Organization of Calf and Pig Clubs Completed

Large Number of Young People are Present to Take Up Work of Extension Department.

From Monday's Daily— The efforts of the Plattsmouth Chamber of Commerce to aid in the creation of baby beef, pig and calf clubs in this section of Cass county have proved very successful...

The agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by T. H. Pollock as chairman, has had the matter in charge and the result of the meeting here on Saturday was most pleasing to the committee...

The meeting was held at the club rooms over the H. M. Soenichsen company store and there were some fifty of the young people from the locality near this city present...

County Agent L. R. Snipes, one of the most active county agents in the state, was present and gave an outline of the extension work of the state university in the formation of the calf, baby beef and pig clubs...

The baby beef club was organized with the election of officers, Chester Wiles being named as president; Richard Spangler, vice president; Mary Benak, secretary-treasurer, and Frank Leipert, reporter of the club.

The pig club named its officers as follows: Homer Spangler, president; Noble Kiser, vice president; George Leipert, secretary-treasurer, and Willis Cole, reporter.

With the interest taken in the work, it was decided to hold another meeting on Saturday, March 17th, at which time there will be steps taken to organize the clubs of this kind...

All of the young people who are interested should get in touch with Mr. Pollock, the chairman of the committee, and attend the meeting on the 17th, calling at the Farmers State bank at 2 o'clock and attending the meeting that will be held during the afternoon at the club rooms over the H. M. Soenichsen company store.

Mr. Snipes will be here for the meeting on March 17th, and will aid the young people in getting their organizations started out to function and making the first successful clubs of this kind that have been started in northeastern Cass county.

ATTEND BOWLING TOURNAMENT

From Monday's Daily— The sixth annual bowling tournament sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, is being held in Omaha and teams from every section of the United States are arriving there to participate in the event and to aid in the making of one of the greatest events of its kind that has been held in the west.

The local Knights of Columbus council was represented yesterday at the bowling of the Francisco bowling alleys with three teams of five men each and who gave a real demonstration of the art of bowling in competition with the many other teams that were on the floor.

The Plattsmouth teams were the Farmers State bank team, George Sedlacek, captain and composed of Louis Svoboda, Fred Sedlak, Mike Viteranik and Albert Janda, the Officers team composed of William Woolcott, captain, Frank Bestor, John Clodt, Fred I. Rea and M. Francis Whelan the place of F. I. Rea.

The officers team were able to win two out of three games bowled and on this team there were several substitutions made, Frank Sedlacek taking the place of John Clodt and Francis Whelan the place of F. I. Rea.

The trip was a most interesting experience for the bowlers and gave the locals the opportunity of getting in touch with some of the representatives from the various cities.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

From Monday's Daily— Yesterday was the birthday anniversary of Edwin A. Fricke of this city, and in honor of the occasion Miss Dora Fricke entertained a number of the friends and neighbors at a dinner party in honor of her brother. The evening was spent in visiting and enjoying a general good time. The guests of the evening were: Captain and Mrs. George A. Pingarson, Miss Gretchen Donnelly and Miss Julia Herman of Omaha, Judge and Mrs. James T. Begley, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rosencrans.

Baseball for the 1928 Season Being Planned

Springlike Condition Causing Talk to Fly of the Team for the Coming Season.

From Monday's Daily— The fast approach of the spring season is bringing with it the gossip of the fans as to the prospects for the 1928 baseball season in this city and also causing the prospective members of the team to begin to check up on the possibilities of the coming summer in this line of sport.

Baseball has commenced to displace pinocle as the favorite topic of conversation at Swanny's Sportsman cigar store, where the baseball followers are wont to congregate and the plans for the coming season are now well on the way.

Two of the old familiar faces on the local baseball diamond will probably be missing the coming season, with Peter Herold and William Harvey Mason, who have long been standbys of the team, promising themselves a rest from active playing and to enjoy the game from the sidelines, but they are not letting the family be unrepresented, as Richard Herold and Ralph Mason will be out to get warmed up for the possible playing.

