Gold Medal FLOUR

The flour will eventually use. Car load of this excellent flour received early this week by the Nehawka Mills. As you will use this flour eventually WHY NOT NOW

C. D. St. John
Nehawka, Nebr.

Lester (Bebe) Waldo was assisting in the gathering of the corn of Mr. V. P. Sheldon.

Delbert Switzer was a visitor in Omaha last Monday, driving over to the big city in his car, to look after some business.

D. C. La Rue of Union, was a visitor in Nehawka on last Monday afternoon, and was looking after some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop were visiting and looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth on Monday of this week.

A large number of the people of Nehawka were at the sale which was held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Cheney on last Saturday.

Henry H. Becker, of Union, was in Nehawka last Saturday, where he was looking after some business matters for a short time.

Messrs Miller and Gruber, makers of the celebrated concrete vaults for burial purposes, installed one at the Glendale cemetery last week.

John O. Yeiser, of Omaha, accompanied by M. R. King of that place, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sturm for the day and dinner last Sunday.

Clarence Willis from north of Union, was a visitor in Nehawka for a short time last Monday and was visiting with his brother and also looking after some business.

Ray Berger, of the Smith-Berger Automobile company, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Nehawka for a short time last Monday, looking after some business matters in connection with the sale of their line of cars.

Robert Taylor, who has been assisting others until they had their corn out, on Monday of this week began the gathering of his own corn and it looks like he will find an abundance of good weather in which to harvest the crop.

Last Monday Frank McConnell and Albert Wolfe went rabbit hunting, and in order to be sure and get their game, Mr. Wolfe took along a quantity of salt. Mr. McConnell went with the intention of walking the rabbits to death, or so nearly so that Mr. Wolfe could slip up on them and throw salt on their tails.

Mrs. Henry D. Bette, of Los Angeles, and her four children, arrived at Omaha on last Sunday morning and were met there by Verner Lundberg and his mother, they being brother and mother of Mrs. Bette, and the party was brought to Nehawka in the car and will visit here at the Lundberg home for several weeks.

Dr. Lemuel Barrett was a visitor in Omaha for the day last Monday, where he was looking after some business matters and also making purchase of furniture for the new home here. While he was away, Dr. A. R. Kintner was looking after the practice at the office. Dr. and Mrs. Kintner are expecting to depart for Rochester, Minn., about the 20th of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson entertained at their home last Sunday, and had for their guests for the day, J. H. Steffens and family, Detrich Steffens and wife, of Nehawka, Frank Horstman and family of Palmyra, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens, of Lorton, who are the parents of Mrs. Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. C. Steffens were accompanied by their daughter who is making her home in the east and has been visiting at home for the past two weeks, and for the past few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. Miss Steffens departed for her work in the east on Monday of this week.

Will Scatter Much Joy

The idea which was conceived of making Christmas a time of much rejoicing and adding to the occasion by the municipal tree, which is to be placed at the intersection of the streets near the auditorium, and from which the gifts will be dispensed. Should the evening, which is on Saturday of next week and comes just the night before Christmas, be a suitable one so all can be out, there will be a large crowd of people there and especially the kiddies for there the enterprise was fostered, but if the night is stormy and bad, the exercises will be held in the auditorium. Be sure and be there, Santa wants to see you.

Buys a Fine Radio

Walter Wunderlich, who believes in having something good when he buys it, one day last week had the Lundberg garage install for him at his home one of the celebrated Crosley Bandbox radios with their disc type loud speaker and is able to get anywhere over the United States with it.

Was He Joking?

A traveling salesman was at Nehawka on last Monday and told the writer that in making a trip from Louisville to Plattsmouth last Wednesday when the storm was raging, he put in just six hours in making the sixteen miles. We know that the road over there is not the very best, but we did not think any Ford would take that long to make the distance, and he sure drives a Ford. With our car, which has been driven over 50 thousand miles, we can make better time than that, even on that stretch of road.

Two Young Ladies Arrive

On last Friday there arrived at the home of Frank Pollard of near Nehawka a little blue eyed girl, who came bringing joy to the home, as she is making the young people happy by her arrival, and Grandpa Pollard also is wearing a Sunday smile. On Monday of this week, there also arrived at the home of Melvin Sturm a very fine baby girl, whose arrival likewise brought joy to the Sturm home, both the parents, Melvin Sturm and wife, as well as to the home of the grandparents. All concerned are doing very nicely and joy reigns supreme.

