

Alvo Department

A broken crank shaft on the motor car of the section crew, caused them to walk for a few days to and from their work.

Roy Bennett has not been feeling the best on account of having had a very sore throat, but is feeling much improved at this time.

P. L. Hall, president of the Greenwood State Bank, was a visitor in Alvo on last Tuesday, driving over in his car for a short time.

James H. Foreman and Ben Menchau were shelling and delivering corn to the Rehmeier elevator on Wednesday of last week.

John W. Hanning was called to Murdock on last Tuesday, where he had some business matters to look after, driving over in his car.

John Woods was looking after some business matters in Lincoln on Wednesday of last week and making purchases for the store here.

Mrs. Clo O. Schaffer has been feeling quite poorly for a few days the past week, but was reported as being some better the latter part of the week.

The stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jourdan a very pretty little girl on Tuesday of last week and she reigns in the home now, with all doing nicely.

E. G. Steele completed moving from the Casey farm to the farm of Perry G. Cook on last Wednesday, hauling the hay with four teams, and is again settled.

Charles Frolich is enjoying a new Chrysler coach, which the entire family are liking very well, and which cares for their transportation needs in excellent shape.

Wm. Coatsman and the good wife, of Weeping Water, were visiting in Alvo on Tuesday of last week and were guests at the home of their son, R. M. Coatsman and family.

The plans of arrangement of the counters and goods have undergone some changes at the Dickerson store, thus giving more and better room for the serving of its patrons.

Charles Edwards has been taking advantage of the fine weather by doing some farming. He has plowed the blue grass pasture, which should bring an abundant crop of corn.

The school caucus will be held at the Alvo school building this (Monday) evening, March 12th, when candidates will be placed in nomination for members of the board of education.

John Skinner for the first three days of last week made three trips with live stock to the market at South Omaha, and found business very good with many wanting to shingle.

In order to get a fair start with the weeds and bugs, J. W. Brobst was out in the garden on last Tuesday with the spade tilling the soil in an endeavor to make it respond to the gentle influence of spring.

John Harlan of Council Bluffs was a visitor in Alvo and vicinity for a few days last week, being a guest at the home of George Foreman and of John Hanks. He returned to his home in Iowa on last Wednesday.

Elmer Rosenow, who has been on the sick list, is now getting better, though it seems a rather tough drag, feeling as he does. Still he feels that he had as well be working as setting around waiting until he feels better.

Ted McCiney, who moved into the city of Alvo some time since has embarked in the oil business and has a tank wagon which he will use to deliver gasoline and oils of all kinds in quantities to suit his customers both in the country and city.

Art Dinges and A. B. Stromer, very close friends of Earl Dressner, who has been at the hospital in Lincoln for some time, were over last Monday to see their friend and found him making good progress following the operation which was had two weeks ago.

Z. O. Kitzel moved one day last week to a farm south of Waverly, where he will farm the place belonging to Dale Boyles, of McCook, the coming season. Ivan Althouse will farm the place on which Mr. Kitzel has been living, and which belongs to Charles Godbey.

The Mother and Daughters club of Alvo were meeting on Friday of last week at the home of Mrs. John Woods, where they were most pleasantly entertained and where they took up the matter of short cuts in sewing, and which brought all a good many ways of doing things the short way.

Reports from Fullerton, where Mrs. John B. Skinner has been caring for her mother, Mrs. J. C. Obers, who has been quite ill for some time past, are to the effect that the patient is greatly improved and that Mrs. Skinner could return home and so on last Saturday she did return. Mr. Skinner meeting his wife at Ashland with his car.

Fred Kunzmann and wife, who reside in Plattsmouth, but have been spending some time visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Guy Miller, at Winner, South Dakota, were brought home by Mrs. Miller last week, and stopped in Alvo for a visit for a day or so at the home of the sister of Mrs. Kunzmann, Mrs. Henry Miller and husband, thence continuing on to their home at Plattsmouth.

Have Fortunate Accident

Not that the matter of breaking up one's car was fortunate, but that they all came out of the wreck with whole bones and bodies, was the source for thankfulness. Sterling Coatsman, Simon Rehmeier and the latter's daughter, Elenor, were returning from the closing of the basketball tournament, which was held at Eagle on last Saturday night and when passing on a narrow bit of roadway near the home of Louis Herman, a car being driven by a man from Palmyra struck the car of Mr. Coatsman and knocked it into the ditch, where it hit with the wheels narrow and the car which was driven by Sterling was clear over to the brink of the roadway and had the other car been as far on its side, the accident would never have occurred.

Will Elect Officers

At the next regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers association, which will be held on Wednesday evening, March 21st, at 7:30, there will be held the annual election of officers. An excellent program is being arranged and a large attendance is desired.

There Will be a Mass Meeting

The people of Alvo will meet in mass convention on Wednesday evening, March 14th, for the purpose of placing in nomination two names for voting at the spring election for each of the various offices to be elected. Art Dinges, who has been the honorable mayor of the city for the past four years, has issued the statement like Calvin Coolidge, that he prefers not to be a candidate for the position again.

Surprise Their Friends

On last Sunday, February 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Snavely were married twenty-five years and it being known to their friends, with the conjunction of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Snavely, the date was allowed to pass, but on the night following—Monday night—some fifty of their friends and neighbors called at the home and made a most merry evening. A number of very appropriate presents were given and the evening was most pleasantly spent. In departing the guests extended the wish that this excellent couple might spend many more years of happily wedded life.

