Death of John Woods, Pioneer of Cass County

Dies at Home Where He Had Homesteaded Some Sixty-Three Years Ago.

From Thursday's Daily.—The death of John Woods, a pioneer resident of the locality between Elmwood and Alvo, occurred yesterday at the family home where Mr. Woods had settled some sixty-three years ago and where the greater part of his life had been spent. The death occurred following a stroke of paralysis on the 4th of October and since which time he has been gradually failing until death came to his relief.

Mr. Woods observed his eighty-third birthday on the third of last August and for his advanced years had been very active up to the time that he was stricken.

The deceased was a native of the state of Ohio and when a young man of twenty years of age he came west to Nebraska and located on one of the first homesteads in the state, settling on the farm between Alvo and Elmwood where he has since made his home.

Thirteen years ago the wife and mother preceded him in death and of the family circle there remains two sons, Charles Wood of Elmwood and John Wood of Alvo with two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Cuyda of Lincoln and Miss Grace Woods, who has resided at the parental home and cared for the father. There are also four sisters residing in Ohio.

In his lifetime Mr. Woods was largely identified with the Methodist church in the community where he made his home.

The funeral services of this good man were held this afternoon at the late home and were conducted by Rev. R. H. Chenoweth of Alvo, pastor of the Methodist church of that place. The interment was at the Elmwood cemetery.

Popular Louisville Girl Married Last Sunday

Public Ceremony Held at Close of Morning Service at Evangelical Lutheran Church.

From Friday's Daily.—The wedding of Miss Minnie Stohlmann daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stohlmann, of Louisville, and Ivan Althouse, of Alvo, took place Sunday forenoon, January 22, 1928, at the Evangelical Lutheran church, the pastor, Rev. Theodore Hartman officiating. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The wedding followed the regular morning preaching services and was witnessed by the congregation and by a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white satin. Her neck was cut low and her hair was styled in the prevailing fashion, short in front with a decided dip in the back. She wore a veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The bridal couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold H. Kreger, of Omaha, Mrs. Kreger being a sister of the bride. She was formerly Miss Anna Stohlmann. She was handsomely attired in a fresh colored georgette gown with orchid trimming.

As the bridal party marched slowly up the aisle of the church, the congregation was filled with admiration at the beauty of the bride and her sister, and their handsome escorts.

After the ceremony, the bridal party left at once for Omaha. No reception or gaiety took place as usual at such a festive time on account of the recent death of the bride's grandmother.

The bride has lived in Louisville the past two and a half years and has assisted her brother-in-law, Harry McCafferty in the drug store where she has endeared herself to the patrons of this establishment and to a host of friends by her amiability, sweetness of disposition and kind and obliging manner. She is one of the most popular young ladies in the community and her approaching marriage was the occasion of many social affairs in her honor.

The groom is one of Cass county's young and enterprising farmers of high character, highly esteemed by all who know him. The union of the most popular young ladies in the county. They will have the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.

After visiting with friends and relatives for a time they will go to housekeeping in the spring on the farm of the groom, starting out with their wedded life attendant with all that makes life fair and desirable.

Senate Committee Dismisses Contest of W. B. Wilson

Defeated Candidate for Senator in Pennsylvania Asks Further Probe of Ballots.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Dividing on strictly party lines, the senate elections committee voted today to dismiss for lack of particularities the petition of William B. Wilson, democrat, contesting the election of Senator-elect William S. Vare, republican, Pennsylvania, but agreed to give the contestant twenty-five days in which to file an amended complaint.

Immediately after the vote, which was 8 to 6, Senator Reed, of Missouri, chairman of the senate elections committee which unearthed heavy expenditures in Vare's primary campaign, announced that tomorrow he would ask the senate to direct the election committee to "proceed forthwith" in considering Wilson's contest and in counting the ballots in six Pennsylvania counties where the alleged democratic candidate claims there was a conspiracy.

The contest which Wilson has brought is wholly apart from the challenge to Vare's right to sit in the senate, made by Reed as chairman of the senate elections committee. That case against the Pennsylvania democrat has been referred to Reed's committee with instructions to conduct a further inquiry into both the primary campaign and the general election.

Continue Back Hearing

While the senate committee was acting on the Vare case, a house elections committee continued to hear evidence on the right of the senator-elect's chief counsel, James M. Beck, to sit in the house as a representative from Vare's old congressional district in Pennsylvania.

Beck's right is challenged on the ground that he was not a legal resident of the district when elected. The committee will hear final argument next Tuesday and then proceed to vote on the issue.

