'Hired Assassins' Is Charge Hurdled in Mine Shooting

Strike Area Quiet With Colorado National Guard Troops in Control; Affray Probs Begins.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—The Colorado coal fields, torn by an I. W. W. strike for more than five weeks, were quiet Tuesday as national guard troops took charge of the northern Colorado territory where five strikers were shot and killed and a score wounded by state police Monday.

Carrying out their plans formed at a mass meeting the night before, the strikers staged no demonstrations of any kind in northern Colorado Tuesday. With the strikers remaining in their homes, the little coal mining villages of Erie, Lafayette and Frederick took on a deserted look as hardly a person appeared on the streets where for the last few weeks the miners have gathered daily to discuss the strike situation.

A number of the strikers wounded in Monday's clash still were in a serious condition Tuesday.

Troops Are Moved.
Columbine mine, in Weld county, where the shooting occurred has been made headquarters for the national guard troops, but three companies have been sent to other mines in the northern field.

J. C. Nesbit, one of the strike committee in the northern field, Tuesday said, "There absolutely would be no violence." He added that the miners were going to stay away from work until they were granted the Jacksonville wage scale and that they were going to win the strike by peaceful means.

Rockefeller Silent.
David Sheehan, member of the committee, declared the men who fired on the strikers of the Columbine mine were "hired assassins of John D. Rockefeller, Jr."

Mr. Rockefeller, at New York would make no statement about the charge that the men who fired on the striking miners in Colorado were his "hired assassins."

None of the northern Colorado mines attempted to operate Tuesday in the southern Colorado fields the mines reported slightly increased working forces. In Las Animas county, in southern Colorado, five men were arrested on picketing charges near Aguilar.

On the following day a Boulder county coroner's jury will conduct an inquest over the three remaining strikers who were killed. All of the state police who opened fire with their pistols on the group of strikers have been called as witnesses.—Omaha Bee-News.

DONATIONS BEGIN COMING

From Monday's Daily—
Announcement that contributions of merchandise to the American Legion's Harvest Festival would be gratefully received, has been greeted by ready response on the part of several.

C. E. Hartford, the coal dealer, who has been in with a donation every year past, called the committee and stated he did not want to be left out this year, and would contribute a half ton of coal, delivered to the winner's home, if a resident of Plattsmouth.

C. E. Wescott's Sons, other old standbys and supporters of carnivals in the past also called up and stated they would contribute a number of men's and youths' sweaters—a very timely article of wear at this time of year.

From Fred Lugsch comes a most generous contribution in the form of five coupons good for cleaning and pressing of either ladies' or gents' garments to the total value of $8.75.

Black and White Grocery, a new establishment since the advent of prior carnivals, is contributing five 1-lb. packages of its justly famous Black and White coffee.

No active solicitation has been made, but all who wish to contribute may rest assured their donation will be received with grateful appreciation and assist materially with the money-raising program calculated to pay off remaining indebtedness on the present unit of the new community building and establish a fund for those who desire to give are asked to see or phone the following named Legion members, who will see that their contributions are acknowledged and appropriately displayed with a name-label: Henry Seemithsen, Madon Brown, Edwin Fricke, Roy Holly, Fred Lugsch, Elmer Webb or Frank Smith.

FINE NEW BUS

This morning a fine new 1928 type of the popular Buick Flexible passenger bus was placed in service on the Omaha-Plattsmouth bus line, owned and operated by Clarence C. Cotner of this city.

The bus is a very handsome one of a rich cream in color and is the last word in comfort and class for the traveling public. The seats are arranged most comfortably and are upholstered so as to give the passengers the most comfort possible in travel.

The heating and lighting of the coach is one that adds to the comfort of the passengers and which they will appreciate on the trips in the bus to and from Omaha.

Mr. Cotner has not only secured a bus of the latest type and class but is also arrayed in a snappy new uniform that is generally being adopted for the bus drivers over the country and which with the snappy new coach make a real classy layout for the Plattsmouth bus line owner.

