Louisville Bridge Closed as the Ice Forms a Menace

Structure Closed Last Night at 6 O'clock to Travel Through Danger From Ice.

From Monday's Daily—
The state bridge over the Platte river at Louisville was closed to travel last night at 6 o'clock when the menace of the ice movement near the bridge in the channel of the Platte made the structure unsafe for travel.

The Platte has been gorged with ice at several points as the river is now breaking up and the ice starting the move down to the mouth of the river where it empties into the Missouri, a few miles north of this city. The Loup and Elkhorn rivers have been breaking up for several days and the ice floating down these streams has been added to the flow in the Platte river and at Valley and other points have formed serious menaces to the bridges over the river.

The Louisville bridge has suffered a great deal in the past from the bombardment of the large cakes of ice and the forming of the gorges in the river at that place constitutes a real menace to the wooden bridge that has suffered at several times the carrying out of parts of the bridge and which requires a great deal of work to prevent damage from the ice forming and sweeping down on the bridge.

The bridge at Louisville having one piling swept out on the north end of the bridge near the Sarpy side of the stream and which will be replaced at once.

County Commissioner Fred Gorder and a representative of the Sarpy county commission were on the ground today and material brought to the scene to make the repairs at once but for the safety of the travelers it was deemed best to keep the bridge closed until the repairs could be made.

NEW ATTORNEY HERE

From Tuesday's Daily—
Plattsmouth has a new attorney to number among the members of the profession, one who is new to the city as a place of residence, but is an old friend and acquaintance of the larger part of the citizens of Plattsmouth—Charles L. Graves, of Union, having come here last evening to take up his work as an attorney in this city, with offices in the Grand building.

Those who have lived in Cass county for any period of time needs no introduction to Charley Graves, genial gentleman and steadfast friend and as well a good lawyer and with a great many years of experience at the bar. The residents of this city, while they have no desire to rob Union of their genial citizen, are well pleased that Mr. Graves has come here to make his home in the future.

Mr. Graves has made his home in Union for thirty-nine years and has been a member of the Cass county bar since 1887 when after spending a number of years study under Allen Beeson and A. N. Sullivan, veteran members of the bar, he was admitted to practice.

For a great many years Mr. Graves interspersed his legal work with the newspaper, and for many years the editor and publisher of the Union Ledger until he sold the plant that has since been taken over by Union. In his newspaper work Mr. Graves was a live wire and gave Union a good newspaper and his retirement from the newspaper game has been a distinct loss to that community.

While born in the state of Iowa, Mr. Graves has largely lived in Nebraska and was a resident of Rock Bluffs in his boyhood days where he was attending school under the late Judge B. S. Ramsey and was one of the boys that caused the Judge many hours of study how to best handle.

We feel assured that we express the sentiment of the Plattsmouth people when we state that Charley has a royal welcome here and with the wish that his residence here may bring success and happiness and that he will enjoy the community here as well as we feel assured the community will appreciate him.

Mrs. Wescott has been very active in the work of the state federation and has served as the chairman of the music department of the state federation, in which office she has created a great deal of interest in the musical departments of the various clubs and stimulated the growth of the music week feature of the club work.

City Council Has a Short and Snappy Session

Report of Valuation Engineer Received and Plans for New Water Rate Ordinance Laid

From Tuesday's Daily—
The regular meeting of the city council last evening was one that made a record for shortness and the greater part of the time was devoted to the report of Valuation Engineer Lambert of the firm of Burns, McConell of Kansas City, who have had the work of the city in the water rate case in hand.

The valuation engineer has a number of propositions that the city council will have to work on in the preparation of the rate ordinance that is necessary to frame owing to the decision of the U. S. district court in regard to the water rate case in which the water company secured a decision that will guarantee them a seven per cent return on their investment in the local plant and which means a raise in the rates.

The city council is desirous of getting a rate that will be as low as the court decision will permit and not be too severe on any class of the water consumers. After hearing the report of the engineer it was turned over to the fire and water committee with the city attorney to prepare a rate ordinance that will be submitted to the council for their consideration.

The report of City Treasurer J. E. Kirkham was offered and which gave the amount of funds overdrawn as $22,261.19, and the balance over the overdraft of $25,846.34. The funds of the city in the various banks was given, Farmers' State, $19,068.15; Plattsmouth State, $11,044.43 and the First National, $4,733.76. The registered warrants reported was $83,895.39. The report showed much better than for several months as to the city finances in general.

The city clerk, Mrs. Minnie Kettelbut showed that in the month just closed the sum of $1,144.65 had been collected and turned over to the city treasurer.

The chief of police and police judge gave their reports and which were referred to the police committee for action.

A committee to draft resolutions of condolence was appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of Mrs. George Luschinsky, Councilmen Lutz, Kunsman and Puls being named on the committee.

The following claims were recommended and ordered paid by the council:

Gas Well is Opened Near Imperial, Neb.

Great Excitement as Well as Bearing 2,000,000 Cubic Feet of Gas Reached—Oil Prospects.

The vicinity over Imperial, Nebraska is the stage of the greatest of excitement since Saturday as the result of the work of drilling in that locality for gas and oil and which seems to be near a successful stage, states W. E. Rosenkrans of this city, who has been in touch with the situation.

A message was received by L. H. Bonner, well known real estate man of that locality, who is now in Omaha, Sunday, announcing that at the depth of 2,400 feet of the well there had been struck a flow of gas that was yielding 2,000,000 cubic feet and burned above the level of the well. With the gas came a quantity of oil that was most promising and leads to the hope that when the gas is passed through that the large flow of the oil may be reached.

The well is being continued and in addition to the casing that has been sunk, varying from 15 inches at the top, there will be extended eight inch casing from the present level of the well to the new depths to which the well will be sunk.

The prospects of gas and oil in this western Nebraska locality will be very interesting news in this locality where there is located many land owners of the Chase county land and as Imperial has many old time residents of Chase county, their friends will be very much interested in learning of the oil drilling operations.

Tractor Schools

The tractor school held at W. C. Timblin's, Alvo, had 22 in attendance. At this school both tractors and gas engines were studied, and adjustments made. A. J. Under the direction of Roy Cole, the tractor school at Myland was one of the largest held in the state of Nebraska, with 49 in attendance. Tractors and gas engines were studied and overhauled and we wish to thank C. A. Wetenkamp and the Ford Motor Co., who brought gas engines. The Indian, the community served lunch in the basement of the church and it is probably through their efforts that such a large attendance was registered. ### Points in Choosing Dairy Breed

The farmer's own likes or dislikes is one of the most important factors in selecting a breed of dairy cattle. In addition, the breed most common in the community, the form in which the product is to be marketed, the average producing ability of the different breeds and their economy of production, the original cost and the probable demand for surplus stock, the vigor of the calves of the different breeds, the size of the farm, the kind of feed raised, the climate, the
