Carl Johnson was looking after some business matters in Greenwood on Wednesday of last week.

Mesdames Simon Rehmeyer and H. H. Moore were attending the funeral of a friend at Alvo on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

John Coleman has been assisting with the work at the Rehmeyer elevator during the rush times, and is proving a most valuable assistant.

Charles Godbey and Attorney C. D. Ganz were over to Plattsmouth on last Saturday, looking after some business matters at the court house.

John Elliott and Frank L. Edwards shipped a car of hogs to the South Omaha market during the past week, besides those which were taken by truck.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cole of near Myard are pleased to note that a very fine little girl baby has arrived at their home. All are doing nicely.

E. M. Stone and wife, Bert Klizel and wife and Charles Godbey and wife were over visiting with friends in Lincoln on Tuesday, as well as doing some shopping.

Glen Lewis was shelling and delivering corn on last Wednesday to the Rehmeyer elevator and getting the corn off while the roads are in such splendid condition.

Chris Eickman was a visitor in Omaha on Wednesday of last week, where he was called to look after some business, and made the trip with John Skinner, who was over with stock.

Frank E. Cook had a number of very fine sheep on the South Omaha market on last Wednesday, they being taken by John B. Skinner, and were among the top-notchers of all that were on the market that day.

The Elmwood basketball team came over to Alvo on last Tuesday evening and engaged in a contest for supremacy, with the Alvo team, who outplayed the visitors and won the game by a score of Alvo, 26, to Elmwood, 15.

Mrs. Oris Foreman is staying at Utica, where she is caring for her mother, Mrs. M. L. Keefer, who has been very poorly for several weeks. Mrs. Keefer has many friends here who would be pleased to learn of her again being well.

Dr. M. U. Thomas, of Weeping Water was a visitor in Alvo on last Wednesday, coming over to consult with Dr. Muir regarding the scarlet fever here and to devise some means of caring for it. A number of homes have been placed under quarantine and a nurse has been employed for the school to keep strict watch for any indications of the disease, and thus all steps have been taken to eradicate the malady.

Hears Brother Died

Mrs. John W. Banning received the sad news on last Monday evening of the death of her brother, Henry O'Donnell, of Union, who has been in poor health and who had been taken to the hospital at Omaha for treatment, but his condition was so grave the operation was deferred and the patient died during the day. Mr. and Mrs. Banning went over and remained for the funeral which was held on Thursday morning.

Lad Badly Injured.

Fred Minchau, Jr., a son of Fred Minchau, with other boy friends, while endeavoring to burn out some civit cats which had burrowed in a straw stack, set the stack afire, and after it had burned pretty low, in a hantering mode Fred started to run through the burning embers, as the straw was pretty well burned, and striking his foot against something in the pile of hot embers, fell down and before he was able to recover himself, had burned his face and hands badly. He was very fortunate in that he was able to get out in no worse condition.

An Obstreperous Cow

Last Sunday Simon Rehmeyer was a visitor in Omaha, and had an opportunity to purchase a cow, and did so. On Tuesday he had John B. Skinner try to bring the cow to Alvo, but being somewhat stubborn and unmanageable, the cow got away and went hollowing over a portion of the Omaha and finally was located in the evening at the West Lawn cemetery, quietly eating grass. However, on Wednesday, Mr. Skinner corralled the beast and landed her safe and sound in the barn of Simon in Alvo.

G.; Sam Jordan, prelate; Arthur Dinges, master of work; Joseph Vickers, keeper of records and seals; A. B. Stromer, keeper of the exchequer; Simon Rehmeyer, finance officer; and Elmer Rosenow, master of arms.

Doing Good Business

John B. Skinner, who is surely a hustler, has been very busy during the past week and up to the middle of the week had trucked 142 hogs and 21 cattle from Alvo and vicinity to the South Omaha market. He reports the trucking of stock to the market at this time as being very heavy, and one has to wait on a line of trucks a quarter of a mile in length every time he goes to market, indicating that the trucking business is closely pressing the hauling of stock by the railroads.

Took Civil Service Exam

There was a call issued for an examination of people for the position of postmaster at Alvo, and on last Saturday there were three applicants for the position took the examination. Those taking the test were Mrs. Pauline Rosenow, Mrs. Vida Lancaster and Charles E. Rosenow. The relative standing of the applicants will be made known later.

These two delightful events were held at the beautiful Rawls home on Pearl street and enjoyed by a group of the ladies of the city as well as a number of the out of town guests.

The home was arranged in a color scheme of pink for both of the pleasant events, pink sweet peas being employed in the decorative plan of the home and adding much to the beauty and charm of the occasion.

Aged Civil War Veteran Reaches 94th Birthday

Daniel W. Foster at Omaha Passes Well Along Life's Highway Yesterday—Old Resident

From Thursday's Daily
At the family home at 4424 Williams street, Omaha, yesterday occurred the observance of the ninety-fourth birthday anniversary of Daniel W. Foster, for a great many years a well known and highly respected resident of Union and vicinity, a grand old veteran of the civil war and one of the rock ribbed democrats of Cass county for a great many years.

