King Escapes Bomb by a Narrow Margin

At Least Fifteen Killed and Forty or More Hurt in Milan Explosion

Rome, April 12.—King Victor Emmanuel's festive inauguration of his new government, which was turned into a political holocaust of crime and death which has thrown the whole of Italy into seething emotion tonight. A bomb hidden in the base of a lamp post at the entrance gate to the fair grounds in Palazzo Giulio Cesare exploded a few minutes before 10 o'clock, just before the long parade escorting the king reached the gate. The bomb evidently was placed by terrorists.

It showered iron splinters and missiles into the crowd packed in the semicircular piazza, killing 14 people outright, causing the death of another in a hospital and injuring 40 more. Among the dead were four women, two babies, one policeman and one Alpine soldier.

The king owes his life probably to the fact that he was delayed 10 minutes in getting to the fair, and took another route, leaving the procession, which was to follow him, to precede alone.

Panicky scenes followed the crash. Scores were blown for yards and dazed into unconsciousness, while many had their clothing almost blown off.

The 40 injured, who included six women, were in pitiable condition last night. Besides the women, most of the other injured were Alpine troops, who were guarding the route, and Baillias—small fascist Boy Scouts.

Premier Mussolini mobilized police and squads of special inspectors were sent to Milan. At the same time the police began making arrests everywhere.

The general opinion is that the attempt was made rather against the fascists than against the king.—World Herald.

CITIZENS BAND TOGETHER

Duluth, Minn., April 11.—Armed with a statement that their community has been terrorized "to a point" where women and children "were afraid for their lives, even in their own homes," a committee of citizens from Orr and Casson, northwoods towns, left here this afternoon for St. Paul, where they intend to ask the governor for protection from the lawless element.

The lawless element has been in control of their section of the country for three years, the citizens said in their statement, "almost without interruption or interference." Pointing to the alleged assault and murder of Mrs. Clara Brown, sixty-two year old storekeeper near Orr, who was found dead Sunday, and another death last Friday, which resulted in a second murder charge, the statement said the condition "can no longer be tolerated."

Committee members asked newspaper men not to use their names for fear some one would "get them" when they got back home. The two towns are in the heart of the north woods, not far from the Canadian boundary.

DEFENDS HAUGEN BILL PROPONENTS

Washington, April 11.—Farm leaders now in Washington working for the McNary-Haugen bill were defended Wednesday in the senate against criticism of them Tuesday by Senator Brookhart, (R.), Iowa, during his discussion of the bill and its relation to presidential candidacies.

Senator Norbeck, (R.), South Dakota, inserted into the record the names for the farm organizations represented by N. W. Murphy, whom he described as "not one of the District of Columbia farmers."

He added that Murphy had served in Washington in the interest of the bill 15 months without any salary.

The South Dakota senator also defended George N. Peck of Iowa as a real farmers' representative.

German Fliers Land on Island Off Newfoundland

First Successful Flight From East to West Won by Three Daring Aviators.

Apparently fully authenticated reports announce the German monoplane Bremen and its German-Irish crew have beaten that aviation hoodoo—nonstop westward flight of the Atlantic.

They did not completely achieve their announced objective—"Mitchel field or heaven"—but they tied in the eastern and western shores in a 34-hour jump from Ireland to Labrador, assert dispatches from several reliable sources.

Slightly damaged in a forced descent, the Bremen was said to rest under the sheer rock cliffs of Greenly island, a little "dot" on the map marking the southern tip of Labrador.

Its crew of three—Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Koch and Colonel Fitzmaurice—unharmful by the long, arduous, almost fatal flight from Baldonnel field, were guests of the island lighthouse keeper.

Baron Wires Word.

The plane landed about noon Friday, all reports agree, but because of the isolation of the spot, no news reached the outside world until nearly seven hours later. It came in a wireless message from Point Amour, Labrador, apparently relayed there by courier, and read:

"German plane landed Greenly island, No. Slightly damaged. Crew well."

Later the North German Lloyd in New York announced receipt of a wireless message from Baron Van Huenefeld, one of the crew of the Bremen, confirming the safe landing at Greenly island.

The message was: "A safe intermediate landing on Greenly island necessitated by lack of fuel and strong headwinds encountered on way."

(Signed.)

"VON HUENEFELD."

Couriers Carry News.

News that the fliers were safe was hours late in reaching the outside world because messengers had to traverse the 20 miles intervening between Greenly island and the Point Amour radio station either afoot or by dog team.

The first message sent out by the Marconi operators at St. Johns, Newfoundland, at 5:30 p. m. Friday, gave the delay in relaying. Replying to a request by Louisburg, Nova Scotia, to explain the delay the Marconi station Friday night sent out the following:

"Don't know particulars now. Only dog teams possible. About 20 miles relayed time. Have sent messages by foot."

A second message from the Point Amour station added that the delay was partly due to the fact that the landing was on an island, indicating that there was some difficulty in reaching the mainland at this season.

The Louisburg station asked whether there were any transportation facilities to Greenly island. No answer to this was recorded.—Omaha Bee-News.

MANY ARE ASKING WHETHER 'BIG BILL' WILL STEP DOWN

Chicago, April 11.—"Asteric First" headquarters was queried repeatedly today concerning Mayor William Hale Thompson's followup to his recent suggestion that he might resign if defeat befell Robert E. Crowe, co-leader with him of what until yesterday's primary was Cook county's most powerful republican faction.

The mayor, defeated in his own ward for republican committeeman, and his headquarters aides were very late getting about today after an anxious night's vigil, while they saw their candidates and proposals buried under an avalanche of votes.