POLES TURN UPON JEWS

Warsaw, March 8.—Anti-Jewish riots which started in Lemberg on Tuesday, when the results of Sunday's general election showed that two Jewish deputies were among the four deputies sent to parliament by the city, continued until late yesterday. Notwithstanding the measures taken by the police, the demonstrators attacked Jewish passersby and smashed windows in Jewish homes and shops. The attack on the Jewish students' home was particularly severe. The police then took drastic measures, arresting 250 of the rioters.

A group of progressive Polish students published a statement protesting against the riots.

Practical Demonstration Made of Appliances

Miss Ruth Menoher of the Iowa-Nebraska Gas & Electric Company, Shows Many Uses.

From Thursday's Daily—The residents of this city have been very fortunate in the last year in having with them at frequent intervals, Miss Ruth Menoher, the head of the instructive demonstration department of the company in this section of the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company territory.

This talented lady was here last season with practical demonstrations of the various electrical appliances that have come into general use and which have lessened in a thousand ways the old grinding housework, and her advice and experience aided the Plattsmouth ladies in the use of these appliances and the cheapest and most effective manner of handling them.

This year Miss Menoher has been giving practical showing of the operation of many of the latest and most up to date of the electrical appliances and especially in the waffle iron showings. Miss Menoher has given the ladies the benefits of the demonstration of the iron at a very large number of gatherings over the city and practically every church society of the city has had the pleasure of witnessing the demonstrations and partaking of the very delicious waffles that this talented lady is such an artist in preparing, and which cooked electrically make a very swift and pleasant method of preparing one of the daintiest articles of food without the attendant smoke that comes from cooking them otherwise.

All lines of the electrical and gas appliances including the time and labor saving gas ranges and stoves have been placed before the ladies of this city by Miss Menoher and added very much to the knowledge that the public has had of the appliances that go to make the modern home more comfortable and lessen the labor that was formerly demanded of the housewife.

Not alone in her ability as a demonstrator has Miss Menoher given a great service to the ladies of the community, but her pleasant personality has also won her a great many friends among the residents of the city and we trust that they may have the pleasure of her presence here on many occasions in the future.

CEDAR CREEK P-T-A MEETS

The Parent-Teachers association of Dist. No. 31, Cedar Creek, held its meeting Friday evening, March 2d.

After all the business transactions and discussions of the effect of moving pictures on children as a whole and also their relation to crime, a play was presented by a number of Cedar Creek's male citizens, "Rocky Hill High School" was the name of the play.

The case included George Schroeder for the professor, and E. Wendt, C. Minniear, J. Salsberg, R. Lohnes and Robert Stivers, as pupils.

The First and Second grades, as well as the Seventh grade pupils gave a number of delightful readings. A song was rendered by the whole school at the closing.

After the entertainment, the entertainment committee composed of Mrs. M. Franke, Mrs. Messen and Mrs. W. Schneider served a very delicious luncheon.

The next meeting will be held on April 6th, 1928.

BALDWIN PROMISES VOTE

London, March 8.—Stanley Baldwin, the first British prime minister to appear before an equal suffrage meeting, promised a vast assembly of women representing 140 organizations tonight that in a few weeks "parliament would grant them complete equality with men in voting privileges."

This declaration was received with frenzied cheering by the women, who had met to celebrate the success of their bitter fight extending nearly one hundred years.

"I have selected the home secretary to be Joshua who shall lead you into the promised land, said Premier Baldwin, indicating that Sir William Joynson-Hick's would have charge of the franchise bill which will make the now famous "Votes for Plappers" a reality.

State to Repaint Signs Used on the Nebr. Highways

Cheaper to Repair Than to Buy New Ones, State Engineer Cochran Believes.

Instead of buying new markers for state and federal highways when those in use become discolored or rusted from exposure to the weather, State Engineer Cochran will have the old ones taken off their supporting posts and sent in to be repainted by the spraying process, which in most cases will make them as good as new, at about one-third of what it would cost to replace them.

Two Lincoln firms have furnished samples of what they can do in the regard on a pair of number signs which have been doing duty on the Cornhusker highway. The contract will soon be awarded by the public works department for treating a large number of road markers in the same way.

The expense is estimated at from 20 to 25 cents each, which includes not only the repainting, but also the labor of taking down the signs and putting them up again, as well as transportation both ways. If new ones were bought it would require an outlay of about 70 cents each.

Quantity production methods are employed in the repainting process so that about 50 signs can be treated in one minute's time. They are placed in racks and the paint is sprayed over that number all at once. When they have dried on one side, they are turned over and the process repeated on the other. Finally, a roller is run over the raised figures, letters and lines which paints them black, leaving an enamel finish.

There are over 15,000 markers now in place designating highway numbers. Warning signs and direction pointers are still more numerous. Some of the latter are painted with a yellow background. This can be done just as well as white with the spraying machine.

Markers nearest the cities are the ones which will have to be renewed ofttest, State Engineer Cochran and his assistants have found. This is due to the smoke in the city which settles down on them, and possibly in part to the effect of exhaust gas from so many passing cars. Rain, snow and variation of temperatures does not get away with the painted inscriptions and spot the surface as fast as smoke and soot.

Congressman Morehead has introduced a bill for a bridge over the Missouri River at Nebraska City. Plattsmouth should get a move on herself, or they may lose out. For dormacy never gets a show at anything.

TO MEASURE POLAR LIGHT

Schneectady, N. Y., March 7.—A daylight recorder, with which General Umberto Nobile of the Italian air service will attempt to measure light intensities at the north pole during the polar flight he plans to make in a dirigible this summer, has been developed in the research laboratory of the General Electric company by Dr. L. R. Koller. A photo-electric cell said to be one hundred times more sensitive than the usual instrument of this type is the basic unit of the device. The cell will record accurately light intensities to be found between starlight and direct sunlight.