Had Excellent Time

Last Thursday evening was the occasion for the annual installation of officers of the Nehawka post of the American Legion, and to officiate as installing officer, the post secured the service of District Executive Committeeman Dearly Baker, of Shubert, who was accompanied by the State Commander, Jean Cain, of Falls City, the two driving up together that afternoon in the cold weather. There were also present four comrades from Plattsmouth, Past Commanders Henry Soennichsen and Frank Smith, Finance Officer Maldon Brown and Adjutant Elmer Webb, who braved the elements to make good their promise to be present. Following the installation the members adjourned to the dining room to partake of oyster soup, sandwiches, coffee and cigars. The remainder of the evening was spent in war time and training camp reminiscences. The Nehawka post achieved great success last year in getting members and this year has its goal set at fifty members—slightly higher than ever before attained. And knowing the boys like we do, we feel safe in saying they'll meet the quota.

FACTS ABOUT NEBRASKA

Over two-thirds of the food consumed on Nebraska farms is home-produced. The average adult farmer consumes in a year 295 pounds of meat, 57 dozen eggs, 336 quarts of milk, 96 pounds of butter and 7 pounds of cheese. Also the average per-capita consumption of flour is 227 pounds, of vegetables 166 pounds, 17 quarts of which were dried or canned. Of canned fruits and vegetables combined there is an annual consumption of 291 pounds per man. Most of the 91 pounds of sugar consumed per-capita is made in Nebraska and practically all of the meats, vegetables and fruits, as well as dairy products. The farmer eats more than the urban dweller, but pays out less than half as much in cash for his food.

PROHIBITION DISCUSSED

Washington, Dec. 12.—An imposing group of men discussed the prohibition question today at the home here of former Senator Wadsworth of New York, who is a foe of the Eighteenth amendment. While those who attended were reluctant later to talk about what had been taken up, the discussion was described as having been in a serious vein. There were intimations that some definite action by the group could be expected soon.

Mr. Wadsworth tonight described the conference as follows: "For the discussion of the prohibition situation as it affects the country at large and the sentiment on that question." Beyond that he declined to go.

Death of Judge A. A. Bischof, at Nebraska City

Prominent Otoe County Official Fails to Rally Following Operation at Nebraska City.

Judge Arthur A. Bischof, head of Otoe county court since January 1, 1912, died at St. Mary's hospital, Nebraska City, Sunday night at 10:15. Death came gradually and without pain. Ten minutes before the end, the sick man smiled at those in the sick-room and put out his hand to a friend. His eyes closed and it was over.

For months Judge Bischof had been ill, although able to attend to his duties every day. He complained little and not even his relatives realized that his condition was serious. Two weeks ago he submitted to a physical examination and was advised to go to the hospital for treatment. Thursday a gall-bladder operation was performed. Unable to resist the toxic condition which had assailed him for months he failed to respond and death came shortly after the end of the third day.

Nebraska City Born

Arthur Alfons Bischof was born in Nebraska City January 11, 1873, the son of William and Kunigunda Bischof, early day settlers of Nebraska City. He was born in a house which formerly stood within a very few feet of the hospital room in which he passed away, in fact nearly all his life was passed on the ground now occupied by the hospital.

He had attended the grade schools and Nebraska College, a well-known school in Nebraska City institution. Then he entered the high school and graduated with the class of 1890. He later attended a stenographic school at Burlington, Iowa, completing his course and entering the law office of John C. Watson, where he started to study law. He completed an academic course at the University of Nebraska in 1893 and graduated from the College of Law in 1900. He was an early day member of Sigma Chi, well known University fraternity. In the University he was prominently identified with the various student activities, was student manager of the "Cornhusker," head of the student athletic board at one time, interested in debating and parliamentary law classes and a strong favorite with the entire student body. He seldom missed a "Home Coming" and was an ardent football fan.

Returning to Nebraska City he began the practice of law with Thomas E. Roddy, now in Wenatchee, Wash. Their professional intimacy ripened into a personal friendship, which has lasted throughout the years. In 1902 he was elected county attorney and gained considerable prominence for his work in pushing scavenger tax suits through the courts. He served as county attorney until 1906 when he once more joined Mr. Roddy in the law office in January, 1912. From then on he was successively elected without opposition—in 1914, 1916, 1918, 1920 and 1924. His present term would have expired December 31, 1928.—Nebraska City News-Press.