KETELHUT CASE GRINDS

From Tuesday's Daily—
The trial of the contest of the Henry Ketelhut will continue in the district court with a great deal of testimony to come before the jury before the case is closed and submitted. There is much more testimony offered this time than at the previous hearing in the case. The deceased was one of the prominent residents and land owners of the vicinity of Eagle, leaving a large family and several of the daughters, and two sons have opposed the allowing of the will.

At the hearing on the county court here the will was admitted to probate but on the trial of the case in the district court it was set aside. On appeal of the proponents to the supreme court the case was remanded back for a new trial and which is now in progress.

Fairview Has Splendid Time at Meeting

Community Gathering Held at School House South and East of Louisville Friday.

One of the most enjoyable events that has been held in the Fairview community in a great many weeks was staged there on Friday evening when the ladies of the community staged the entertainment and gave a real treat to the large crowd that filled the school house to enjoy the evening.

The ladies first arranged that the Fairview "Bug House" band be present and this "musical" organization was greatly in evidence during the evening. Mrs. John Alexen was the leader of the band and the personnel of the organization was composed of Mesdames Earl Terryberry, Fred Kaffenberger, Chris Zimmerman, Henry Hill, Jr., Ray Mayfield, Dan Terryberry, Jess Terryberry, Albert Murray and Joe Rhodes. The band provided one of the highlights of the evening in entertaining the jolly party.

One of the chief entertaining features of the evening was the numbers given by Mrs. John Alexen, who gave several numbers in the Swedish folk dances as well as the Swedish songs, the most being "The Evening in the Forest" which she sang in a costume of the old home across the sea.

Mrs. Henry Ragoss, another of the talented members of the party gave a number of old time songs during the course of the evening and the personnel of the evening that were very much enjoyed by all of the members of the jolly party.

Several vaudeville skits were also given that added to the general fun of the evening and in which Mrs. Albert Murray and Mrs. Chris Zimmerman appeared and delighted everyone in the audience.

Musical offerings of the evening were piano duets by Mrs. Dan Terryberry and Mrs. Ray Mayfield as well as piano solos and a vocal number by Mrs. Edith Koop that aided in the success of the evening.

Perhaps the most fun was derived when the ladies staged a very clever stunt in the impersonating of the men of the community and none had more pleasure over this part of the entertainment than the men who were being impersonated by the ladies. In this part of the program Mrs. Earl Terryberry appeared as "Joe Rhodes," Mrs. Fred Kaffenberger as "Philip Tritsch," Mrs. Chris Zimmerman as "Hank Ragoss," Mrs. Henry Hill, Jr. as "Dan Terryberry," Mrs. Ray Mayfield as "Earl Terryberry," Mrs. Dan Terryberry as "Albert Murray," Mrs. Albert Murray as "Jess Terryberry," Mrs. Joe Rhodes as "Ray Mayfield," Mrs. Jess Terryberry as "Fred Kaffenberger," Mrs. John Alexen as "Chris Zimmerman," Mrs. Edith Koop as "John Alexen," Mrs. Philip Tritsch gave a very pleasing reading and an impersonation of C. G. Mayfield on his first trip to Chicago, that all enjoyed to the utmost.

The committees for the next meeting were named as Henry Ragoss and Jess Terryberry as the program committee and Miss Bess Tritsch and Miss Leola Hill as the committee in charge of the play.

The committee for the second meeting was named as Ray Mayfield and Mrs. Dan Terryberry.

Grade Schools Give Splendid Showing of Work

High School Gym Is Filled With the Very Artistic and Beautiful Pieces of Work.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The exhibit given yesterday afternoon and last evening at the high school gym by the various grade schools of the city proved one of the most interesting that the school has held and a very large number were in attendance to view the various pieces of handwork of the young people.

Throughout the large gymnasium there were interesting groups of the work of the different rooms of the city school buildings and which reflected the teaching and interest that the teachers and Miss Marie Kaufman, supervisor has taken in this department of the schools. Needlework of various kinds was also shown by the seventh and eighth grades.