The locals will have several fine additions to the material for the team and which includes Ralph Gansmer, high school player, who was at the short position for Manley last season and who will probably be seen at the second station for Plattsmouth this year, while Ernest Trumble, formerly a star with the Eagle team will also be in the line-up and play at third base and also serve as an addition to the pitching staff of the team.

The receiving end of the game will probably be handled by Ed Gradoville this season, and whose work as a catcher is well known through this part of the state. At the keystone sack John Svoboda will be found handling the throws, good and bad.

Hans Newman, the wild Dutchman, will be available for use at the short position this season and with the opening of the season he is getting into shape to make the season one of his best, both in fielding and hitting.

The outfield will have an array of young and prominent outfielders in the line-up, to try for the outer garden places on the 1928 team. Herb Swanson, the standby for the past two years, will probably be the mound artist, with others being signed up as the season opens up and helping make the team of 1928 a real contender for the amateur honors in this part of the state.

The team will probably play independent ball this season rather than continue in the Sarry-Cass league, in which they have played for the past two seasons.

JUNIOR BAND PROGRESSING

From Tuesday's Daily— The proposition of the organization of a junior band in this city, composed of the boys from eleven to seventeen years of age, seems to be well assured now with the responses that have been made to the suggestion of the band.

The young men who are interested in music have submitted the names of the prospective members to L. D. Hiatt and W. R. Holly, who are leaders of the project and the result has been one that leads the boosters for the band to believe that in a few weeks the city will have the junior band well on the highway to organization.

A number of the youngsters have had some work of this kind and will be readily trained into expert bandmen and provide the city with a real snappy musical organization. It is hoped to have the rehearsals started in the next ten days and keep the good work going through the summer months.

REAL NEWS FEATURES

The Kingmans which are shown at the Parmele theatre each week are the latest that can be found on the market in the films and include features that the Plattsmouth people have the opportunity of seeing a few days after their occurrence. Airship, unaided, lands and takes off passengers, one of the big features of the new release and is shown here in advance of the showings in Omaha.

Frank Gobelman Tells of Trip to the Southland

Frank R. Gobelman Speaker at the Rotary Club Luncheon Held This Noon.

From Tuesday's Daily— At the regular weekly luncheon of the Plattsmouth Rotary club held this noon the members were given a very interesting story of the recent trip of Frank R. Gobelman to the southland and where he visited a great many points in Texas and had a most enjoyable time in meeting old friends and in looking over the country in general.

The remarks of Mr. Gobelman were most interesting and covered the journey and places of interest in the south as well as visits with many who have lived in this locality. The address of Mr. Gobelman was as follows:

Left home on Wednesday morning the first day of February, I left on that morning so that I would not miss Rotary which of course, was on Tuesday or the day previous to my departure. In fact we had our meeting in the evening here in this room, the Anns being present.

The first day I took it easy as the car was pretty new and did not want to get it too hot. Arrived at Topeka at noon and visited with the manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., who I used to work with years ago when I was working as a telegrapher. Left there at 3:30, drove to Coffeyville, on the Oklahoma line, it was still early, and as I had a number of relatives living in and near a town of Edna, Kansas, some 20 miles east of Coffeyville, I drove over and sponged a night's lodging off of them. In fact I remained there two nights. Left the second day at about two P. M., and drove to Muskogee, most all the way in the rain, thru many oil fields, and still more gas fields. Next day I drove all day in the rain to Dallas, then Fort Worth, and on down to Mansfield, Texas, where my wife's oldest sister lives. Remained there a few days while seeing much of that part of the state.

