daily—
The St. Luke's Episcopal church of this city has received honorable mention in The Crozier, the official church publication of the Episcopal church in the Omaha diocese and which is a very fine showing for the local church.

The local church has made full payment of all of its obligations for the year 1927 as well as all arrearages for the year 1926, being the only church in the state to have all of their obligations paid up for the year and being clear of all indebtedness.

This is especially pleasing in view of the fact that the church has a very small congregation in the first place and suffered the loss of considerable money several years ago in the collapse of a local financial institution and the splendid management of the church affairs and the support of the church by its members have enabled them to place the church in the best of shape financially.

The showing of the church is very pleasing also to Father W. C. Middleton who has served as the rector here for the past year and who is to leave in a short time for Denver to take charge of the St. Luke's church at that place, leaving here with a church that is in the best shape of any in the state as far as finances are concerned.

In the final wiping out of the church's indebtedness there is a very interesting story. The church debt had been reduced to $100 and this fact was learned by a prominent New York City business man, who also found the size of the church congregation and their earnest efforts as an example of real progress in getting their church in shape, and this gentleman gave a check for the needed amount that made the church free of debt and establishing a real record among the Nebraska churches.

Athletics and Fort Omaha 11 Battle to Tie

Locals Have Fight Carried Into Enemy Territory But Fail to Go Over With Ball.

From Monday's Daily—
With a chill wind making a very ideal football day, the Athletic football team of this city yesterday afternoon battled with the Fort Omaha Officers team, representing the military post located in Omaha, with the result that neither team was able to go over for the desired touchdown or point that would score.

The passing game of both teams was ragged as the passes were almost all incomplete, both teams resorting to the aerial attack at many stages of the game but with little success. The Athletics had the offensive of the game the greater part of the time and the fight at all stages of the game was almost wholly in the Omaha territory and several times the locals arrived at striking distance of the visitors goal only to lose the hard earned advantage when it was possible to have scored.

In the fourth quarter of the game it seemed that the Athletics were due to score as they lacked but a few feet of the Omaha goal line when a heavy penalty given them for attempting to shove their ball totter over the line, took them back beyond the point of danger and with only a few moments of play left it was impossible to regain the lost territory, on a pass the ball being recovered by Omaha.

In the flashy struggle for the coveted touchdown in the last part of the game, Stuart Chase and George Sedlacek were the chief figures and carried the ball repeatedly for long gains by end runs by both players and some real line smashes by Chase, the plays bringing the ball from the center of the field to the matter of inches of the Omaha goal when the penalty came to dash their hope of winning after a most brilliant attempt to score.

The locals have tied in two scoreless battles, won from the Tecumseh team and met defeat at the hands of Malvern in deepening game and are fast becoming one of the best known amateur teams in this part of the west.

Joe Krejci, star player of the Peru normal team was the referee of the game, and was a strict and efficient official in handling the various rulings of the game.

Hallowe'en is Very Quiet One Over the City

Pranks That Usually Characterize the Occasion Do Not Prove as Extensive as Past Years.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The observance of Hallowe'en which is usually marked by the mischievous pranks of the youthful, was very quiet in this city with only a few of the bands of the boys in several parts of the city who committed small depredations, but nothing of a serious nature, was reported by the police altho a few of the boys had a strong lecture given by the officers as they were suspected of having a hand in some of the mischief of the evening.

A few of the windows in the business section were soaped up and cars that were left out on the street parked were also decorated with the soap, but otherwise there was nothing to denote that the Hallowe'en had come and gone.

The modern conditions that have eliminated many of the favorite objects of the attention of the youth of the community has cut out a large part of the usual outbreaks of the Hallowe'en season, including the passing of the old time fences and games that formed one of the chief means of entertainment or the boys of the community on this night of nights.

A great many social events marked the evening as the homes over the city and the spirit of the Hallowe'en season found expression largely in this method of celebrating rather than the old time festivities.

The young people had a very fine program of games arranged that furnished a large part of the evening program of fun and frolic. Dancing was also a part of the program of the evening that was enjoyed by all of the members of the party and added a great deal to the interest of the evening.

At a suitable hour dainty refreshments were served by Miss Rummel, who was assisted in the serving and entertaining by Mrs. Elmer J. Rummel.

There were some twenty of the young people in attendance at the jolly party.

Y. M. B. C. Hosts to the Philathea Ladies Class

Very Elaborate Hallowe'en Party Held at Parlors of Methodist Church Last Night.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The young men's bible class of the Methodist church were hosts to the members of the Philathea ladies class of the church and the occasion was one of the most pleasant in a great many months and one that they will all remember with a great deal of pleasure.

