

MURDOCK DEPARTMENT.

PREPARED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE JOURNAL.

Robert Hunter, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor to Murdock, being a guest of Henry Heinemann for a short time on last Wednesday.

The Evangelical conference has changed the Rev. A. Stauss and H. R. Kropp, the Murdock pastor going to Norfolk and the Norfolk pastor coming to Murdock.

A. W. Cline and Carl Weigel, of Plattsmouth, were in Murdock during the past week, advertising a special show, which was being put on the screens at Plattsmouth last week.

L. A. Gordon and wife, of Omaha, were visiting in Murdock for the day last Sunday, they driving over to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Utt, the parents of Mrs. Gordon.

It was a happy occasion when the stork brought a very fine little baby girl to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Richards of South Bend, on last Saturday. All concerned are happy.

Baruch Golding, of Plattsmouth, was a business visitor in Murdock for a few hours on last Wednesday, and was consulting the bank people in regard to the titles to some property in town.

Warren Richards was a visitor for a few moments in Murdock on last Wednesday, driving over to meet the train with some visitors who were returning to the west after having visited at Wabash.

Miss Elsa Bornemeier was a visitor in Lincoln with some of her friends, remaining over night and also looking after some shopping the following morning, before returning home in the evening.

Muriel Gillespie, who has been making his home in Chicago, for some time past, where he is engaged in business, arrived in Murdock last week for a visit with his parents and friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. A. J. Tool and son, Douglass, who have been spending a week in Kansas City at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Work, returned home last week and report a most excellent time while they were away.

Phillip Buskirk, of near Greenwood, was a visitor for the day last Wednesday at the home of his brother, Milo, and was nursing a very sore arm, which was broken some time ago and is in the process of healing.

Notwithstanding the fact that E. W. Thingam was not feeling the best last week and should have been taking a rest, he was hopping to the matter of keeping the truck rolling with the hauling of stock and goods.

L. Neitzel went to Omaha to see his old friend, Robert C. Uhlig, who was hurt at Weeping Water two weeks ago by some reckless driver. Mr. Uhlig is getting along fine now and will be out on the road again in about two weeks.

Since the closing of the Murdock schools, Joe Gutham, who is known among his pals as "Little Joe," and who always wants to be doing something, has been getting exercise by cutting dandelions from the yard and has it sure looking fine.

J. B. Goodridge and little daughter, Miss Margaret, and Marjorie Trembly, and Helen Boyles, of Elmwood, were visiting in Murdock last week, Mr. Goodridge coming to look after some business matters and the girls coming along for the ride.

J. Johanson has completed the moving of the building which he recently purchased from Gust Ruge, to one of his lots near his residence, and has gotten it on the foundation ready to make the changes which he is contemplating in order to transform it into a modern residence.

Henry A. Guthmann and wife were visiting for over the week end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Austin Smith, of that place, and where all enjoyed the visit very much. It will be remembered that Dr. and Mrs. Smith formerly made their home in Murdock.

Mrs. Paul Schewe and the family are enjoying a visit for the next few days from some cousins, Mr. and Mrs. M'Ke Track, who drove over from their home at Storm Lake, Ia., for a visit, it being the first time in a quarter of a century that they have had an opportunity to enjoy each other's company. They surely had a fine visit while here.

The alumni of the Murdock school have arranged for a meeting and banquet, which is to be held on June 2nd, at which time a very delightful get-together is planned, and as the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Angwert will come on June 1st, the celebration of that event will also be a portion of the other and a joyous time is looked for.

A number of the young people of Murdock, among them Daniel Eichoff, Lester Thingam, Otto Buck, Henry Schroeder, were over to Louisville on last Tuesday, where they went to do some fishing, catching a number of the funny tribe, which they ate and enjoyed the feast. The fish which they secured seemed to be all in one place—a grocery store—and were packed very closely together in a tin box—sardines.

Fred Deickmann last week purchased what is known as the Chris Guerr home, paying for the same the sum of $2,700. In the near future he will move into the newly acquired residence, having it so when any of the children come, they will find a home and its comforts there for them. Mr. Deickmann has secured a very comfortable home for himself and a good piece of property in a good town.

Mrs. Turner McKinnon's birthday anniversary fell on last Tuesday and on Wednesday evening, H. W. Tool, her brother, went over to greet the sister and visit for a short time with the family. On Thursday evening, Harold was over to Weeping Water, where he visited with his sister, Mrs. Fred H. Gorder. A small fire the Monday before this frightened the Gorder family and came near doing damage to their home, but fortunately was extinguished before it had made much headway.

Crop Not So Bad

Last Wednesday W. T. Weddell shipped the last car of wheat of last year's crop, it being the seventy-seventh one to be shipped from the two elevators in Murdock. Of the 77 cars shipped during the year, 57 of them went to market in 90 days—all of them at prices not the highest. Mr. Weddell has a plan that if followed, would never crowd the market with a surplus of grain, and that tire year and ship about one-twelfth of the grain which the farmer has to sell during each calendar month, and thus solve the mooted question that has been puzzling the legislators who have been struggling with the McNary-Haugen bill for many months.

Entertained the Ladies Aid

On Wednesday last week, Mrs. Fred Buell, at her pleasant country home, entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church of Elmwood, at which time there were some thirty-five of the society in attendance, and where all surely enjoyed the occasion most pleasantly. On departing, they all declared Mrs. Buell a most capable hostess.

Will Hold Services

Arrangements have been completed for the holding of Memorial services and the decoration of graves at the Wabash cemetery, which will be on Wednesday of this week, and with a capable speaker and a program which will be sponsored by the towns of Murdock and Wabash, there will be a very worth-while time had.