On the twelfth day of February, I drove from Fort Worth to Houston, nearly 400 miles through oceans of water, as it had rained day and night most of the time. While in Houston, I was five days at the Rice hotel attending the international convention of the Master Painters & Decorators, I fortunately being the Nebraska delegate, as well as the Nebraska International Executive board member. At the close of that wonderful and instructive convention, I went to Galveston, where I saw and the much talked of causeway etc. Then proceeded down the coast and at Palacios I visited Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Soper, who all of the old timers will remember well. They have 20 acres in citrus fruits, have one of a couple of days ago. So I got back to Fort Worth on Thursday night and they met there until Friday afternoon. It was the only and last chance I had to make up for that week. I was of course, hoping that all of you at home were making a special effort that we might have a 100 per cent meeting, but got home and was told that John Lahr had been sick all the time I was away, which has concerned me very much. Sure hope John is improving and that we may soon see that broad smile of his at every session.

It was mighty kind of you last Tuesday to give me the glad hand for not missing Rotary in the 26 days that I was away, but I want to tell you men, the pleasure was all mine, I wouldn't have missed any of it for a small farm. There seems to be something about Rotary that simply "Gets under one's hide."

Now for Rotary. On Wednesday I drove from Mansfield to Fort Worth to attend Rotary. They meet at the Hotel Texas, the swellest hotel in Fort Worth. There was around 200 present and they had a "rip roaring" meeting. When I was given my visitors card, or rather had it fastened to the lapel of my coat by a young lady and had shelled out a dollar for my luncheon ticket, I turned around, and a man grabbed me and said why, hello Frank, and I was thrilled for a moment as I was sure there was someone there that I knew. But I didn't recognize his face and he says, I'm John Jones, Frank, come with me, and he introduced me to about half of the men present, including the officers. I asked the president if I could have just a minute to tell them about our club he said you bet I could. When he asked for the visiting Rotarians to rise and give their name and classification, he pointed to each of them, twenty or more, and left me until the last, then he says, tell them about the 100 per cent meetings your club has been having Frank. I was proud of the opportunity to tell them, and they gave me a hand and after I sat down numbers of them asked me questions about how we did it, etc. They have one man in their club that has been a member for 14 years and has not missed a single meeting. One young man ate at my side, he told me he had been a member for four years and had not missed once. I heard speaking that was worth going many miles to hear. It was an inspiration to me. They have recently completed a wonderful new theater the "Worth" owned by the Public Co., it's all in Egyptian. The manager of it was at Rotary, he being a member, and he asked me to attend that theater as his guest and as often as I cared to. Many business and professional men came to me, and wanted to do for me, even the manager of that fine hotel, says if you should stay with us let me know as I want to see that you are properly taken care of. Before I left that dining room I felt that there wasn't a man in there that was a stranger to me.

The members of these large clubs all wear a celluloid disc pinned on their coat and on it the wheel and says Rotary International, then their first name in great big letters, after that is their name in full and their classification. I believe that would be something nice for us to have. The man that led the singing at Fort Worth was the international song leader at Ostend, Mr. Sam Losh.

I was very much interested in the birthday table. Everyone who's birthday occurs during the current week must sit at the birthday table, it is beautifully decorated with flowers, etc. Usually each member at that table receives a present, then a beautiful blonde, plus a bouquet on their coat, some member with a streak of humor is called upon to introduce them, he has something good to say, and something funny to say about each and every one of them.

The two noted and famous aviators that went up at Fort Worth to try and break the world's endurance record were present at that meeting, one of them being a Rotarian the other a visitor, also the man that the government sent from Washington to superintend the flight was there. They all had a word to say.

At Houston five of us, visitors, went to Rotary together, it was at the same hotel in which we were staying and holding our convention, namely Rice, often spoken of as the west hotel in the south. The three of us were all of the same classification "Master Painters" one was George Steinhilber of Omaha, the largest contractor in Omaha, and the man whom I succeeded as state president of the Nebraska Painters and Decorators association. The other was Wm. (Bill) Paris of Toronto, Canada and the man that before that convention was over, we elected international vice president. They sure did give us a hand, had us lined up at the speaker's table. We left there with men saying, if there is anything you want to know or any way you want to go just call on me, coming from men of many different classifications. Eddie Flynn was the speaker of the day, and those of you that have heard Eddie know what I mean when I say we were well entertained, and oh, boy, how he can explain Rotary.

