

Alvo Department

Mrs. Clo Schaffer was a visitor in Omaha on last Thursday when she was looking after some matters for a short time.

H. L. Bornemeier and Lee Snaveley were on the market on last Tuesday with hogs which were trucked to the market by John B. Skinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Heneeger of Weeping Water had for their guests on Thanksgiving day at their home, the family of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Coatsman of Alvo, and where a most delightful time was enjoyed for the day.

Charles Edwards always a very agreeable man, was more than ever pleased during the past week, because he is a grandpa, and the little granddaughter, her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Edwards are doing very nicely.

Leola John Woods who was smitten several weeks since with a stroke of paralysis, is still kept to his bed, and is in very poor health. All is being done for his comfort and restoration to health, but he still remains in a very poor condition.

Paul Coatsman recently purchased a six Whippet coach, and Herman L. Bornemeier a Chevrolet coach, which both are feeling they have secured just the right car for their use. They sure both have made good selections for the use which they have for the cars.

John B. Skinner was a visitor in Omaha for the first three days of last week, hauling stock for three days, and the fourth day also taking the household goods of George Brown to South Bend where they have secured a house to live in. They have had having had furnished rooms, and not being able to secure a house.

R. M. Coatsman and the family were on last Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Coatsman and family of Elmwood, and were there also joined in the family circle by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Conroy, Weeping Water, and Miss Gladys Coatsman who is an instructor in the Wesleyan University at University Place.

Charles Godbey was a visitor in Plattsmouth early last week where he was a witness in the case of Stull vs. the county on the matter of appraisement for ramage sustained for lands taken for a road through the farm of Mr. Stull. The case was rather against Mr. Stull as he received a judgment some less than the amount the appraisers had given him.

Fathers and Sons Eat.

They talked as well and had in the main a most enjoyable occasion when they met for their annual conference and to banquet as they sure did on this occasion. There were one hundred and twenty-five Fathers and Sons present, and they were fed to their hearts content by the members of the ladies aid society of the Methodist church, the affair being held in the basement of the church.

Christmas Is Coming.

This is the very joyous season of the whole year, and is the representation of peace on earth and good will toward men. This is the season when we desire to extend to all the world our best, and R. M. Coatsman has prepared a room over the main store which he has filled with Christmas and holiday goods for the serving of all with the very best of presents. Miss Neita Mullen is in charge and will serve and assist in making the best and most appropriate selections. Call and inspect the line. She is there for showing the goods and considers it a pleasure to be of service. You can find the way through the main store and up the stairs or from the side entrance.

Alvo Has New Postmistress.

Mrs. Clo Schaffer, who has been conducting the post office in connection with the drug store, for some time, has found the work more exacting than her strength would admit, and has therefore asked to be relieved of the position of postmistress, and with her resignation the department appointed Mrs. Pauline Rosenow, who will conduct the office in the future. It is expected that the office will be removed as soon as permission from the department is secured to one of the rooms of the Thomas building, where also Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rosenow will make their home.

Over a hundred million people celebrate Christmas in America. Alvo, with the rest, are to celebrate. We have prepared for this great event with a line of Christmas goods, which we have upstairs, in charge of Miss Nita Mullen. Come and see this wonderful line of Christmas and Holiday goods.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. C. E. Pettit, wife of Missouri Pacific Station Agent Pettit, returned to the middle of this week from the Swedish Mission hospital, in Omaha where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and other troubles. She came through the trying ordeal splendidly and made good progress.

She was fortunate enough to have as special nurse, Miss Edna Dietrich, a former Louisville girl, who is meeting with excellent success in her chosen profession and who has just been promoted to the position of night superintendent of nurses at the Clarkson hospital.

Mrs. Pettit's many friends will be much pleased to know that she is able to return home and will wish her the best of health in the future. While Mr. Pettit was at his wife's bedside, he was relieved of his railroad duties by Carl Neffsicker, of Otoe, who is a son of the Missouri Pacific station agent at Otoe. He is also a nephew of Mrs. John Koop, and while he stayed at the home of his aunt. His mother was formerly Miss Lena Stoll, well known in this locality.—Louisville Courier.

