The barn will be placed in first class shape and the county will have a good substantial building to assist in the care of the stock and the grain and hay of the farm.

the cost of the maintaining of the farm and the residents there and with careful management is made self supporting.

CHILDREN CELEBRATE

On Monday evening Mrs. Lightbody invited the neighborhood children to come to her home on Chicago Avenue for a Halloween picnic. She had built a big bonfire, where wienies, potatoes, marshmallows and corn roasted. The children lighted their jack o'lanterns, and placed them at a distance around the group. Many white ghost-faces were peeping out of the windows of the home. On their arrival the children were requested to hunt for animal crackers which were hidden about the lawn. Miss Marie Nelson found the largest number and was awarded the prize, a big cookie of Miss Vivian Lightbody's own baking. After a hearty picnic supper the jack o'lanterns were carried to the neighboring homes, where properly secured.

Those present were Marie and Doris Nelson, Glen and Betty Jean Pils, Mary Ann Highfield, Mrs. Frank Barkus, Kathryn and Helen, Mrs. Fred Buerstetta and Dale and Mrs. Harry Lightbody and children.

Mynard Community Has Halloween Doings

Large Number in Attendance at Very Delightful Social Event Held Last Saturday Evening.

From Tuesday's Daily—
On Saturday evening the little town of Mynard was the scene of a very enjoyable occasion when the surrounding neighborhood were the guests at a big Halloween community party.

This hospitable occasion was given by the Goldenrod Study club, the Mynard Ladies Aid society and the Merry Workers' club, west of Mynard, who jointly arranged and carried out the plans for this delightful affair.

The hall was decorated in Halloween colors, with owls, witches, cats, etc., used in profusion and with crepe paper festooning. In one corner was located the witches' fortune telling den, which provided much merriment for both old and young, and which was installed and operated by the Merry Workers' club.

During the early part of the evening, the audience was entertained by a program as follows: Community singing, "America." Recitation, Richard Cole. Piano Duets, the Witches. Recitation, Frances Wetenkamp. Song and Pantomime, by Eight Gloomy Ghouls.

Ghost Story, by a Witch. Piano Duets, Mrs. Elbert Wiles and Mrs. Will Mintford. Short Talk, Rev. G. B. Weaver. Mrs. S. W. Cole, president of the Goldenrod Study club, addressed the audience with a few remarks in regard to the splendid co-operation of the men in the community, who had responded so willingly with their time and labor, putting forth every effort to carry on the work of building the community hall. In a most fitting manner she extended thanks and appreciation for the service, and also asked the audience to give a rising vote of thanks to the three Plattsmouth men who superintended the wiring of the building and installation of the fixtures. They are Joe Schurz, Leonard Terryberry and Harry L. Gahner, who donated their services, and for which the audience unanimously responded by a rising vote of thanks.

Then she spoke briefly on the idea of a community building that originated two years ago when the Goldenrod Study club decided that they wished to do something that would be of service to their community. So they gave plays and entertainments to raise funds with which to sponsor a fund for a Mynard community hall. This idea rapidly gained favor throughout the surrounding neighborhood, and with the help of donations by the men, they purchased the old M. W. A. hall at Mynard the same year. After using this hall for a short time, it was decided to sell it and build a new one, rather than spend the amount needed to repair it, and so with the aforesaid co-operation of the people of the community, they now have a splendid place in which the farmers and their families may meet for pleasure or for business, and where their friends may be comfortably entertained.

At the close of her address, she became acting chairman during the temporary organization of a Community club. The purpose of this organization was read from the Extension circular issued at Lincoln by the Extension department of the State College of Agriculture.

Officers of the newly organized club, elected by ballot, are: Mrs. Fred Drucker, president; Raymond Cooke, president; W. F. Nolte, secretary; treasurer. It was voted to hold the next meeting on Friday evening, November 25th, at which time the organization will be made permanent. The president, Mrs. Drucker, appointed a committee to draw up the Constitution and By-Laws that will be passed upon at the next meeting. The members of this committee are Mrs. S. W. Cole, chairman, Mrs. G. B. Weaver and Ed Spangler.

After adjournment of the meeting, the audience responded to an announcement from the refreshment committee that the "eats" were ready and all present were then served with sandwiches, pickles, potato salad, doughnuts, pumpkin pie and coffee.

Much credit is due the refreshment committee for the capable manner in which they handled the bounteous supply of eats, so that the large crowd was served satisfactorily. The happy crowd dispersed, thanking the ladies of these clubs, who were hostesses, for this hospitality.