Grandfather Again

This time that Fred Stock, Sr., became grandfather, it was on account of the arrival of a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Stock, and all doing nicely, thank you. The proud father and fond mother, who are very happy over the arrival, are not alone the happy ones, for the grandparents on both sides are very well pleased over the arrival.

News of the Pilgrims

It was the good fortune of the Pilgrims to worship with Trinity Lutheran church, where on account of the inclemency of the threatening weather, only a moderately large audience was present, but a fine spirit of devotion was manifest. The opening hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," gave the keynote to the service and sermon that followed. The discourse was based on the text John 15:17-21, and dealt with the fundamentals of Christian living, to-wit: (a) Love of one another; (b) Patience in suffering and even in persecution for Jesus sake; (c) Looking to Jesus, and in the walk by faith with Jesus, receiving the crown of life, even eternal life, from the Lord. The Rev. George Zoch has a very appreciative audience to preach to, and no wonder, he feeds them the finest of the "wheat" and they know it, and so do the Pilgrims.

Negotiations are under way to charter an airplane to be known as "the socialist special" to take Mr. Thomas across the country, the campaign organization announced.

We have a practically unshakable faith in diplomacy, but we do notice that one nation has invaded another's territory before getting out the longer explanation of how it happened.

Houston Will be Able to Handle the Crowds

Plenty of Rooms and Comfort for All Visitors, Says Message—Reservations Are Urged.

Houston is ready and prepared to comfortably accommodate every visitor from Nebraska who attends the quadrennial convention to the national democratic party in that city on June 26, according to the announcement of Thomas S. Allen, chairman of the state democratic committee, Thursday.

This message was received by Mr. Allen from Jesse H. Jones, Houston, chairman of the finance committee of the national organization, and Oscar F. Holcombe, mayor of Houston, and chairman of the local committee on convention arrangements.

Delegates, alternates, press representatives and other working personnel of the convention will be housed in hotel rooms. Other visitors will be assigned accommodations in apartment houses and private homes. Many of Houston's private homes have been placed at the disposal of the convention housing committee, many of them with servants, motor cars and chauffeur. Mr. Jones stated in his message.

Can Accommodate 31,000.

Mr. Jones' message continued: "Official delegations from 35 states and territories already have been assigned hotel accommodations. These assignments have been made in block lots to the chairman of the state delegations, who in turn will assign individual rooms to each delegate.

In addition to hotel rooms, more than five thousand rooms in apartment houses and private homes have been placed at the disposal of the housing committee. These rooms will accommodate approximately 11 thousand people, and additional rooms are being offered daily. In addition there are accommodations in tourist camps of the city for 20 thousand additional visitors who make the trip by motor car. These camps are first class in every respect, with paved streets, water, bathing facilities and sewerage.

Write Needs Early.

"The Houston committee urges people in your state who plan to attend the convention to write Housing Committee, Democratic Building, Houston, Tex., making known their needs, so that proper room assignments may be made in advance of the convention rush, the week of June 25th. When reservations are received in advance, the visitor will be conducted to his quarters upon reaching the city.

"Reports circulating through your state and other states, that only certified delegates can be accommodated during the Houston convention, are erroneous, and we ask you to inform the people of your state.

Four Measures Are Passed Over President's Veto

Rapid-Fire Action of Congress Believed to Widen Breach; Fifth Attempt Fails.

Washington, May 25.—The Tyson-Fitzgerald bill, providing for the retirement of disabled emergency army officers, was passed by congress Thursday over the veto of President Coolidge, while the president's wishes were similarly treated in the senate.

The rapid-fire manner in which the vetoes were overridden served to widen the breach between congress and the White House, which has existed virtually since the chief executive first assumed office, especially over measures involving expenditures of public funds.

The first clash Thursday, however, was the one over the measure during the 70th congress. It is estimated that the four bills passed will cost a total of $22,356,000 annually.

Saved Utter Rout.

The chief executive's defeat was saved from becoming an utter rout when the senate rejected a fifth attempt to override his veto on an army bandmasters' bill by a vote of 44 to two-thirds majority. Just prior to the vote, Senator Bruce (D), Maryland, suggested that perhaps both the legislative and executive branches were showing too little respect for the other branch of the government. Immediately became law, having been passed previously by the house over the presidential vetoes. They included two postal bills, one increasing the pay of night workers in postal service, and the other granting extra allowances to four-class postmasters.

Biggest Clash.

The third measure was the Tyson-Fitzgerald emergency army officers' retirement bill, granting retroactive privileges to officers who volunteered during the world war.

The Oddie bill, providing an appropriation of $3,500,000 annually for constructing good roads on Indian reservations, also was passed by the senate, but is yet to be acted on in the house.

Perhaps the biggest clash of all was averted when the senate agriculture committee failed to decide whether or not to seek a test vote on the president's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. The prevailing impression is that the bill will fall several short of the necessary two-thirds majority and for that reason the committee may recommend that no action be taken by the senate. The measure would die automatically.—Omaha Bee-News.

STIMSON VISITING MOROS

Jolo, Island of Sulu, May 25.—Governor General Stimson, making his first visit to Moro island since this appointment, was warmly greeted here today by thousands of Moros. Among those to extend greetings was the sultan of Sulu. The Moros, seemingly pleased with Governor General Stimson's administration, expressed the hope that he would see that they are given their rights.

The Moros, who are Mohammedans and opposed to Philippine rule, said nothing against the Christian Filipinos, but no Philippine flag was flown. Hundreds of American flags were displayed. The governor general advised the Moros to take full advantage of the educational facilities offered them.