It was found that most of the towns that have Rotary clubs have a nice sign on the highway as one enters, on it is the wheel saying Rotary International, and on what day they meet, the time is always 12:15. The last week while on my way home I would get to a town that had met the day before or wouldn't meet that day and I would go just call on me, to Fort Worth on Thursday night and they met there until Friday afternoon. It was the only and last chance I had to make up for that week. I was of course, hoping that all of you at home were making a special effort that we might have a 100 per cent meeting, but got home and was told that John Lahr had been sick all the time I was away, which has concerned me very much. Sure hope John is improving and that we may soon see that broad smile of his at every session.

Death of One of the Oldest Residents of State

Mrs. Henry Thomsen, Sr., Dies at Home Near Brunswick, at Age of Ninety-Six Years.

From Monday's Daily— The death of Mrs. Henry Thomsen, Sr., one of the oldest ladies in the state occurred on Sunday at the family home at Brunswick where the deceased lady passed on at the very advanced age of ninety-six years, her death coming as the result of the infirmities of her very great years and bringing to the close a life of usefulness and one that has been given in the development of the locality where she has for so long made her home.

The deceased lady was well known in this locality, she being the mother of the late Andy Thomsen and has been a visitor frequently at the Thomsen home at Cedar Creek. In the past year two sons, John and Andy have passed on and now they are joined by the mother in the last long rest.

Mrs. Thomsen was born in the province of Schleswig-Holstein, Germany on November 29, 1831, and was reared to womanhood in that locality and where she was married to Henry Thomsen. Several of the children were born in the old home and when Andy was but three months of age the family migrated from the old home in Germany to the United States and came west to the then new state of Nebraska to win their future from the soil of that great section of the west.

Mr. Thomsen homesteaded on a farm twelve miles from North Bend and there the family resided until six years ago when they moved to North Bend to reside and where shortly after the husband and father died the last call. Since the death of the husband, Mrs. Thomsen has made her home with the children.

When Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen came to Nebraska the Indians still roved the plains and the sections where they had settled had many of the wandering tribes still located in that locality which made an added danger to the pioneer homesteaders and many startling experiences were gone through by the family in the years that the Indians remained as their neighbors. Frequently Mrs. Thomsen has walked from her farm to Omaha, their nearest market, taking her produce from the farm to the market and the trip entailing some four or five days to complete, a part of the privations and hardships of the pioneer life.

To this couple seven sons were born, four, Thomas, John, Andy and August, preceded the mother in death while three are living, Barnhardt, living at Brunswick, Henry at Fremont and Emil at Snyder, Nebraska.

A daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Thomsen and three grandchildren, Hope, Ruth and Sayles Thomsen of Omaha are also left to mourn the passing of this good woman and who will attend the funeral services which will be held on Wednesday and Thursday at North Bend.

The grandson, Sayles Thomsen, aged twelve is the youngest of the grandchildren and was born when the grandfather reached the age of eighty-four years.

In the loss the family will have the sympathy of the many friends in this locality.

LOCAL ATHLETE HONORED

From Monday's Daily— The sport writers and judges of athletes, who are busy now on the compilation of their mystic all-state teams, have selected as a member of the all star Nebraska Interscholastic Athletic association team, Joe Krejci, whose work on the Peru Normal team has been outstanding.

In the listing of the players, Joe is named as a forward on the state team as his playing ability makes him available in many positions, and although he is holding down the position of center on the Peru team, his ability to carry the forward floor work has caused him to be selected for this position.