Supreme Court Rules on Seizure of Intoxicants

If Without Warrants the Evidence Cannot Be Used in Prosecutions

Washington, Dec. 12.—Deciding a test case, the supreme court held today that certain evidence obtained by New York state police cannot lawfully be used by the government in its prosecution under the prohibition enforcement act.

The court sustained a plea that liquor in a car taken by state police at Massena, N. Y., in August, 1924, could not legally be used as evidence because the car had been searched without a warrant.

The Massena case was selected out of a number of similar cases. When the car in question was seized Rosario Gambino and Joseph Lima of Utica, who were riding in it, were arrested by the state police and turned over, with the evidence taken, to federal officers. They were prosecuted under the federal prohibition act and the lower courts threw out their objection to the manner in which the seizure was made. New York has no prohibition enforcement act of its own.—World Herald.

SERVICE PLANE IN CRASH

Bryan, O., Dec. 12.—Pilot John Zeigler, Detroit, and C. J. Parker, Portland, Ore., in vice president and general treasurer of the Iron Firemen's Manufacturing company, were killed when a Waco air service plane crashed at Montpelier, near here, today while making a landing. Harry A. Banfield, Portland, suffered a broken leg and internal injuries. The other two passengers, L. P. Teeple, also of Portland, and George Malcomson, Detroit, were slightly injured. Teeple and Malcomson left late today for Detroit after receiving first aid treatment.

The plane left Detroit this morning en route to Fort Wayne, Ind., from there the party had planned to go to Chicago.

Zeigler, it was said, lost his bearings in heavy fog and attempted to land in a rough pasture field.

Secretary Davis Arranging Mine Labor Meeting

United Mine Workers Will Attend—Charge One Company with Bad Faith in the Matter.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 11.—Three rejections and one acceptance by large coal producing companies of the Pittsburgh district were sent to Secretary of Labor Davis Saturday in reply to his invitation for a conference of operators and union leaders in Washington Tuesday to discuss the miners' strike. Officials of the United Mine Workers accepted the invitation, and at the same time charged that one of the companies refusing to attend the conference had attempted to deceive Secretary Davis, distorting and falsifying the reasons given for the rejection.

The Pittsburgh Coal company, the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation and the Vesta Coal company informed the secretary that they would not attend the conference, while the Bertha Consumers company accepted the invitation. The Vesta company is a subsidiary of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation.

In a letter to Secretary Davis Saturday, Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers, claimed that J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal company, in attempting to justify his refusal to attend the conference, had "distorted the situation." Morrow wired the secretary that his company "will stand by its present employees and policies." The company has been operating non-union for two years.

The Terminal corporation held the conference would take up the question of a union wage agreement and added "we do not care to join in such a discussion," feeling that "no good could now come out of a conference, such as the one planned."

Vesta officials said the labor secretary could make public its reasons for refusal, if he so desired.

Bertha company officials pointed out that the concern was operating full capacity, with non-union labor, and the present situation "is now peaceful and satisfactory," but "we are always willing to co-operate with the president and yourself and will attend the meeting."—Omaha Bee-News.

Butler Will Not Run for Senate

G. C. E. National Committee Chairman Surprises Political Circles

Boston, Dec. 13.—William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, announced Monday that he would not be a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator next year, in a letter to Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt club, in response to an inquiry as to whether he would run. Mr. Butler said:

"I shall not be a candidate for the republican senatorial nomination in 1928." My keen interest, however, continues that this seat shall be made republican.

The senatorial election in Massachusetts in 1928 will be the first one for the full term to succeed the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

Butler's announcement Monday leaves the field wide open for the republican nomination next year. Governor Alvan T. Fuller, often mentioned as a possible candidate, some time ago said that he intended to return to his business and his family after completing his second term as governor and that he was not interested in running for the senate. On being informed of Butler's letter he said he was sorry and surprised that Butler had decided not to run.

Others who have figured in political gossip as possible senatorial candidates are former Governor Channing H. Cox, B. Lorin Young, former speaker of the state house of representatives, and several of the Massachusetts congressmen.

Mr. Cox after hearing of the Butler letter said that he would not consider becoming a candidate and that Governor Fuller was "the strongest possible candidate of either party." Mr. Young said, "I am not a candidate."
