Elks Pay Honor to the Memory of Their Departed

Memorial Services at Lodge Rooms Yesterday Largely Attended by Members and the Public

From Monday's Daily—
The beautiful service that the B. P. O. E. hold each year on the first Sunday in December in memory of their departed brothers, drew a very large number yesterday afternoon to the Elks club house, where the services were held in the spacious lodge room, followed by the fact that many whose going was mourned had been active participants in the work of the lodge in the room where the services were held.

The services were presided over by B. A. Rosencrans, exalted ruler of the lodge and the services participated in by the other officers of the lodge in the ritualistic portion of the service.

The opening was marked by the playing of the beautiful funeral march of Chopin by Mrs. Robert M. Walling, the notes of the piano in its march of the departed providing a fitting prelude for the impressive service that followed.

The invocation was offered by Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, acting in the absence of the chaplain of the lodge, Michael Hill, who was unable to attend the service on account of illness.

As a fitting tribute to the departed, the Masonic quartet, composed of Frank A. Cloldt, Raymond Cook, H. G. McClusky and R. W. Knorr, gave the number, "One Sweet, Solemn Thought," the sweet strains of the melody recalling those who had gone on before and whose memory is dear to the heart of Elksdom.

The roll call of the departed was given by Charles W. Hula, secretary of the lodge, and it was pleasing to note that this year the Elks have been fortunate in that death has not called any of its membership from the earthly duties to the better world. As the roll called the names of the departed gathered at the altar where the tokens of remembrance were placed in honor of those who had departed.

Charles Newasek, one of the talented young musicians of the city, gave a very artistic rendition of the "Largo," from the composition of Handel, which was a fitting selection for this service of memory and recollection.

The address of the day was chosen as that given by the late Matthew Gering, one of the most prominent members of the Elks in the state, and for many years a leader of the Nebraska bar and a charter member of the Elks lodge of this city. The address was that which Mr. Gering had delivered at Franklin, Pennsylvania, and is one of the most beautiful tributes that man had given to his departed comrades and brothers in the order of the Elks. Dr. J. S. Livingston, past exalted ruler of the Plattsmouth lodge and lifelong friend of the Elks lodge of this city, the beautiful word painting of the honor of the dead and the tribute to their memory being given in the most impressive manner.

The closing tribute of the orator to the memory of the undying dead is given here as one of the most fitting tributes that man can give to his friends who have gone on before. "To the undying dead who live in the memory of affection, I pay the tribute of this brotherhood, to their living friends I offer consolation of lives well spent which have made the world better for their being in it."

"Farewell, a long farewell, and as you sleep in silent dreamlessness in God's holy care, while the soft winds sing a requiem and the weeping leaves shed a tear upon your resting place, let it be said of them, and you, when God's finger touches your eyelids in death that you, as they, were one 'where every God did seem to set his seal and give the world assurance of a man.'"

"Such an epitaph engraved upon the hearts of loving friends is the proudest legacy and gentlest memory that man can leave to those who follow after him. Sleep on, sleep on, and with each coming of this holy month, the flowers of unforgetfulness will be placed by loving hands upon your bier."

At the close of the address, Mrs. Thelma Nelson sang a very sweetly the hymn, "The City Four Square" and at its conclusion the benediction was offered by the Rev. McClusky and the audience departed with the lessons of the service carried with them.

MRS. LIVINGSTON AT HOSPITAL

From Monday's Daily—
Mrs. T. P. Livingston, of this city, is at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha, where she is taking a course of treatment, as she has not been in the best of health for some time and it is hoped that this treatment will afford her relief and a restoration to her former good health.

RECEIVES SCHOOL HONOR

From Monday's Daily—
Miss Ursula Herold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herold of this city, who is attending Smith college at Northampton, Mass., has been selected for one of the honorary societies of the college, she being named as one of the members of the Philo-sophical club of the college, a very much sought honor among the young ladies at this great eastern college. Miss Herold has ranked very high in her college work and her efforts at the school have resulted in the members of the club naming her to its membership.

Miss Herold is a graduate of the Plattsmouth schools and later spent a year at the Cathedral school at Washington, D. C., the great Episcopal church school for girls, and then entered Smith college, one of the largest exclusive women's colleges in the United States, and where she has been most successful in her work.

