Commissioners Pass Resolution on Road Gravel

Offer Fifty-Fifty Split on Cost of Graveling Any of the County Highways.

From Monday's Daily—
The matter of the graveling of the county highway which has been urged very strongly in the past several months with the presentation of the plan for the creation of a county system of gravelled highways on town to market roads, which was featured in the move for graveling of the Louisville road from this city to Louisville, has been under consideration by the board of county commissioners for some time and which has been given definite action by the board of commissioners at their annual meeting held a few days ago.

The board of county commissioners at their meeting adopted the following resolution, which pledges the county to a fifty-fifty division of the expense of the graveling on any road that may be desired to have gravelled and which is a definite record of the stand of the commissioners on the matter of the county road graveling:

Resolution.
Whereas, the County of Cass has funds available that could be used for graveling county roads, and
Whereas, the Board of County Commissioners are willing to help on a graveling program:
Therefore be it Resolved by the Board of County Commissioners of Cass county, Nebraska, that the county furnish half the expense as long as funds are available, to gravel on County Roads to connect towns to gravel on Federal, State or County Roads.
The plan being to connect all feeder roads to the main highway, the county paying half the expense, and the other half to be furnished locally by donation or precinct tax.
Moved by Harris, seconded by Gorder that the resolution be adopted this 15th day of June, 1928.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BAIRD

From Monday's Daily—
The funeral service of Mrs. John T. Baird was held on Saturday afternoon at the home on Marble street and a large group of the old friends and neighbors of the family were present to pay their last tribute to the memory of this splendid lady that had gone to her last long rest.
Rev. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in which Mrs. Baird and her deceased husband, Rev. J. T. Baird, had been members since the earliest membership, and workers, spoke eloquently of the christian life of the departed, the part that she and her family had played in the religious life of the community for more than fifty years. He gave words of comfort to the bereaved family at this sorrowing time when the loved one was called to her eternal reward and gave them the promise of life to be, that is the heritage of the christian believer.
During the service a male quartet composed of Frank A. Clodt, L. D. Hlatt, H. G. McClusky and L. O. Minor gave two numbers, "Abide With Me" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."
At the conclusion of the service the body was borne to the Oak Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest in the last sleep beside the husband in that beautiful city of the silent.

HAS ANOTHER MISFORTUNE

From Monday's Daily—
The bad luck jinx seems to have started in on pursuit of Fritz Siemoneit, well known young farmer of north-west of this city. With his wife being shot Thursday night and himself and little daughter having a close call, his home riddled with shots from a shot gun, Fritz yesterday had another misfortune befall him. Mr. Siemoneit was turning the stock out Sunday morning and which included a team of mules that was not as gentle as he imagined and the mule launched a kick that registered on the person of Mr. Siemoneit. The kick struck Mr. Siemoneit full in the face and as the result he lost several teeth as well as having his face bruised and more or less skinned and cut up by the force of the blow.

DRAINAGE PROPOSITION CARRIES

The proposition to create Sanitary district No. 1 of Lancaster county, involving the land in the Salt Creek bottoms in Cass, Saunders and Lancaster counties, which was submitted to a vote of the land owners, carried in this county. The vote in Cass county was: Yes, 1,319; No, 1,305. The votes were not on every acre of land involved in the district and was received at the court here where the returns were compiled.
The proposition was defeated in Saunders county, but the ultimate fate of the election in the three counties has not been received at the court house in this city.

Gives Shower in Honor of a June Bride

Miss Agnes Slavicek Is Guest of Honor at Large Party Held at the K. S. Hall.

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon a most charming pre-nuptial shower was held at the K. S. hall on west Locust street, honoring Miss Agnes Slavicek, whose marriage to Fred Uhlík will take place Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. The delightful event was arranged by Mrs. Charles Renner, Mrs. Vincent Pinley, Jr., and Miss Lucille Skomal of Omaha and was one of the most enjoyable events that has been offered for these estimable young people.

The afternoon was spent in games of all kinds in which the jolly party of some ninety ladies entered and which aided in making the time most pleasant for all of the members of the party. In the guessing contest the first prize was awarded to Miss Hazel Davis, while the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. R. A. Bates.
During the course of the afternoon the Cardinal orchestra, composed of a number of the young men of the city furnished most delightful music that added to the enjoyment of the very happy event.
In honor of the forthcoming wedding a delicious luncheon was shown with a very large number of beautiful and handsome gifts that will be cherished as remembrances of the friends in the years to come.
At an appropriate hour the members of the party were served with a most delicious luncheon, the hostesses being assisted in serving by a number of the younger members of the party, this feature serving to complete a most thoroughly delightful afternoon and one that will be a most pleasant memory to the guests of honor.

OVERCOME WITH GAS

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Mrs. Hilt Martin and two children, Donald and Shirley Jean and Miss Fern Pace, had a very close call from death as the result of being overcome with monoxide gas in the Martin home at 9th and Pearl streets.

