Stine's Grocery

Union, Nebraska

The usual large number of Unionites were seen at the Legion dance at Plattsmouth Saturday night.

Attorney C. L. Graves, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Union and was visiting with his many friends here on last Sunday.

Ross Niday shelled and delivered corn to the Union elevator on Monday of this week and enjoyed a very good price for the yellow cereal.

Arrangements have been made for the keeping open of the Union drug store all day Sunday hereafter, in stead of only till noon, as heretofore.

Earnest Hill, of Nebraska City, has been in Union installing water in the homes here and will continue as long as he shall have work in this line.

F. H. McCarthy was called to Plattsmouth on last Monday afternoon, he driving over to the county seat town to look after some business matters.

Mrs. Charles Green, who was sick for several days with a very serious attack of the flu, was able to return to her teaching at the Factoryville school on Tuesday morning of this week.

J. P. Wilson has been painting the Banning garage building on upper Main street and making the place look fine for its occupant, Mr. Gilbert Hill, the genial mechanic and service man.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor who has been very poorly for the past week, was able to be out on last Monday and visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hubback, north of Union, for a time on last Monday afternoon.

A. R. Dowler, of Weeping Water, a representative of the Cole Motor company, was a visitor in Union for a short time on last Monday afternoon, where he was looking after some business matters for the company.

J. C. Niday, who was injured in one of the knees last week, and who was very lame since then, was able to be about town on a pair of crutches and is showing some improvement, and is hoping to be better soon.

Gilbert Hill, the garage man, who keeps his eyes open, was able to recover one of the stolen cars which was left on the highway near Union last Sunday, and returned it to the owner, which netted this gentleman a few dollars as reward.

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE

Plattsmouth, Neb.—Saturday Night Barn Yard Twins Orchestra

FREE LUNCH 50 CENTS

Elmer Withrow, have been very ill with an attack of pneumonia each, and while they have been very seriously ill and so remain, they are showing some improvement and it is hoped that they will soon be well again.

E. R. Moore and the family and P. L. Anderson and family, accompanied by friends from Nebraska City enjoyed a very pleasant picnic which they had at the sand pits near Cedar Creek, and where they enjoyed fishing and the beautiful scenery. They dined in the open and fished to their heart's content.

Rev. G. A. Randall, who was pastor of the Methodist church for four years and left this charge some ten years since, to take another, was a visitor in Union on last Monday afternoon, visiting his many friends here, while on his way from Scottia, where he is the minister, to Kansas City, where he is to attend a district convention of the Methodist church.

A Death in the Family is all that would keep a lot of people from attending the Legion dance in Plattsmouth Saturday night. Crowd is getting bigger all the time.

Selling Many Cars

Louis Burbee, the distributor for the Durant and Star cars, has been meeting with excellent success in his sales, and has disposed of some five cars since accepting the agency, two weeks ago. The last car, which was a sedan, went to the county seat, where these cars are sold by "Bill" Gorder, an enterprising young man, who had a customer for this particular model and so Mr. Burbee allowed Mr. Gorder to take it, securing another in its place. Mr. Burbee went to Omaha after the other car right away.

High School Commencement

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of the commencement exercises at the closing of the school year, the same to be given at the gymnasium hall on the evening of May 17th, beginning promptly at 8:00 o'clock. R. W. Eaton, of Omaha, a most gifted speaker, will give the principal address.

Will Preach Baccalaureate

The class of 1928 has signaled their desire to have the Rev. W. A. Taylor deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the class, and which has been accepted by that eminent speaker. The class will in no way be disappointed in the excellent treat which they will receive in the address which they are to get. Rev. Taylor is more competent to deliver and with the very pleasing manner of his delivery as well as the worth-while thoughts which he will leave for those who are to go out into the world, they are most fortunate in their selection of a speaker of his ability.

Making Good Progress

The ditching for the installation of the water system for the hustling city of Union has been completed and on last Monday afternoon, the machine which was used for the work, was loaded on a car for shipment to the next place where this company will install a system. The other work, which includes laying of the mains and installation of water in the various residences and business houses of Union, is now progressing. The water was turned on Monday for a test of the mains, which withstood the pressure very well, except for a few leaks that are being corrected. Everything will be tested out thoroughly before covered up.

Earl Merritt Very Poorly

Earl Merritt, the painter and decorator, has been suffering very much for the past week from an attack of pneumonia, which has kept this excellent gentleman at his home and confined to his bed for some time. The best of care is being given to the patient in the way of nursing and medical attention, and it is hoped that he will soon be on the road to good health again.

Robbers Again at Union

Burglars again visited the hustling city of Union last week and seem to think there is a crop of things to be had for the mere coming and getting them every few weeks. This time they visited the store of A. L. Becker and Gill Hill, the garage man. They did not get away with very much, but their continued breaking and entering is very exasperating.

The state department had some bloodhounds here to see if they could run down the thieves, but were not able. Someone who probably thought the dog of Mrs. Mabel E. Reynolds might be in the way of another robbery, shot and killed her dog, and have removed from the city a good dog and a friend of everybody in town.