Jury Renders Verdict in Auto Accident Case

Find for the Defendant in Case of Glen Morse, et al. vs. T. L. Jackson, et al.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The district court on reconvening yesterday morning took up the trial of the case of Glen Morse, et al. vs. T. L. Jackson, et al. an action growing out of an auto accident that occurred in this city on September 2, 1926 at the intersection of Elm street and Webster boulevard.

The accident occurred when the delivery truck driven by Glen Morse, son of the plaintiff, crashed with a large Buick car the property of the defendant Jackson, at the intersection and resulted in considerable damage to both cars as well as the injury of Frank Slatinsky, Jr., who was riding in the truck with Glen Morse at the time.

The plaintiff, Mr. Morse sued to recover the sum of $285, claimed to be due for the damages to the delivery truck and the costs of the action while the defendant, Mr. Jackson, filed a cross petition asking damages in the sum of $508.64, claimed as damages to the car and also asking that the costs of the case be assessed against the plaintiff.

The hearing of the case occupied all day and Judge Begley held a night session of the court to hear the arguments submitted by the attorneys for the parties, the case being given to the jury and a verdict returned last night. The jury found for the defendant Jackson and assessed the amount of his recovery at $318.64 with the cost of the case assessed against the plaintiff.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Saturday afternoon little Miss Betty Bullin was hostess to a group of little school friends, the occasion being the celebration of her tenth birthday anniversary. The time was spent most delightfully in games of all kinds and in which the little folks enjoyed themselves to the utmost. In the games Eleanor Minor received the girls' prize while Howard Hinz was awarded the prize for the boys.

The Bullin home was prettily arranged in the decorations of the Christmas season and made a very attractive and colorful picture for the happy event.

In honor of the occasion the little guest of honor received many very attractive gifts that will be a reminder of the happy birthday party. At the close of the afternoon dainty and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Bullin that sided in the completion of the birthday event.

Those attending the event were: Herbert Minor, Howard Hinz, Stephen Davis, Donald Warg, Arthur Warg, Richard Otterstein, Richard Dean Hatt, Floyd McCarty, Eugene Ault, Henry Guy McMaken, Eleanor Minor, Jeannette Hinz, Dora Ellledge, Mildred Ellledge, Margie Wohlfarth, Wave Smith, Jane Patterson, Alice Jane Hinz, Helen Lynch, Grace Welch, Harriet Goos.

SMALL FIRE OCCURS

From Tuesday's Daily—
The fire department was called out this morning at 4 o'clock on an alarm from the Bekins building at 6th and Main streets, where a small fire started in the room occupied by the Cream of the West bakery. The fire originated in the space between the wall and the large oven that is used in the bakery and as a matter of precaution the alarm was given to have the protection of the department while the baking forces got busy and were able to check the fire and had it out in a few moments. The building is all occupied, the second and part of the third floor being made into living apartments had the flames gotten a very strong start would probably have done a great deal of damage before it was checked.

All kinds of business stationery printed at the Journal office.

Largest Crowd at Carnival Last Saturday Night

Good Attendance and Fine Patronage Proves Farmers Too Busy to Come During Midweek

From Monday's Daily—
Saturday night was banner night at the American Legion's annual Harvest Festival, winding up the seven nights of entertainment in splendid manner. The attendance beat all previous records of the week, and came near to equaling the high mark set several years ago at a Legion carnival in Coates hall.

But even then, the crowd didn't look big, as there was room in the roped-off section for fully as many more. This gives some idea of the size of the community building, as compared with other halls.

The large crowd made play good at the various booths and the Country Store had a complete sell-out just as the clock tolled the midnight hour. Bingo also did a fine business and brought its total receipts to slightly over $600.

The door award, a bridge lamp, went to John Richardson. A pair of very fine book ends donated by the Omaha Printing company were disposed of on chances, going to Joe McMaken. These were secured through courtesy of George Sayles, who in past years has also secured numerous articles of merchandise from Omaha firms of whom the county purchases more or less of its supplies.

On account of heavy play at the booths and the time taken up with other attractions, it was past the hour of 11 when dancing could be started, and slightly past the midnight hour when the orchestra swung into the strains of Home Sweet Home. Even after this a goodly number remained to patronize several of the Night Club booths, and it was after 1 a. m. when Bingo closed down.

