ladies being teachers in the Nehawka schools. Jay Austin and the family were visiting for the day last Sunday at Lincoln, where they went to see A. H. Austin who is just recovering from a long sick spell.

Fred Dow was assisting in the work at the Farmer's Grain company, as there was a large amount of grain and mostly corn coming during the recent few days.

Frank Sheldon and Marion Tucker were over to Nebraska City on last Monday where they were called to see Uncle C. D. St. John has been feeling quite poorly for the past week and for four days was not able to be at the mill, but on Monday of this week was able to get to work again.

Linemen from Nebraska City were working in and around Nehawka during the early portion of this week trimming trees and otherwise protecting the telephone lines radiating out of Nehawka.

James Miller was a visitor, accompanied by the good wife at Plattsmouth on last Sunday and on Friday was in the work at the blacksmith shop, where he was looking after some business matters.

There is to be another wolf hunt the coming Sunday which is to occupy the section of county north and west of Nehawka, and preparations are being made for covering the ground pretty closely for the critters.

Thomas E. Fulton who has been sick for the past three weeks with a very severe attack of the grippe, was able to return to his work on last Monday. L. J. Austin is assisting in the work at the blacksmith shop.

Dean Bogenreif, formerly of Elmwood, but who is now located at Plattsmouth, where he is employed with the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, was a visitor in Nehawka early this week and was looking after the phone lines.

Messrs. Harley and Hallie Massie, of near Calloway, were visiting for a short time at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Massie, and with other friends and relatives, returning after a few days visit, which was most thoroughly enjoyed.

J. S. Rough was a visitor accompanied by the good wife at the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. H. Wilson and husband at Crete, for the week end, driving over in their car for the occasion, and seeing the new grandchild which was left there by the stork last week. They found all doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wessell entertained at a pinocle party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Heebner, who were married on last Wednesday, a most enjoyable one was had. Also Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Markland entertained for the newlyweds, and at each place the merry crowd enjoyed a most pleasant time.

The wolf hunt which was participated in by some six hundred men on last Sunday was surely enjoyed by those who took part. There were four of the variments killed and several got away. The most sensational of the experiences was after the roundup, and the people had taken the loads from their guns a large wolf who had been lying low, at the edge of the creek bank, up and ran and as no one had a load in his gun the wolf got away. R. C. Pollard saw four in a bush which were not killed.

Visited Friends Here.

Married Last Wednesday.

Mr. Granville Heebner and Miss Elizabeth Rector, the latter of Weeping Water, were married in the hub of the county on last Wednesday, and will make their home on the Old Corbett place where they will farm and will be at home to their friends, when they have gotten settled to housekeeping. The Journal with the many friends of this estimable couple are extending best wishes and congratulations, wishing health, happiness and prosperity.

Millionaire Shot as Business Feud Flames Up Anew

Cotton Merchant Shoots Textile Manufacturer; Head Wound Not Believed Serious.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 21.—Leroy Springs, millionaire textile manufacturer of Lancaster, S. C., and this city was shot in the head in a drug store here Monday by Eldred Griffith, cotton merchant. An old business feud is said to have been responsible.

Springs, long prominent in southern business and political circles, was taken to a hospital, where it was said the wound was not believed serious.

Griffith was placed under arrest and taken to the county jail to await the filing of charges.

Ousted as College Director. Springs recently was involved in a controversy with the South Carolina general assembly, which acting on a report that the manufacturer had moved his home from Fort Mill, S. C., to Charlotte, elected another man to succeed him as a director of Wintrop college, a state school for girls at Rock Hill.

In a letter to Governor Richards, tendering his resignation Springs said he had retained his home and citizenship in Fort Mill, although he had purchased a home in Charlotte.

Springs, one of the best known cotton manufacturers in the south, has long been prominent in South Carolina business and politics. He has textile interests at Lancaster, Fort Mill and other places.

He is the father of Elliott White Springs of Fort Mill, who won renown in the world war as an aviator with the British and American forces. Mrs. Springs is democratic national committeewoman from South Carolina.

Son Famous as Writer.

Elliott White Springs, after the world war, gained prominence through his magazine stories on war fliers.

The victims wife was placed in nomination for the presidency on the democratic ticket at Madison Square Garden in 1924.