The senate committee session was a lively one with Reed, of Missouri standing out very vigorously against the republican majority. Those voting that the Wilson petition should be dismissed were: Chairman Shortridge of California; Watson of Indiana; Greene of Vermont; Deneen, of Illinois; Edge, of New Jersey; Stetever of Oregon, and Moses of New Hampshire.

Democrats voting against dismissing the petition in addition to Reed, were King of Utah; George of Georgia; Neely of West Virginia; Curaway, of Arkansas, and Smith, of South Carolina.

Senator Bratton, of New Mexico, the seventh democrat, excused himself from voting because the committee took as a precedent the action taken in the contest brought for Bratton's seat by his defeated republican opponent, former Senator Holm O. Burson.—State-Journal.

Mrs. Knapp Quits as Dean at Syracuse

Former New York Secretary of State, in Seclusion, Resigns 'Until Name Is Cleared.'

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 26.—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, resigned Wednesday as dean of the College of Home Economics, Syracuse University. She is under accusation of financing irregularities in her conduct of enumeration of the 1925 state census, and announcement of her resignation was made by Chancellor Charles W. Flint.

The resignation of Mrs. Knapp against whom criminal action has been recommended by the special commissioner appointed by Governor Smith to investigate the census enumeration, was contained in a telegram to the president of the trustees of the university.

"In full knowledge of my own integrity and in justice to the university," the telegram said, "I place my resignation in your hands, until such time as my good name is cleared before the world."

The place from which the telegram was sent was not revealed by the university officials.

Mrs. Knapp's resignation follows within three days the climax of Commissioner Handell J. Letson's report of his investigation, recommending a grand jury consideration of serious charges against Mrs. Knapp and four of her aides, and within 24 hours a rumored meeting in New York of the special committee named by the university trustees to handle the case.

It was denied at the university that the dean's resignation had been requested.—Omaha Bee-News.

Attempts to Pass Check at Nebraska City Business House

Mrs. H. A. Schwartz, Nehawka Is Questioned by the Police in Regard to Bad Check.

From Thursday's Daily.—Mrs. H. A. Schwartz, 28, who told officers she lived near Nehawka, was held by the police Wednesday afternoon after her attempt to cash a check signed "M. D. Hallis" at the Wescott's and Company store. The check was drawn on a Murray bank.

Tuesday Mrs. Schwartz bought $12 worth of merchandise at the store and gave a check to Milton R. Wescott, member of the firm, for the bill. The check was signed "Hallis" but initials were different from those Wednesday. Mr. Wescott telephoned the bank about the check and was told that it was no good.

Mrs. Schwartz told Chief of Police Gann, who questioned her, that her name was Hallis and accompanied him to an automobile which she said belonged to her husband. The license of the car, though, was made out in the name of Schwartz. Confronted with this evidence she admitted that signatures on both checks were forgeries, but said it was the first time she had ever attempted such an act.

Mrs. Schwartz told store officials that she had her two-year-old daughter had accompanied her husband to Nebraska City where he had to have repairs made on a piece of farm machinery. She had gone into the store in the meantime, saw some merchandise which she desired and then wrote the check. She also said that she and her husband had had an account at the Murray bank and that they would reimburse the store.

Search of Central Avenue late Wednesday did not reveal the husband, police said, Mrs. Schwartz and her baby remained in the car with the chief of police.

It had not been decided whether a complaint against Mrs. Schwartz would be filed, but it was indicated that she would be questioned by County Attorney Heintzel.—Nebraska City News-Press.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HARBEN

From Thursday's Daily.—The funeral services of Mrs. Effie Maurer Harben was held yesterday afternoon at the First Christian church and a large number of the friends were in attendance to pay their last tributes to this estimable lady who had been so suddenly taken away and whose going marked the passing of the last of her immediate family.

The Rev. George Weaver of the U. B. church of Myriad had charge of the service and spoke words of consolation and comfort to the bereaved husband and brothers and sisters, to whom the passing of this excellent lady has been such a severe blow.

During the services a quartet composed of Mrs. Hal Garnett, Mrs. Thelma Nelson, Frank A. Clويد and B. A. McElwain sang the loved hymn "Going Down the Valley," while Mrs. Thelma Nelson sang as a solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," the quartet accompanying her. Frank A. Clويد also gave as a solo number "Face to Face."