Drawing of the capital award was in the hands of Rea F. Patterson, cashier of the Farmers State Bank, under whose direction the little girls picked five numbers from the large, old-fashioned churn as it was revolved to thoroughly mix the stubs. By an elimination process, the number was cut to two, and from these Miss Elizabeth Noltig, previously named Queen of the Festival, drew out the winning number, the car going to L. W. Lorenz. Much interest was centered in the drawing and the crowd was much more quiet than on the night of broadcasting.

Although patronage was not up to full expectations, the carnival will go down in Legion history as very successful, netting a sum close to $1,000 to be applied on outstanding indebtedness on the present building, and as soon as this can be cleaned up, the proceeds will go to a fund for the second story of the building.

The Legion boys appreciate the fine patronage the public has given them at all times, and while an earlier date might have proven more profitable, it is too late to correct that now. The dates selected were chosen with a view to coming after corn husking, but the bounteous crop has kept the huskers in the fields unduly long this year and instead of finding it, over the past week has seen many "speeding up" to try and get done before snow and bad weather sets in, so naturally they had little time for amusements. It was for this reason that the closing date was extended over to Saturday night, when the size of the crowd proved well the correctness of the above assertion.

Finer and better door awards, the radio broadcasting feature and other entertainment added to the expense and made necessary the taking in of a large sum of money at the door to cover the expense. The dancing just about broke even on the whole, but whenever it was started early, cut down on play at the booths.

The Legion will continue with its dance program, featuring two big deluxe mid-week dances a month, on Wednesday nights, and bespeaks the patronage of the public for its endeavors along this line.

HOLD CEMETERY MEETING

The Horning cemetery board held a very interesting meeting last Saturday evening at the county clerk's office.

The purpose of the meeting was to prepare papers necessary to have the Cemetery association legally incorporated. In going over the records in the county clerk's office it was learned that this Cemetery association has been legally organized many years ago in the name of Pleasant Ridge cemetery.

The papers were drawn up by Samuel Maxwell way back in 1872 and was duly recorded by the then county clerk of Cass county, Nebr.

The board then immediately set out to elect a president and W. L. Probst was elected to the office.

W. T. Adams was elected treasurer of the endowment fund and is now in a position to accept money from the subscribers and from any one who has an interest in the cemetery.

ELWOOD BUTTERY BETTER

From Tuesday's Daily—
Mrs. E. M. Buttery, who has been at Pender, Nebraska, at the home of her son, Elwood, Buttery, for the past two weeks, returned home last evening. Mrs. Buttery reports that her son is doing very nicely from his recent very severe attack of pneumonia. Elwood was in very serious condition for a period of several days and at one time was so ill that the members of the family were called to his bedside, but by care and careful nursing the young man was able to rally and seems now on the highway to recovery although he is still far from well and will have to spend some time recuperating before he is able to resume his usual activities. Mr. Buttery has been engaged as a linotype operator in the newspaper office at Pender for the past few years.

Basketball Team Has Heavy Schedule for This Season

Local High School Team Faces Some of the Strong Teams of the State in Season.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening was the first workout of the basketball season for the coming round of games and a squad of some thirty of the boys of the high school responded to the call of Coach Fred Rothert, to take part in the opening practice and assure a strong reserve force for the coming season.

The schedule this year will be one of the stiffest that the local team has had and brings many new teams in contact with the local five that has in the past year made themselves felt as one of the best teams in the state. In the new schools signed for games there is Central of Omaha, Glenwood, Falls City and Fremont.

The schedule of the coming season as prepared by Coach Rothert is as follows:

December 16th—Weeping Water, here.
January 6th—North high at Omaha.
January 16th—Creighton Prep, here.
January 17th—Auburn, there.
January 20th—Glenwood, there.
January 21st—Central high, here.
January 27th—Beatrice, there.
January 28th—Falls City, there.
February 3rd—Nebraska City, there.
February 4th—Peru Prep, here.
February 10th—Fremont, here.
February 24th—North high, here.
March 2nd—Nebraska City, here.