It was remarked, however, that only a part of the circumstance which might bring his resignation had come to pass. The mayor said that if Judge John A. Swanson were nominated over Crowe and the elected state's attorney at the November general election he might quit his post as chief executive of the nation's second city.

FACTIONS CLAIM VICTORY

Raleigh, N. C., April 11.—Supporters of Herbert Hoover claimed three of the four instructed delegates at large to the Kansas City convention here. Lowden forces claimed the other. Of ten district delegates already chosen six have been instructed for Lowden and one for Hoover, while the other six are claimed by Hoover. Six district delegates remain to be selected to round out North Carolina's delegation of twenty.

FLOOD CONTROL BOARD IS PROPOSED IN BILL

Washington, April 12.—Creation of a special engineering board to investigate the flood situation on the Colorado river and the expenditure of $15,000,000 to meet expenses of the survey and provide for flood control structures was proposed in a bill Wednesday by Representative Douglas (D), Arizona, an opponent of the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill.

Merchants to Boost Beauty Contest Here

The Part That Plattsmouth Girls Will Have in the International Show Will Be Important.

The part Plattsmouth is going to play in the great international beauty contest, will be staged at the Parnelle theatre on Monday and Tuesday, April 23rd and 24th, will be important.

To begin with, in each state of the Union 15 to 20 cities are selected. 10 to 20 contestants in each town stage its individual contest and Miss Plattsmouth, or whatever the name of the city in question might be, is chosen by the public to represent her home town. This winner, together with a chaperon is then taken (all expenses paid) to the state capitol or, as it is in case with Nebraska, to Omaha. There she is entered against the representatives of the 15 or 20 other cities of the state, and by ballot or otherwise the state victor or Miss Nebraska, is then chosen.

This lucky girl together with a suitable chaperon are placed in a special Pullman car, all expenses paid, and given a free trip to Galveston, Texas, where she will be entered in competition with the winners from every state in the United States and sixteen foreign countries. If she comes out victoriously from this final contest, she will be named Miss Universe and receive thousands of dollars as a prize.

Now would it not be a wonderful thing for some young lady of Plattsmouth to be elevated to the honor of becoming Miss Nebraska, then sailing right along to be chosen Miss Universe?

We are not prejudiced when we think and say that Plattsmouth has girls who are every bit as beautiful as some of those who have been chosen "Miss America" in the years gone by. And it is well to remember that whoever shall be Miss Universe, will reach the inner circle of movieland, reach the great circle of movieland. Think of it, citizens of Plattsmouth, let's put our own girl in the front line and give her an opportunity to put Plattsmouth on the map of the International Beauty World.

Already three of Plattsmouth's leading business firms have entered into the right spirit by offering worth while prizes to the three girls of this vicinity who get the most votes. Let it be said now that in our city contest, voting will be done by ballot.

Plattsmouth has been highly honored by the request to take part in this great international beauty contest. It is an opportunity that never before has been available to any of Plattsmouth's young ladies.

You'll do well in getting lined up immediately with Messrs. Cloudt, Moore or Weigel of the Parnelle theatre. Any citizen between the ages of 16 and 25 (unmarried) living in Plattsmouth's vicinity may now enter this great contest.

Already a number of young ladies have registered, but there is room for a few more and we are desirous of giving an opportunity to become Miss Plattsmouth to as many as wish to have it.

Let's make Miss Plattsmouth the Miss for Miss Nebraska. What say you?

BORAH BACKERS EXPECT TO JOIN HOOVER'S CAMP

Pocatello, Ida., April 11.—Idaho's eleven votes at the republican national convention have been pledged to Senator William E. Borah, with Herbert Hoover designated as second choice for the presidential nomination.

In deciding to support the senior Idaho senator, the republican state convention here last night instructed delegates to the Kansas City convention to work for Borah's nomination and to support his candidacy as long as he remains in the race. If he fails to become the party standard bearer, the eleven votes then are to go to the commerce secretary.

A resolution calling for strict enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment was rejected by the resolutions committee. A majority decided that Senator Borah's endorsement on the prohibition question.

John Thomas of Gooding and Mrs. Gladys Terhune of Twin Falls were re-elected as Idaho's representatives on the national committee.

RESULT SATISFIES REED

Indianapolis, April 11.—Declaring that Illinois voters had done "a good job in cleaning up" by their expression at yesterday's primary election, United States Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency, asserted tonight that the action showed clearly that the people "are awakened."

Deviating from a prepared address, Senator Reed said that "people everywhere are aroused to destroy graft and hoodle and all forms of cronyism that have permeated this administration and the republican national committee. 'What happened in Illinois, is prophetic of what will happen in the United States next November,'" he said.

WHEAT FUTURES BOUGHT

Chicago, April 11.—Excited buying of future deliveries of wheat put prices wildly upward today. Fever to purchase ran high, chiefly because of the sensational showing of the latest government crop report indicating that the growth condition of new domestic winter wheat is much worse than has generally been estimated. Almost six cents a bushel was thus added today to the value of all wheat and the jump in prices was coincident with the announcement that the world's available stock of the cereal has decreased 5,367,000 bushels in the last week.

Simultaneously today there was a notable broadening of European demand for wheat shipments from North America, and it was figured that 1,500,000 bushels were taken today for prompt transfer to Atlantic consumers.

Eastern houses were conspicuous in future delivery buying during the late transactions today and trade gossip had it that much of this demand was on foreign account.
