From Monday's Daily—
Saturday night's rain put a crimp in the carnival and although the merry-go-round made a few turns between showers early in the evening, the rides and attractions were compelled to abandon what would have been the best night in the week, and also had the mud to work in getting torn down and loaded onto the train for the journey to Clarinda, Iowa, where they appear this week.

When the rain was coming down the hardest, Mr. Isler glanced out of the "office" door and cheerfully remarked, "Well, a hundred years from now we'll never know the difference." However it was a disappointment to him as well as to the Legion boys to be rained out on the closing night.

Instead of realizing $400 clear, as contemplated, the Legion will now net around $265, being put to extra expense in putting the grounds back in shape as a result of the cutting done by the heavily loaded wagons during the night's job of moving out.

The train crew sent here from Creston spent the greater part of the forenoon spotting cars, and it was after 11 o'clock when the last equipment had been loaded and the train was ready to pull.

Mr. Isler is anticipating a grand business at Clarinda this week, as the good will fliers will stop there Thursday on their tour of Iowa, a feature calculated to draw 15,000 people to the Page county metropolis on that day.

James Kahoutek was a visitor in Omaha today where he was called to look after some matters of business and visiting with friends.

Dick Barthelmess Gives an Amazing Film Performance

Celebrated Star Proves Self Marvelous Actor in "The Patent Leather Kid."

Richard Barthelmess gave the most amazing performance of his career in "The Patent Leather Kid," First National's great story of the tank corps, which will open at the Parmele Theatre, Sunday, June 24th, for a three day run, following its sensational Broadway run.

Only an artist of consummate skill could sympathetically portray the East Side boxer who is drafted into the war, enters it hating his country because of this, and who proves a real hero when he is once under fire.

In choosing an actor to play The Kid it was necessary for First National to find a man who was an athlete and could box, and at the same time one who was a finished actor, capable of creating sympathy for a character during the greater part of the picture appears almost a contradiction.

Barthelmess was a happy selection for the role, for he again demonstrates that he is one of the great actors of the screen, and his portrayal of The Kid is one of the finest bits of screen acting that has ever been recorded on celluloid.

In "The Patent Leather Kid" this talented youth even excels his marvelous work in the part, for the role of The Kid is the best he has ever had.

Rupert Hughes wrote "The Patent Leather Kid" soon after the war. The screen adaptation was by Adele Rogers St. John, and the picture is an Alfred Santell production, under the production management of Al Rockett.

Pretty Molly O'Day plays opposite Barthelmess, and as the result of her work in this picture wins a personal triumph. She is easily the screen find of the year. A large and excellent company is seen in support. This is a picture that you must see.

HOW FRANK O'CONNELL "HOOPLED" CONVENTION

Frank O'Connell, former American Legion adjutant in Nebraska and at present state game warden, "Major Hoopled" the great republican convention in Kansas City last week and as a result got a seat right up in the front rows, while great men from all over the nation were clamoring for admittance and farmers from the midwest were being turned back by policemen's clubs.

"They were pretty hard-boiled at the convention hall doors," O'Connell said, "but if a fellow uses his head, sometimes he can get what he goes after."

Frank had a ticket, but it was for a seat up in the rafters, where it isn't so pleasant on a warm day. He presented it at the door, got through two batteries of "rough boys" and then gave it to an usher.

"I'm Congressman Knicker-knuckler of South Dakota," said Frank, "so I'd like to get a good seat."

"Certainly, sir," said the obsequious youth.

So Frank O'Connell sat among the reporters on the first floor, right under the microphone and where Senator Moses could have spit on 'im, were Moses a spitter, which he isn't.

Eastern Star Has Very Large Meeting Here

Home Chapter No. 189 Has Large Number of Visitors From Various Points of State.

From Wednesday's Daily—
One of the largest meetings that has been held in the history of Home Chapter No. 189, of this city, was held last evening at the lodge rooms in the Masonic temple, when some 175 of the members and guests gathered to enjoy a very fine meeting and one that was filled with the greatest of interest from the opening to the close.

