The gathering was presided over by Richard Tool who acted in the capacity of toastmaster, and also delivered the address, and which was responded to by Ellen Zink of the class of 1928. Charles Zaar also spoke to the future and taking it all in all was a most enjoyable and worth while gathering.

In Memoriam

Again the grain reaper has invaded the circle of my friend. This time it is a staunch friend, that has stood time and faithful for thirty-eight years. A. N. McCrory of Elmwood has run his race, has finished his course, that tired and weakened body, through several years of falling health, had to give up, always cheerful, patient and kind, he never complained, too his lot with christian fortitude, was very grateful to God that his lot was cast in such a pleasant place. In his 78th year, his mentality was clear, his interest in the things pertaining to this life, had not abated. My last visit, a few days before his soul took its flight, we had a very pleasant meeting, giving God the glory, that He granted us this boon, that we could celebrate our golden wedding, Feb. 19th and A. N. McCrory, April 17th of this year, at this time Mr. Peter Evam entered the room, and there were three, that by the grace of God, has passed the 50th milestone. Such meetings will not often be respected. What a consolation when the end comes, to have the consciousness of having lived a consistent useful life. That noble helpmate, who so tenderly cared for him and the children who are all an honor and a blessing in the community, have our deepest sympathy. May our end be like his! L. Neitzel.

Pilgrims Stay At Home

The pilgrims met with a sad disappointment last Sunday when that most glorious rain, made them stay at home. For several months we had planned to visit on June 3rd, the church and take part in the services of the Rev. E. Mappes, at 60th avenue, in Benson, near Omaha. Here the pastor conducts services in the sign language, he preaches to some fifty deaf and dumb students, but he had promised to speak to us audibly. We have to make an appointment for some future date. Then we were disappointed at the home church where the Rev. H. R. Knosp, the "K" being silent, in the English language who has come from Norfolk, Neb., to feed the flock at Murdock, Neb. He selected the greatest and deepest subject for his discourse, namely 1st John; 4 to 8, for "God is Love" a very deep impression was made up on the audience, all feeling that we were in the "Holliest of Hollies." May the Master sustain his servant, and may the Father of love, given us "Showers of Blessings."

IOWANS ARE AGAINST HOOVER OR COOLIDGE

Creston, Ia., June 8.—The Iowa delegation to the republican convention at Kansas City, was urged to leave the meeting "if it becomes apparent that either Coolidge or Hoover will be nominated," in a resolution adopted by the Union county farm bureau executive committee and made public Thursday. After reviewing the fight in congress for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, the subsequent vetoes by President Coolidge, the resolution said: "We call upon the Iowa delegation to the republican national convention in Kansas City to resist the nomination of either of these men to the very last, and if it becomes apparent that either of them is to be the republican nominee, we call upon our delegates to leave the convention rather than surrender their principals to such leadership."

Will Unveil a Portrait of Peter A. Sarpy

Judge Begley Is to Make Unveiling of Portrait of Pioneer—N. C. Abbott, the Orator.

On Saturday morning, June 23rd at the district court room in the new Sarpy county court house, the unveiling of the large portrait of Peter A. Sarpy, in whose honor Sarpy county was named, will be had.

The life of Peter A. Sarpy is one of the romances of the earliest days in this part of the west and the French fur trader, friend of the Indians and the whites alike was for many years the outstanding figure of the pioneer and to him the town of Bellevue owes its name "beautiful view" which the first traders and settlers exclaimed when they viewed the great Missouri valley from the bluffs where the town is now located.

Peter A. Sarpy resided at St. Mary's near where LaPlatte is now located and also at Plattsmouth in the early days and had the control of the trading right and fur business in this part of the west. It is of interest to know that one of the local residents, A. W. White, has a vivid recollection of Mr. Sarpy, by whom he was employed for some time in his early boyhood.

The body of Peter Sarpy was interred in the local cemetery for over a year, he dying at his home in this city which formerly stood at 6th and Vine street and formed a part of the F. G. Fricke residence for many years until it was torn down.

The unveiling of the portrait will be made by Judge James T. Begley and the oration of the day will be made by N. C. Abbott, well known historian of Nebraska City. Frank Wilcox of Omaha will speak on Sarpy's fraternal associations as Peter A. Sarpy was the first Mason raised in the territory of Nebraska in the lodge at Bellevue.

Coming Week Sees Opening of the Carnival

Residents of This County to Have Six Days and Nights of the Rarest of Pleasures.

From Saturday's Daily—Tomorrow, over the Burlington railroad, the Isler Shows will arrive in this city, coming from Wymore, Nebraska, where they have been making this week. A. Wymore, as at other places where this company has shown, they have scored a big success and won the approbation of all of the people for the clean nature of their shows and the high standard of the personnel of the show people.

One of the outstanding features of the Isler Shows being the personal demand of Mr. Isler that his people measure up to the highest standard. The Isler Shows travel in their own special train of twenty-two double length circus cars and should reach this city by mid-afternoon tomorrow, their train being unloaded at once and the shows arranged on the "lot" at the Tourist park, where they will show for the entire week.