Mrs. Martin and Miss Pace were in the basement of the home looking after some household work and the two children had accompanied them and were playing around which included a team of mules that was not as gentle as he imagined and the mule launched a kick that registered on the person of Mr. Siemoneit. The kick struck Mr. Siemoneit full in the face and as the result he lost several teeth as well as having his face bruised and more or less skinned and cut up by the force of the blow.

The first noticed of the deadly work of the gas was when little Donald complained of being sick and Mrs. Martin noticed that he was very white and weak looking, and she carried him up to the main floor of the home, still unaware of the cause of the illness. Mrs. Martin found the little daughter collapsed on the floor and Miss Pace in very serious shape. Miss Pace grabbed up the little girl and was able to stagger up the stairs from the basement as Mrs. Martin, also weakened by the gas collapsed on the floor of the kitchen. The four lay unconscious for some time when Mrs. Martin revived sufficiently to reach the telephone and call her husband from his place of business, he summoning a physician and hastening home where the two children and the ladies were found lying on the floor.
After medical aid was given the two little children responded very well to the treatment and were able to be around, but Mrs. Martin and Miss Pace are still confined to bed and very weakly ill.
A few moments more in the gas filled basement would have proven fatal to all four of the family, there is little doubt.

Mrs. Glenn Lockhart of Watertown, South Dakota, who has been here visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gopen, has returned to her home. Mrs. Lockhart made the trip by auto, and coming here brought Mrs. Gopen home from a visit at Watertown, the ladies making the trip in one day by auto.

Bearded Beauties Get Trimmed on Local Ball Lot

Eaton Pitches Bang Up Game and Locals Win by Score of 3 to 2—Draw Big Crowd.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The local baseball team last evening on the home lot amid a large and enthusiastic crowd did the Deiljah act to the Bearded Beauties, traveling baseball team of all stars, and while whiskers may have made Samson a whirlwind in his time, they did nothing to stop the victory of the Plattsmouth team, which would have been in greater if errors had not helped the visitors grab their two tallies in the third frame.
Jimmy Eaton, who had hurled the game Sunday was again on the mound for the locals and the willow hurler was all to the good and in the closing innings made the visitors dream of nights in the House of David, so sweet was the hurling of "Chicago Jimmy."

The Bearded Beauties opened the game with a recent convert to the cause of the mound, Jimmy Deal, alias "J. Smith" showing them over the plate, but who was lifted by Captain Finley of the visitors in the sixth inning when the Plattsmouth team took the lead, and Staples, a mean pea ball artist was substituted and made it look bad for the locals at the start but gradually lost his terror for the home boys, but at that the Plattsmouth made a run off of him aside from the daring steal of home which Joe Krejci made while Staples was going into a huddle with himself before throwing the ball over to Gansemser.

The second inning made it look bad for the home boys and many of the large and happy audience that had breezed through the gate thought that the contest was as good as salted away by the boys with the Vandikes, but anything can happen and it did. Dunn opened the inning for the visitors with nice double out in the territory of Joe Krejci, but clear to the boards and was good for two sacks, Barth was out on a grounder, Eaton to O'Donnell and then Distell allowed one to get away from him, resulting in Dunn scoring. Finley, the scrappy catcher, of the visitors then rapped one to deep left that brought in the remaining run—the last of the Bearded Boys to come over the plate.

In the Plattsmouth half of the fourth the home folks began to sit up and take notice, when the man doubled to center and was no more than resting on second when Ralph Gansemser, our youthful second sacker got dirty with the Deal and also smacked a two bagger in the same territory that scored Hans, but in an attempt to steal third on the signal of the coach, who was thrown out at first, Ralph perished.

In the sixth there was hard luck for the visitors when "Smith" became wild and gave Bill O'Donnell his base on balls, and Bill pilfered second and scored when Wabido made an error of the grounder of Joe Krejci. Joe was resting on third when Staples came in to pitch for the visitors and while Staples was winding up like the old fashioned eight day clocks, Joe came home, with what was to prove the winning run of the game.
After the fourth frame the visitors had but one man on a base and he did not stay long.
The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Uhlík departed for a trip to Kansas where they will spend a short time with relatives and on their return will make their home in Omaha where the groom has a home on South 10th street awaiting the coming of his helpmate.

Both of the contracting parties were born and reared here and are among the most popular and highly esteemed residents of the city. They were educated here in the public schools and have a host of friends among the younger people of the community. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Slavicek and was very active in the social life of the city and in the work of the societies of the Holy Rosary church. The groom was formerly engaged here in work in the local shops but has for the past two years been with the World-Herald at Omaha in their press room force and where he is now employed.

In their new home Mr. and Mrs. Uhlík will take the very best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness and welfare.

Joe Altschaffle Draws 19 Years in State Prison

Pleads Guilty to Two Counts of Shooting to Kill and Wound Fritz Soemoneit.