The friends over Cass county join in their well wishes to this genial old friend and associate on the reaching of this great age and with his present health and vigor the century mark is within the possibilities of Mr. Foster. On the occasion of the birthday yesterday a patriotic number was dedicated to Mr. Foster from the Shenandoah radio stations that greeted him on the anniversary.

Daniel W. Foster was born on January 11, 1834, in the town of Beaupour, Washington county, the third son of Andrew and Nancy Jennings Foster, pioneer residents of the pioneer state of Illinois. The parents both died at early ages in Washington county. On the death of the parents the son, Daniel, moved to Ohio and in which state he made his home from 1853 until 1868. He took a course in mercantile training at Smith's college, Cincinnati and was also at school at Granville, Ohio.

On July 29, 1861, Mr. Foster, stirred by the danger that was threatening the country in the great civil war that was then just reaching its first fury, laid aside his school work and other activities and enlisted in Pickaway county, Ohio, as a member of Co. A, 27th Ohio infantry. Mr. Foster was with his regiment in the great battles of Corinth and Atlanta, a member of the force under General W. T. Sherman in his great march to the sea. On August 17, 1864 he was discharged from the service of his country and looked to the devotion to the lines of peace.

After the close of the war Mr. Foster returned to Pickaway county, Ohio, and was married in that county to Miss Letisha McKinley, a native of the north of Ireland who had come as a child with her parents, Edward and Ann McKinley to the state of Ohio. Mrs. Foster is now quite active despite the fact that she advanced years as she was born August 3, 1842.

After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Foster settled in Fayette county, Ohio, where they remained for four years and then came west to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where Mr. Foster was engaged as a contractor for some time and then moved to Kansas and later to North Dakota, coming to Cass county, Nebraska in the late seventies and where he made his home until a few years ago when the family moved to Omaha where his daughter, Miss Mary E. Foster, is prominent in the work of the Omaha public schools.

Mr. Foster has been a leader in the temperance movement from the earliest days and by precept and example has been active in this work.

Of the family circle Mr. and Mrs. Foster have two children, Miss Mary E. Foster of Omaha and Ruben Foster of Union, as well as a number of grandchildren to join in the very happy birthday of the father and grandfather.

Western Cass County Bank Is Forced to Cease Operation Through Frozen Assets.

The Farmers State bank at Greenwood in the western part of Cass county was today placed in the hands of the department of trade and commerce and the bank guaranty commission, reports from that city state.

This bank has been operated as a state bank for a number of years and was formerly controlled by W. E. Polling who later sold his stock and interest in the bank to W. C. Emeland, who has conducted the affairs of the bank since that time.

For several months the bank has been having troubles with the turning of many of their loans and assets that were tied up and which caused the final taking over of the institution.

The bank had deposits of some $198 at the time of the turning of the bank over to the state commission. The commission will endeavor to continue the bank, it has been announced.

The president of the bank at this time is W. C. Emand and the cashier Nelson Emeland.

The closing of this bank leaves but one financial institution in the Greenwood locality, the Greenwood State bank, one of the large and strong banks of the eastern portion of the state.

Wilbur Argues Plan to Naval Committee

Building Program Not Competitive, But to Supply Country's Real Need.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Stressing his own belief that "America needs a first class navy," Secretary Wilbur placed today before the house naval committee both his personal reasons and those of the navy general board for asking congress to authorize a $75 million-dollar new warship construction program.

The secretary said that the program proposing construction of 15 cruisers, five aircraft carriers, nine destroyer leaders and 32 submarines was "in no sense competitive but is based upon the needs of our navy as it is determined by the secretary of the navy upon the technical advice of the general board."

"The president is opposed to competitive building," he continued. "Congress has also manifested its unwillingness to engaged in competitive building."

"We do not ask you to build certain numbers of tons of each type of vessel for the reason that Great Britain has that number of tons or because to do so would bring us up to a parity with Great Britain nor do we ask you to construct a certain amount of tonnage in order that we may be on a 5-3 ration with Japan."

"The general board has advised the secretary of the navy as follows: 'The program proposed, if carried out, will create a properly constituted fleet, will furnish sufficient strength to insure the protection of the legal rights of our citizens under international law, provide refuge in time of disorder, protect commerce, preserve our ocean routes of trade, and provide adequate national defense.'"

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH

From Friday's Daily—
If your girl turns you down or you miss the train or have any other form of bad luck on this great and glorious springlike day, blame it on the calendar, today being Friday, January 13th.

The leap year of 1928 will have a large number of these dates when Friday and thirteenth go together so when planning an important event it would be well to consult the calendar if you are in the least superstitious as to the conjunction of the two supposedly unlucky dates.