The occasion was marked by the visitation of a number of the distinguished members of the order and grand chapter officers including Mrs. Stella Thorsen, Leigh, Nebraska, grand matron; Mr. Yant of Brock, grand worthy patron; Mrs. Grace Annes, Dunbar, past grand worthy matron; Mrs. Stella Yant, Brock, past grand worthy matron; Mrs. Nan Martin, Omaha, grand conductress; Mrs. Sarah Chaderton, Lincoln, grand worthy supervisor.

To take part in the evening of fraternal pleasure there was present at the meeting a delegation of some twenty-two members of Primrose chapter of the Eastern Star at Springfield, headed by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. B. Perry, worthy matron and worthy patron, as well as a delegation of ten members from Liberty chapter of Omaha with Mrs. Dresser, worthy matron at the head of the visiting party.

Other visitors present included Mrs. Wuderman, Leigh, Nebraska, conductress of the chapter at that place as well as Mr. and Mrs. Perry of Alberta, Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry of Lincoln, as well as visiting members from Union, Murray, Weeping Water, Blair, Omaha, and Sidney, Iowa.

The chapter held their initiation of a class of some twelve new members that was most impressively carried out and the work of the chapter was warmly commended by the visitors of the evening.

During the course of the evening there were remarks given by all of the visiting grand chapter officers and representatives of the visiting chapters, the principal addresses being by Mrs. Thorsen, grand matron, and Mr. Yant, grand patron of the order in Nebraska. This feature was one that all enjoyed to the utmost and with the greatest interest to the members of this fraternal order and the great auxiliary of the Masonic order.

Home chapter has had a very active career and ranks among the leading chapters of the state but since they had the opportunity of entertaining so large a group of the members of the order as they had last evening when the guests arrived to join in the class initiation.

At the close of the evening the members of the party were invited to the dining room where the local ladies had arranged very attractive refreshments and where dainty refreshments were served that added to the completion of the evening of the greatest interest and the greatest delight.

Mrs. John F. Gorder, worthy matron and the other officers and members of Home chapter carried out their part of the evening of fraternal interest in a splendid manner and added another fine chapter to the history of the activities of the order in this city.

It was a late hour when the members of the visiting party started for their homes and all felt that it had been a real treat to be present at the meeting of Home chapter and to enjoy the hospitality and fraternal greetings of the Plattsmouth ladies.

ENTERTAINS ROTARIANS

From Tuesday's Daily—
This noon at the luncheon of the Rotary club the members had the pleasure of hearing a number of piano selections presented by Charles Nowacek one of the talented musicians of the city. Mr. Nowacek shows the greatest skill and finish in his playing and his deep interest and earnest study of music has brought him a great deal of attention wherever he has been heard. The Rotary has had presentations by a number of the younger artists of the city but none more pleasant than that which Mr. Nowacek gave at the luncheon today.

E. H. Wescott also favored the dinner party with one of his delightful piano numbers, but as Hilt is a member of the Rotary he is not considered "company."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express in this manner our most heartfelt appreciation of the assistance and sympathy given us in our bereavement at the death of our dear father and grandfather. Also we wish especially to thank the members of the quartet and those taking part in the funeral services, the Christian church congregation and the W. R. C. and all those who gave the beautiful floral remembrances.—The Children and Grandchildren of Thomas Wiles.

TO VISIT BROTHER AMERICAN LEGION DANCE

From Wednesday's Daily—
This morning Simon Clark departed for Grand Island, Nebraska, where he goes to visit his brother, Joshua Clark, who is in very serious condition at that place and on the trip to the bedside of the brother, Mr. Clark is joined by his sister, Mrs. J. J. Schneider of Cedar Creek. The brother has been suffering for eight years from the effects of a paralytic stroke and has been unable to talk for a period of several years and in the last few weeks his condition has grown a great deal more serious. Mr. Clark was formerly a section foreman at Carlton, Nebraska, and since his illness has been at the hospital for a greater part of the time, being taken to Grand Island when his case grew more severe several weeks ago.