The ladies were assembled at the League room on the main floor of the church and here they were waited upon by a committee of the young men, garbed in the Hallowe'en decorations that added a very thrilling feature to the occasion and from the League room the ladies were started on the journey to the church parlors where the main features of the evening were staged.

The ladies had a real thrill as they were led through the darkened halls and rooms of the church and found that many weird experiences lurked along the way from the starting point to the final advent of the party. The strains of the cries of the Hallowe'en cats, the ghostly figures that fitted along the way and the many strange noises that marked the march to the festivities caused a great deal of fun to the members of the two classes and the ladies were equal to the occasion and stood the improvised initiation in fine shape.

When the parlors were finally reached the ladies were hurried along the line of the reception committee and found a chilly greeting awaiting them as they finally reached the end of the line.

Favors of the Hallowe'en whistles were distributed and made a part of the noisy opening of the party and which all joined in to get the event going in proper style.

The games were in charge of Rev. H. E. Sorter, who is a past master at this art and who proceeded to organize an hour and a half of games that kept everyone in the best of humor and made the occasion one that everyone appreciated to the utmost.

As the evening was drawing to the close the refreshments of pumpkin pie, apples and coffee were served by the committee from the men's class. The room was very handsomely arranged with the notes of the Hallowe'en decorations with the corn shocks used in the decorations of the pillars of the church, they being held in place by streamers of the Hallowe'en colors while the steel beams supporting the room of the basement were aglow with the bittersweet, making a very attractive picture.

As the homegoing hour drew near the members of the party were entertained by the violin selections offered by Harvey Johnson, the old time and familiar songs that all of the members joined in enjoying and at the approach of a late hour the members of the party wended their way homeward.

Committee Hopes to Have Former Senator Hitchcock Here for the Opening Address.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The committee of the chamber of commerce that has in charge the holding of the Happy Hundred suppers for the 1927-28 season, will in the next few days start in on the perfecting of the plans for the holding of the first of the pleasant monthly community gatherings and the visitation of the men of the community to determine just how many will be interested in the banquets for the season.

The committee is hoping to have as the speaker of the opening date, former Senator G. M. Hitchcock, one of the outstanding men of the nation and who has just recently returned from a visit through Europe and with his wide acquaintance with European public men and the touch with the foreign governments has had a splendid opportunity for observation of the conditions and the public opinion of the old world.

The response of the men of the community to the committee will determine largely what they desire in the way of holding the suppers once a month in the winter season. The suppers will in all probability follow the lines of the past years and will be rotated between the Presbyterian and Methodist churches that have in the past cared for them.

Rotary Anns are Hostesses to the Rotarians

Picnic and Frolic Held at the American Legion Community Building Last Evening.

From Wednesday's Daily—
On several occasions the Rotary Anns, the wives of the members of the Rotary, have been guests of the gentlemen at pleasant social meetings and last evening the ladies more than repaid the pleasures of the past in their picnic party that owing to the weather conditions was held at the spacious new Legion community building on Vine street.

The ladies had planned an outdoor picnic but the weather man had said "nays" to the proposition and the event was transferred to the indoors, which eliminated some of the delights of the wonderful fall beauties of nature but did not detract from the enjoyment of the event in the least when the two organizations threw dull care away and enjoyed a few hours in fun and playtime.

The occasion, which was also a Rotary meeting gave the local club the third successive hundred per cent meeting and which was a great pleasure to all of the members of the Rotary.

The general committee of the ladies was composed of Mrs. W. A. Robertson, Mrs. George K. Perring and Mrs. F. T. Heineman, while the entertainment committee comprised Mrs. R. W. Knorr, Mrs. J. S. Livingston and Mrs. F. R. Gobelman, the two committees acquitting themselves with honors in the staging and handling of the indoor picnic party.

There were a number of contests staged for both the ladies and gentlemen, featuring the pumpkin rolling contest, the ball throwing contest and the yard stick race, all of which produced a great deal of merriment and fun for the assembled party.

As the hour for the picnic supper arrived there was a wonderful array of good things to eat provided and the varied menu of the evening included the always delectable "hot dogs," which made a decided hit with the men and several found that there was more to a wienie than they had imagined and that the resisting power of Wienie's is sometimes as great as that of the young bride's biscuits. Prexy Davis and Frank Bestor particularly falling hard for the non-skin wienie, a great deal of fun being derived by all of the party from this part of the program.

The local Rotary club is to go to Mynard on next Tuesday evening where they will meet with the residents of that locality at the Mynard community center on a jolly good will trip that will be a real treat for all of the members of the party and a full attendance of the Rotarians may be looked forward to on this occasion.