Visited Here Last Week

Mrs. Jack Lawthers, of South Dakota, who was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mark while in Union and who with Mr. and Mrs. Mark visited in Plattsmouth on last Saturday, where all were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mark, later departed for her home in the north after having enjoyed a very pleasant visit while here.

Tragedy Brings Strange Stories of Old Residence

Place of Friday's Tragedy Has Before Been Scene of Death and Buried Money.

The terrible tragedy of Friday night that was one of the worst of the month has brought to our city's history has brought in its wake many interesting stories of the little three room house that has in the past been the scene of other tragic deaths and buried treasure.

Old residents of that part of the city recall that a great many years ago the then occupant of the house had ended his life by shooting himself with a shotgun, the suicide occurring in the same room where the shooting of last Friday afternoon occurred. This incident had been forgotten until the recent tragedy revived the memories of the residents of that section of the city as to the suicide of the long ago.

It is also stated that when the former owner of the property, Mrs. Burian moved to the place she was engaged in cleaning up the yard and on having a stump removed from the yard discovered some $300 buried in the tree stump and which had evidently been placed there years before as the tree stump was decaying with the ravages of time. This money was later placed in the First National bank and where the greater part was lost in the failure of the bank in 1924.

The history of the house seems to be one of sorrow and disaster and what is left of the structure is now pretty well wrecked by the search after the $1,000 that the last owner of the house reported that he had buried there.

ELEVATOR BURNS

From Wednesday's Daily—Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the 12,000 bushel elevator at South Bend, owned by Glen Weaver was found to be on fire and before the ravages of the flames could be checked the structure was completely destroyed.

At the time of the fire a box car was being loaded with wheat and all but 200 bushels of the carload had been placed in the car when the blaze was discovered by the father of Mr. Weaver, the blaze being first noticed on the roof of the elevator. The fire had evidently burned through the siding of the elevator from the engine room and when found had gained such a headway that it was impossible to check as there is no fire fighting equipment at the town aside from the old time bucket brigade.

It is thought that the fire was caused from an exhaust of the gas engine used in the operation of the elevator, but this has not as yet been definitely fixed as the cause of the fire.

The carload of grain standing on the track near the elevator was saved from destruction by the prompt action of the driver of a telegraph line repair truck that was near the scene of the fire, the driver of the large truck hitching onto the car and being able to move it sufficiently to get it in the clear of the fire.

GRANT A REHEARING

From Wednesday's Daily—The state supreme court has granted a rehearing in the case of Lorenz Leiner vs. the C. B. & Q. Railroad, an action for damages. This case was decided in the district court in favor of the defendant railroad and then appealed to the state supreme court by the plaintiff where a hearing before one division of the state commission resulted in the case being remanded for a new trial. The supreme court has ordered the rehearing of the case against the railroad company.

THE PLATTSMOUTH ROOTERS

On Friday evening, May 4th at 8 o'clock our regular club meeting was called to order by the president, Homer Spangler. We opened our meeting by singing America and giving our club yell. After the business meeting, our leader, John B. Kaffenberger, owner of the Peerless Stock farm, took charge and gave us instructions on the kid and how to arrange our hog house. He has some very interesting things for us in the future, such as judging and demonstration teams, William Wetenkamp, Jr. joined our club. We have nine members now.

Friends and friends are welcome to attend these meetings. Next meeting will be May 18th at the Mynard Community Hall.

Claims She Did Not Sign Check and Was not At Nebraska City on That Day.

Although she denied that she had presented the disputed check for payment at the Heintzelman store last week, Mrs. Tillie Schwartz, tall and rather attractive wife of a Cass county farmer, was bound over for trial in district court. The hearing was held before Judge John M. Dierks, county court.

Mrs. Schwartz furnished bond for $500, with William Hoback, a neighbor as surety.

Mrs. Heintzelman testified that Mrs. Schwartz was the woman who had presented the check, $10.75 and signed with the name of Mrs. S. S. Wilson, for payment; that she had cashed the check and given the money to Mrs. Schwartz.

Mrs. Schwartz testified that she did not sign the check and had never seen it before. She testified that she was not in Nebraska City on the day in question, detailing to the court what she had done about her home. Harold Ward, hired man for the Schwartz family, declared that Mrs. Schwartz was at home, Harold Dodson, a neighbor, testified, too, that Mrs. Schwartz was home and Mrs. Nettie Mauney, Union, said she had talked over the telephone to Mrs. Schwartz both in the morning and afternoon. Adolph Ross, owner of the land tiled by Schwartz, said he had seen the defendant about the premises several times during the day.

Mrs. S. S. Wilson, Nebraska City, testified that she had not signed the check in question.

On a previous occasion Mrs. Schwartz pleaded guilty to a felony charge and since that time had been released on parole. To County Attorney Heinke, who holds more than a dozen checks carrying the same handwriting, Mrs. Schwartz admitted writing several pieces of the "red paper," but emphatically declared she had not written the check on which the present complaint was based.—Nebraska City News-Press.