The penmanship that represented the more advanced seventh and eighth grades, the children showing of the great progress that the Plattsmouth schools have made in this line of their educational work and reflected the teaching and interest that the teachers and Miss Marie Kaufman, supervisor has taken in this department of the schools. Needlework of various kinds was also shown by the seventh and eighth grades.

It would be impossible to describe in detail the really wonderful exhibits shown as they were many and varied and covered a wide range of subjects.

One of the showings that aroused a great deal of interest was that of Plattsmouth in 1854 and which was shown by the pupils of Mrs. Charles Carlson and which followed in historical detail the pioneer town that was first organized in the year 1854 and which the children had painstakingly prepared from historical data and the stories of the surviving pioneers of this day.

The exhibits from the various rooms represented the following: Miss Martens, "Billy Goat Gruff," Miss Mahaffey, "The Circus," Miss Abbott, "Furnished Rooms," Miss Prochaska, "A Model Home," Miss Farley, "Eskimos," Miss Wolf, "Farmyard Scene," Mrs. Farley, "The Play Ground," Miss West, "Furniture Display and Farm."

Miss Craven, "Indian Village," Miss Nahrstedt, "A Playhouse," Miss Hiatt, "A Japanese Village," Miss Hawksworth, "Early Transportation," Miss Todd, "First Thanksgiving," Miss Diehms, "Holland Village," Mrs. Kieck, "The Modern Bungalow," Miss Moore, "The Oregon Trail," Mrs. Gamer, "The Modern Dairy Farm," Miss Mason, "Indians and Eskimos," Mrs. Carlson, "Plattsmouth in 1854,"

Grades 7 and 8, "Needlecraft and Penmanship,"

During the course of the evening the high school orchestra gave a number of selections that added much to the enjoyment of the large number attending the exhibit.

The work of the various rooms are being placed in the display windows of the local business houses where they may be seen by the public that might have failed to see the exhibit at the high school.

Club Winners to Chicago.

Forty-six winners of Nebraska boys and girls club work this year will be going to the sixth annual club congress at Chicago this week end. All of them will have a part of their expenses paid by various business concerns and organizations interested in what the young people are doing. At Chicago the Nebraska party will join over 1,000 others who have won similar honor in other states of the union. A few contests will be held, but for the most part the coming week will be spent in seeing the International Livestock show and the city of Chicago. Officials there have arranged a program filled with more attractions than the average visitor there would get to see in many weeks. From the visit and the contact with the best club boys and girls in other states, the Nebraska folks should get a greater inspiration to go on with the club work in the state. Most of the party are nearing the age when they will be thru with active membership in clubs and ready to be local leaders, and the trip will mean much to them.—L. R. Snipes, Co. Extension Agent.

Many Reasons for Thankfulness of Our People

The Year Has Brought Great Shocks to the Nation and Should Bring Rejoicing.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The coming of Thanksgiving day tomorrow brings with it the spirit of rejoicing in this community that has been visited in the past year with the most wonderful crops and the material things that go to make for the happiness of man.

Despite the fact that many were fearful that the year's crops would prove the smallest in years, the generous gifts to the people of this part of the west has been in the great wheat and corn crops that have filled the granaries of the great west with the millions of bushels of corn and wheat and give the promise of the generous prosperity to this section when these great harvests are offered on the markets.

While there might have been fear and doubting of the all wise Providence has smiled upon our people and left in their fields the greatest gift that nature could render for their toil, the fullest yield of the crops of the field.

We should also rejoice that this section of our nation has been safe from the great damage that has befallen other sections, the great floods in the Mississippi valley and in the New England states having brought devastation to the dwellers there while we have been spared this great burden of loss and suffering.

While as individuals we may have some sorrow in the year just closing but as a community and state, here in Nebraska, we can give most heartfelt thanks to the Doer of All Things Well for the result of the year 1927.

Come to Mynard Nov. 29. Bazaar and Oyster Supper, given by Goldenrod Study Club.
