George Pelnar Directed That Body Be Sent to Mother at Omaha—Note Found in Clothing

Boston, March 20.—Only one of the six men imprisoned in the torpedo room of the sunken submarine S-4 wrote a message during their last 74 hours of life, a thorough inspection of the vessel indicated today.

This message, a brief one, was found in the clothing of Seaman George Pelnar at the Chelsea naval hospital, where the bodies of the last eight of the S-4's crew were taken following the removal last night. It was written in red crayon on a small piece of cardboard, and read:

"My body to Pelnar, 5608 South Nineteenth street, Omaha, Neb." The address was that of Pelnar's mother, Mrs. Kate Melziva, listed in official naval records as his next of kin.

The finding of the message was announced by Secretary Wilbur, who came here today to inspect the S-4 in her drydock and to thank the officers and men of the salvage fleet for their successful efforts during their three months at Provincetown.

No record or note relating to the last hours which Lieutenant Graham Fitch and his four other comrades spent in the torpedo compartment was found. The members of the naval board of investigation, however, have not given up all hope of finding one. They said that such a message might be on the deck of the compartment, which has not yet been cleaned of its coating of sand.

The existence of the Pelnar note became known to the investigating board only after it was released to the press by Secretary Wilbur. A short time before, Captain J. D. Wilson, senior member of the board had assured the secretary that he had made a close search for messages and had found none.

All of the eight bodies removed yesterday to the Chelsea naval hospital have been identified and prepared for burial. The navy department has authorized the hospital to ship them to the relatives. When the bodies leave the hospital, that of Lieutenant Fitch will have an escort party of six officers and 15 men, and each of the seven enlisted men will have a detail of a chief petty officer and eight men.—World-Herald.

NEBRASKA MID-MONTH CROP REVIEW, MARCH

The condition of winter wheat has improved since February 15 and the probable abandonment is less than reported then according to a special report from grain and elevator men to the state and federal division of agricultural statistics. Condition of wheat on March 15 was reported as 82% and probable abandonment 8.4% say the grain men.

Now the southwestern counties and spots in some of the eastern Platte valley counties are the only places reporting serious need of moisture immediately. As much as 4 inches of rain in parts of the state were reported the first half of March and opinion vary from the "best prospects in ten years," from Thayer county to "farmers state 50% of the plants are dead" in Dundly, around Benkelman. In general prospects are good if normal precipitation occurs during the next few weeks.

Personal investigation by an out of state crop reporter gave the report that much of the seed in the southwest did not germinate. Less than 10% of the grain men reported this condition as above normal in their territory but in the southwest it was estimated 18.7% of the seed did not grow. For the state the estimate was only 8% as failing to start. The condition of wheat reported on February 15, in the regular mid-month report was 80.4% and abandonment 10.3% of the seeded acreage.

SUNNYSIDE CLUB

Our club met March 14th with Mrs. Ivan Deles Dernier and held our annual Achievement day.

A program was given by the members, consisting of singing, two short plays and a piano number by Mrs. Milbern. She played "Humoresque." We had studied about the composer as one of the Music Memory lessons.

Many garments were on display and showed the various ways of short cuts that we had learned. There were several interesting variations of the use of the one hour dress pattern.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Topf, served very dainty refreshments, which brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.

We will hold our next meeting March 27th, with Miss Bertha Nickles.

WORK FAVORING HOOVER

Washington, March 19.—Secretary Work predicted today that Herbert Hoover will be the next president of the United States. Dr. Work, who is a close friend and political adviser of the commerce secretary, declared Hoover would be nominated as the republican candidate on the first ballot and would receive more votes than any man in either party could put into the field for the presidential election. Hoover is "pretty well established all over the country," Mr. Work said. He expressed the belief that none of the republican candidates already announced could muster enough strength to oppose the commerce secretary successfully.

SPEEDY ACTION PRESAGED

Washington, March 19.—Speedy adoption of the conference report on radio legislation when it is presented tomorrow to the house was predicted today by interested republican representatives. Representatives Lehlbach of New Jersey and Clancy of Michigan, two republicans had a part
