Frank Melvin, the builder, is making a hog house and brooder for Edward Brunkow, which he is to use on the farm, believing that the best care that can be given the hogs always pays.

Mrs. Fred H. Gorder was a visitor in Murdock for a couple of days last week and was a guest at the home of relatives and friends for the occasion. Mrs. Gorder was stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool while here.

Henry A. Guthmann, the genial and accommodating banker, has been kept in his home and a portion of the time by a very severe attack of la grippe, but is getting along and hopes to be able to be out soon.

Notwithstanding the very bad condition of the roads between Murdock and Omaha, E. W. Thingan made three trips to Omaha with stock the first three days of last week, but the going and coming was something not extra good.

Mrs. James Abrahams, wife of the manager of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company at Weeping Water, was a visitor with her friend, Miss Helen Bornemeier, manager of the exchange at Murdock on last Wednesday afternoon.

George Campbell disposed of his 80-acre farm near South Bend and will purchase another place somewhere else, where he shall find one that suits him. The farm here was sold to a man from near Wahoo, the consideration being $125 per acre.

On last Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. S. B. McDiarmid and the family, of Omaha, were over to Murdock and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel, they meeting here also Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hitchcock and family of Havelock, they all making a party of happy guests.

Harold W. Tool was a visitor in Omaha on last Wednesday, where he was in attendance at the meeting of the Lumbermen's association, which was in convention there at the time. While he was away, Meredith Weidell was looking after the business at the lumber yard.

Miss Fern and Master John Buck, Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Buck, have been very poorly at the home with attacks of the grippe, and which nearly ran into pneumonia, but was checked before that occurred. They are feeling some better at this time.

Uncle Henry Reichmann, who has been so poorly during the entire winter is reported as being somewhat improved at this time. His many friends will be pleased to learn of this favorable change in his condition and will rejoice when his health shall have been entirely restored.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gustin are enjoying a new Chevrolet Landau Sedan, which they recently purchased and which surely will afford this excellent couple an elegant wagon for their transportation, and will give service to the limit. Mr. Gustin has surely made a good choice in this selection.

Mrs. Una McHugh and Chas. Schafer entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Murdock church at the home of Mrs. McHugh, at which time all present enjoyed the hospitality most pleasantly. These two ladies surely exhibited a very special ability as entertainers and all voted them most excellent hostesses.

While at his work on the farm and in the act of stowing wood away in the cellar at the home, a large chunk of wood slipped from the hands of John Bornemeier, falling on one of his toes, which caused a fracture of the bone and also a crushing of the flesh, thus putting John to a great disadvantage in getting around.

Dr. and Mrs. Newell Joyner, of Axtel, were in Omaha, accompanying a patient from their town who went to the city for the consultation of a specialist and for an operation for the correction of the health, and on their return came via Murdock, where they visited at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Lee, with whom they are both well acquainted.

Mrs. C. M. arrived in Murdock on Saturday of last week to be present at the celebration of the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Neitzel, which will be held at Havelock, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. O. J. Hitchcock on Sunday, February 19th. Mrs. Neitzel is the daughter of this excellent pair.

Hamor Lawton is putting in the days just now getting the home of his mother again in the best of condition since the fire of a short time ago. The home is being rebuilt and made one story in the place of two stories, as formerly. The upper story was so badly damaged that it could not be reconditioned except by building an entirely new story on it, and as the room was not needed the new house is to have but one story.

Mrs. Gertrude Robinson, who has been making her home in Murdock for some time, has been troubled with appendicitis, which has been getting worse at times and had become so troublesome that she concluded it would be better to go to the hospital and have the corrections made, and so underwent an operation one day last week and was reported as getting along as well as the nature of her operation would permit. Her many friends in Murdock and elsewhere are hoping that she may soon be in her usual health.

Dark days have no fear for Uncle Fred Deickman now, for his countenance irradiates light like a head light on a Ford car since the arrival at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Towle and husband, of one of the sweetest of little blue eyed babies that one could imagine. The baby and its mother are doing nicely while the father is going fair and the grandfather, Fred Deickman, is expected to recover from the joy which the arrival has caused this very agreeable Nebraskan. You have a right to be happy, Uncle Fred.

