Twenty Reasons Why You Should See This Picture

Will Be Shown at the Parmele Theatre for Three Days, Starting Sunday May 6th.

1. It was directed by James Cruze, the man who made "The Covered Wagon."
2. It was written directly for Paramount by Laurence Stallings, author of "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory."
3. Six months were spent preparing for the picture before the first scene was filmed.
4. James Cruze made a special trip from Hollywood, California, to Tripoli, Africa, that he might obtain a first hand view of the locale in which the story takes place.
5. Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnnie Walker are in the featured cast. They were chosen for their parts from a list of several hundred candidates of both the stage and screen.
6. More than two thousand actors and fifty old time windjammers take part in the gigantic battle scenes for the production.
7. Twelve days on the high seas were spent by the "Old Ironsides" company searching for a terrific storm for the production.
8. Five hundred sailors were employed to man the square-riggers in the photography.
9. An exact duplicate of the frigate "Constitution" was constructed from the original plans obtained from the Navy Department of the United States.
10. George Godfrey, contender for the heavyweight championship of the world, plays an important part in "Old Ironsides."
11. An island in the Pacific ocean, fifty miles long and twenty-five miles wide was almost entirely taken over by the Paramount company in filming the picture.
12. Thirty complete cities were erected for the production. They were: Salem, Massachusetts; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Tripoli, Africa, and a gigantic tent city covering an area of two square miles, used for the housing of the thousands of players and staff members while on location.
13. The fort of Tripoli, probably the largest exterior set ever constructed, will be seen in "Old Ironsides." Erected at a tremendous cost, the stronghold towers more than two hundred feet in height and is a quarter of a mile long. It is almost completely destroyed in the battle scenes for the production.
14. Three months were spent upon an island in the Pacific ocean filming the exterior scenes of "Old Ironsides." This is one of the longest location shooting records.
15. Every foot of "Old Ironsides" was made with panchromatic film—a material which photographs objects so clearly that they are shown upon the screen almost as they are visible in actual life.
16. The hero in "Old Ironsides" is a battleship—the frigate "Constitution."
17. Practically no make-up was used by the featured cast of Esther Ralston, Wallace Beery, George Bancroft, Charles Farrell and Johnnie Walker in "Old Ironsides."
18. Preparations even more detailed than were made by Stephen Decatur and Captain Edward Preble in their memorable conquest of Tripoli Bay were employed by James Cruze for the filming of a reproduction of that battle for "Old Ironsides."
19. Eight months spent preparing and filming the battle of Tripoli Bay for the photoplay. The entire encounter, as it actually took place in 1804, is pictured in every detail.
20. An entirely new type of motion picture camera, constructed so that it will photograph the rolling motion of a vessel without itself being subject to movement, was invented for use in filming the battle scenes upon the Pacific ocean for "Old Ironsides."
21. This picture will be shown at the Parmele Theatre for three days, starting Sunday.

New Interstate League to Open Season Sunday

Vinton Street Merchants Will Be the Foe of the Local Team in Opening Game.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The official opening of the new Interstate baseball league will be held on Sunday, May 6th, with the weather being such that the new infant organization can stage their curtain raiser.

The opening date will see the Omaha members of the league playing in the smaller towns, the Vinton Street Merchants clashing with Plattsmouth, the Knights of Columbus with the Council Bluffs Athletics, North Side Athletic club at Malvern and the Fort Crook Soldiers with Missouri Valley.

The game here will be called at 3 o'clock and will be made as much of a notable event as possible, the Eagles band having promised to come out and get the season officially opened and will lead the procession to the baseball park where the opening fling in the baseball season of 1928 will be staged.

It is expected to have Mayor John P. Sattler hurl the first ball of the game and with Claud C. Smith, president of the council doing the receiving—if he can.

The local management has secured the services of Faye Spidell, who was on the team last season as catcher, but who will be shifted to some other position this season as the team now has the services of Ed Gradoville as the receiver of the team.

The locals feel well pleased in the fact that they will have the services of Ralph Gansmer in the short territory for the coming season, Ralph being one of the most promising of the younger players that has worked out with the locals for a great many seasons and should develop into a real find in the short territory to replace the terrible Dutchman, who is to be his immediate successor.