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Joe Altschaffle, twenty-one year old youth, who on last Thursday night made a savage and brutal attempt to shoot to death Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Siemoneit at their country home near Culton, faced the bar of justice for his crime and drew a sentence of nineteen years in the state penitentiary at Lincoln.

The charges preferred against Altschaffle by County Attorney W. G. Kieck were that of shooting with intent to kill and shooting with intent to wound, Fritz Siemoneit. There were no charges filed against the young man on the charge of shooting Mrs. Siemoneit pending the out come of her case and should she fail to recover from the wounds inflicted, the charge of murder will be preferred. Her case seems to be progressing nicely and her recovery is expected.

There were quite a number present in the vicinity of the court house when Altschaffle, heavily manacled, was brought from the jail by Deputy Sheriff Young and Sam Reed and escorted to the district court room for the hearing as at the preliminary, held late yesterday afternoon in the county court the prisoner had been bound over to the district court.

As Altschaffle has a very limited knowledge of the English language, he having been here but a year, Otto Peteret was sworn in as interpreter for the occasion and translated the complaint and the remarks of the court into the German for the prisoner and the statements of Altschaffle into English.

On reading of the complaint the prisoner entered a plea of guilty to the charge preferred and said he was willing to take his punishment for the crime. He stated that Mr. Siemoneit and family had treated him all right and he bore no ill will toward them. He denied any premeditation of the crime and stated that he had not gone to bed and had then waited around until 10 o'clock when he started the shooting at the Siemoneit home. In reply to the questions of the court Altschaffle stated that he would be twenty-one years of age on September 1st and had come to this country a year ago from Bavaria, where his parents resided at Munich. He had never been confined in any institution for the weak minded or feeble minded.

He had worked in the larger cities in his native land and had learned the trade of wagon maker there. He stated that he was not mad at the time of the shooting on Thursday, but later said he was one to become angry very easily and would do whatever came into his head at the time. He had gone to the public schools in Bavaria until eighteen years of age and was one of the brightest in his class. In reply to the questions of Judge Begley the young man stated that he had read about the Hickman case and had thought of it often, as the "thinking did not cost him anything." He had also read about the bank robberies over the country.

After the inquiry by the court the sentence was given by Judge Begley, who stated that the attack had been a very brutal one and that in view of that fact he would give him a sentence of nineteen years in the penitentiary.

The prisoner received his sentence without sign of emotion beyond a slight shrugging of the shoulders and seemed relieved that the ordeal was over and hurried back to the jail under the escort of the officers, seemingly glad to escape the crowd that filled the halls as the prisoner was marched out of the court room.

This locality was threatened with a severe storm early Saturday evening but which passed to the west and north of the town, while a very heavy shower fell for a few moments, the main part of the storm passed largely to the north. Rain also fell in Omaha very heavily, while south of this city only a very light shower was reported.

W.C.T.U. Holds a Memorial for Departed Ones

Very Impressive Service Staged by the Members at Home of Mrs. S. A. Wiles on Monday.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The members of the local W. C. T. U. held their annual memorial service on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. A. Wiles, south of this city, a very large number of the ladies forming in attendance at the session and joining in the tribute to the departed workers of the society.

The memorial portion of the program was in charge of Mrs. C. A. Troop and a very fine program was given that paid tribute to the ladies who have labored in the cause and have gone to their last reward.

Mrs. J. E. Wiles read the names of the departed ladies, as each being read a scripture verse was given by Mrs. C. A. Troop as a tribute to the departed ladies.

Miss Bernese Arn added a very impressive part of the program with two songs, "There is No Night There" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Robert B. Hayes also gave a very beautiful vocal number, "My Mother's White Ribbon."

Following the memorial services the ladies had a fine program on the question of prohibition and in which a number of papers were given by the members of the union. Mrs. J. E. Wiles reported the interesting fact that there had been four new additions to the W. C. T. U. in the past year. Mrs. Kate Richardson spoke on "Prohibition as the Readers See It," while Miss Olive Gass gave a paper on "Booze and Gasoline" and Mrs. A. L. Tidd on "Prohibition Votes."

At the conclusion of the afternoon a very dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Wiles assisted by her daughter, Miss Helen, and which completed a most interesting time.

DO MAC WRONG

From Monday's Daily—
Clare Roserham, the dean of golfers, in fact the man that put the Scotch into the game, states that Leon McCarty, a recent convert to the game of put and take, has had a rather rough experience at the hands of two of the veterans of the game. Mr. McCarty, like all new comers, was sought by two of the crack golfers of the local club, Carl Ote and Earl Tespel, who took Mac out Sunday to show him a few points of the game. The main part of the story, however, is that Mac had the veterans two down at the seventh hole and then they started to play left handed, depriving Mac of the honor of a complete route of his opponents. Clate states that he never took a beginner out and then when he was putting it over on him started a left handed game to escape the score sheet.