The Isler Shows have six riding devices that are the equal of those in any large city amusement park and which can be brought to our people only through the medium of the carnival. They are the Whip, Merry Mix Up, Merry-Go-Round, Sea Plane, Ferris Wheel and Scenic Railway.

The list of shows carried by the Isler company is exceptionally large and numbers some of the best entertaining features of the season in the tented shows. Isler's "Happy Land Minstrels," colored singers and dancers, with their own jazz band, in addition to fifteen singers and dancers, is one of the most popular attractions on the midway. There are also Ray Wheelock's big athletic show; Phil Matthews' monkey autrodrome, where trained monkeys drive high powered cars; "Major White," the smallest boy in America, 18 years old, weighs less than 35 pounds, stands 23 inches in height; the Penny Arcade, the Oh Boy, Just for Fun and the Hen House, each an entertaining feature, where clean amusement may be had.

The World War Collection offers something different in entertaining features than is usually found in a tent show.

Burrough's Fairland Circus Sideshow, practically ten shows for the price of one, direct from Fairland park in Kansas City, carries many high class attractions for the amusement loving public.

One attraction that is popular with the old as well as the young is that of the "Sunshine Special," which runs on 700 feet of track and is one of the unending entertaining features of the big shows.

These high class shows come here under the auspices of the Hugh J. Kearns post No. 55, of the American Legion, and who will have charge of the policing and other details of the handling of the carnival at the tourist park.

ELECTION FOUND PROPER

Seranton, Pa., June 7.—The election of Rinaldo Cappellini and his associates as officers in district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, in 1925, should not be disturbed, Judge George W. Maxey decided today in Lackawanna county court. The costs of the court proceeding, begun by William J. Brennan, former district president, and other anti-Cappellini leaders, are to be shared equally by the plaintiffs and defendants.

Attorney B. Fenton Tinkham, who sat as referee in the suit which sought the unseating of the entire Cappellini slate of 1925, held that only one of the contestants—George Isaacs of Wilkesbarre—had been elected vice president legally over John Kosik of DuPont. Judge Maxey, however, reversed this part of the referee's findings. The referee's report had been before the court more than a year.

MEXICANS ARE TOLD SETTLEMENT NEAR

Mexico City, June 8.—The Mexican public received its first intimation Thursday afternoon that a settlement of the controversy between the government and the Roman Catholic church was under way. The newspaper, El Sol, printed as dispatch from Rome, stating that Monsignor Ruiz y Flores, archbishop of Michacan, had conferred with the pope and the papal secretary of state, with the object of laying the ground work for a settlement.

The other newspapers had received similar advices earlier, but had refrained from printing them. The item was read with interest but it did not cause any excitement on the streets.

WILKINS ARRIVES IN LONDON

London, June 6.—Capt. Sir George H. Wilkins, and his pilot, Lieutenant Eielson, arrived in London by air from Amsterdam tonight and in an interview with the newspapermen told something of his plans for antarctic exploration.

He will leave for Panama, he said, about Nov. 1, with his actual polar flight to start later from King Edward VII Land, with its objective the area from Graham Land to the south of Cape Horn. His plane already is built and is twice as powerful as that in which he and Eielson flew over the north polar regions. Two companions, who will make the trip with him, he said, he had not yet chosen.

KELLOGG PACT ENDORSED

Bloemfontein, Union of South Africa, June 6.—Premier Hertzog, interviewed today, heartily endorsed Secretary of State Kellogg's proposal for the outlawry of war. The South African premier said that this plan was the only sound basis upon which the League of Nations, which aims at peace, could be built. The reply of the Union of South Africa to the Kellogg invitation to participate in the pact will be sent to Washington shortly.

REQUESTS DENIED BY GOVERNOR McMULLEN

Lincoln, June 8.—Governor McMullen Thursday denied requests for a requisition and an extradition.

The requisition request was for William Wright, wanted in Otoe county for failure to pay alimony. According to the evidence presented, Wright, who is now in Kansas City, sued his wife for divorce in Nebraska and his wife filed a counter petition. She was granted a divorce and given $20 a month alimony. Wright did not appear at the trial and as he was not in Nebraska when the first alimony payment was due, the crime of failure to pay the alimony was not committed in Nebraska.

The extradition request was for Foster Sims of Friend, Neb., a former Nebraska Wesleyan university student, wanted in Los Angeles in connection with a robbery committed three years ago. The application was denied because of failure to prove Sims was the man wanted. The application gave his name as Simmons, instead of Sims.

PULLMAN STRIKE IS OFF

New York, June 7.—The threatened strike of Pullman porters, set for tomorrow, noon, was called off tonight by Phillips Randolph, general organizer for the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

Randolph said the action was taken at the request of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who said that although he felt the porters were fully justified in striking, the public had not been fully informed of conditions. Randolph said the strike machinery would be kept intact "to be set in motion at a more propitious time."
