Alvo School Commencement. The closing of the year's school for the Alvo consolidated district was held at the school building last Wednesday and was well attended when the large class of this year received their diplomas from R. M. Coatman, and went out into the world to make for themselves a home, and also a mark testifying to the excellence of the schools which had tutored them for the competitive contest for success which is one of the features of this day and time. A most appreciative program had been prepared, and which was also well received.

The principal address of the evening was that given by District Judge James T. Begley of Plattsmouth, whose subject was "The Value of Goals," and which he drew attention to the fact that one was striving for by having some object to work for.

Hears Niece Had Died. Late last week Mr. A. I. Bird received the news of the serious illness of the daughter of his sister, Mrs. Amy Elder, who is also a sister of Mesdames Wm. Kitzel and A. J. Friend. The daughter of Mrs. Elder was about twenty-three years of age, and was very ill when the word was sent and immediately the two sisters, and brother, Mr. Art Bird, and his son, Westley Bird, departed for the home of the patient who resided in Kansas, and who continued to grow worse and on Monday evening passed away. The party remained for the funeral and to tender what aid possible.

Mrs. Rosenow the Postmistress. In the examination which was held some time since, Mrs. Pauline Rosenow scored the highest and has been appointed as the Postmistress of Alvo, and during the time which she has been substitute postmistress has

H. L. BORNEMEIER, Secretary of School Board District No. 102.

Old Citizen Dies at Utica. Wm. Aulthouse, who came to this portion of the country near fifty years ago, and after a long residence here, removed to near Utica, where he has resided for also a long period of years, after a short illness passed away early last week at the late home there.

He was near ninety years of age, and was an uncle of Mrs. J. Aulthouse of near Alvo. Also was a brother of Mr. George Aulthouse near Eagle. The relatives from here were over to Utica on last Friday where they attended the funeral.

Mr. Wm. Aulthouse, when he came to Cass county settled on what is now the west eighty of John Sutton, and is remembered by the older residents when he was a farmer here and was most highly respected, and one of the best of citizens.

Will Observe Memorial Day. Instead of the regular services which would ordinarily come May 30th for Memorial day, arrangements have been effected that the day will be celebrated at Alvo on Sunday, May 27th, and will be held at the Methodist church, the Memorial address will be delivered by Rev. Ray True, who is the past state chaplain, and under the direction of the American Legion, with the exercises at the cemetery at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The graves will be properly decorated before the time and the exercises will be participated in by the firing squad with their bugler from Lincoln.

King School Closes. The King school of western Cass county closed a very successful year on last Friday which was celebrated by a picnic which was held at the grove at the home of Walter Franks west of Alvo, and attended by a large number of the patrons and friends of the school.

Brooder House Burns. Early last week just as the farmers were coming in from the fields the chicken house, which was a portion used as a brooder house for a picnic which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cook, caught fire from the explosion of the lamp which was used for warming the young chicks, and was consumed before anything could be done, to extinguish the fire.

Mr. Cook hastened to the home and grasping a bushel measure of metal and was able to get it once full of water, and drenched the house as well as he could, and seemed to check the flames for a short time, but before he could get the second one there, the flames had gotten beyond control. The little daughter succeeded in driving some of the chickens out of the house, but the most of them were destroyed. It was but a few minutes until the entire neighborhood was there, the cars filling the yard and all doing what they could to extinguish the flames but to no effect, for the building burned entirely. Fear was felt for a time that the barn would also become ignited, but by herculean effort that was averted. There was no insurance on the building burned, and the loss is felt by Mr. and Mrs. Cook very keenly, and which, without the loss of the chickens was about one hundred and fifty dollars and making it rather late for growing another flock.

Card of Appreciation. We desire to extend our hearty appreciation of the kindly services of our friends and neighbors who responded so quickly when the fire consumed our chicken house, and threatened our barn. We surely appreciate the kindness which prompted their efforts to serve us at that time.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cook.