John Koop has just completed the interior decorating of the fine new brick veneer home of Mr. and Mrs. August Wendt, Jr., in the country about three quarters of a mile east of the home farm of Mr. Wendt's father, August Wendt, Sr.

Mr. Wendt was recently married to Miss Elsie Heil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ohn Heil, west of Louisville. Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin Take Prizes

Buckeye State Takes Runnerup Position to Hawkeye Exhibitors at Livestock Exposition.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Horses, cattle and swine, of many breeds, from Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, had their innings of glory at the International Livestock exposition as it neared conclusion Friday. They romped away with virtually every blue ribbon and championship remaining.

An Iowa farmer, I. C. Lister of Polaski; the Franz brothers and Mrs. James Franz & Sons of Mt. Cory, O., and the Cudahy Bros. company of Cudahy, Wis., were the outstanding individual winners of the day.

Cudahy Bros. scored almost a grand slam in the Yorkshire swine competition.

Ohio Continues Reign.

Mr. Cory, O., continued its long reign as the Galloway cattle metropolis of North America when its entries, owned by Franz Bros. and Mrs. Franz & Sons, easily won all honors and championships in that class.

Because of these victories Ohio exhibitors took runner-up honors for the most blue ribbons of the exposition. Iowa clinched the lead two days ago by a wide margin.

Indiana farmers won five blue ribbons and two championships in the swine competition.

Canada Takes Prizes.

In the Shire and Clydesdale horse competition Canadian provinces, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, Michigan State college and Illinois won premier honors.

Auction sales were concluded Friday. Results indicate purchased beef still leads in demand. The Short-horn average under the hammer was $596.75, white herefords averaged $489.23. Aberdeen-Angus breeds averaged $286.67. Fifty-one bulls of the three breeds realized an average of $617.45. The 99 head of cattle sold at the three sales averaged $465.75.

T. N. Bobbit Had Many Experiences in the Early Days

Pioneer of Near Elmwood Now Living in Lincoln Has Interesting Career.

T. N. Bobbit of Lincoln, who has reached the age of 85 years was a caller in Elmwood on Tuesday with friends and while here made a visit to this office. Mr. Bobbit started in the printing business at Okolosa, Ia., and worked at this trade for a time. 1864, he went west and landed near Virginia City, Mont., where he had many experiences in the gold mining business, as well as adventures that are mighty interesting. He then went to a school at Okolosa, Ia., and worked at the trade for a time. 1868, he was married and in the year 1873, came to Nebraska, and landed at Stove Creek. He stated that Dr. Kenison was post-master then. He looked around for a while and finally located on a farm five miles west of town, which was his home for 15 years. Since the death of his wife, 16 years ago he has been making his home with his children, mostly at Lincoln with a son. He sold his farm here and today has a half section of good Nebraska land near Eldon, Nebraska. He is a traveler of a good deal of experience, having been in most states west of the Mississippi river, down in Old Mexico, and clear thru Canada. He says that he is a member of the Nebraska Historical Society, The Territorial Pioneers, is a member of the Masonic lodge at Elmwood, and a member of the Congregational church at Lincoln. He has indeed had many experiences and a number of narrow escapes, one especially which he told of when he came very near being captured by the Indians. He has promised to give an account of those days and his experiences and we feel that this account will be very interesting.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 from the home and were conducted by Rev. H. E. Sertor, the pastor of the First Methodist church.

From Saturday's Daily—
The social of the Women's Relief Corps which was held at the home of Mrs. C. S. Forbes on west Marble street, was made into a very pleasant surprise on this estimable lady and which was well carried out by the friends. It was learned that the event was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Forbes and in honor of the event the ladies of the W. R. A short program was given that consisted of a very clever reading by Mrs. Robert Troop, two piano duets by Cecil and James Comstock and Frances and Mary Denak, four of the talented young pupils of the class of Miss Olive Gass and which delighted all of the party.

There were a great many present and the afternoon of pleasure was closed by the serving of dainty and delicious refreshments by the hostess.