Ernest Trumble, now located here with the Plattsmouth State Bank, will also be a strong addition to the team and his services as a pitcher will be a great asset to the team and give two good hurlers, himself and Swanson to the team, in addition to whatever other fingers that Manager Wolff may be able to land.

The new league will have some real teams and a fast quality of baseball may be looked for when the new league gets started to function.

The local team will need the patronage of the public to place the kind of a team that will be a credit to the city in the field and those who wish to see a good fast team here and the city to enjoy the advertising of a winning team should be out and help by the depositing of the admis-

CURRIE WINS COURT CASE

Cobourg, Ontario, May 1.—General Sir Arthur Currie was awarded $500 today in his $29,000 libel suit against two newspaper men for an article charging that Canadian lives were needlessly sacrificed on armistice day.

The defendants were F. W. Wilson, publisher of the Port Hope Guide, in which the article appeared, and W. T. R. Preston, who wrote the article.

Sir Arthur, who was commander of the Canadian corps in the World War, asserted that he was libelled when the newspaper article stated that Canadian headquarters for its own glory ordered the occupation of Mons on Armistice day, and thus sacrificed many lives, altho notice that the armistice was to be signed had been received.

BUYS NEW CARS

From Wednesday's Daily—
Fred Ahrens, the representative of the Graham-Paige Auto Co., in this city has just closed the deal for the sale of two of the nifty four door sedan type of this well known car. One of the sedans has been purchased by Dr. R. P. Westover and the other by Attorney J. A. Capwell.

THRU HIGHWAY PROPOSED

Washington, May 1.—A proposal to create a commission to make a survey for the construction of a transcontinental, arterial, rapid transit highway was made today in a bill introduced by Representative Rathbone, republican, Illinois. The committee would be appointed by the president to consider a transportation artery "which will adequately serve the immense and growing traffic and travel of this nation."

In a statement issued coincidental with the introduction of the bill Rathbone said "the construction of such a transcontinental highway as this bill contemplates would not only make automobile travel much more expeditious, but would prevent many accidents."

WILL CROSS TROOPS

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday Captain Cooper of the Quartermaster department of the Seventh army corps headquarters, was here from Omaha, to discuss with the board of county commissioners the crossing of the King of Trails bridge by the troops of Fort Crook, which soon start on a price-free march. The army officers have found the pinch of the lack of appropriations for the cost of transportation charges over the bridge and desired to have arrangements made whereby the troops might be allowed to use the bridge. The board to aid the government officers in reaching the local range on the march of the troops, approved the crossing of the bridge by the troops and will place the matter before State Engineer Cochran for his approval, as the state issues orders regulating the rates and toll charges. The approval of the state is expected and the troops be able to march over Monday on their first test march without trouble from the toll charges.

POSTER CONTEST

In the poster contest which has been conducted by the Public Library, Matthew Lloyd was the only one who was successful in naming the artist of the poster. The prizes were the poster, the work of Miss Anna Peoples are very beautiful in their originality, each one represents a story familiar with the children of the 4-6 grades, the grades permitted to enter the contest.

The prizes are to the choice of the posters. The prizes will be awarded Friday afternoon after school. The children mentioned above are requested to be at the Public Library at that time.

T. B. DEATH RATE LOW

New York, N. Y. April 30.—A new low tuberculosis death rate—100.1 per 100,000—has been set for the month of March in the light of an index set by the more than 18,000,000 industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. This record is one of the best measures of the success which has attended the campaign against tuberculosis in America. The previous March minimum rate for this disease of 114.1 per 100,000 was recorded only last year.

"March and April are the months which register the maximum death rates for tuberculosis year after year," said Dr. Louis L. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan in announcing the new record, "while the lowest is almost always recorded in September.

"Only eight years ago—in March, 1920—the tuberculosis mortality rate among Metropolitan industrial policyholders was 178.7 per 100,000 and the September figure was 16.1. Thus the death rate, in 1928, in the month of highest mortality has actually declined to a point below that recorded eight years ago in the month of lowest mortality.

"Eight years ago, no one would have dared to predict a death rate from tuberculosis in March of 100 per 100,000 wage earners and their families. Yet the fall in the rate has year after year exceeded expectations and apparently even greater gains in the control of the disease are in sight."
