Interstate League Leaders Trimmed Here

Council Bluffs Macabees Drop Contest to Local Team by Score of 4 to 2 Yesterday.

From Monday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the Council Bluffs Macabees came down to do battle with the local team of the Interstate League and as the result there was a real contest afforded the fans and tantes that filled the grand stand and many spectacular plays enlivened the game with the fielding of Newman and Gansmer standing out among the locals, as they carried a large part of the assists in the outs against Council Bluffs, with Newman also hitting well.

The score was 4 to 2 at the close and was a sweet revenge to the local team for the defeat that Council Bluffs administered earlier in the season on the Broadway park to the local ball tossers.

The locals started the old merry go round in the first frame of the game when they took very kindly to the slants that Francis, Bluffs hurler, was trying to put over and annexed two scores before the curtain fell on the inning. Distell opened with a fast one to short that was juggled and the runner was safe on first, O'Donnell sacrificed Distell to second and then Shirley rapped one to short that was also flopped and two men were on the base, Distell going to third on the play. Joe Krejci hit a slow grounder to first on which he was called out but Distell was allowed to score. Hans Newman then rapped a grass cutter down the third base line that was going at top speed and Herb scored at the plate.

The third inning was in which both teams were able to do their stuff in scoring, the Macabees starting the show when Eyre touched up Eaton for a two bagger that crashed the left garden wall and he scored. Francis also hit to deep left, the muddy field making the work of the outfielders hard and his hit scored Eyre for the first run of the visitors.

The Plattsmouth team hooked two more in the last of the third that spelled certain defeat for the Bluffs. Distell opened with another hard grounder to second base that was not handled clean and he was safe on the initial sack, sacrificed to second by O'Donnell and when Herb was retiring, Francis to Mortensen, Distell took third base, scoring when Newman then rapped one to center garden. Newman then rapped one to left that the fielder made a great try for but was unable to handle it and on the hit ode Krejci came on in home with the fourth run of the game.

In the fifth inning the visitors threatened for a few moments when Hanson was safe on a grounder to short that took a bad hop out of the way of Newman and the runner was safe. Schneider was out on an outfield fly. Eyrie hit a hot grounder down to second and here Newman made a most brilliant stop as he was able to knock down the ball and while not throwing Eyrie out at first he was able to toss the ball to Gansmer on the base to force Hanson. Miller flew out to close the inning.

In the seventh inning Kennedy, the veteran third baseman of the visitors gave a real thrill to the fans when he potted one over the left field fence for a home run and the last score of his team.

Christiansen, the hurling ace of the Macabees, was substituted for Francis in the sixth inning as Francis was weakening from the intense heat and after the change in the hurlers the local batsmen were unable to solve the speedy ball that Christiansen threw.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Plattsmouth—
Distell, 3b ----- 3 1 5 0 0

Joe Altschaffl Receives Additional Sentence

Twenty Years Given for Charge of Shooting Mrs. Annie Siemoneit—Total Sentence 39 Yrs.

From Monday's Daily—
This morning Joe Altschaffl, charged with the crime of shooting with intent to kill Mrs. Annie Siemoneit, on Thursday night, June 21st at her farm home ten miles north of this city, was given a sentence of twenty years for the offense. Altschaffl was brought before the court and the sentence as well as preferred by County Attorney W. G. Kieck, maintaining his defiant attitude that has characterized him since the time that he made the Siemoneit home a wreck from the charges from the shot gun with which he was armed, and severely wounding Mrs. Siemoneit as well as trying to shoot Mr. Siemoneit to death.

The prisoner was sentenced a week ago to nineteen years at hard labor in the state penitentiary for shooting at Fritz Siemoneit with intent to kill and the sentence for the attack on Mrs. Siemoneit, makes a total of thirty-nine years for the young man to serve.

The nature of the case, the apparent cold blooded attempt to murder the members of the Siemoneit family, makes it almost certain that the man will have to serve out the whole sentence of thirty-nine years with such deductions as might come from good behavior. The court was very strict in its sentence that the prisoner receive the limit of the law for this crime, one of the most terrible that has been carried out in this county.

The young man is in his twentieth year at the present time and if he serves out the sentence imposed on him he will be fifty-nine years of age when the doors of the penitentiary open to let him out.

This morning Sheriff Bert Reed and young Sam, and Deputy Sheriff W. R. Young motored to Lincoln, taking with them the prisoner, who will start at once on his long sentence in the state prison.

RECEIVES SAD NEWS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Mrs. H. Nave of this city received a message Saturday evening announcing the death of her nephew, Harry Kersenbrock, well known Nebraska athlete, at Crete. The young man, one of the best known state high school basketball stars of recent years, was drowned in the Blue river near Crete.

Kersenbrock with a companion were canoeing in the river when Harry's craft was overturned and both young men thrown into the river and from which the unfortunate victim was unable to swim out of danger.

Kersenbrock was unable to swim and the both boys were fully dressed, thus making their buoyancy difficult. Horn made a gallant attempt to save his comrade, according to reports from the banks.

At one time both Kersenbrock and his rescuer went down, but Horn was able to swim to the surface and drag Kersenbrock up with him. He told his drowning comrade to hold to the canoe while he towed it to shore. The craft rolled about so in the water, however, that this aim was defeated.

Seeing that Horn was losing his fight to save Kersenbrock, two fishermen made toward the center of the stream to give aid. Before they reached the spot, however, Horn was forced to give up the struggle and go to shore.

Kersenbrock went down only once. His body was found after an hour's search by many persons in boats and along the shore. Henry Stone and Walt Cooper recovered the body.

It is thought that Kersenbrock's heart failed because of his fright, otherwise rescuers might have saved him as he came to the surface of the water.

Mr. and Mrs. Nave departed Sunday for Crete to attend the last services and to share with the bereaved mother and other relatives the loss that had come to them.

Early this morning a license was issued to Earl F. Mink, of Gaulty Bridge, West Virginia, and Miss Lorene Durman of Weeping Water. The young people were accompanied here by Mrs. John Durman, mother of the bride to be as well as several other relatives and after securing the license they all departed for their home where the wedding will take place.

Engineers Here Looking Over Bridge Site

Discussing the Location of the New Structure Over the Missouri River at This Point.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The committee in charge of the proposed bridge over the Missouri river at this point was busy today in discussing the plans with the engineers as to the landings and the points that might be used as locations for the new bridge over the river, on which it is hoped to have active work started before the snow flies.

The war department has wished that the bridge be located 100 feet from the railroad bridge over the river or else a distance of a half mile and the visit of the engineers, including Frank T. Darrow, engineer for the Burlington, is to fully discuss the matter and look over the sites that might be used as a landing on either side of the river for the structure that will remove the barrier of the great river between Mills and Cass county and bring in closer touch the residents of the two states as well as giving an abridge on the great continental auto travel.

The landings here are recognized as among the best in the long list of proposed bridges and being located as it is will make an important link in the development of a great national highway from the east to the west and eliminating many miles for the travelers on their east and west journey.

Locally for the people of Mills county, Iowa, the bridge gives a great advantage to the farmers and stockraisers by providing a direct and short route to the livestock markets of South Omaha, where they can avoid the congestion of the long journey to Council Bluffs and the city traffic that they have to go through in getting to the market.

In mileage the difference will be some sixty miles which is a big item for the residents of the great, fertile farm lands of southwestern Iowa.

The advantages of the bridge will be to the people here that will be a development of greater farming resources in the Iowa farms and afford the means of starting canning factories and other like plans that can be supported from the Iowa truck farms.