The week following the close of the season the team will take part in the state tournament at Lincoln.

ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening the members of the Plattsmouth Women's club held a very delightful Christmas party at "Sunnyside," the E. H. Wescott home on high school hill, that was very largely attended and an occasion of the rarest pleasure to all of the members of the club.

The Wescott home was very handsomely arranged in the decorations of the season, the red and green candles and the evergreens making a very charming setting for the pleasant occasion.

The Christmas note was furnished in the fact that the ladies came with gifts that will be distributed on Christmas among the children to whom the yuletide will not bring the full share of the joys of the season and the ladies in their generousness have arranged to do what they can to help make Christmas more happy for these.

The program as arranged by the committee in charge consisted of pleasing piano number, "The Harp," by Betty Ann McCarthy, a delightful saxophone number by James Begley, Jr., in which both the young people were most pleasing. Mrs. James T. Begley gave one of her beautiful vocal selections, "The Song of the Angels Sang," and Mrs. A. D. Caldwell one of her artistic violin numbers.

The ladies of the club under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Wescott gave a number of the Christmas carols that added to the interest of the program.

At the conclusion of the evening the ladies had a most delightful surprise in the dainty refreshments provided and which came as a remembrance from Mr. Wentworth of the Cream of the West Bakery and consisted of the most delicious cakes prepared at his bakery and the ladies gave a rousing vote of thanks to the baker for his thoughtfulness in remembering them.

CARD OF THANKS

With the deepest sense of appreciation we wish to thank the old friends and neighbors for their assistance and words of sympathy in the death of our departed one and for the flowers and other tokens of remembrance at the funeral services, also those who took part in the service.—Mrs. W. E. Shipley, Jack Graves, Clifton Graves.

Andy Thomsen of Cedar Creek Dies at Omaha Hospital

Well Known and Highly Esteemed Resident of the County Dies After Long Illness.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Last evening at 6 o'clock at the Methodist hospital at Omaha occurred the death of Andy Thomsen, a prominent and highly esteemed resident of Cedar Creek, following an illness of several months duration and in which he has been gradually until death came to his relief and closed his long suffering with the peace and rest of the last long sleep.

Mr. Thomsen was at the hospital for several weeks where he was operated on and his condition grew better after a very severe ordeal and he was permitted to return to his home where he remained for some two weeks. On Friday he was taken with a much more severe attack and hurried to the hospital at Omaha where a second operation was performed Saturday in the hope of giving him relief but his condition was recognized as critical and little hopes of his recovery. The members of the family were called by Mrs. Thomsen, who had remained at the hospital with her husband and reached the bedside of the father on Sunday evening, remaining until his passing Sunday evening.

Mr. Thomsen was sixty years of age and has made his home in Cedar Creek for the past eighteen years, being active in business in that place and a loved and respected resident of the little community. Shortly after he arrived at Cedar Creek to make his home he was united in marriage to Miss Ruth Sayles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sayles, pioneer residents of that locality. There is left to survive him the wife, Mrs. Ruth Sayles Thomsen, three children, Hope, Ruth and Sayles, all of whom reside at the home at Cedar Creek.

There are also left to share his loss the mother, aged 95 years, residing at Brunswick, and three brothers, Emil of Pleasant Valley, Nebraska, Barnhard, of Brunswick, and Henry of Fremont, Nebraska.

For the past eleven years Mr. Thomsen has been the manager of the Farmers Elevator Co., of Cedar Creek, and in which he has been most efficient and his death will bring a great regret among his associates in the company.

HOLD COURT OF HONOR

From Tuesday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth Boy Scouts held their monthly Court of Honor meeting in the gymnasium of the high school last evening. The new boys who made their first appearance before the Court of Honor and who took the oath that made them full-fledged Scouts were: Leonard Van Winkle, Fred Garnett, Robt. Richardson, Lawrence Rhoades, Aulton Rowland, Jack Troop, Richard Spangler.

The following boys renewed their oath and were invested with the degree of 2nd class Scout, Hugh Lightbody, Jess Begley, Marvin Trusch.

There was one boy to appear before the Court of Honor and become a 1st class Scout and that was Max Gilinsky.