Krejci was one of the outstanding high school players of the state, when a member of the Plattsmouth High school team and has since been selected on the all state college teams for his services on the Peru quintet. His playing is of a very high standard and makes his selection one that is practically unanimous among the judges of the basketball game.

Mr. Krejci is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Severin Krejci of this city and a graduate of the class of 1924 of the Plattsmouth High school.

RECEIVES GOOD NEWS

From Tuesday's Daily— The Plattsmouth friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn DeLong of Nebraska City, will be pleased to learn of the fact that a fine little daughter arrived at their home early this morning. Mrs. DeLong was formerly Miss Irene Davis, at one time a teacher in the Plattsmouth schools.

HAS SPRAINED ANKLE

From Monday's Daily— Carl Weigel, the organist at the Parmele theatre, is getting around with the aid of a crutch as the result of an accident that he suffered while going to his home at the F. R. Guthmann residence. Carl slipped on the steps going up to the house and as the result, turned the left ankle and which has made necessary his getting around with the aid of a crutch. The organist however is showing improvement and it is hoped will soon be on the highway to recovery from the effects of the accident.

House Passes Bridge Bill for This Locality

Measure Providing for the Right to Erect Bridge Over the Missouri at Plattsmouth.

From Tuesday's Daily— The house of representatives at Washington yesterday passed the measure providing for the permission to erect a bridge over the Missouri river at Plattsmouth, a measure that has been pending for some time and the passage of this measure is looked forward to with interest by the boosters of the bridge measure in this locality who hope for a structure that will link up the east and west highway from Chicago to the western terminus at Glenwood and permit the extension of a direct route to the west through Plattsmouth to Lincoln and also connecting with the King of Trails highway from the north to the south.

The bill has been pushed by Congressman John H. Morehead who is live and active in the interest of his district and has sponsored the bill for bridges at the various points in the district, our congressman having been on the job in getting this bill through as well as that for the bridge at Rulo.

The bill provides for the construction of the bridge by the Plattsmouth Bridge company and on the final passage of the bill more active work on the proposition may be taken up.

The house also passed the Rulo bridge bill which gives authority to John C. Mullen, T. L. Davies, John H. Hutchings and Virgel Fallon to construct a bridge at Rulo.

Both of the measures now go to the senate for their action and which will be taken up soon, it is thought.

BOARD ELECTS TEACHERS

From Tuesday's Daily— At a regular meeting of the board of education held last evening in the office of the superintendent of schools, teachers were re-elected for the ensuing year. The superintendent was directed to issue contracts according to salary provisions adopted by the board and allow two weeks time for teachers to accept re-election.

Before acting on the re-election of teachers, the board adopted a resolution prohibiting the election, or retention of married women as teachers in the public schools after the ensuing year. Married women now in the system will be given contracts for next year but will be ineligible thereafter.

A board resolution passed three years ago has since prohibited the employing of any married woman as a teacher who was not on the teaching staff at that time.

Secretary F. A. Clodt and Superintendent R. E. Bailey gave informal reports of the annual meeting of the board members and school executives held in Lincoln February 8 and 9.

Due acknowledgment was made of a gift presented to the high school by the Woman's club. The club has presented the school with a daylight lantern which will be used in promoting visual education in all high school classes.

Following the usual routine of business the board adjourned subject to the call of the president.

STILL VERY POORLY

From Tuesday's Daily— Mrs. Martha Murray, mother of Mrs. Bert Reed, is still in very serious condition at the Reed home here and the patient seems to be gradually sinking and at her advanced age gives but little hopes of her recovery. Mrs. Murray has been bed-ridden several weeks and each day her condition seems more grave and less chances of her recovery. Mrs. Albert Waltz, a daughter, of Fort Morgan, Colorado, and Vincent Berg, a grandson of Mrs. Murray, are here to be with the aged lady in her severe illness.