At the conclusion of the funeral services the cortage moved to Oak Hill cemetery where the body was laid to rest beside that of her husband. In the last long sleep, Blanche Effie Benedict was born June 4, 1858 at Afton, Iowa and died Jan. 24, 1928 at the St. Catherine hospital at Omaha, Neb., at the age of 69 years, 4 months and 21 days, death coming as a result of an acute attack of appendicitis which covered only a few days. Despite all that could be done by loving hands to ease her suffering and try to bring her back from the valley of the shadow of death, the deceased lady was formerly Mrs. Edw. Maurer of this city and her death is the third that has come in the family in the past year, Lonnie, the little son, dying very suddenly at the home here last March and in just a few weeks the husband was called by death, they now being joined by the wife and mother in their last long rest, removing the last of the family circle.

She was united in marriage to John Harben of Rockport, Mo., Dec. 26th, 192, who is left to mourn her death also three small children, John Tr., Maurice, Julian and Martha, all Harben to whom Mrs. Harben has been a devoted mother. There also remains her aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Benedict, four brothers, Roy, Newton, John Benedict of Afton, Iowa and Frank Benedict of Kersey, Colo., three sisters, Mrs. Mrs. Alton, Mrs. Gust Stout of this city and Mrs. U. S. Carey of Afton, Iowa. She was always ready to help in Christian work, helping wherever she could. Her last words to her loved ones was out to worry, she was at peace with her Savior. Dearest Sister thou hast left us, Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal, Peaceful be thy silent slumber, Peaceful in the grave so low;

HASTINGS WILL HOLD COACHING SCHOOL IN JULY

Hastings, Neb., Jan. 25.—A two weeks' coaching school in charge of Coach Paul Schissler of the Oregon Aggies, assisted by Knute Rocke, of Notre Dame is to be held in Hastings, starting July 2. Announcement of this effect was made by Coach Schissler while in the city a few days ago visiting his parents.

It will be a part of the summer school courses at Hastings college and those attending will be given scholastic credit for work in the course. An attendance of at least 200 is expected as this is the only Schissler-Rocke school to be conducted in the middle west and only one of three to be offered in the country, the other two to be held at Dallas, Texas, and Corvallis, Oregon.

DEATH OF JAMES JOHNSON

The death of James Johnson, an old and highly respected resident of Weeping Water took place on Monday evening after an illness of some duration. Mr. Johnson has been residing at the home of his son, Mogens Johnson.

James P. Johnson was born the 11th day of May, 1856, at Vester Villing, Denmark, and died January 23rd, 1928, at Weeping Water at the home of his son, Mogens, at the age of 71 years, eight months and twelve days.

He was united in holy matrimony to Laura Christensen on May 12th, 1880. There were born to the union eight children, three having preceded their father in death. His wife, Laura, also passed away Sept. 10th, 1917. Those left to mourn his departure and cherish his memory are his sons, James, of Avoca, Neb., Andrew and Mogens, of Weeping Water, Martin of Seibert, Colorado and daughter, Agnes of Oshkosh, Neb., and nine grandchildren. He leaves behind him three granddaughters, Elizabeth Johnson, John Johnson and John Johnson, and a number of other more distant relatives and a host of friends.

Mr. Johnson came to America and to Weeping Water with his family from Denmark in the fall of 1888, where he has resided ever since except for eight years when he lived in Omaha. He learned the stone mason trade before marriage, which occupation he followed for a number of years, but later engaged in farming as long as his faithful wife lived. He professed faith in his Savior Jesus Christ and joined the Lutheran church at the age of 14. Through life he has been a faithful and consistent member and has passed on to join the church invisible and triumphant.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. G. R. Birch, assisted by the Congregational church choir, were held at the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon, January 25th, with interment in Oakwood cemetery at Weeping Water.

SWITCHMAN KILLED

Last evening while the switching crew of the Burlington in the South Omaha yards were engaged in making up the Omaha-Lincoln freight, one of the switchmen, named Moore, was instantly killed. The switchman was riding on the pilot of the switch engine and in some manner lost his hold, falling in the path of the locomotive. When found the body was completely severed and the unfortunate man beyond all aid. Mr. Moore is well known to a large number of inhabitants of the Burlington.

SHOWING SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Saturday's Daily.—The letters received here by friends of the Pfutz family at Fremont, state that Miss Irene, who was the victim of a severe auto accident some time ago, is still suffering from the effects of the accident, but is showing some improvement. Miss Irene has twenty-six cuts and bruises on the face and body and sustained a severe strain of the muscles of the back, that has made necessary her remaining in bed for the greater part of the time, although she is now able to sit up a short time each day.