Have Splendid Time The members of the Royal Neighbors of America and the Modern Woodmen of America held at their hall in Murdock on last Tuesday, a very pleasant Valentine party and farewell reception for their departing friends and members, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schutz and family, who are in the near future moving to near Fort Crook to reside. Married Sixty-One Years On last Friday was celebrated by Uncle George Skyles and the good wife, the passing of the 61st anniversary of their wedding, which occurred at Fort Madison, Iowa, on February 17, 1867, and which was just after the Civil war, when the people of the United States had turned to peaceful occupations after the strife which nearly tore the union to pieces had been stopped. Miss Helen Reichmann, the bride, and Uncle George, after some eight years of married life spent in the bustling river town of Iowa, came to Nebraska to make their home and resided for six years on a farm in Neokos county. Disposing of their interests there, they came to Cass county and located on a farm near the bustling little city of Alvo in 1882. They have since resided in this neighborhood and are numbered among the finest of people here. During the past number of years they have made their home quietly in Murdock, where they have a host of friends, who are at this time extending congratulations and best wishes to this excellent couple, who have done so much to make this the most delightful place to live.

Meets Serious Accident While at the farm last week, Paul Fleming was passing over a stream and having placed one foot on the bank, the other slipped, which bent the stress on the one foot with the result that a fracture was caused in the ankle, which has proven of very serious character. Mr. Fleming accompanied Dr. Lawrence D. Lee to Omaha, where the injury was X-rayed and the fracture reduced, he being able to return on last Saturday. It is hoped that the injury, notwithstanding its seriousness, will soon be healed.

Moved to Near Liberty Carl Rissman, one of the best of fellows, who has resided near Murdock for some time, where he has been engaged in farming, last week moved to a farm near Liberty, where he will engage in farming for the future. Drillers at Imperial Strike Pocket of Gas

Dr. George Condra of University of Nebraska Says Gas No Indication of Oil Below.

Imperial, Neb., Feb. 15.—A gas pocket of considerable size and indications of oil at 2,500 feet have been discovered here, which has been located last September by means of the "stomach pains" of L. G. Hesseman, Wichita, Kansas, "human oil meter."

Drilling has been suspended for about a week, while new casing is being placed so that the well can be sunk more deeply.

Dr. George E. Condra, of the University of Nebraska told newspaper men at Lincoln yesterday that a gas pocket was discovered at Imperial in the same strata as gas at Russell, Colorado, and the water at Lincoln, Nebraska.

"They must go below that, through the 'big red' bed, through the 'big blue' bed, to the Pennsylvania bed," said Dr. Condra. "It is in the Pennsylvania bed that oil has been found in Kansas and Oklahoma. Whether any will be found in Nebraska is a question. They will have to go about five thousand feet at Imperial."

"Divining rods and such devices as a means of locating oil wells are decidedly the bunk. Anything equipped to locate oil that way would be a multi-millionaire in a few weeks. 'But I don't want to discourage the search for oil in Nebraska.'"

Senate Group to Ask Coal Inquiry Members Would Carry Investigation Into Every Field of Strike in the Bituminous Area.

Washington, Feb. 15.—An investigation of conditions in the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, where a strike is on, was recommended today by the senate interstate commerce committee. The inquiry would be conducted by that committee. In the event it was deemed advisable to go into the coal regions for first hand information, a subcommittee would be authorized to make such a study.

The resolution of Senator Johnson, republican, California, calling for the investigation, was approved unanimously by the committee. Its author announced he would ask for an early vote in the senate, predicting approval and a start on the inquiry by next week.

Under terms of the resolution the investigation would go into every phase of the strike, including the issuance of injunctions against the miners by federal courts. This subject again came under fire of American federation of labor leaders, who denounced the granting of these injunctions before the house judiciary committee as a menace to the domestic tranquility of the nation.

Read Amendment Rejected In addition to the Johnson investigation, the senate judiciary committee has under consideration a separate one into the injunction involving in the Indianapolis street coal strike as well as those issued in the Pennsylvania coal strike against the miners.

Anticipating that it might be necessary to make a first hand inquiry in the coal fields, the interstate commerce committee amended the Johnson resolution only to provide that the investigation may be carried on by the committee or a subcommittee, with the subcommittee going into the fields if that was decided upon.

The amendment of Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, that the committee also investigate coal freight rates was rejected, but it was recommended that he embody his proposal in a separate resolution.

Chairman Watson explained that the committee felt the freight inquiry would require considerable time, whereas early senate action was hoped for in the coal investigation.

However, Senator Reed announced later he would ask the senate to vote on his amendment when Senator Johnson brings up his resolution on the floor.—World-Herald.

Governor of Indiana Acquitted of Charges

Court Criticizes K. K. K.; Holds That State Failed to Prove Concealment.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 17.—Acquittal of Governor Ed Jackson, who has been on trial on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony in an attempt to bribe, was ordered by Judge McCabe in criminal court here late Thursday.