Following the presenting of degrees there were several merit badges presented to the Scouts who were eligible to work for them and have earned them. There has been some change in the ruling about merit badges. Until this year only the Scouts who had reached the degree of 1st class could work on them but now there are several badges that the 2nd class Scout may work for. The following received badges, Ellis Champlin, Robt. Mann, Robt. Hall, Warren Farmer, Max Gilinsky, Lyle Lawton.

The members of the local council, who were present at the Court of Honor were Messrs Rea, Pollock and Wescott. The Scout Executive, Carleton Hyde of the Nemaha district of which was are now a part was present and gave a few words to the boys. He brought with him several Scout workers from Nebr. City who also made a few comments on the service and complimented the boys on the work that they are doing here.

PUTS FIRE OUT

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening while B. A. Rosencrans was returning home from the Elks lodge session, he noticed a bright light in the Frady garage which is just south of his home and on investigation found that a small fire was getting a start in the garage. Mr. Rosencrans entered the building and found that a large can filled with waste was blazing away very strong and which might have done a great deal of damage had it been allowed to burn on. Mr. Rosencrans turned in the alarm, but the call for the members of the department failed to reach the members and Mr. Rosencrans proceeded to do the lone fireman act and had the blaze out in a very few moments and no damage done to the building or the contents.

ENTERTAINS MRS. BAKER

From Wednesday's Daily—
Mrs. Dearie Baker, wife of the district committeeman of the American Legion, was here last evening, accompanying her husband from Shubert, and while here was the guest of honor at a very pleasant bridge party at the home of Mrs. F. R. Gobelman.

The bridge was arranged by Mrs. Gobelman and Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans in honor of Mrs. Baker and was a very delightful event in which all of the members of the party enjoyed thoroughly the occasion and the opportunity of meeting the charming guest of honor.

In the playing of the evening Mrs. Fred Lugsch was awarded the prize for the high score while Mrs. Baker was presented with the guest prize.

At a suitable hour dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and which everyone enjoyed to the utmost.

Home Chapter of Eastern Star Elects Officers

Mrs. John F. Gorder Again Named to Head the Chapter—Large Attendance.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening Home chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star held their annual election of officers at their lodge rooms in the Masonic temple and with an unusually large number of the ladies being in attendance, the members from Murray and Union being here in large numbers.

In the election of the officers the members of the chapter gave a tribute to Mrs. John F. Gorder, the present worthy matron by again naming her for this position which she has so very ably filled in the past year.

The other officers selected were as follows:
Worthy Patron—Raymond C. Cook
Associate Matron—Mrs. Glen Valery
Conductress—Mrs. Guy C. White
Associate Conductress—Mrs. Ray McMaken

Secretary—Miss Clara Weyrich
Treasurer—Miss Mary Peterson.

The ladies enjoyed very much the proceedings of the evening, which was devoted exclusively to the business of the chapter and occupied several hours.

EMBARKING IN BUSINESS

The many Plattsmouth friends of Gerald Fleming, well known young man of this community, will be pleased to know that Mr. Fleming is preparing to enter the business world at Jefferson, Iowa, at which place he is having a new building prepared for the purpose of occupying it as a sandwich shoppe which will be strictly modern and a great asset to that city as it will be able to serve a large number and give them a wonderful variety of sandwiches, pies, ice cream and fancy drinks that will make the place one of the best in the state of Iowa.

The following from the Jefferson Bee of November 23rd gives the details of the new business in which Mr. Fleming is about to engage:

"Work was started yesterday morning on the new sandwich shoppe which is to be located in the rear of Smith and McCartney's store. Mr. Fleming, of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, has taken a long time lease on the unused portions of the Smith lot with the exception of a 12 foot strip adjoining the Smith building. This will enable the clothing firm to keep the building well lighted and unobstructed. The building will be of the Spanish style of architecture, constructed of stucco, with a red tile roof. It will be 21 ft. 4 in. in length from east to west and a depth of 17 ft. from north to south. At each end of the front, there will be a large pillar, which will be finished in a tower effect above the roof line, with an artistic window arrangement between. The proprietor expects to cater particularly to the tourist trade, preparing bags of sandwiches, pop, etc. Mr. Fleming is sparing no expense in having an artistic and durable building, which will be an attractive and unique addition to that portion of the business district. The building will be constructed by Contractor J. P. Johnson and his force of men."