MRS BEAL IMPROVING

From Monday's Daily— The condition of Mrs. M. M. Beal, who has been suffering from heart trouble for the past few days, is reported as doing some better and the family and friends are well pleased with the showing that the patient has made and which promises her recovery in a short time.

Death Comes to Mrs. Livingston This Morning

After Several Weeks of Serious Illness Long Time Resident of This City Passes On.

From Wednesday's Daily— This morning at 8:30 at the Clarkson hospital where for several days a desperate battle for life has been waged in hope of saving her life, Mrs. T. P. Livingston passed away, the death coming as the result of an illness that baffled all efforts of medical skill and tender care to save the life of this estimable lady.

The passing of Mrs. Livingston will bring a great regret to the community where she has lived her lifetime and where her family were pioneer residents, the parents of Mrs. Livingston, the late Jacob Vallery, Jr., and Magdalena Vallery, being among the earliest settlers in Cass county in 1855.

Margaret Vallery was born in Plattsmouth where her parents were long time residents and has spent her lifetime in this community, receiving her education in the schools of this city. On January 14, 1893 she was united in marriage to Dr. Theodore P. Livingston, one of the most prominent members of the medical profession in the state. The family have continued to make their home in this community and where they have contributed much to the making of the city and the surrounding community. In the hour of sorrow that has come into his life Dr. Livingston will receive the deepest sympathy of the host of friends as his years here have been spent ministering without thought of self to the ill and the unfortunate and in caring for their physical illness in his generous and loving manner.

To share the passing of this estimable lady there remains the husband and two children, Mrs. Walter Scott, Jr., who resides in Nevada and Robert Ramsey Livingston, who resides at the home and is a student in the local high school. Both of the children and the husband were with the mother as the last hour came.

There are also five sisters and four brothers to mourn her death, Mrs. Frances E. White, Los Angeles, Mrs. M. D. Polk, Boise, Idaho, Mrs. D. T. Higginson, Los Angeles, Mrs. Katherine Minor, Los Angeles, Mrs. E. T. Dutcher, Warrensburg, Missouri, George W. Vallery, Denver, John P. Vallery, Denver, Charles A. Vallery, St. Joseph, Missouri, and L. H. Vallery, Los Angeles. Two sisters, Louise Vallery and Mrs. W. J. Straight have preceded her in death.

In the long years of the residence of the Vallery family in this state they have had an active part in the development of the state and the family has been one of the most prominent in Nebraska and the death of Mrs. Livingston will bring great regret among the large acquaintance of the family throughout the state.

The arrangements of the funeral services have not as yet been announced, the members of the family not reaching here from Omaha until late this afternoon.

SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Wednesday's Daily— Mrs. Barbara Bookmeyer who has been quite ill for some time at her home here, is reported as being somewhat improved altho her condition is still serious and requires constant care by the members of the family circle. The patient is well advanced in years and with the present attack she has been very low several times. The daughters, who are teaching in Omaha, Misses Clare and Marie Bookmeyer have been here to assist Mrs. Lillian Freeman in the care of the mother, making the trip to and from their school work each day.

DOINGS IN DISTRICT COURT

From Tuesday's Daily— This morning two actions were filed in the office of the clerk of the district court, one entitled the Home State Bank of Louisville vs. M. G. McCurdy, et al., in which the sum of $430.26 is sought to be collected on a note and the second action that of the Home State Bank against Earl J. Quinn, et al. in which the collection of a note for $84.18 is sought by the plaintiff bank. D. O. Dwyer appears in the action for the plaintiff.

Following the usual routine of business the board adjourned subject to the call of the president.

VERY HAPPY EVENT

From Tuesday's Daily— Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barkus of this city are rejoicing over the fact that a fine little daughter has come to bless their household, the little one being born on Sunday morning at the Methodist hospital in Omaha. The mother and the little daughter, Betty Mae, are both doing nicely and the occasion has been one of the greatest joy to the father and the two little sisters, who now have a playmate to share the home with them.