The court said the state had failed to prove concealment of the alleged crime, a fact necessary to be proved to get around the statute of limitations and keep the case in court.

The state was bound to prove not only commission of the alleged crime but that it had been concealed for approximately four years. Under the law the court held indictment charging the offense alone would have had to have been filed within two years of the date of its alleged commission, December 8, 1923.

Governor Jackson was indicated late in 1927.

Attacks K. K. K. Before rendering his judgment, Judge McCabe launched into an attack of the Ku Klux Klan and said: "How any governor of Indiana could have believed for one moment that the Ku Klux Klan could have controlled verdicts in the courts, I cannot possibly see."

"I am perfectly aware of the slime and disgrace of that organization. There is no more regrettable bit of history in Indiana than the organization and participation in politics of the Ku Klux Klan. It has resulted in dishonor to the state of Indiana."

Not Guilty. The jury retired, elected Ira Minnich foreman and returned to the courtroom. The formal "not guilty" finding then was presented by Foreman Minnich, and the court adjourned.

After citing several authorities, the judge said: "Applying these decisions to this case, it is the duty of the court to consider the evidence in the case in the most favorable light of which it is acceptable to the state, unless there is no conflict in the evidence and unless there is no interference that might be drawn and that favorable to the defendant. In doing so, it is the duty of the court to consider the question from the hypothesis that all the facts as shown by the evidence are true—that is, all the facts the evidence is intended to show are true."—Omaha Bee-News.

Nine in Contest for Morehead's Seat in House

Number of Candidates in First District Likely to Be Increased

Lincoln, Neb. Feb. 15.—With nine republican candidates already in the field for the congressional seat in the First district, it was predicted here Monday that the number will likely be increased to an even dozen before the lists close March 1.

Elmer J. Burkett of Lincoln former editor of the Lincoln Journal and United States Senator, is reported to be looking over the field and may decide to try again for his old First district seat.

Those who have filed nomination papers on the republican ticket are: John Wiltse, Falls City; Ralph A. Moroney, Frank P. Corrick, Fred C. Marshall and Jesse V. Craig, all of Lincoln, and Thomas L. Hall, Verdron. Fred B. Humphrey of Lincoln also has filed on the democratic ticket.

Thomas Petition Filed In addition a voter's petition in behalf of George J. Thomas, republican, Lincoln, has been presented and $10 paid to the treasurer of Lancaster county as his filing fee, but his formal written acceptance has not yet been received.

Walter Kiechel of Auburn, also has announced that he will also be a republican congressional candidate, and the secretary of state Tuesday received a letter from M. F. Lorance of Auburn, a minister, asking for a blank to use in filing his candidacy for the office.

Sorenson May Enter Race There were also rumors Tuesday that C. A. Sorenson of Lincoln might decide to try for congressional honors in the republican primary. Other reports mentioned him as a candidate for attorney general.

The grand scramble for the First district congressional seat in the republican ranks is supposed due to the general feeling that Congressman J. H. Morehead, democratic incumbent, will not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Not since 1914 has there been such a field of congressional candidates in the First district. None contested at that time. C. F. Reavis of Lincoln was elected.—Omaha Bee-News

Ex-Convict Tells Love Cult Rites; Seeks $500,000

Woman, Surnamed by Alleged Head of Group, Tells of Rituals in Affidavit

San Jose, Cal., Feb. 14.—An affidavit bearing asserted experiences in a Culver City "love nest" which she says she shared with William E. Riker, head of a religious colony with headquarters at "Holy City," near here, was sworn to Monday by Mrs. Evelyn Rosencrantz.

The document pictures alleged cult rituals practiced at a Culver City headquarters of the Riker colony describes initiations of several asserted women novitates and charges Riker with responsibility for the detention here of Mrs. Rosencrantz on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds.

Suing for $500,000 Mrs. Rosencrantz, who served a term in prison, is at present suing Riker for $500,000 charging breach of promise. In her affidavit Monday she refers to plans Riker is said to have made to finance a transatlantic flight for her.

Her suing with Riker occurred in December, the affidavit states, at which time, Mrs. Rosencrantz says "I was living with him as his wife in the 'love nest' at Culver City where I had undergone initiation into the cult, according to instructions contained in the 'Diamond Key,' textbook of the cult, and taught to me by Riker himself."

Wine, Women, Song "The Diamond KKs" places a novel interpretation on the familiar trinity, "wine, woman and song," according to the copy of the book in the possession of Mrs. Rosencrantz. "For instance, wine stimulates with inspiration for woman so that woman may destroy him. Music pacifies him while it is going on."