Funeral Services of James R. Lee Held on Tuesday

Services Held at Methodist Church at Pacific Junction and Burial at Glenwood.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The funeral services of the late James R. Lee were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church at Pacific Junction and very largely attended by the old friends and neighbors while the wealth of floral remembrances were silent testimonials of the esteem of the friends and associates of many years.

The services were conducted by Rev. Barkus, pastor of the church who gave words of comfort to the members of the bereaved family and the sorrowing friends at the passing of their loved one. During the services a mixed quartet composed of Frank A. Clodd, W. A. Wells, Mrs. Ed Roman and Mrs. Hal Garnett, from this city gave three numbers requested by the members of the family, "Asleep in Jesus," "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Sometime We'll Understand."

The funeral cortege moved to the cemetery at Glenwood where the body was consigned to the last long rest, the pall bearers being selected from among the old friends, they being John Olson, John Junquist, Dick Edwards, Theodore Anderson, Tom Martin and Frank Hines.

The following obituary of the deceased is taken from the Glenwood Opinion:
James R. Lee passed away at 8:13 Saturday morning following an illness of several months. Since the death of his wife three months ago he has been fast falling in health until a week ago at which time he entered the Immanuel hospital in Omaha and submitted to an operation, after which bronchial pneumonia and other complications set in bringing an end to his suffering.

He was united in marriage to Minnie May Mendenhall on the 30th day of August, 1897, and to this union he bore five children, two boys and three girls: Elsie Hrasaky, Mark and Paul Lee all of Pacific Junction, Gladys Rabb and Millie Bull, both residing in Omaha.

He leaves to mourn him besides his children, three grandchildren, Lorraine Rabb, Omaha, and Charles and Lyle Hrasaky of Pacific Junction, two brothers, Jesse Lee, Sheridan, Wyoming, Ora, Lee, Glenwood, Ia., two sisters, Mrs. George Haney of Pacific Junction, Ia., Mrs. Abbie Marco of Bellevue, Nebr., and a host of relatives and friends.

His wife, father, mother, three brothers and one sister, preceding him in death.

Mr. Lee has lived in, or near, this vicinity practically all his life as a successful farmer but since the death of his wife he has been making his home with his children.

He was a devoted father and husband and will be greatly missed by all of those who knew him.

HAPPY HUNDRED SUPPERS

From Wednesday's Daily—
The committee on the sale of plates for the series of six monthly Happy Hundred suppers, composed of R. W. Knorr and L. O. Minor, will make a canvass of the business section tomorrow for the purpose of determining the wishes of the public as to those heretofore pleasant events, the response of the public for the plates being necessary to make the affair a success. The committee wishes to have the first three suppers pledged before the opening of the season as an assurance of the desire of the public to have these events carried out this season.

The committee will visit all those who they can reach that were subscribers to the last year's suppers and hope to find a ready response as to the tickets for the season and which will be necessary if the suppers are to be put across again.

Those in charge of the supper will have some interesting announcements at the close of the canvass if the result is favorable to the proposition and will then be in a position to offer these pleasant monthly gatherings to the men of the community.

Controls for House Plant Insects

The housewife who is keeping a number of house plants this winter may profit by clipping the following and putting it away where she can find it: For plant lice, spray the plants with a nicotine solution or dust them with a nicotine dust; for mealy bugs or red spiders, wash them off the plants by forcibly spraying the plants with water; for scale insects, wash the plants with a soap solution; and for angleworms in the soil use a lime-water solution.

Diseases can be handled by either spraying with potassium sulphide or dusting with flowers of sulphur. The sulphide should be mixed with water, one ounce to three gallons.

Forced Bulbs for Winter Blossoms

Hyacinth, tulip, and daffodil bulbs can be forced at this season of the year and made to bloom in the house in mid-winter. The bulbs should be immediately in good soil in six or seven inch pots, watered thoroughly, covered with soil or straw to prevent freezing, and left out of doors until December. When severe winter sets in, the pots should be brot into the cellar, and later transferred a few at a time to the window. The thing to be remembered in all cases is that a good root system must be formed before any leaf growth is allowed to take place. Pasture was charged at 1/2 cent per head per day to all the lots.

Results of the experiment were given out at the second annual Rooters Day held last week at the agricultural college, Lincoln. Additional data is available in circular form and will be supplied to those who write for it.—L. R. Snipes, Co. Extension Agent.

SUFFERS SPRAINED ANKLE

Yesterday afternoon Ronald, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rehal, had the experience of a very painful accident while playing at the Columbian school where he is a pupil. The little lad jumped from a swing and when he alighted he turned his ankle and made a very painful injury that has made his getting around the matter of a great deal of difficulty.