Alvo Citizen Takes Part of a Moving Target

Anton King Receives Load of Bird-shot Fired at Him by Father-in-Law.

Anton King, a resident of near Alvo had the startling experience a few days ago of being a moving target while the birdshot from the shotgun of his father-in-law, Joe Weaver, played around him and some found lodgment in the person of Mr. King as he fled from the Weaver home near Gretna.

The King family had gone to Gretna to visit at the Weaver home and as the day progressed the family indulged in arguments that waxed warmer and warmer, it is claimed until at last the battle grew from words to blows, and it is alleged that Mr. Weaver and Mr. King engaged in several rounds of fast fistic action and in which Mr. Weaver almost scored a technical knockout when it is claimed that Mr. King grabbed the family rocking chair and smote the father-in-law over the dome with the chair and cut a very large and deep gash on the head of Mr. Weaver but which failed to stop the father-in-law, who it is alleged then grabbed a shotgun standing nearby and at which time Mr. King started to retreat from the house, the retreat growing into a route as Mr. Weaver drew a "bead" and opened fire. The first round was wild and he ahead of the running son-in-law, but the second round was placed, and how! Mr. King returned home and later was taken to Lincoln where an X-ray examination disclosed that there was a number of shot lodged in one of his arms, as well as in other parts of his person, and which caused him considerable inconvenience in setting down.

The second act of the family argument is being staged at Papillion, the county seat of Sarpy county and where the scales of justice will be balanced for the parties in the trouble.

"CALLS" ROGERS' RECENT PROMISE. Sometime ago, Will Rogers, humorist, aviation enthusiast and "unofficial" ambassador of the United States to countries far and near, made a gesture of complaint and criticism, promising to furnish the point to any town whose citizens would point the name of their town atop the flat roof of some prominent building, so that aviators aloft might know where they were.

Plattsmouth has decided to "call" Mr. Rogers and he has been asked to send on the point.

LATE PLANTED CORN WAS BEST FOR YEAR 1927. Beatrice, Neb., May 16.—"While most farmers are apparently in a big hurry to get their corn planted, I propose to take my time," said Ferd Schultz, Rockford township farmer and democratic candidate for state senator.

"About the best corn I ever raised on my farm was planted June 1 last year," he remarked, "and it averaged nearly 60 bushels to the acre. If the ground is warm and the planting a trifle late, corn will grow much faster than if planted early and allowed to lay in the cold ground for days before it germinates. It is stronger and makes better grain when it begins to grow as soon as it is in the ground."

Coolidge Vetoes Bill Raising Pay of Postal Clerks

Measure Would Have Applied to Salaries of Night Workers —Others Rejected

Washington, D. C., May 18.—President Coolidge today vetoed a bill to appropriate $3,500,000 for roads on the public domain and on Indian reservations. Immediately after the veto message was read in the senate Senator Odell (rep., Nev.) author of the bill said he would ask the senate to override the veto.

The president sent to congress a second veto on a bill authorizing certain Indians in the state of Washington to file claims against the government before the court of claims. The president in his message said the claims totaled $9,125,000 and were not based on any treaties or agreements. Senator Jones (rep., Wash.) author of the Indian bill, announced that he also expected to ask the senate to vote to override the veto.

The president also vetoed a house bill to provide for the payment to postal service employees to an additional 10 per cent of their hourly pay for night work. It would have applied to supervisory employees, clerks, watchmen, messengers, laborers and motor vehicle employees in first and second class postoffices, carriers of the city delivery service and to clerks in the railway mail service.

Mr. Coolidge also placed his disapproval upon another house bill proposing the co-ordination of all the federal public health activities and the establishment in the public health service of a nurse corps.

Three other house bills were vetoed by the president. One would have granted allowances to fourth class postmasters for rent, fuel, light and equipment. Another would have promoted Captain George R. Armstrong, retired, to a Lieutenant colonel. The third would have granted a hearing before a retiring board to Edmund F. Hubbard, a former captain in the regular army.—World Herald.