Just how the trouble between Springs and Griffith started is not clearly known. The two men were standing in the doorway of a drug store, engaged in conversation. Suddenly, it was said, Griffith pulled a pistol and shot Springs in the head.

The wounded man started running across the street, begging for his life. Griffith followed. Springs darted into the entrance of another drug store on the opposite side of the street and came out on another street.

Assailant Overpowered.

Griffith was in the middle of the street, his pistol leveled at Springs and, a witness said, pulled the trigger twice more, when a crowd of men headed by George King, seized and overpowered him.

Springs was taken to the Charlotte sanitarium, where physicians an hour after the shooting said he was suffering from a scalp wound which was not considered dangerous.—Omaha Bee-News.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Copy for this Department furnished by County Agent

Farm Record Books.

There are now placed in the county 125 farm record books. More than 100 of these have their inventories taken and book up to date. We are expecting the rest to complete their inventories in a short time. We should have over 100 books completed at the close of year 1928. 70 books have been completed for the year 1927. From these books a summary will be made which can be used for many sources of information.

Community Organization.

Met with the community near Rock Bluff where Mrs. Gayner and Mrs. Kettelhub had charge of the meeting. In this locality they have a new Extension club which began the study club work and are now taking the course, Time Savers in Construction under Miss Rocke.

Boys and Girls Clubs at Plattsmouth

Met with members of Chamber of Commerce and their agricultural committee whose chairman is T. H. Pollock, and discussed boys and girls clubs in and near Plattsmouth. This committee is very anxious to assist in baby beef and pig clubs this coming year. Any boy or girl between the age of 11 and 20 who is interested in club work report to Mr. Pollock, W. F. Nolte, or Myron Wiles.

Womens Home Economics Clubs

All the little attachments that come in a box with a new sewing machine are really intended to be used, the project leaders decided at their county meeting last Friday, Feb. 17th, with Miss Helen Rocke of Lincoln. The project leaders are now passing the lesson to the members of their clubs and many of the housewives are using their binders and hemmers for the first time. Miss Rocke showed them how to use the binder in finishing house dresses, school dresses, aprons and other garments. It is possible to make a girl's school dress in an hour, she said, and she showed the leaders how it could be done. She also showed the leaders how the foot hemmer is used in finishing hems.

Several of the leaders practiced on the machine at the meeting but Miss Rocke did not require them to complete any amount of work. Most women are accustomed to using their own sewing machines and do not do as well as on another machine. Since the local achievement day of each club is to be next month and the county-wide achievement day the next month, the leaders took some of the time from their usual meeting this time to plan with Miss Rocke a few celebrations. Miss Rocke had a number of circulars to give out suggesting songs, stunts, and plays that might be given. These, with others from the local communities, are to be used at the local achievement days.

The Singer representative from Nebraska City furnished 2 new machines for demonstrations at these meetings.—L. R. Snipes, County Extension Agent.

JEWS IN NEBRASKA

The State Journal of Sunday contained a very fine sketch of the first Jewish settlers of the territory of Nebraska, those hardy pioneers who came here with the representatives of other nations and the dwellers of many lands to make under the folds of the stars and stripes a great state that has now a commanding position among the commonwealths of the nation.

This article is particularly interesting to the residents of this part of the state as one of the very earliest settlers of the Jewish people in this part of the west was one of the residents of this city, Dr. Carl Ernest Louis Golding, father of Byron Golding of this city.

The Golding family came with the very earliest settlers to this part of the west following the treaty of the United States with the Indian tribes that made possible the settlement of this section of our present state. Dr. Golding came to Plattsmouth in 1856 and made his home here for a great many years.

With Dr. Golding there also came to Nebraska Henry Wessel, one of the first pioneer merchants of the west and who settled in Nebraska City and where the family are still identified with the business life of that community.

These leaders with those of Edward Rosewater, pioneer newspaperman and for many years publisher of the Omaha Bee, have contributed much to the history of the state and have paved the way with other pioneers for the present great state of Nebraska.

I am now the representative of the Rawleigh products in this county, having taken over the business of H. E. Burdick and would appreciate the patronage of my friends over the county and assure them of the best of service and a most reliable line.
