Social Circle Club Holds a Fine Achievement Day

Present Play and Style Show at the Lewiston Church With a Large Attendance.

The Social Circle club of the vicinity of Lewiston, south of this city, held their Achievement day program on Thursday evening of the past week at the Lewiston church and which was very largely attended by the members as well as visiting representatives from the other clubs, with a number of the men of the community also present to enjoy the event.

This enterprising club has sixteen members and have had a record of practically all 100 per cent meetings since their establishment and the keenest interest has been shown in the club work.

The club arranged a fine program that was opened by the singing of "America" and followed by the presentation of the Achievement day play, "Clever Husband" in which the club members played very cleverly and won a great deal of approval for their work.

The club ladies had a fine display of their work from the plans that they have followed this season and in addition to this the ladies wore on this occasion dresses that they had prepared from the patterns and materials suggested in their lessons and which gave some very pleasing effects.

The club was disappointed that County Agent L. R. Snipes and Mrs. South of Weeping Water, were unable to be present, owing to illness, as they were to have addressed the meeting.

The ladies enjoyed on this pleasant event a number of guests from the sister clubs, Mrs. Fred Druelner of the Merry Workers club of Mynard, Mrs. Ivan Balfour of the Union club, Mrs. J. F. Brendel of the Murray club and Mrs. Harrison Gay of the Riverview club all joining in a very interesting talk of their club work and which ranked them among the leading clubs in the county.

Miss Edna Klinger, teacher at the Lewiston school gave a very interesting and thorough account of the history of Nebraska from the earliest frontier settlement to the present time.

Mrs. Dove Asch was also presented on the program and gave two very fine banjo numbers that were much enjoyed by all of the members of the party.

The ladies served a fine luncheon and some two hundred plates of the dainty cakes and delicious coffee was served by the committee in charge, and the large crowd made the ladies of the Social Circle feel that their efforts were appreciated throughout the community.

The interest in this club work is not confined to the ladies alone as all of the members of the family are much interested and is shown by a number of the little folks. Emil, little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holsheid stated to his mother the other day when he told that he did not have to save his composition, "I'll save it and give it to mother, it may help her in her club work." The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgel Sudduth, Geraldine, told her mother, "I'll bake you cake to take to the Achievement lunch tonight." Little Maxine Hanni also made a very attractive sample for her mother's sample book.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Virgel Sudduth.

OPEN REVIVAL SERVICES

From Monday's Daily—
Last evening the series of evangelistic meetings of the First Methodist church was opened with a very fine attendance and a great deal of interest shown in the opening meeting.

The services will be continued this week by the Rev. Frank M. Drulliner of the First Methodist church of Auburn as the speaker and who has a strong and forceful message to deliver to the people of the community, and who is well known here as he was in charge of the local Methodist church for a number of years and has many friends in the community that are pleased to have the opportunity of hearing him and also to visit with him during the coming week. Rev. Drulliner is one of the able ministers of the state and his services here will add much to the effectiveness of the evangelistic meetings.

The meetings will be continued this week and next and for the week of April 1st there will be other speakers here, as Rev. Drulliner can only give one week to the services as he has a large church that requires his services.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drulliner motored down from Omaha to attend the services and to visit with the father of Mr. Drulliner. Mr. Harold Drulliner is now foreman in the composing of the Western Newspaper Union at Omaha and has been very successful in this line of work and his boyhood friends here were much pleased at the opportunity of visiting with him.

D. A. R. President Pleads for Proper National Defense

Asserts Organization Has Indorsed Program to Increase Navy; Stresses Education.

A plea for more adequate national defense—more militarism—was stressed Sunday afternoon by Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, Washington, D. C., president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at a meeting of the 500 members of the three Omaha chapters of the organization, held at the Blackstone hotel.

Mrs. Brosseau arrived in Omaha Sunday following an automobile ride from Lincoln, where she spoke Saturday night.

"We must have proper defense of the country as long as other nations continue to maintain their armies and navies," Mrs. Brosseau said. "We all want an ultimate peace, but in the meantime we must have ample protection of the country."

Quality Stressed.
Mrs. Brosseau said that the Daughters of the Revolution have indorsed the program to increase the size of the navy as proposed by Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur. The organization, she said, was in favor of the restriction of immigration but added that "it must be quality instead of quantity."

She appealed to the 500 members of the three chapters to be sure and vote at the coming presidential election.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution are not in politics; we don't care who our members vote for as long as they vote conscientiously. We want to see the best of material placed in office, regardless of party affiliation or religion."

Advocate Education.
Another feature being advocated by the organization of which she heads is education.

"Education must be pushed to the fullest degree; it means educating the American born and foreign-born with their children. Education is the keynote of our program," said Mrs. Brosseau.

Mrs. Brosseau was the guest at a luncheon Sunday noon of the directors of the three Omaha chapters. They are the Omaha chapter, the Isaac Sadler chapter and the Mary Katherine Goddard chapter.

Among the other guests of the Omaha chapters were Mrs. York A. Hinman, North Platte, state regent; Mrs. Adam McMullen, Lincoln, vice regent; Mrs. C. S. Paine, Lincoln, vice president general from Nebraska; and Mrs. G. C. Saunders, Council Bluffs, state regent of Iowa.

EARTH TREMORS KEPT UP

Mexico City, March 25.—Press dispatches from Oaxaca continue to tell of alarming conditions in that city. They state that earth tremors of minor character have continued intermittently since the heavy shock of Wednesday night. More cracks have appeared in buildings and some rooms in the state capitol, including the offices of the supreme court, have been transferred to other structures because of damage to the walls and ceilings.

Al-Sar-Ben Livestock Show.
The livestock show to be held in Omaha seems to have put new pep in club work in this county. The boys and girls who did not organize a baby beef club in time to feed for the State Fair have organized since the announcement of the show. We now have 4 baby beef clubs—Eagle Baby Beef, Clifford Jacobson, leader; Master Feeders at Avoca, Paul Wolph, leader; Plattsmouth Baby Beef, Myron Wiles, leader; and one near Ashland, lead by Harry Bricker. There is also a total of 9 ewine clubs organized.

County Achievement Day.
The one at Weeping Water will be held on Thursday, April 19th at the Congregational church, program beginning at 1:30. The one at Elmwood will be on Friday, April 20th at the American Legion building, program at 1:30.

Timely Pruning Suggestions.
Black raspberries should be pruned the latter part of March. Only about five strong canes should be left per hill and the laterals or these canes should be cut back to six inches in length. Spring pruning is best for all shrubs that bloom in the summer or fall, such as clematis, hydrangea, honey suckle, mock orange, and roses. All spring blooming shrubs, such as spirea, golden bell, flowering almond, lilac, high bush cranberry, and elder may be pruned after they have bloomed.

Help the Children Help Themselves.
In making clothing for children it is well to keep in mind points that will make it easy for the child to dress himself. Here are a few suggestions:

1. Large buttons on romper suits.
2. Two buttons about two inches apart at the sides of the romper band rather than one at each side and one in the center back.
3. For colored bloomers to be worn under dresses it is easy to distinguish front from back if the belt in front is made of white material.
4. Front closing for undergarments, as well as outer garments.
5. Separate belts are not necessary on trousers for small boys.—L. R. Snipes, Co. Extension Agent.