WILLIS VS. RHODEN DECIDED

From Wednesday's Daily—
The jury in the case of Dr. J. J. Willis vs. F. L. Rhoden, et al., returned a verdict last evening in the case which was submitted to them at 3:30 and in which they found for the plaintiff and assessed his judgment against the defendants at the sum of $291.91.

This was an action commenced by the plaintiff to cover the sum of $1,239.84, which the plaintiff alleged to be due from the defendants F. L. Rhoden and A. D. Rhoden, the amount being due on a renewal note of a transaction that occurred in April, 1920, the original transaction being for the sum of $2,250.

Happy Hundred Enjoy the Second Supper of Season

Event Is Held at the Parlors of the First Methodist Church With a Pleasing Attendance.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening the December supper held by the Happy Hundred, representing the chamber of commerce, was staged at the parlors of the First Methodist church and with a very fine attendance despite the fact that the threatening weather kept many from attending from the nearby districts.

The ladies of the church had the tables arranged very handsomely with the use of bouquets of the tiny red roses and the red candles adding a very pleasant touch to the decorations of the room.

As the feast was disposed of by the group of hungry men with real enthusiasm and delight, Toastmaster Searl Davis indulged in a number of his very clever thrusts and called upon a number of the newcomers in the city to stand and be greeted by the party of Happy Hundred men. The men who were introduced were W. S. Wentworth, the Cream of the West baker, A. W. Bayersdorfer of the Janda-Bayersdorfer mortuary, F. McFarland, the photographer, D. C. Thornton, commercial teacher in the local school, and Ernest Trumble of the Plattsmouth State bank.

The dinner party also gave a rousing salute to several of the live wire residents of the territory near this city, E. H. Spangler, Fred Kaffenberger, Don Selvers, Henry Noltig, John Wehrlein, who are numbered among the leaders in the farming life of this section.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Paul Johnson of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Lincoln, who was very fittingly introduced by Mr. Davis and gave the members of the supper party a most pleasing address, one that was a little different in many ways from those who had spoken here on other occasions and carrying a strong message aptly illustrated in his line of presentation.

Rev. Johnson took as the theme of his subject a journey through the Rockies of the west and the journey of a party of tourists up the slopes of Long's peak, one of the greatest monuments of nature that rears itself in grandeur in Estes park. The speaker told of the struggles of the party of tourists up the slopes of the great mountain, of the dangers that a false step would mean death in the fall of 2,000 feet, but always pressing on the party attained the top of the peak. How like the journey of life was this climb through difficulties was brought out very strikingly by the speaker and who showed that on the mountain sides there were trees, stunted, dwarfed, growing near the ground because of the strong wind that made their growing erect an impossibility and despite the great battle the force of nature and the elements of snow, ice and wind, these trees had existed for several thousand of years, growing an inch each year, but living and growing in spite of the great handicap that was given them.

That the mountain was conquered by man, so man conquered many of the difficulties of life and some of them reached the top while others on the way struggled to exist in the face of the great obstacles that confronted them as the stunted trees of the mountain side. To him who reached the heights and overcame the handicaps and obstacles in his way would be the award of having success written of his attainment, the speaker made clear in his remarks.

At the close of the address of the evening Mr. Davis stated that for a number of months the supper committee had tried to secure the presence of one of the residents of the city who had been here a great many years and who was still active in business altho he had attained the age of eighty-eight years—introducing to the audience Mr. Herman Walntroub, well known merchant, and who was given a rousing greeting by the diners who arose and gave him a hearty reception.

The supper party was closed with the benediction by the Rev. O. G. Wichmann, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church.

NEW DENTIST ARRIVES

From Wednesday's Daily—
There is a great deal of happiness at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Griffin today as the result of the fact that a new assistant has arrived to help in the dental work, a fine nine pound son being born this morning at the hospital at Omaha to Dr. and Mrs. Griffin. The little one is doing nicely and the occasion has brought a great deal of joy to the parents and the host of friends in this city and Omaha.

Bring in your order for engraved or printed Christmas cards to the Bates Book & Gift shop and they will be given prompt attention and be ready for the mailing in ample time for Christmas.
